Women's Belief in Suffrage Firmer Than Ever, Despite Differences at Convention

Backbiting, Personal Animosity and Cattishness Condemned Just as Severely in Politics as in Social Clubs, Says Chairman.

By Marguerite Martyn.

"DO you still believe in woman suffrage?" an anti-suffrage friend called me up and asked tauntingly, after having read dispatches from the Kansas City convention wherein it had been necessary to chronicle instances of the sacrifice of feminine dignity and of the intrusion of personal feminine grudges into affairs of state.

"Of course I do," I replied. "Might as well ask if I still believe in male suffrage. I believe more than ever in universal suffrage. The fault is with those who fail to assume or embrace the duty or right, and who leave their representation to a few who easily may get control and who may not always represent the country."

Certainly it is to be hoped that reports of individual attempts of unfairness of women toward women, will not make other women shrink from the prospect of soiling their skirts, figuratively, and risking dishevelment, actually, in such frenzied scenes as thus far seem necessary to political conventions.

It should not be forgotten that in those scenes of wild disorder and emotional surrender, the participants may have been contending, upon either side, for what they regarded as a good cause. Back-biting, personal animosity, cattiness, behind the scenes, are to be condemned no more in women gathered together for political purposes than in women's clubs or other social groups where such faults exist. And while it was necessary to chronicle some instances of this sort of thing at Kansas City, such pettiness should not be confused with scenes expressing righteous indignation, where women fought and all but bled on behalf of woman's cause and just representation.

Representation Was Issue.

The main issue to the women was their contest for representation upon the delegation-at-large to the convention at Chicago. They finally were allowed two full delegates among the eight, and all eight of the alternates. The victory finally won by the women will enable Missouri women to vote in the convention which will nominate the Republican choice for President of the United States. That was the important thing, not which particular woman should be defeated or chosen as one of the delegates. And this last was what all the little, internal, petty wrangles were about.

The men of the St. Louis Republican organization are now taking all the blame for the last minute defeat of Miss Sasse, who had been slated as for one of the candidates for delegate-at-large, but who was scratched at a bare 10 minutes' notice, Mrs. Moyer-Wing being substituted. It was all because Miss Sasse's district failed to support the St. Louis slate of men delegates, they say. Miss Sasse's district, the Second, on the other hand, is pluming itself upon having stood out for principle rather than selfish honors.

It is very gallant of the men to assume all responsibility. The bickerings of the women are in need of having a veil drawn over them.

Two New Figures Arise.

Out of the turmoil and strife arose, refreshingly, two figures who are the more luminous where the rest of the picture is darkest. One is Miss Mathilde Dallmeyer, of Jefferson City, who stood out for her convictions and those of her followers to the bitter end against boss and machine rule. Nor is it possible that by so doing this young woman sacrificed her value or her favor with her party. She is a young woman of most forceful personality, large of stature, with a voice of good carrying quality, a fearlessness and a wholesome frankness which inspire confidence where others must depend upon diplomacy.

The other refreshing highlight is Mrs. Alice Curtice Moyer-Wing, successful candidate for delegate-at-large, who was undoubtedly innocent of the machinations which wrought in her favor, though they are causing charges of unfairness of one faction against another. Mrs. Moyer-Wing was guiltless even of a knowledge of the plot by which she was to profit. I saw her a few minutes after her election, when she was still dazed with surprise. It is very much to the credit of the women of the convention that they could agree upon this woman who has always been the "willing horse" for the suffrage organization of this State.

Pointers in Practical Parties.

Another shining figure is Mrs. Vennona Swan of Joplin, the other successful candidate for delegate-at-large, who, though comparatively unknown to the metropolitan leaders, was able to give them pointers in practical politics, and with the stigma which sometimes attaches to that phrase removed. Mrs. Swan had the delegates. However un[illegible] she may have loomed as an obstacle in the way of the ambitions of certain others, there was no gainsaying nor getting around the fact that she had the delegates. She had gone after them in a perfectly open, business-like manner—having once been a successful business woman—and she had got them. Not a woman came near her headquarters—and you had to pass right through them in order to get into the women's general headquarters at the Coates House, for she had taken up a strategic position just at the door—but was asked if she were lined up for Mrs. Swan and if not, why not? A message said to have been sent by Mrs. George Gelhorn, chairman of the Women Voters' League, reminding the women that Jasper County, represented by Mrs. Swan, had given the largest vote for suffrage, and of that spectacular ride of Senator Gray to Jefferson City to cast a last minute deciding vote and save the Federal amendment, had its pulling power. Thus does the Women Voters' League insert an entering wedge into State politics.

Stood Fast to End.

The three women just mentioned were leaders of that sentiment which prevailed to the end of obtaining the right of Missouri women to vote in a national convention. And while they represented the majority, even the minority may be supposed to have been actuated in their stand by a holy respect and subservience to that paramount principle of the Republicans, expressed in the watch word, Harmony.

An odd thing it is, though, that it required a consultation with the men party leaders to develop this conviction in some women. That committee of four women appointed to submit the women's demands that they be given, not equal, but one-fourth representation on the delegation at large, after the men had insisted the women be content to go as alternates—that committee went into conference with all the fire of crusaders. They were equipped to back up their demands with figures to show that with the counties outside the cities, uncontrolled by the machine and sympathetic toward the women, the women held the balance of power. They were ready to say what they could and would do to spoil other plans of the machine if the men did not accede to their demands.

And that committee came out of the conference entirely converted to the proposal of the party leaders that women should go voteless to the convention. Also they came with a new—an entirely new—line of arguments against the principle they had so recently espoused.

Men Called "Perfect Gentlemen."

"We found the men perfect gentlemen," Mrs. DeHart, appointed spokeswoman for the committee, began, but she got no farther than her opening line. No speaker got far without being howled down in that now celebrated meeting, whose fame as a conversational riot has gone out over the State.

It is surprising how any of these arguments made themselves heard considering the uproar, with every woman speaking at once, with spokesmanship decided only by a woman's vocal capacity. There was one argument in favor of women's working their way up in politics, through easy stages, serving first as precinct, then as ward, then as district delegate before aspiring to the national convention. There was the argument that two of the best and most valuable men in the party would have to be sacrificed in order to give the women place, since these two, Babler and Cole, were the only ones willing to step down and out in favor of the ladies. There was the argument that the fate of the Federal amendment now at stake in two states, would be jeopardized by this example of women wishing to "grab things."

All these arguments had their answers, and we know how in the end it was the answers and the will of the majority as against the machine, which prevailed.

One question asked by the majority, "What are we going to say to the Democrats, who have given women equal representation?" was variously answered. But the committee omitted to report the reply said to have been made by Babler himself when asked this question. Perhaps the committee was not charged with the information. Perhaps it got lost in the shuffle. Perhaps it was not to be taken seriously.

It is told how, just after the pri-

WHAT is the bond issue?

It is a list of 18 propositions, with an aggregate estimated cost of $24,000,000, for municipal improvement.

When can I vote on it?

Tuesday, May 11, at your precinct polling place, between 6 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Can I vote on the whole bond issue by marking my ballot once?

No. Each of the 18 propositions is printed separately, and to vote on each one, you must scratch No to vote Yes, or scratch Yes to vote No. To vote for the whole bond issue, you must scratch No 18 times.

Is my vote needed? There has been no active opposition.

The bond issue needs the vote of every supporter it has. Each proposition, to pass, must get two-thirds of the votes cast on that proposition. In other words, for every vote cast against the bonds, two votes must be cast for them.

I am going to vote for some of the propositions, in which I am interested. Why should I bother with the others?

The different propositions are inter-related. The whole forms a plan of improvement declared by representatives of 33 civic and business organizations to be the most necessary and urgent, though not the only needed public improvements. The limit on the city's bonded indebtedness prevented the list from being expanded to include other things unquestionably needed.

Citizens' Supervisory Committee

I am opposed to the present city administration. Why should I vote to place a large sum of money in its hands?

The term of the present Mayor, Comptroller and one-half the Board of Aldermen lasts only until next April. If the bonds are voted, it is possible that none of the money will be spent under the present administration. It is not likely that more than the two most urgent works—the improvement of Koch Hospital and the resurfacing of certain streets—will be undertaken within the first year after the bonds are voted. The Mayor and Comptroller and the President of the Board of Aldermen, whose term runs until 1923, and who serves with the Mayor and Comptroller on the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, have signed a pledge to act only with the approval of the Citizens' Supervisory Committee. The next Mayor and Comptroller can be similarly pledged, if the voters insist on such a pledge from the candidates next April.

What is the Citizens' Supervisory Committee?

It consists of seven men, selected by leading organizations to supervise the expenditure of the funds on behalf of the public. Its members are: E. C. Andrews, Merchants' Exchange; Richard Moore, Manufacturers' Association; Baxter L. Brown, Chamber of Commerce; Charles J. Lammert, Building Trades Council; David Kreyling, Central Trades and Labor Union; J. H. Farish, Real Estate Exchange, and John B. Edwards, Bar Association.

Expenditures to Be Spread Out.

Will these busy men give the required time to the work of supervision, or will they be figureheads?

The members of the committee have signed a clear and unequivocal pledge to give active attention to their duties, and to stay "on the job" until the job is finished. If a vacancy occurs, it will be filled, not by the Mayor, but by the organization represented.

Is not this a bad time to undertake extensive public improvements, both because the cost of materials is high, and because labor is scarce, and is needed in private enterprises?

The bonds are not all to be issued at once, and the city will not have to begin any of the improvements at any specified time. The passage of the bond issue will simply make the money available, and the different items of work can then be taken up when conditions seem to warrant. No work will be undertaken without the approval of the Citizens' Supervisory Committee. The two most pressing emergency works, which will have to be done with general revenue funds if the bond issue does not pass, are the Koch Hospital and the resurfacing of certain traffic thoroughfares. These will come to an aggregate of less than $1,000,000.

No Immediate Effect on Taxes.

Will not the city have to pay a high rate of interest on the bonds in order to find a market for them?

Present bond conditions are abnormal. The city would not undertake any large part of the bond issue under present conditions. For the two emergency works already mentioned—Koch Hospital and highway resurfacing—short-term bonds at a comparatively high rate of interest, perhaps 5 or 5¼ per cent, might have to be issued. For the remainder of the bond issue, to be deferred until conditions are more favorable, the interest should not exceed 4½ per cent. In this matter, the approval of the Citizens' Supervisory Committee will be required. The rate of interest was not fixed in the bond ordinance, and effort will be made, in marketing the bonds, to get the best terms available for the city.

What will be the effect of the bond issue on taxes?

Municipal fiscal experts say there will be little effect for the first few years. The bonds will be issued as needed, and the interest, for the next five years, would probably not be sufficient to affect the tax rate. The peak of the interest charges would be reached in about 10 years, after which it would decline. The increase in taxation cannot at any time be more than 15 cents on the $100 valuation. This, on a $2000 valuation, would mean an increase of $3 a year, or 25 cents a month in taxes. The average tax valuation is less than $1000 for each taxpayer.

The Rent Increase Bugaboo.

Will rents be affected by the bond issue?

The foregoing figures show that there will be no increase in taxation which could justify a raise in rent. The landlord who would make this excuse for increasing rent would be a profiteer pure and simple, seeking a pretext for an increase which he would have made anyway.

How would taxation be affected if the bond issue should fail?

The failure of the bond issue would mean higher taxes immediately. If the city is not to issue bonds for its needed public work, the most urgent part of that work will have to be done anyway, and paid for from general revenue. The tax rate for this fiscal year is not subject to change, but a general increase in taxes could be made by increasing the Assessor's valuations, particularly on real estate.

Can the bond funds be used for any other purpose than that designated?

No. The amount voted for each of the 18 purposes must be used specifically for that purpose, and not for any other of the purposes, or for any general municipal purpose.

Suppose the amount set apart for any particular improvement is too large?

Any surplus left after the completion of the improvement must be placed in the sinking fund, to retire the bonds. It cannot be used for any other purpose. This is provided in the bond issue ordinance.

Improvements All Necessary.

Which is the most important of the propositions?

It is difficult to say which of several items is most important and necessary. The first in magnitude and proposed cost, and certainly one of the first in necessity, is the River des Peres sewer and industrial district project.

Why should the city pay the whole cost of the River des Peres improvement?

It would be neither feasible nor equitable to assess this charge against a benefit district. Considered as a work of sewer construction, it would come under the head of public sewers. Considered from the standpoint of the new industrial district to be built up, it will benefit the entire city. Estimates have shown that, with this work completed, the city's share of the cost of sewers in the River des Peres valley will be 39 per cent, compared with an average of about 43 per cent for the other districts of the city.

What is the industrial district plan, and what is there to show its feasibility?

The construction of the proposed sewer and railroad will provide a tract of nearly 1000 acres for industrial purposes, with a capacity for housing $100,000,000 worth of new industries. This industrial development, and the residence development which would accompany it, would be of more value to St. Louis, experts believe, than the acquisition of all of St. Louis County. The possibilities of such a district are shown by the development, in the past two years, of the new northwest industrial district, which is generally regarded as the greatest step forward that St. Louis has taken industrially in many years.

How Purposes Are Related.

Why should we spend $1,500,000 more on the Free Bridge?

To put this splendid bridge to work—to make it the effective outlet of a municipal terminal system which, if proposition 6, 9 and 10 are approved, will extend from the Chain of Rocks to the new River des Peres industrial district, connecting with the new river docks in North and South St. Louis, and connecting with railroads generally. It will be an independent terminal system nearly equal in extent to that of the Terminal Railroad Association. With this system in operation, the position of the city of St. Louis in transportation matters would be greatly improved.

What have propositions 6 and 10 to do with proposition 9, the Free Bridge item?

Proposition 6, the River des Peres improvement, provides that the vast quantity of dirt excavated in making this improvement shall be used as a roadbed for a municipal railroad line through the district. The cost of construction of this line, aside from roadbed, is estimated at $1,000,000, and this is provided under proposition 10, which is entitled "Municipal Docks."

What is the need for a municipal auditorium, proposition 4?

St. Louis, by reason of its location, and through efficient organized effort, has become a convention city of the first rank. It has at present no building adaptable for both large and small gatherings, and it loses conventions which would come here if such a hall were available. Other cities, most of them smaller than St. Louis, have made profitable investments of this kind. Besides the use of such a building for conventions, it would have a large use for local purposes.

Plans for Municipal Auditorium.

Will $900,000 provide the cost of such a building and site?

That depends largely on the selection of a site. If land now owned by the city is used, the entire amount can be devoted to a building. If a site has to be purchased, not enough for the building will remain. In this case, business organizations have already volunteered to conduct a campaign for the raising of the money. It is probable that supplementary money will be needed before this plan is fully realized.

What is the meaning of proposition 17, entitled on the official ballot "maintenance of streets and highways used as general thoroughfares?" Is not street maintenance properly a matter of current revenue?

City officials have explained that the word "maintenance," used in the ordinance, is somewhat misleading. What is meant is the permanent reconstruction of a number of streets which bear a large traffic, yet where the property owners have not experienced an increase in values because of this traffic—in some cases have suffered a decrease in values. This is considered one of the most urgently needed of the bond measures.

Will the lighting proposition, number 18, provide for lighting all the streets by electricity?

No, but it will make a start toward that objective. The $1,000,000 is for the purchase of the present electric lighting equipment in the downtown arc lighting district; for substituting electricity for gasoline in parks, and on streets which have no gas mains; and for making the initial installation for a general electric street lighting system.

Dangerous Grade Crossings.

What are the arguments for proposition 1, grade crossing elimination?

The arguments are the existing grade crossings, which are dangerous to life and increase fire risks; and the existing instances of grade separation, chiefly the Tower Grove viaducts. What has been done at Tower Grove can be repeated at the Delmar boulevard and other crossings. The city pays approximately one-third of the cost of these improvements, the railroads two-thirds, so that the bond issue item of $905,000 will mean about $2,700,000 worth of work.

Why do we need new municipal docks?

Because this city must provide modern means for loading and unloading steamers, to take advantage of the revival of river traffic by the Government barge line. This plan also includes the filling in of the harbor line, adding about 23 acres to the city's river front holdings.

Why are items 2 and 3, for parks and playgrounds, needed?

Public playgrounds have proven their value in St. Louis, as in other cities, in conserving the lives, health and moral welfare of children. This city has fewer public playgrounds than other large cities, and the larger parks are out of reach of the most crowded residence district. The two proposed items would provide for new playgrounds, for a central negro community center, for new bath houses and pools, for athletic fields, band stands and comfort stations, and for the completion of present park improvements.

Is number 5, sewer reconstruction, a necessity?

It is a vital necessity. Old sewers, with frequent cave-ins, are a menace to life, health and property in populous districts.

Municipal Farms Proposition.

Why are the farm items, numbers 7, 8 and 13, needed?

They will strengthen our charitable and penal system at the points where it is now, or has been, weakest. The municipal farm for delinquents (not primarily for "habitual drunkards," though they are mentioned on the official ballot) is to take the place of the antiquated Workhouse. It will provide healthful outdoor work for misdemeanants, a better atmosphere for efforts at reforming them, and proper separation for first offenders and older offenders, and it will also be a source of food supply to other city institutions, and in this way will save money to the city. The farm for curable insane, feeble-minded, convalescents, incipient tubercular patients, and wayward girls, are philanthropic plans of the first importance. The completion of Bellefontaine Farms, at present a successful institution for delinquent boys, is a social necessity.

Why are a new Morgue and municipal garage, items 15 and 16, needed?

The best answer is to look at the present ones.

What is the street openings item, number 11?

It is to provide the city's share for the Olive street widening, Twelfth street extension, and other highway improvements of general value, which cannot otherwise be made, although the necessary legislation has been enacted. These thoroughfares are essential to the growth and development of St. Louis.

Why are new engine houses, number 12, and new jail cells, number 14, needed?

The growth of the city answers the first question; the second is answered by the fact that the new jail was never completed, and now lacks proper means of separation for different kinds of prisoners.

Future Newsprint Supply Must Come From Alaskan Forests, Asserts Meredith

Forest Service Has Prepared for Sale Areas Suitable for Pulp Operations—Timber and Water Power Both Available.

From the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 8.

IN a statement prompted by the critical shortage of newsprint paper, Secretary of Agriculture Meredith called attention today to the vast forest reserves of Alaska and promised the co-operation of the department in making them available to paper manufacturers.

"The national forests of Alaska," said Meredith, "probably contain 100,000,000 cords of timber suitable for the manufacture of newsprint and other grades of paper. Under careful management, these forests can produce 2,000,000 cords of pulp-wood annually for all time, or enough to manufacture one-third of the pulp products now consumed in the United States."

"The Alaskan forests also contain the second chief essential of a paper-manufacturing industry—water power. Known projects have a possible development of 100,000 horsepower, and the department estimates that a complete exploration of the national forests in Southern Alaska will increase their potential power to a quarter of a million."

The chief drawbacks which have prevented paper-making in Alaska, according to Meredith, have been the large investments required for new plants, the inaccessibility and lack of development of Alaska, and the transportation charges to consuming regions. He expressed the belief that all these have been offset by the present acute demand and high prices for all grades of paper.

"Alaska," predicted the Secretary, "is destined to become a second Norway. A substantial development of the paper industry in this wonderful region, combined with the intelligent reforestation of pulp lands in the older regions, should settle forever the question of a paper shortage in the United States."

Areas Prepared for Sale.

Meredith said that a number of areas suitable for pulp operations had been prepared for sale, and that during the coming summer other desirable tracts would be brought to the attention of manufacturers. To encourage the paper industry in Alaska, he said, the department was prepared to contract sufficient stumpage to supply paper mills for 30 years. Large investments in raw material would be obviated by an arrangement permitting the timber to be paid for from month to month, as it is cut. He declared the initial prices, based on the current timber values in Alaska, were sufficiently low to make the cost of pulpwood stumpage a relatively negligible factor to the manufacturer.

"The opening up of the forests of Alaska for the development of the paper industry," said Meredith, "will supply one of the most critical economic needs of the United States, to the profit and service of both Alaska and the people of the several states, without in any way sacrificing or interfering with the purposes for which the forests were established."

Reserves Estimated in 20 Years.

The pressing need of some such policy as that advocated by Meredith—and also by David F. Houston, Secretary of the Treasury, and others who have studied the subject—is evidenced by data gathered by the United States Forest Service, showing that in less than 20 years 95 per cent of the pulp and paper mills of this country, mainly those of the East, will have practically exhausted their supplies of spruce, hemlock and fir—the principal woods from which newsprint is made. Only in Alaska, Washington, Oregon and California, the Forest Service reports, are the reserves in no immediate danger of exhaustion.

The United States is now dependent upon other countries, principally Canada, for the equivalent of two-thirds of the pulpwood, pulp or newsprint which goes into American newspapers. If it is not to become utterly dependent on other countries, experts say, it must put into effect the two-fold policy of development of timber resources in Alaska and the Pacific Northwest and of scientific reforestation in the areas now being cut over.

"It will be necessary for the Government to take the initiative," said Secretary Houston, "unless we are willing to see the smaller and weaker newspapers crushed out in competition and unless, in the course of 25 years, we are willing to see all sources of newsprint, domestic and foreign alike, very materially reduced."

Advocates Poindexter Bill.

Secretary Houston was speaking in favor of the Poindexter bill, now in Congress, which provides for a comprehensive survey of pulp woods on the public domain and the preparation of a plan for reforestation. This bill, he said, provides an opportunity for a real solution of the newsprint shortage, "the most important and urgent of our present pulp and paper questions."

The fundamental trouble, according to Houston, lies in the overcentralization of the paper industry in the Northeast and the Lake States, now being heavily overcut, and the almost total lack of development in the West and Alaska.

Pointing out that the consumption of newsprint in the United States increased from 569,000 tons in 1899 to 1,760,000 tons in 1918—an increase of 200 per cent as compared with a population gain in the same period of only 70 per cent—Houston said there was no reason to anticipate decreasing future demands.

Expects Demand to Continue.

"Newsprint paper," he said, "has thoroughly established its place in our economic life. The present situation is an example of the acute distress which is caused by any enforced curtailment. I regard the present exceptional demands, which are in part due to greatly increased newspaper advertising, as merely one crisis in a general movement which has been under way for several decades. Any solution of the problem which fails to take into account the regularity and amount of the past and probable future increased demands for newsprint paper will accomplish very little and will inevitably result in a series of critical periods such as have characterized the newsprint situation during the past few years. A normal and increasing demand can be met most satisfactorily by increased production.

"If we are to be dependent on foreign sources for either pulpwood, pulp or newsprint, the American consumer will be at the mercy of the foreign manufacturer as to prices. Our industry also will be held under the continued threat of embargo, which, even now, is far from being a theoretical menace. For a year or more American manufacturers have been apprehensive concerning the possibility of an embargo on all pulpwood exports from Canada, and it would unquestionably be desirable to make the United States as nearly self-supporting as possible."

Change in Ten Years.

As late as 1909, Houston pointed out, the United States produced its entire newsprint supply, whereas in 1919 only one-third of the American newspapers were printed on the product of American forests.

"This startling change," he said, "has taken place in 10 years. So far as timber supplies are concerned we are in a much worse position than we were 10 years ago, and our consumption has increased 100 per cent, while our newsprint manufacturing industry has been at a standstill."

Houston declared the United States could not continue permanently dependent on Canada for pulpwood, even if that should be desirable as a matter of public policy, for the reason that "the more that is known of the Canadian supplies, the smaller they are found to be." The best information available, he said, indicated that at the present rate of cutting they would be practically exhausted in the eastern provinces in 25 years and that the beginning of the reduction in output would be keenly felt by the American consumer within a decade. Nor, he said, would it be wise to depend on Europe for any substantial part of our requirements now or later.

Must Have Permanent Supply.

According to experts of the Forest Service, the United States in the long run must solve the paper shortage on the basis of a permanent wood supply. There is a big field for development, they say, in the utilization of mill waste for paper making by a chemical process, but even more important is the regeneration of the forests. It is recommended by the Forest Service in this connection that the practice of Sweden be given serious consideration. In that country the mills employ technically trained foresters who prepare accurate figures concerning the yearly growth of the forests, which figures serve as a rigid basis for the annual cut of timber. It is the publishers rather than the pulp companies, says the Forest Service, who must eventually pay the penalty for wasteful lumbering and who must take it upon themselves to guarantee the perpetuation of the nation's pulp supplies.

The forests must be regenerated not only for the sake of the wood-using industries, but for their importance in national defense. This thought was developed by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association, an ardent advocate of forest protection.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Metric System Impractical.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In your issue of April 11 George B. Vashon states that "34 of the leading nations of the earth have changed to and use exclusively the metric system." This claim has been circulated for years by the advocates of the metric system, but it has no foundation in fact. Not one country on earth uses the metric system exclusively. In some of "the 34 leading nations," Siam, for example, the change has not been begun; in others, such as Spanish-American countries, 70 years of compulsory metric laws has made the metric system the standard for Government work and thrown the weights and measures of the people into confusion by mixing metric units with the Spanish and English units which the people cannot or will not abandon.

In a few of the 34 countries, Continental Europe, for example, the compulsory change to the metric system was begun 130 years ago under conditions highly favorable to success, namely, undeveloped industries and great confusion caused by the use of many local units. Nevertheless, these countries are far from an exclusively metric basis. Take textile manufacturing, for example, one of the few great modern industries which in 1790 had been brought to a fairly advanced stage of development and which, therefore, affords some guide for the English-speaking world today. Textile weights and measures of Continental Europe are in a state of indescribable confusion, due to the mixture of the metric units with weights and measures used before 1790. The basic standards for the French silk industry, for example, are the denier and the aune. Woolen, cotton, linen and jute standards on the Continent are likewise in great confusion for the same reason, and in all of these Continental textile industries our English weights and measures are in extensive use.

Weights and measures once firmly established cannot be arbitrarily abolished. Despite all the metric laws that can be enacted established standards will continue in use, either in their original simplicity or in the form of the awkward, unwieldly and time-killing metric equivalents. Metric units can be forced into use, but established standards cannot be forced out. As a result compulsory metric law means confusion. If enacted in English-speaking countries the confusion will be far greater and more hopeless than that in which the Continental textile industry is involved, because of the greater development of industry and commerce in 1920 than in 1790. Can we not profit by the experience of others, or must the United States learn only by plunging into a confusion from which there will be no escape?

Mr. Vashon names several manufacturing companies as having adopted the metric system, among them the American Locomotive Co. and the Eastman Kodak Co. Both of these companies have issued the statement that they are opposed to the compulsory adoption of the metric system.

Mr. Vashon refers to the natural repugnance to the Latin and Greek names of the metric units as "amusing." These names are one of the many objections to the metric system. As has been well said, they resemble a party of foreigners in uniform, they all look alike and jabber alike. The committee of the French Academy appointed to frame the plan for the metric system in 1790 rejected the metric names and recommended the usual names which the people understood but the revolutionary government disregarded this advice and insisted on the Greek and Latin prefixes.

Not Like Mother Used to Make.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

One of the most pernicious heresies of our time is the making of so-called strawberry shortcake which is not shortcake at all, being made with sponge cake. Restaurants which otherwise have a high culinary standard are guilty of this practice, which spoils good strawberries and wastes good cake. The shortcake of our mothers was a crisp, tasty shell of biscuit dough. Sandwiched with the appropriate berries and seasoned with cream and sugar, it was a dish incapable of being improved upon. Compared with it, the strawberry sponge cake of today is a sweetish, soggy mess. Such stuff should not be permitted to masquerade on menus as shortcake, any more than pale and imperfectly boiled beans should be permitted to pose as "Boston baked."

Those Discarded Crusts.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Monday's news contained the report of a wheat shortage in Australia. In that connection, considering the general high cost of living, together with the fact that millions are reported at the present time to be in actual need of food, I think it time to protest against the crime, almost universally adopted, of throwing away each day many bushels of wheat by the idiotic custom of cutting the crusts from bread before toasting or serving sandwiches. The dental profession knows that the teeth of our people are rapidly deteriorating from the lack of exercise, of which the above inexcusable practice is one of the contributing causes.

AN ASSAULT ON MAJORITY RULE.

The Senate of the United States has interested itself in the contest against the prohibition amendment now before the Supreme Court to the extent of causing to be printed the briefs of the Government and contestants. In the opinion of Senator Brandegee, who proposed the public printing of the briefs, the suit involves "more as to our form of government and the rights of the states, as distinguished from the rights of the central Government, than any suit that has ever been tried in the Supreme Court."

A reading of the briefs, including that filed by former Senator Root, cannot fail to impress one with the profound and scholarly arguments against the soundness of the amendment. One point, to which little public reference has been made, concerns the principle of majority rule, as it is affected by legislation "under color of amendment." Thus the Root brief says:

> If, however, Article V be now construed to confer upon the amending authorities the power to pass ordinary laws which would take effect as amendments of the Constitution, then those laws would be withdrawn from the control of the majority, both in the state and in the nation. From the time such a law is passed it becomes practically irrepealable and unamendable by the majority.
> It can only be repealed or amended by a vote of two-thirds of both houses of Congress and three-quarters of the states. In future years and in future generations the majority of the people of the United States would be helpless to change that law, for three-quarters of the states must unite in order that any change be made. This requirement has no relation to the will of the majority of the states or to the will of the majority of the citizens of the United States, for one-quarter of the state refusing their consent to a change might be those of the least population, and the overwhelming majority of the people of the country might desire the change, but, nevertheless, would not be able to bring it about. Under the census of 1910 there were 13 states which altogether contained less than 5 per cent of the population of the United States; whilst 12 states contained 55 per cent of the population and much more of the wealth of the country.
> If a generation ago a law had been passed in the form prescribed by Article V, imposing limitations upon the conduct of private life throughout the United States which more than 95 per cent of the people of the United States had now come to regard as unwise and injurious, the 95 per cent would be helpless as against the opposition of the other 5 per cent. If this prohibitory law, "under color of amendment" to the Constitution, be a valid exercise of power under Article V and the people of the United States five years, 10 years, 20 years, or more, hence, come to the conclusion that it was an unwise law, they will then be powerless, for upon that subject the majority will no longer control. Thus the construction claimed by the advocates of the power is that Article V empowers one generation to control all future generations and deprive them of the power of governing themselves according to the will of the majority.
> It is not difficult to conjecture that it was, in fact, for this purpose that the sponsors of the so-called eighteenth amendment determined to pass this law themselves instead of amending the Constitution by adding to the enumerated powers of the general Government the power to regulate the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. The practical difference between the two is that if the present attempt succeed the law will be irrepealable by future majorities.

The point Mr. Root is contending for is that in amending the fundamental law the power should have been granted in general terms, so that Congress might exercise it or not, or exercise it only within certain limits, according as the majority opinion of the people was plainly manifested. In its present form, however, the eighteenth amendment usurps this legislative responsibility to the majority in that it is itself irrepealable legislation.

KOCH HOSPITAL.

The grand jury's unqualified indorsement of the efficiency and humanity of the Dwyer management of Koch Hospital, supported by the report of visiting tuberculosis experts, must be accepted as a vindication of the management from the charges of mismanagement and inhumanity made by a group of patients.

Clearing the management of charges of unsanitary and unclean conditions, bad food and harsh treatment, the report confirms the condemnation of the plant as inadequate for its purposes, voiced by the recent grand jury and emphasized by the grand jury and the visiting experts.

The charge of inadequacy of the hospital facilities and accommodations for the treatment of tuberculosis victims and their proper housing and care, stands. This can only be remedied by a new and improved plant, and this better plant can be obtained only through the adoption of the bond issue. Proposition 8 provides money for the purchase of land and the building of structures and their adequate equipment to combat the terrible menace of the white plague. A vote for the bond issue is a vote for the salvation of thousands of victims of tuberculosis and the protection of many other thousands from attack by the disease.

THE CHURCH'S WAR HYMNS.

The Rev. J. H. Hopkinson of Manchester University, England, condemns hyms that breathe of war. He says:

> We have learned that war is not a matter of fluttering banners and clashing swords and beating drums, but merely a sickening and dirty butchery of lads in water-logged or fly-invested trenches.
> We shall be less ready than we were to compare the movement of the church to that of a victorious army. Hymns that we could sing unthinkingly before the war have become a lying blasphemy.
> Who would now sing, "Like a Mighty Army Moves the Church of God?"

Martial hymns as part of church music have their sanction in the old testament, especially the Psalms of David, which are full of warlike utterances. The hymn beginning "The Son of God goes forth to war, a kingly crown to gain," reminds the Bible student of the exhortation, "Gird thy sword upon the thigh, O most mighty!" And again: "Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for mine help. Draw out also the spear." To these pious men of old, God was a man of war, the Lord of Hosts, and they did not hesitate to so describe Him. The world was always at war, and up to the opening of the world war the church's martial hymns were among the most popular, few of the singers probably understanding them, except in their most literal sense.

Will the loss of 33,000,000 lives and the knowledge that war is "a sickening and dirty butchery of lads in water-logged or fly-infested trenches" dampen the martial spirit, religious or secular? Is it not an ineradicable element in human nature?

MISREPRESENTING NO. 7.

Martin Shaughnessy's attack on proposition 7 in the bond issue is based upon a half statement of the purpose of the provision, and therefore misrepresents it. He refers to it as a scheme to take care of habitual drunkards. As stated in the proposition, one of the objects of the provision is the cure of habitual drunkards, some of whom will survive prohibition; but another object is to provide a reclamatory and useful form of punishment for violators of city ordinances.

The municipal farm will take the place of the workhouse, which is a breeder of criminals, rather than a reclaimer of offenders, and is a reproach to a progressive city. The municipal farm will not only conserve human beings by helping to cure their vices, whether it be drink or drugs or other demoralizing practices, and to reclaim mild offenders by giving them wholesome surroundings and useful outdoor occupation, but it will be a means of economizing in the care of these unfortunates and misdemeanants.

The farm method of handling offenders in vice, or in petty misdemeanors or victims of misfortune, is approved by all who have studied the subject. The municipal farm pays in the reclamation of delinquents, particularly first offenders, and in the production of commodities. It is a profitable investment in humanity and economy.

BELGIUM'S FORTUNATE BANKERS.

Belgian banks had a peculiar experience during the war. The country was occupied by the enemy, and the banks were forced to obey the German will. Heavy levies were made on their funds, but the invaders were careful not to force them to the point of failure or suspension. This is taken as evidence of Germany's intention to make Belgium part of Germany. Germany wanted a new province with sound financial institutions.

Reports just printed show that in the period of more than four years of German occupation, the Banque Belge made a net profit of more than 11,000,000 francs on a capital of 30,000,000. The Banque Italo-Belge made a net profit of 8,745,962 francs in the same period, on a capital of 25,000,000 francs, while the Banque du Congo-Belge, on a capital of 5,000,000 francs, made a net profit of 2,515,867 francs. Nearly all the other banks prospered accordingly, the money taken into Germany has been restored to them and all are increasing their capital, usually doubling it, to take care of increased business. They are reaping the reward of making the best of adversity.

HUDSON BAY'S QUARTER-MILLENNIUM.

Beginning with a gala at Winnipeg, the celebration will proceed through nearly the whole month of May in various parts of Canada of the 250th anniversary of the founding of the Hudson's Bay Company. Pageants will be the chief features of the long festival. And perhaps the most impressive of these will take place on the Red River, where canoeists will follow, with much ceremony, the route of the old voyageurs.

When, in 1670, Charles II granted a charter to Prince Rupert and his 17 noble associates, the corporation bore the title of the "Governor and Company of Adventurers of England Trading Into Hudson's Bay." Long as it is, this designation is more expressive of the facts and the history of the organization than the title in common use.

The Hudson's Bay Company made money from its start, notwithstanding damages inflicted before 1700 through French aggression. It also, continuously and thrillingly, made history. Empire marched with it. Romance illuminated its years and tragedy marked them. There was ceaseless and wild adventure under the company standards. There was politics keen and politics cruel; there were tyranny and humanity, grafting and honest enterprise; there were Governors broad-minded and Governors ambitious and self-seeking; there was exhibited in forts and stations and on forest trails the whole range of human strength, weakness, courage, cowardice, passion and emotion.

In effect, the Hudson's Bay Company came to be a chartered despotism. Working ostensibly under the rule of Great Britain, it carried out its own will and decrees upon its subject employes and conducted its own campaigns against interferers and competitors. Its governing rights and monopolies it gave up by the deed of surrender, formulated in 1869. The records of its far-past period of dominion are an inexhaustible source and inspiration to successive generations of romancists and historians. No part of North America can escape the interest of this anniversary.

FREE VERSE.

DEAR ENOS MILLS, Long's Peak, Colo.:
Your kind letter inviting me to go trout fishing with you in the Rockies on June 1st came this morning.
It has had a very disastrous effect upon me:
I can't work.
I have tried terribly hard to get my mind back to my daily bread, but all I can think of is that fishing trip.
I can hear the cold water splashing over the great stones.
I can see the water ousel curtseying from the spray-wet rocks.
I can see through the tall spruce trees the cloud-draped peaks, and I have no more idea where e is on my typewriter than the Man in the Moon.

It looks as if I would have to accept.
I am no good here.
I try to read the paper and find something to write about, but I always wake up with my nose in a piece of railroad literature about fishing in Colorado.
It looks as if my sign hunters and poets would have to fill the column until I can get my mind back to it.
I shall have to send out an S O S to Patience Worth and the sprightly-minded Plinthourgos.
We shall have to have people like Julia Cresap, Mary Sterling and Leta Schilling all stand to their harps.
Think of having all those to call upon in a crisis like this!
We issued a sign hunting license only yesterday to a man who has for his territory the rising community of Bryan, Tex.
His number was 1000000000000000000000006.

Anyway, it looks as if I were coming.
I want to hear the canon wren sing again.
I want to get my fly fast in the top of a dead lodgepole pine and have to go up with my hunting knife betwen my teeth as Wade Hampton used to go after black bear.

I think I shall be there.
It looks like it.
This free verse is all I have done today, and I could not have done this if it had not been about fishing.
Fishing possesses me.
I am its captive.
The school of two-story thinking is temporarily closed.
The world can go to hell.

Do I need waders?
Have you any beaver kill flies?
If so, what are they?
I heard about them up in Montana last summer.
A man from Frisco went out one morning on McDermott Lake, right in front of the hotel, and caught 11 of the finest trout you ever saw.
They ranged all the way from one to five pounds.
There were three brooks, three rainbows and five cut-throats.
He had them dressed and placed on exhibition in the lobby with a sign upon them which said this:

Caught in front of the hotel this morning by Mr. ——— ——— of San Francisco. Beaver kill flies.

He floated about in the worst conceit you ever saw. The rest of us could have murdered him and sunk his body in the lake.
We hated him too much to ask him what beaver kill flies are.
What are they, Enos?

Will you have some when I get there?

Gov. Lowden seems to be running in the Republican presidential race where the Pullman is usually found—that is, last.

Dear Sir: Well, yesterday, as I had nothing else to do, I took a trip to the oil fields, and right away quick I thinks of the funny sign column of the Post-Dispatch and resolves to send in a funny sign as which I sees on the road to the great Burkburnette field.

All along the road are little shacks and tents as is called houses and stores. I would like to send in a description of the whole trip and what is to be seen thereon; but my time is limited at present, and I just want you to print this one sign, which is as follows:

Ice Cream Googles and Axel Greece

Now, if that sign doesn't exist right down here just as I have it written, then there ain't no such thing as the Post-Dispatch.

You can still say a bottle of Griesedieck to the waiter

Nothing strange—but underneath some one has written:

Spinage

That dared show itself on a shop window. Then again on the Florissant road near Ferguson have you seen the U. S. tire sign telling us that the first settlers were so "impessed" wih the beauty of the flower on the "praries" that they called it Florissant? Oh! it's terrible. Yours shudderingly,

THE QUEEN OF THE NIGHT.

TWILIGHT and the Queen of Night;
Vega, Empress of the sky,
Burning with a stately light—
Beauty that shall never die.

Serene above the troubled Earth,
Remote from mad, distracted men—
Above their sorrows and their mirth,
And far beyond their puny ken.

Teach them something of thy might—
Thy calm acceptance of the plan
That made the beauty of the night
And shaped the destiny of man.

Ah, let them in their fear and hate
Lift up their saddened eyes to thee—
Thou sentinel before the gate
Wherein abides Infinity.

THE PROSPEROUS SOUTH.

From Augusta (Ga.) Herald.

PROSPERITY has swept away the "southern million" as a unit of wealth. In the days when Dixie was satisfied to be considered commercially slow, $250,000 in assets generally meant $1,000,000 in reputation. The cautious old citizen who made a chance purchase and who was overtaken by good fortune before he could get his money out of the investment, was frequently rated at about four times his actual "worth." But times change. Many a "millionaire" is just as rich today as he was then, yet his "title" is gone, because there has sprung up a new crop—of real ones. In Clarksdale, Miss., alone, there are 15 men reputed to have made a million dollars or more each in long staple cotton. And Clarksdale is only a village. Quiet little Orange, Tex., has seen the Lutcher-Stark interests pile up an estate figured at $30,000,000. Most of it was acquired in timber lands and lumber. Small fortunes of $100,000 are not uncommon. Various industries, on down to merchandising, have wrought them. Tulsa, Ok., has more than 37 figure men—some of them run into the eighth column when they calculate their wealth. Jackson Barnett, an Indian, at Henryetta, Ok., has $20,000,000. Independent operators are working in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana oil fields, with millions, and are scarcely known elsewhere—in Oklahoma City, one of the men who made "his," did it in mules.

AMERICAN MULE IN WORLD WAR.

From the Omaha World-Herald.

WE all are glad that the Quartermaster-General has spoken out so appreciatively of the American mule, and what he did to secure the victory in the war. And we take with favor the suggestion that the species should be decorated with a medal for the record of those many thousand individuals of it, which showed that they could strive and press forward and endure and die like the best human soldier. The Quartermaster-General only summarizes the report that came from the field while the conflict was raging. We all knew what the American soldier would do over there. We were as confident about the American mule. He did not disappoint us. He did not fail, it is true, to exhibit on occasions his eccentricities and peculiarities, but he never failed his human companions at a critical time. We at once feel the pride of the Quartermaster-General communicated to ourselves as he describes the appearance of the American mule as compared with that of the French or Spanish mule. Both of these were prevailingly smaller, the Spanish mule often showed in his stunted growth and scrawny frame the effect of undernourishment. But the American mule was upstanding, of impressive proportion and of a fullness of skin that showed he had been no stranger to oats and hay—a produce, too, that reflected credit on his dam, the American farm mare, and was no dishonor to his sire.

MODEL HOMES FOR EMPLOYES.

From the Nation's Business.

HOUSING, proper housing, plays a far greater part in labor contentment, in health, in production and in general welfare than is appreciated. One of the big steel companies went through the recent great strike period in the steel industry without one of its force leaving its plants or without threat of strike. The men employed by that company have model homes built by the company and rented or sold on a fair and honest basis. The head of that company employs perhaps 10,000 men and has 22 nationalities represented in his works. He pays more attention to the human elements, to housing, welfare, protective lines, recreation, helpfulness and man building than to steel making. He can employ experts to look after the manufacturing end of his business, and he does. He has prospered greatly.

May Sunshine Leads Society Folk From the Drawing Room to Golf Course and Tennis Court—Country Clubs Open Their Series of Informal Dances and Other Functions.

AFTER a cold, damp March and April, May is indeed a welcome month and with the longer and warmer days come the desire to spend as much time as possible out of doors, so society folk turn to thoughts of out-of-door sports instead of luncheons and formal receptions.

Golf and tennis are perhaps the most popular sports right now and every nice morning and afternoon that the weather permits, golf and tennis enthusiasts in gay sports costumes can be seen on the links and courts of the various clubs.

Most of the county clubs have had their spring openings and have started their usual informal dances. Sunset Hill Country Club had its dinner dance last Wednesday and judging from the number that were turned away because the management could not provide tables the inn is going to be one of the most popular places for dancing this season. The St. Louis Country Club has begun its regular Saturday night dinner dances, Bellerive will start weekly informal dances in about two weeks—Ridgedale will have an informal dance once a month as will Midland Valley.

The custom of dropping in at the various country clubs for tea or luncheon has begun and on every Thursday at the St. Louis Country Club will be found groups of society matrons and girls enjoying the informal buffet luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Sims of New Orleans, formerly of St. Louis, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Virginia Keating to William Bardon Finscher of New Orleans. Mr. and Mrs. Sims and their daughter removed to New Orleans about two months ago. No date has been set for the wedding.

An engagement of interest announced last week was that of Miss Jane Thomas Bemis and Oliver John Anderson, which was made known at a luncheon given by Miss Bemis to 14 friends.

The prospective bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judson S. Bemis of 2 Brentmoor park and made her debut three seasons ago. She is a member of the "Imperial" and of the Junior League. Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo E. Anderson of the Aberdeen Apartments and is a member of the St. Louis, Country and Racquet Clubs and of the "Imperial." The wedding will take place in the fall.

Miss Elizabeth Bradshaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bradshaw of 5301 Washington boulevard, will entertain Wednesday afternoon with a luncheon for Miss Carolyn Little of New Jersey, who is visiting Miss Frances Carleton of Lake avenue. Miss Bradshaw will accompany her family to Charlevoix, Mich., early in July, where her parents have leased a cottage.

Miss Kathryn Smith, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. E. Combie Smith of 5545 Maple avenue, will depart this week for England, where she will be a guest at "Heatherlea," country estate near Manchester of her aunt, Mrs. R. Burdon Stoker. She and her aunt later will tour the Continent for six months. Miss Smith will join friends, Mr. and Mrs. David Cole of Omaha, Neb., in New York City for the trip. She has been a student at Washington University this year.

Miss Corrine E. Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clark, 2625 South King's highway, entertained with a party Thursday. She announced her engagement to Clarence H. Hogue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fortune of 4227 Castleman avenue. The guest included Misses Ruth and Helen Burks, Lucille Dunlap, Dorothy Kenney, Ruth Ellis, Helen Kaylor and Mrs. William Bain.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Sparks of the Branscome apartments left Wednesday for Louisville, Ky., to visit Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Sparks and to attend the Derby at Churchill Downs yesterday.

Miss Lucille Krieger, 5951 Washington avenue, entertained Saturday afternoon with a bridge party of five tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Angert of St. Louis County will entertain with a garden party this afternoon, from 4 to 6 o'clock. About 300 guests have been invited and tea will be served in the garden, weather permitting.

For the benefit of the tuition fund of a little French girl at school near Paris, the students of Hosmer Hall will give two plays in French Friday evening at the Toy Theater, under the direction of Mlle. Helene Berthet of the faculty of Hosmer Hall. Miss Berenice Wyer will have the leading role in "La Vision de Jeanne d'Arc," in which the great heroine is shown as a young girl at play with her friends in the fields when the sign comes that gives her courage to lead her country's armies to victory. Others in the cast will be Misses Marjorie Cooper, Louise Johnson, Dorothy Dick, Ada Lee Bartlett, Virginia Patterson, Sarah Hiller, Mary Green, Elizabeth Wearen, and Virginia Hoevel, with a prologue by Edith Roberta Niderlander.

The other play will be "Le Marriage de Papillon," with Misses Edna Patch and Florence Adams as the butterfly lovers, and girls costumed as fireflies, crickets and grasshoppers taking part in the romance, among whom are Misses Jessie Schoen, Jane Wilson, Cora Boyd, Dorothy Cone, Katherine Butts, Helen Pfaff, Elizabeth Conner, Janet Moll, Betsy Boeck and Frances Butts.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Wilkerson of the Branscome Apartments are in Louisville, where they attended the Kentucky Derby held at Churchill Downs yesterday.

One of the delightful events of the week will be the Florence Nightingale centennial card party under the auspices of the Visiting Nurses' Association at the Ridgedale Country Club Tuesday afternoon, when the tables will be set on the broad galleries and the lawns, weather permitting. Careful arrangements have been made to facilitate playing as a great many tables have been reserved.

Reservations which may be made with Mrs. Stephen B. Sheldon, 4542 Maryland avenue, will close at noon tomorrow (Monday). The proceeds will go to supply the service of nurses in the homes of the sick poor of the city.

The marriage of Miss Isabelle Ferguson and Harry R. Cruikshank took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Ferguson, 5229 Northland avenue, at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, the Rev. LaClare of the Third United Presbyterian Church officiating.

Miss Alene Shutt attended as bridesmaid. Clyde M. Ferguson, brother of the bride was best man. Miss Fidelia Ferguson, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride wore a gown of pale, pink georgette crepe and veil of tulle and carried pink and white roses. The bridesmaid's dress was of pink georgette and she carried a bouquet of white and pink roses. A reception was held.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Howell, 3156 Portis avenue, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen M. Howell to Ralph B. Barksdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Barksdale, 1128 Hamilton avenue, at a party which they gave yesterday afternoon. Barksdale served 21 months overseas with the Twelfth Engineers. The guests at the party included: Mmes. L. W. Bush, V. P. Spalding, Frank Spalding, James Belleville, Audley Rose, Jean Nelson,

Mohawk SILK GLOVES

"I TAKE PRIDE in my hands, keep them soft and well tended, and I love beautiful gloves of kid or of silk. My silk gloves are always of Mohawk make—they fit so exquisitely.

At my favorite shop I am told that in the Mohawk mill, generation after generation of silk-craftsmen and needlewomen have patiently perfected the art of making silk gloves fit flawlessly. And there they weave the lustrous, durable silk fabric of which my gloves are made, as I often think, just for me." (NAME ON REQUEST)

No Bust Pads

NOW Use the National "Bust developed 5 inches," says Mrs. Allendorf.

Only Real Bust Developer

The National is the special Bust Developer Dr. C. S. Carr formerly recommended in the Physical Culture Magazine as the only safe, reliable method known for enlarging the bust in a natural way. Of this method, Dr. Carr said:

"Indeed, it will bring about a development of the busts quite astonishing."

This has been proven over and over by those using The National. In reports sent us some have obtained as much as five inches development by following Dr. Carr's instructions.

VALUABLE BOOK FREE

If you want a beautiful, plump, full bust, write for our valuable book on bust development, containing the article by Dr. Carr, in which he tells specifically the causes of non-development and how the bust may be developed harmlessly to its most beautiful proportions. Sent free to every woman in need of development. If you wish book sent sealed, inclose 6c postage.

GRAND-LEADER

Reduced Prices—Due to Unusual Conditions

Reduced Prices are the keynote of this advertisement.

The Cause is a backward season which inspired hesitancy on the part of the buying public among some lines of merchandise, and created a surplus with the manufacturers and the retail merchants. And there is a willingness to make price sacrifices in order to reduce this surplus.

The Result to you is that, in the face of rising prices on raw materials and on labor, we are able to offer merchandise of the superior quality which has become the symbol of this institution, at prices far below the commonly accepted figures, and which may not be duplicated for some time to come.

The May Sales also add to the attractiveness of this institution as a buying center. The values compare favorably with those existing in the departments where extreme price sacrifices have been made either by ourselves or the manufacturer or both. In a word, this is the greatest value-giving event of 1920, and your attendance is most earnestly urged.

STIX, BAER & FULLER.

Social Events

Members desiring the table d'hote luncheon, which will be served at 1 o'clock, must make reservations by noon Wednesday, May 12.

The Reciprocity meeting of the Confederate Memorial, Hostorical and Literary Society is to be held May 12 in Vandervoort's Music Hall, at 2:30 p. m. The speaker is to be John M. Atkinson, who will talk on "The Revised Missouri Constitution." The hostesses for the day are Mmes. Charles M. Monroe, Gilbert L. Beckley and Joe T. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Schultz of 3865 McDonald avenue, assisted by their daughter, Mrs. J. L. Mortimer, entertained Saturday night in honor of J. L. Mortimer, who has returned to St. Louis after spending several months in Texas.

Those present were: Messrs. and Mmes. Wm. Hampe, Louis Hoffstetter, Jos. Deimher and John May; Mrs. Dan Bartlett; Miss Bertha Heegar and Bert Boatright.

The Women's Auxiliary Unit, Quentin Roosevelt Post, No. 1, American Legion, will hold its regular meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday at 4271 Olive street. All mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of former service men are cordially invited to attend.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, St. Louis Lodge, No. 9, B. P. O. Elks, will give a card party at their clubhouse at 2 o'clock next Saturday. Mrs. Frank Tabler is general chairman, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Carroll Smith, newly elected president, and Mrs. Walter Ehrler, retiring president of the auxiliary, as vice chairmen. On the committees are: Ticket—Mrs. Max Berman, chairman, and Mrs. C. C. Peterson. Arrangements—Mrs. Wm. Ledyard chairman; Mrs. August Cicardi, Mrs. H. E. Rose, Mrs. G. Hart, Mrs. R. Cornell, Mrs. F. E. Rafferty, Mrs. G. H. Bulger and Mrs. L. R. Faverau. Cards—Mrs. John Baggerman, chairman; Mrs. A. Knell and Mrs. Nat Brown. Tallies—Mrs. A. G. Schlicht, chairman; Mrs. M. E. Cuttner and Mrs. C. Teutenberg. Score—Mrs. Frank Julier, chairman; Mrs. E. Schopp, Mrs. L. Cicardi and Mrs. Joe Badaracco. Prize—Mrs. Jack Ritter, chairman; Mrs. F. Arata, assistant chairman; Mrs. W. Linders, Mrs. H. The games selected for the afternoon are bridge and 500.

The Minerva Club met at the residence of Mrs. E. E. Williams in Kirkwood, the president, Mrs. U. S. Coudy, presiding. Miss M. L. Baker was leader for the day, and the response to roll call brought to mind schooldays, as "State Capitals" was the answer. Mrs. E. O. Eames defined the fine arts as contrasted with the useful arts. Miss Baker read several articles on Americanism, after which an amusing discussion on the cost of living followed.

The "Wee Wee Girls" entertained with a dinner party Sunday evening, April 25, at the home of Miss Lee Cutter, 5839 Cote Brilliante avenue. Covers were laid for 16. Those present were: Misses Bess Kessler, Anna Koslow, Sadie Rosenthal, Lee Cutter, Lillie Goldstein, Annabelle Brick, Frances Cohen, Mary Davis; Messrs. Ben Miller, Sam Cohen, Morris Kleinberger, William and Samuel Greenfeld, George Zatlin, Ted Boonshaft, Al Cutter.

Mrs. Carrol Smith, member of the Morning Choral and Choral Symphony, will sing, and Mrs. Aelice Aehle will play the violin, accompanied by Mrs. Goodwin at Vandervoort's Hall Thursday afternoon on the occasion of the reciprocity meeting given by the Confederate Memorial, Historical and Literary Society, to the officers and members of the various women's clubs of St. Louis.

The first production of the St. Louis Theater Guild will be three plays under the direction of Robert Hanna, which will be given May 28 and 29 at the Little Theater of the Artists' Guild. The first play will be "Thorns in Arcady," by Elsa Rendal Rouveyrol, a love lyric of Old Provence, with Ann Drew Platt, Mrs. Archer O'Reilly, Winston Johns, E. O. Keefe, Gustavus Tuckerman and

Velvet Soft Skin

Always a Charm.

Keep Away The Wrinkles.
Mix Your Beauty Aids at Home.

By Madame Maree

TO retain a youthful complexion, or to revive a neglected one, is only a matter of daily care, together with good toilet preparations.

Here are some home mixed creams and hair beautifiers that are recommended as having been tested and tried for many years.

A Cream to Tighten the Skin and Remove Wrinkles

It is really inspiring to know that removing wrinkles now depends almost entirely upon yourself. Just a few minutes' trouble at the start and more than half the battle is over. It will take but a few moments for you to make a mixture of two ounces of eptol, a little water and glycerine. The eptol can be obtained from your druggist for fifty cents. This cream produces startling changes in the skin in a short time. It will make you look many years younger if you will only use it faithfully.

A Cream to Fade Out Blemishes

There is but one thing you need to beautify your skin and bring it to a condition of incomparable loveliness in a short time. By the use of this cream you will soon find that all red spots, freckles, all muddiness and sallowness will have disappeared completely, leaving the skin pure and clear as a lily. You cannot get this result except by mixing one ounce of zintone with a little glycerine and hot water. The zintone costs fifty cents at the drug store. This makes a remarkable cream, which, when used liberally, will not fail to give you the results.

Blackheads Go in a Few Minutes

It is only a question of a few moments to get rid of blackheads. The best thing to use is neroxin. You sprinkle a little neroxin on a wet cloth or sponge and rub the blackheads with this for a few moments. Looking in your mirror, you will find the blackheads gone. This is a very remarkable article, and you need no longer use tonics, face-steaming, and pinching, and other useless methods for many months at a time. For fifty cents you can get the neroxin from your druggist.

For a Shampoo

Just buy a twenty-five cent package of eggol and dissolve it in hot water as you need it. This is far better than soap.

To Remove Superfluous Hair

There is a very remarkable way to remove superfluous hair. Simply moisten the hairs with a little sulfo solution. The hair begins to shrivel. You can see this dissolve, and then with just a swish of the finger, all the hairs can be rubbed off clear and clean. It is glorious. Every woman should have some sulfo solution on her dresser. It will cost one dollar at any drug store, and will last for a considerable time.

For a Dependable Hair Invigorator

You can easily prevent hair from falling, and you can make it grow thick and luxuriant by a very simple method, which is far superior in results to that of any so-called hair tonic you can buy. The invigorator is made by adding one ounce of beta-quinol to a half pint of water and a half pint of bay rum. If you prefer you may use a full pint of witchhazel instead of the water and bay rum. The beta-quinol may be procured for fifty cents at any drug store. Try this and you will no longer find handfuls of hair coming out on your comb.

Carl Erickson, Stanley Smith, Ralph and Arnold Cohen, Kenneth Gorham, Aubrey Massey, Creal McAllister and Arthur Leulet.

Mrs. W. C. Brown, 433 South Clay avenue, Kirkwood, entertained the Study Hour Club at a regular meeting last Tuesday. After business a social hour was enjoyed. The final meeting of the season will be on May 25 at "Tree Court," the country home of Mrs. G. W. Baumhoff, at Keyes Summit.

The Sewing Circle of St. Francis de Sale's parish will give a lotto and three hundred euchre party, Thursday at 2:30 p. m., in the parish hall, Gravois and Ohio avenues.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Strong of 4446 Page boulevard entertained with a party last Thursday evening to announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Harriette Frances Strong, to Herbert Miller of West Plains, Mo. The engagement of Clarence Campeter of 4500 Bessie avenue and Miss Eleanor Florence Horsemeyer of 4525 Red Bud avenue was also announced.

St. Mark's Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Leona Dueber and Charles M. Oink of Chicago, yesterday morning. Miss Lucretia Oink, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid, and Will Fraser served as best man. A breakfast followed the church ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, 5202 Maple avenue, after which Mr. and Mrs. Oink departed for the East. They will be home in Chicago after June 1.

St. Louis Chapter, U. D. C., held its monthly board meeting on Friday at the home of Mrs. Edwin Sherzer, 4439 Enright avenue. The regular Chapter meeting will take place tomorrow with Mrs. J. C. Crodus, 5047 Washington boulevard as hostess.

Mme. de Barnard of the Jefferson Hotel has returned to the city after a short eastern trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Buergler of 2343 South Tenth street gave a birthday surprise party last Sunday in honor of their daughter, Miss Marie Buergler. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. William Buergher, Mr. and Mrs. H. Buergler Jr., Mrs. Frank Buergher, Mrs. M. Strome, Mrs. A. E. Krich, Misses Elizabeth, Mary and Josephine Buergler, Mamie and Lillian Zurline, Pauline Horwath, Rose Solfronk, Jessie Hammerman, Julia Wagner, Stella Cooper, and Messrs. Ben Samuels, Oscar Berkey, Ben Seivers and Ed Dittman.

The Friendly Aid Charity Club was entertained Monday, May 3, by Mrs. J. W. Dawson of Kenwood Springs. After luncheon a business meeting was held and it was determined to hold the annual card party and bazar at the Buckingham Hotel at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, May 17. All money raised by the club is devoted to charity. It has distributed nearly $10,000 in the last eight years.

The United States History Club will have its annual outing at O'Fallon Park May 17.

The Clendenen Dancing Academy will have its closing entertainment at the Shubert-Jefferson Theater Monday, May 17, at 8:15 p. m., when the pupils will present "The Fountain of Youth."

The marriage of Miss Kathryn Longmire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Longmire of 2490 Clifton avenue, to Leonard Keene Thomson, took place yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Only the family and a few intimate friends were present. After a honeymoon in the South Mr. and Mrs. Thomson will be at home at 2651 Clifton avenue.

A luncheon will be held by the St. Louis Section of the Council of Jewish Women on Monday at 1 o'clock at the Washington Hotel. The election of officers will take place.

The Lafayette W. C. T. U. will hold its monthly business meeting at the home of Mrs. N. B. Stanza, 3559 Halliday avenue, on May 12 from 2 to 3 o'clock. A social will be held from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The Cleveland Parent-Teacher Association will hold its meeting in room 300, Cleveland High School at 3 p. m. instead of evening on Wednesday, May 12, because of the coal shortage.

The St. Louis Shakspeare Study Club gave a luncheon, Thursday, at the Century Boat Club for members only. Mmes Dana, Sommers, Burton, Hitchcock, Aehle, Sontheimer, Parker and Brown responded to the toast of the president. A feature of the afternoon was a violin selection by Miss Elise Aehle. Mrs. Aehle accompanied her daughter on the piano.

FAT PEOPLE HAVE PERVERTED TASTE

Proof That Arbolone Removes Craving for Wrong Foods.

Dissolves and Eliminates Fatty Tissues Harmlessly.

Any Anti-Fat treatment that fails to correct the perverted appetite and craving for the very foods which make fat is certain to fail of permanent results. Mark that fact well! Five-grain tablets Arbolone removes the craving for undesirable fatty foods, restores natural appetite and digestion, while it dissolves fatty accumulations in the body and eliminates slowly but surely, without weakening or other evil effects.

Mrs. L. Holly, Imperial, Calif., writes:

"Kind Sirs: Have taken your Arbolone Tablets for obesity and in seven months reduced from 205 pounds to 132 pounds. I cannot say enough for them, and anybody who is fat should take them. My health is better than ever, etc."

Tablets Arbolone enjoy the largest sale of any obesity medicine, and they deserve it. Sold by all well stocked druggists in sealed tubes with full directions.

High Prices and the Bond Issue

THE passage of the Municipal Bond Issue next TUESDAY does not mean that the bonds will all be issued at once. That would be impossible, as well as impractical. The bonds would be issued as needed. It would not mean that the city must make the proposed improvement right away at prevailing high prices. It would make the funds available, so that the city could promptly take advantage of market conditions if prices change. A nonpartisan SUPERVISORY COMMITTEE appointed by seven business and civic organizations would supervise the issuance of the bonds and economic expenditure of the money, on behalf of the public. The bond election will be next Tuesday. Vote YES by scratching NO.

NEWSPRINT SUPPLY OF FUTURE MUST COME FROM ALASKA

1918," said Pack, "was stopped in the forests of France. Must we wait for invasion to teach us the lesson France learned 125 years ago, when she adopted a policy to perpetuate her forests?"

Wood Helped Win the War.

Pack quoted from an article by Lieut. Col. Theodore S. Woolsey Jr., U. S. A., a member of the Inter-Allied Wood Committee, who wrote:

"Had France allowed the destruction of her forests during the nineteenth century, the allies might have lost the war. Not only were the wood supplies required locally to economize ocean tonnage and railway transport, but the forests themselves were needed as a line of defense.

"The value of the forest as a means of defense is so recognized that the French forest code provides that no private forests can be denuded, in the frontier zones, without the specific approval of the civil and military authorities."

Pack gave figures of the American Forestry Association to the effect that the product of the wood-using industries is valued annually at nearly two and a half billion dollars, or ten per cent of the total value of all manufactures.

"The news print situation should bring a showdown as to the need of a national forest policy," said Pack. "Before the war newsprint paper sold for about two cents a pound; now it sells in large quantities for about five cents and in small quantities for ten cents or more.

"In time of peace or in time of war, forests are the backbone of industry. The forest fires in this country burn every year more than ten times the area of devastated France. A national forest policy and better fire protection are the biggest problems of our reconstruction era."

WOMEN'S BELIEF IN SUFFRAGE NOT UPSET BY CONVENTION'S ROWS

vate conference ended, women pressed into the room to listen to the counsel being dispensed by Babler with a calm judicial air.

Babler's Diplomacy.

When asked by one impetuous inquirer "What are we going to say to the Democrats?" Mr. Babler replied, "we don't care what the Democrats do. There are no Democrats here, are there? Well, I'll tell you women confidentially. I am going to get $300,000 from the national committee with which we will organize the women of this State for the Republican party. We will not have to worry about what the Democrats do."

Babler, asked by a reporter for confirmation of his statement, denied having made it. Perhaps he was, in extremity, offering the women any argument that would, by any chance, impress them; and there may have ben just as much of the element of cajolery in this as in the other argument that State Chairman Cole of the Republican party would be the one sacrificed in case women insisted upon places on the Big Eight. For of course, Cole was not allowed to withdraw.

Neither well prepared arguments nor impromptu cajolery prevailed against women with a vital principle for which they have so long struggled, as we know. But having gained the point in which they were essentially interested, no doubt, now the machine will roll along, under its standard "harmony," unimpeded by the women except over this one question at Kansas City, until the next question in which they are essentially interested is at stake. I am told there was enough dissention engendered at the Kansas City convention, within the women's ranks, to keep them pretty well occupied with their own affairs.

THREE HURT IN A COLLISION

Truck Trying to Pass Car on Left Side Runs Into Another.

Miss Elsie Bolte of 4953 Terry avenue, a telegraph operator, was cut on the face by broken glass, and Martin J. Fitzgerald, 46 years old, of 2811 Cass avenue, and his negro helper, Marion Slaughter, 70, were cut and bruised at 7:30 a. m. yesterday when a truck of the National Wrecking Co., driven by Fitzgerald, collided in front of 2520 Glasgow avenue with a southbound Cass car in which Miss Bolte was a passenger.

Fitzgerald was driving north on Glasgow avenue and struck the southbound car in trying to pass a northbound car on the left side. The truck was demolished and Fitzgerald was arrested.

Rational Home Remedy For Wrinkled, Baggy Skin

Bathing the face in a simple lotion made as follows, is the best thing known to disperse wrinkles, from the finest lines to the deepest crowsfeet: Powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in witch-hazel, one-half pint. Your nearest druggist can supply the constituents. It is a natural and rational treatment as it tends to remove the cause of these tell-tale signs of advancing age, worry or ill health. Having both astringent and tonic properties, the solution tightens the too-loose skin and tends to solidify the underlying muscular tissue. This smooths out the wrinkles and gives the skin a firmer supporting foundation.

Obviously this effect must also reduce hanging cheeks, double chin and baggy neck. The remarkably prompt action of this harmless lotion is another commendable feature.

RHEUMATISM

RECIPE

I will gladly send any Rheumatism sufferer a Simple Herb Recipe Absolutely Free that Completely Cured me of a terrible attack of muscular and inflammatory Rheumatism of long standing after everything else I tried had failed me. I have given it to many sufferers who believed their cases hopeless, yet they found relief from their suffering by taking these simple herbs. It also relieves Sciatica promptly, as well as Neuralgia, and is a wonderful blood purifier. You are most welcome to this Herb Recipe if you will send for it at once. I believe you will consider it a God-send after you have put it to the test. There is nothing injurious contained in it, and you can see for yourself exactly what you are taking. I will gladly send this Recipe absolutely free—to any sufferer who will send name and address, plainly written.

CAMP JACKSON ANNIVERSARY

The General Lyon Memorial Committee will celebrate the fifty-ninth anniversary of the capture of Camp Jackson with a program, including the decoration of the General Nathaniel Lyon monument in Lyon Park tomorrow.

The reunion of the Civil War veterans will open with assembly call at 3 o'clock by buglers of Fremont school, accompanied by a drum corps, followed by the opening address by B. Husson, president of the committee; an oration by Richard Bartholdt; address in German by the Rev. E. L. Bleibtreu; presentation of floral offerings; reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by John W. Lanley; singing of "America" by the assembly, and taps.

Fairy Play to Be Repeated.

A fairy play, "The Green Dragon," which was given at the Shubert-Jefferson Theater last night by pupils of Mrs. Carrie P. Johnson's dancing classes, will be repeated tomorrow night. Leading parts are taken by Lorraine Kilpatrick and Melba Goldberg.

BATHING BEAUTIES AND FILMS AT AMERICAN

"Yankee Doodle in Berlin" Returns—The Four Mortons at Orpheum.

The Sennett "Bathing Beauties," a movie musical review and the comedy picture, "Yankee Doodle in Berlin," are combined in an entertainment which will open this afternoon at the American theater, and continue on the two-a-day plan.

Taking part in the revue will be John F. Conroy, expert diver, assisted by his sister, Lillian; Jimmie Dunn, late partner of Evelyn Nesbit; Mary Jane, comedienne from "Autumn Scandals;" Marian Favelle and the Yankee Doodle Jazz Sextet. The bathing beauties, who also sing and dance, are Peggy Mayo, Mabel Delaine, Billie Haste, Ruth Haver, Helen Happe, Flora Welsh, Gladys Burke, Jean Eglyn, Helen Fox, Virginia Ray and 15 others.

Sam and Kitty Morton, vaudeville entertainers for 40 years, and their children, Martha and Joe, lead the Orpheum bill this week in an act called "Then and Now." Henry Santry, baritone, and his syncopated band of 16, combine opera and jazz on a 50-50 basis. Francis Yates and Gus Reed submit a travesty called "Double Crossing." Others on the bill are Loney Haskell, monologist; Percy Oakes and Pamela Delour, in a dance revue; and Mang and Snyder, gymnasts. Godron's Circus promises amusement for grown-ups as well as children.

The Rialto leads off with "The Rainbow Cocktail," a melange of light opera, introducing selections and scenes from such popular works as "The Wizard of the Nile," "Florodora," "The Mikado," and "The Merry Widow." Bruce de Lette is in charge. Second on the bill is Master Gabriel, diminutive comedian, with Fred Tidmarsh and Bessie Ward in a one-act playlet, "Little Kick."

Other Vaudeville Offerings.

Leading acts at other vaudeville houses are: Columbia, Hall and Shapiro in "Bundles of Nonsense;" Grand, Roy MacNickol and Aglae Duval in a farce, "The Honeymoon;" and Loew's Garrick, Leon Stanton and others in a one-act comedy, "Money and Matrimony." The offerings at the Standard and Gayety are, respectively, "The Bathing Beauties" and "Hello, America."

Forest Park Highlands begins operations for the season this morning, with its usual vaudeville, band concerts and concessions. There will be band concerts today at 4, 7:30 and 10:30 p. m. There will be two vaudeville shows a day, beginning this week with Wayne Beeman and others in "Bits of Variety;" Lee Barth, dialect comedian; John T. Doyle and a company in "The Red Flash;" the "Four Harmony Kings," and the Carcinetti brothers, novelty acrobats.

Spain to Keep to Standard Time.

MADRID.—Spain will not adopt summer time this year, owing to strong opposition from powerful agricultural interests and railroads, and the Cabinet Council has issued a proclamation to this effect.

Fire at 10 a. m. yesterday destroyed a three-story brick house at 5266 Vernon avenue, conducted as a boarding house by Mrs. Susan Jones. The fire was discovered on the third floor. There was a slight explosion on the second floor after the arrival of the firemen. Damage to the building was $5000; to the contents, $2000.

Mother! Teach the Children Their Daily Health Needs

You simply can't be too insistent on this subject

FEW children find pleasure in the things most vital to their physical comfort and health, so it rests with the watchful mother to see that they are done. The child will be grateful in after years.

Chief among the functions necessary to the upbuilding of the little body, so that it will not be a dyspeptic, constipated body when it matures, is elimination regularly every morning. If the mother will be insistent and allow nothing to interfere with it, it will soon become a habit, a daily routine that will not be forgotten throughout life.

There are times, however, when nature will not operate unaided. Then give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, and the headaches, the biliousness, the torpor will quickly disappear. It acts gently and without griping, and as it contains no narcotics and is pleasant to the taste, it may be given to infants. Thousands of families have been regulated to healthy maturity with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

A bottle can be bought at any drug store. In a large family there is always someone who would feel better for a dose of a good medicine like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

SYRUP PEPSIN

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois.

MEETING TONIGHT FOR RELIEF OF ARMENIA

Military Mission Members to Explain Needs to Assemblage in Knights of Columbus Hall.

A plea for liberal contributions to the fund being raised among Armenians in the United States for the rehabilitation of their native land, will be made by Major-General Antranik, known as the "Washington of Armenia," at a mass meeting of Armenians tonight in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Olive street, near Grand avenue. The campaign is nation-wide among Armenians in this country. Gen. Antranik and Capt. Bonapartian, his Adjutant, who form a military mission from Armenia to the United States, are touring the country in the interest of the campaign.

Gen. Antranik and Capt. Bonapartian were guests of the City Club at luncheon yesterday, and at a banquet at the American Annex last night.

Gen. Antranik is unable to speak English. Capt. Bonapartian, acting as his interpreter, said that the General has been fighting the Turks more than 20 years, and in the late war participated in 60 battles without a defeat.

Service in Late War.

Capt. Bonapartian said that Gen. Antranik led an army of 20,000 Armenian volunteers with the Russians against the Turks. A British military mission in the Caucasus in 1917 organized a division of 30,000 Armenian refugee soldiers, he said, and chose Antranik commander-in-chief. After the Russian army collapsed, Bonapartian said, the Armenians fought their avowed enemies alone for a year.

At the end of the war, according to Bonapartian, Antranik's force had destroyed the railroads and kept the Turks from advancing against the British in Persia. His army, Bonapartian said, also successfully fought off a Turkish force which was besieging 80,000 refugees, including 50,000 Assyrians and 30,000 Armenians, and enabled the refugees to join the British in Mesopotamia.

Capt. Bonapartian is another hero in the hearts of the Armenians. It has been related that, after being conscripted into the Turkish army and serving 10 months, he made a spectacular escape on horseback in 1915, riding 20 miles through 10,000 Turkish troops and across 12 trenches to safety behind the Russian lines. In escaping, it is said, he impersonated a member of the Turkish general staff.

Armenians feel very grateful to America for its liberal donations and will never forget, Capt. Bonapartian declared.

Needs of the Nation.

"That is not the real remedy, though," he said. "We need supplies and arms to defend ourselves and secure our physical existence. We hope the United States will accept the protectorate over Armenia. It would not be necessary for your country to send troops to help us. If the United States can give us a few hundred officers to organize our army, some administrators to organize our affairs and financial aid, it can repatriate Armenia and do us a real justice; without an American mandate there can never be such justice for Armenia nor real peace in the Orient. We have sufficient man-power in 100,000 troops."

Capt. Bonapartian stated that what Armenia wants is its small republic enlarged so as to include Russian and Turkish Armenia. She will not seek to annex Persian Armenia at the present. Thus the young republic would have a natural outlet to the Mediterranean.

Gen. Antranik and Capt. Bonapartian will depart tonight for Chicago. They have been in the United States four months and expect to complete their mission in another month.

VIVID WAR PICTURES PAINTED BY FORMER ENGLISH SOLDIER

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, May 8.—In a room about nine foot by six, F. J. Mears, a young metal worker, is painting war pictures. He and his wife work, sleep, wash their clothes and have their meals in this room, in a squalid passage off Tottenham Court road. Mears and his wife sleep on the floor.

Before the war Mears was a metal worker. He volunteered and was gassed in Flanders. Invalided out of the army two years ago, he went back to his old trade, but found the work too heavy.

He got the idea that if he could tell the truth about the war in pictures he might earn enough to maintain himself and his wife. He knew nothing of drawing, but he painted a picture as a soldier sees war and not as seen by the conventional artist. It was a picture of shattered, splintered trees "crying aloud," as Mears himself puts it, against the horrors; a picture of dark, sinister pools of mud, of a troubled sky and of crouching little figures, running across a shell-swept road. The picture found a purchaser at once and Mears now has 30 pictures, all burning with the same idea, on exhibition in a West End gallery.

A Woman's Verdict

Tells of Suffering Greatly With Kidney and Bladder Trouble and How Balmwort Brought Relief

Her Letter Well Worth Reading

Mrs. Nellie McGinn, 609 East 138th street, New York City, writes:

"For the last year I had suffered greatly from Kidney and Bladder trouble, distressing pain in the back and hips, with rheumatic twinges and frequent severe headache, accompanied by nervousness, chills, and fever; also with pain in the region of the bladder. I would frequently have to arise at night, my sleep being disturbed by the pressure and inflammation in bladder. Beginning the use of Balmwort Tablets I noticed almost instant relief, and continuing to use them I am now totally well and relieved of all pain and distress from which I suffered. I am glad to recommend Balmwort Tablets as a reliable beneficial medicine and trust others may find relief and freedom from pain and distress as I did, etc."

The above letter is a true statement and is on file in our offices. Balmwort Tablets bring relief when other medicine has failed. Sold by leading druggists, $1.00 per tube.

Rupture Kills 7000 Annually

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss, appliance or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO PAD when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore cannot chafe or pinch. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. No straps, buckles or springs attached.

Learn how to close the hernial opening as nature intended so the rupture CAN'T come down. Send your name today to PLAPAO CO., Block 557, St. Louis, Mo., for FREE trial Plapao and the information necessary. Copyrighted by F. J. Stuart.

PONSELLE WILL SING FOUR OPERATIC ARIAS

One Will Be From "Gianni Schicchi," Last of Puccini's New Trilogy.

Four, and perhaps five, operatic arias, taken from Rosa Ponselle's roles at the Metropolitan, are promised for the dramatic soprano's second St. Louis concert, to be given on Monday night of next week at the Odeon. She will be assisted by Miss Marie Caslova, violinist and former St. Louisan, who will be heard in her home city for the first time in several years.

One of Miss Ponselle's arias will be new here—the "O mio bambino caro," from "Gianni Schicchi," the last of Puccini's new trilogy of operas. Her other operatic selections are "Il va venir," from "La Juive;" "Voi lo sapete," from "Cavalleria Rusticana;" and "Pace, pace, mio Dio," from "La Forza del Destino." In case of an encore, Miss Ponselle also engages to sing an aria from "Manon Lescaut."

Miss Caslova's chief offering will be the andante and finale from Wieniakski's sixth concerto. In addition to several solo pieces, she will play violin obligatos for three of Miss Ponselle's songs. The program is announced as follows:

Aria, Il va venir, from la Juive—Halevy.
Mrs. Ponselle.
Andante and finale, from Concerto No. 6....Wieniawski
Miss Caslova.
(a) Odorava l'April....Parelli
(b) Flowers of the Snow—Eddy Brown
(c) Vio lo sapete, from Cavalleria Rusticana....Mascagni
Miss Ponselle.
(a) Melody....Gluck
(b) Romanza....Debussy
(c) Siciliano....Fouret
Miss Caslova.
(a) O mio bambino caro, from Gianni Schicchi....Puccini
(b) Pace, pace, mio Dio, from La Forza del Destino....Verdi
(c) Will o' the Wisp....Spross
Miss Ponselle.
(a) Aria....Bach
(b) Scilliano....Bach
(c) Prelude....Bach
Miss Caslova.

Miss Caslova, it is stated, will play a $9500 Guarneri violin, which was loaned to her for her life-time by Mrs. Edwin Babcock Holden of New York.

CONCORDIA SEMINARY CHORUS' CONCERT TUESDAY NIGHT

Singers Will Be Assisted by Glee Club and Orchestra—Mrs. A. W. Conant Soloist.

The Concordia Seminary Students' Chorus of nearly 200 voices, assisted by the Seminary Glee Club and Orchestra, will give its eighteenth annual concert at the Odeon Tuesday night. Frederick Fischer is the director, and Mrs. Alice Widney Conant, soprano, will be soloist.

The orchestra will begin the program with "The War March of the Priests," from Mendelssohn's "Athalia." The choral numbers promised are Thorn's "The Rose and the Garden," Thayer's "The Promise," Metcalf's "A Tragic Story," Stebbins', "A Song of the Sea," Hadley's "A Hongkong Romance," and the chorale, "Now Rest Beneath Night's Shadows."

Mrs. Conant will give a group of solos, and aid the chorus in Lester's "Ballad of the Golden Sun" and Herbert's "The Call to Freedom." The Glee Club is to offer Schubert's "Erlking" and Huhn's "Invictus."

BESIER COMEDY TO BE GIVEN BY PLAYERS TUESDAY EVENING

Miss Mavis Chubb and Edgar Roy to Have Leads in "Don" at Artists' Guild.

A three-act comedy, "Don," by Rudolph Besier, which was one of the hits of the Washington Square Players, will be given Tuesday evening by the players at the Artists' Guild, under the direction of Mrs. Archer O'Reilly. The story turns on complications which cause doubt as to whether "Don's" second name should be "Juan" or "Quixote."

The leading parts will be taken by Miss Mavis Chubb and Edgar Roy. Others in the cast are Sam P. Goddard, A. H. Brueggemann, James Drummond, Mrs. Herbert Cost, Mrs. Oliver Carpenter Jr., Mrs. William Schevill, and Miss Mary Lee.

The annual election of members of the board of directors and the reading of committee reports will follow the play.

PESKY BED BUGS

(Pesky Devils' Quietus) P. D. Q. is a new chemical that puts the everlasting to the Pesky bedbugs, roaches, fleas, and cooties—impossible for the pesky devils to exist where P. D. Q. is used.

Recommendations of Hotels, Hospitals, Railroad Companies and other public institutions are a guarantee to the public that the safest, quickest and most economical way of ridding the pesky insects is by the use of P. D. Q., as this chemical kills the eggs as well as the live ones, and will not injure the clothing.

A 35c package makes a full quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas or cooties—and also contains a patent spout to get the egg nests in the hard-to-get-at-places and saves juice.

Special Hospital size $2.50 makes five gallons—contains three spouts—supplied by druggists or sent prepaid upon receipt of price, either size, by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind.—never peddled.

Sold by Judge & Dolph, Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Johnson Bros. and Merker's, East St. Louis, and other leading druggists.

WOOD GETS 16 IN NEW JERSEY

By the Associated Press.

TRENTON, N. J., May 8.—Revised lists of New Jersey's 28 delegates to the Republican national convention at Chicago June 6 show that Major-General Leonard Wood will have 16 and Senator Johnson of California 12, Secretary of State Martin announced today. Several unpledged district delegates chosen at the recent primaries since have decided to be guided by the preferential vote cast in their respective districts.

EXPERTS DIFFER WIDELY ON CAUSES OF HIGH PRICES

Members of American Academy of Political Science Get All Mixed Up on Their Basic Reasons.

SOME BLAME GOLD, OTHERS INFLATION

All Agree Something's Wrong but Each Has a Different Idea About How to Correct the Condition.

NEW YORK, May 8.—What can be said about high prices that has not been said before? We have been talking about them long enough. Yet the American Academy of Political Science devoted its entire semi-annual meeting to the subject. Was it for the purpose of startling the world with some new ideas? Or was it the hope of settling the perplexing problem once and for all?

Neither. This is the impression at least of one who was present. But this does not in the least detract from the value and importance of the gathering. It achieved a valuable purpose. It afforded an opportunity to bring the facts of the situation up to date and to present a survey of prevailing ideas as to causes and remedies. After one had listened for eight hours to the 20 speakers—economists, political leaders, bankers, merchants and financiers—and survived—one understood why it was still necessary to discuss high prices. One also felt that the discussion might profitably be continued in the future.

There was one strong note of agreement in the gathering. Every speaker implicitly or explicitly condemned the inflationary conditions of the country. No one questioned the sad and serious effect it has upon the people. J. Parker Willis, professor of banking at Columbia University, who has conducted extensive researches for the Federal Reserve Board, minced no words in denouncing what he termed "inflation doctrine;" which is preached by the business and speculative interests. All agreed that high priced and inflated money meant extravagant profit, unscrupulous profiteering and riotous gambling by and for the few and great hardship for the many. That it also meant a shifting of the financial burden of the war. For the people who live on wages and salaries pay indirectly in higher prices the major portion of war costs and thus bear the most iniquitous form of indirect taxation.

Trouble Evident but Reasons Varied.

All this was made very clear. One wished a similar unanimity on causes. But this was asking for the impossible. One can hardly expect two experts to agree—let alone 20. In a way it was surprising that the disagreement was not sharper. It really reduced itself to a triangle of explanations which differed largely in emphasis. From one point of view, the main cause of the trouble was in our monetary condition; from another—in the shortage of goods; from a third—in the state of Government finances. All recognized that these and other causes were not entirely and mutually exclusive; but what seemed of prime importance to one was merely secondary to another.

The theory that high prices are due mainly to "redundancy of money and credit" was ably presented by Edwin W. Kemmerer, professor of economics and finance at Princeton University. This was, of course, the good old "quantity theory of money" all over again. Prof. Kemmerer did not concern himself with reexamination of the theory or of the premises on which it rests. He assumed that an increase in the supply of gold means an increase in the amount of circulating money, and that inevitably and automatically this means an expansion of credit in the form of bank deposits subject to check. He also assumed that when the quantity of cash and deposit currency increases in excess of the needs of trade (which are determined by the physical volume of things actually produced and exchanged), we have a condition of inflation which results in higher prices. Simply, the larger the number of dollars the less the value of each and the less each dollar can buy. His paper was devoted almost entirely to prove that there has been a vast increase in the world production of gold, that over a billion dollars worth of gold came into the United States during the war, and that the amount of our currency and bank deposits increased greatly, practically doubled since 1914. Prof. Kemmerer first traced the story of inflation from 1896 (when it began) to 1913, and then showed how the situation became aggravated by the war. He threw, however, part of the blame for our inflated condition on the Federal Reserve Act, which enabled each dollar to do more service and to support more credit.

Reserve Act Praised and Blamed.

Prof. Kemmerer admitted that most of the changes introduced by the Federal Reserve Act were improvements in our circulation and banking. None the less, these improvements were causes of inflation. As inflation is bad for the people, one might have drawn the conclusion that better banking laws may be worse for the people. Prof. Kemmerer did not go into the question. Neither did he explain why the people who have been hit by the "redundancy of money" and high prices are the same that clamored for abundant money a generation ago, when, as they believed, they suffered

Beautiful Actress Attributes Her Wonderful Success to Her Famous Complexion

Tells How You May Also Have One

MISS DOROTHY DALTON

ew York: When Miss Dorothy Dal-, the beautiful Ince star who was cted for the leading role in that mmoth New York production, "Aphro-," was questioned as to the secret er phenomenal success, she unhesi-ngly said, "My complexion." When d further details she explained: ery one of my friends always raved t the texture and coloring of my , and I have no doubt but that my engagement was made possible ugh the reputation I had acquired a beautiful complexion. Managers like ordinary mortals, they admire autiful skin as much as anyone, and electing their casts they naturally r those whose complexions are at-tive. I think the best asset any or woman can have is a beautiful and complexion. It is easy to have if one will spend only a little time taking care of the skin. A girl may irregular features, but if she pos- a beautiful complexion she will act attention anywhere. I am al- glad to tell any girl or woman how she may possess a skin like . Here is the recipe: Night and ning cleanse the skin first with water then apply a good cold (Lisha cold cream I have found the best) after massaging it into skin take off the superfluous cream a soft cloth. Then before going during the day or evening I apply illo, a simple toilet preparation can be purchased at the toilet ter of any up-to-date drug or de-rtment store. The first application of wonderful Derwillo will astonish you. It imparts instant beauty to the skin and makes a rosy-white complexion, everyone will talk about. I find it excellent for my complexion as it protects my skin in all kinds of weather. That's why I prefer it to all other toilet preparations and am never without it. Many of my professional friends to whom I have recommended Derwillo use it in preference to all other face powders or beautifiers." Just try it once before going to the theater, dances, parties or an afternoon call and note the favorable comments of your friends. Derwillo instantly puts a life-like tint on your cheeks which defies detection. It takes the place of face powder and stays on until you wash it off. Perspiration does not affect it nor will it rub off on clothing; it also prevents the nose and face from shining. It's wonderful for a dark, sallow, rough skin, blackheads, coarse pores, oily skin, freckles, tan and for the instant beauty it imparts. Over 500,000 girls and women are using it. It's absolutely harmless to the most sensitive skin. Just try it once and you will need no further argument to convince you that there is nothing "just as good," "better," or "just like it." Insist on Derwillo, then you will not be disappointed.

NOTE — Druggists and department stores everywhere sell Derwillo with the guarantee that if you don't like it you get your money back. It is the one beautifier that gives satisfaction at all seasons of the year. You can secure it at all toilet counters in this city including Wolff-Wilson, Judge & Dolph, Johnson Bros. and the Enderle Drug Co.

Cahill Pipeless Furnaces

One register keeps the whole house warm

FOR old or new houses, churches, schools, factories or stores, the modern method of heating is the pipeless furnace, with its one register heating the whole house. With a minimum of fuel and attention, the Cahill Pipeless Furnace floods every room in the house with a welcome warmth that is uniform in temperature, yet constantly changing and purifying itself. No cold corners. Best of all, this furnace can be installed in a day by one good workman and a helper, without tearing up the walls or causing confusion.

It will pay you to examine the Cahill before deciding upon your heating arrangements. It excels other pipeless furnaces because Cahill castings are better, and castings are the vital parts of a furnace—the parts that come in contact with the fiercest heat. Cahill castings are unusually heavy, thick and carefully finished and fitted, which means that they will wear better than most castings, and require less replacing. Also they will retain heat longer than ordinary castings, thereby saving fuel, requiring less attention, and giving off more uniform comfortable heat. Don't buy a furnace until you have examined the "insides" of a Cahill.

The Cahill Furnace is the result of 40 years manufacturing experience, and embodies the same manufacturing ideals which have given to Cahill Grates and Fireplace Fixtures an enviable reputation for service and dependability.

from "stringent money" and low prices.

Prof. Kemmerer also attributed a share in the present trouble to the Government. But he did so only incidentally. This phase of the situation was taken up by an advocate of the "quantity theory"—Prof. J. H. Hollander of Johns Hopkins. In a vigorous speech he criticised the Government for having added to the difficulties of the situation by making what he called "fiat credit." He did not say whether the Government should have paid for the war entirely or to a greater extent out of taxes. It was not clear whether he even implied that. But he claimd that by issuing certificates of indebtedness the Government created entirely new and additional credit, which naturally made inflation worse inflated. In substance, his speech had the effect of strengthening the idea that the trouble lay in our expanded currency and credit, in which the Government continues to play a dismal part, as it still has an outstanding floating indebtedness of some $3,000,000,000.

There was so much criticism by other speakers of the Government's financial policies, one could not repeat it all. It would be monotonous, but that of A. Barton Hepburn of the Chase National Bank was interesting and instructive. He blamed the Government for having conducted an "undignified campaign" during the war to sell bonds for more than they were worth. In a rather humorous and good-natured manner he accused the Government for having done what merchants and brokers generally do—namely, "marking things up." This, in his opinion, was the reason why the millions of small bondholders were now selling their Government bonds at a loss. The bonds were below par now because they had been imposed upon the people for more than their true value. Mr. Hepburn said that the bankers knew beforehand that this would happen. Did they warn the Government or not? Mr. Hepburn said that they "only grinned and bore it."

Leffingwell Defends the Treasury.

Of course no harm could be done by such post-facto criticism of the Government. But it was fortunate that there was someone to present the Government's side, too. This was Hon. R. C. Leffingwell, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, who spoke on "Treasury methods of financing the war in relation to inflation."

Mr. Leffingwell reviewed the activities of the Government during the war and since the armistice, and declared that the expansion of currency and credit was the result not of the treasury methods of financing, but of the unlimited buying power of the Government when supported by the devotion of the people. Inflation could not have been avoided, and the Government kept it down to a minimum. The depreciation of the Liberty Bonds was due to bad forms of taxation and not to low rates of interest. The very people, he said, who now declare that these rates were too low, claimed during the war, that they were too high.

Mr. Leffingwell also spoke of feverish speculation, reaction and waste as causes of inflation. But his emphasis was on public finances. "Government expenditure is at the root of inflation all over the world," he declared.

The speakers who argued that high prices were caused by a shortage of goods was Dr. B. F. Anderson Jr., formerly professor of economics at Harvard, and now of the National Bank of Commerce of New York. A young man with intense eyes and tight mouth, he seemed under some sort of inhibition which prevented fluency of thought and speech. He began by saying that he was skeptical of the "quantity theory of money. He pointed out that since the armistice we have lost about $400,000,000 in gold, but that prices have been none the less going up. Evidently, the causes of high prices cannot be sought in the condition of banking, but of production. We are experiencing a real shortage of goods, he claimed, which is due to several factors. In the first place, we have been exporting heavily. Our excess of exports over imports has averaged some $350,000,000 a month. We have been sending that much to foreign countries in foods, machinery, etc. Secondly, the diversion of labor to the production of military supplies during the war diminished our stock of goods. Thirdly, since the armistice, despite the return of the soldiers, there has been a reduction in physical production because of the prolonged strain on our system. Fourthly, there has been a great increase in consumption. Even in normal times, according to Dr. Anderson, the world lives from hand to mouth. According to calculation which he made in 1912, the United States had only a three or four months' supply of goods ready for consumption. At present the supply must be still smaller while the demand is greater. This and speculation which is all over the country explain high prices fully.

Should Lose Five Billions Credit.

The remedies suggested also fell into three groups. First, financial and banking methods. The banks were urged to discontinue speculative loans and to reduce their portfolios by some three to three and a half billion dollars. This would take out of circulation some five billion dollars of credit—almost one-fourth of our total bank deposits subject to check. With so much air squeezed out the inflated money-bag of the country would shrink to its normal proportions. The operation would be painful to some, but it would restore

Facts Every American Should Know

THE war is over. We did what we set out to do. But victory left some things to be accounted for. And this is one of them.

The Government said to the Waltham Watch Company: "We need your skill and creative genius in this national enterprise." Waltham came to attention, saluted, and went to work.

Let us imagine for a moment what happened. Here were over five thousand people, and a great organization suddenly turned aside from supplying the normal demand for Waltham products to the abnormal demands of war and its accessories.

What this entailed cannot be told here, but the genius of Waltham is American genius and deeds speak louder than words

AMERICAN ships and the large accretions to our glorious navy could not go to sea without accurate, delicately adjusted chronometers—and they were supplied by Waltham.

American aeroplanes could not climb into the skies without clocks that would withstand the vibrations of powerful motors and abnormal extremes of temperature—demanding the most exact horological adjustments—and they were supplied by Waltham.

American motor transports and automobiles required speedometers and sturdy shock and stress resisting timepieces—and they were supplied by Waltham.

Our beloved soldiers, who fought and died for us, needed watches, and thousands of Walthams went into battle and kept record of Time that shall ever be memorial.

Indeed, "Waltham" in Paris supplied service 'behind the lines' for repairs, etc., and was officially recognized as Watch headquarters for the A. E. F.

And this is not all—

SOMEWHERE in the United States Uncle Sam approves the gifts that his sons of genius create for the glory of his name.

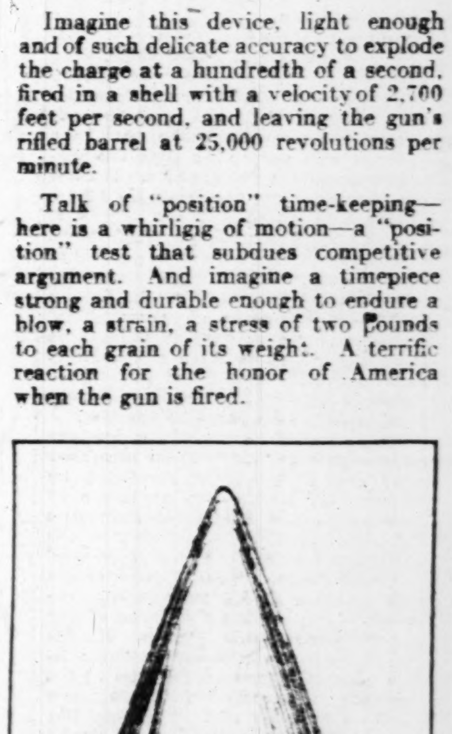
It is night. A few hooded and powerful electric lights search the darkness to reveal a huge gun, around which are gathered a few men who serve this giant of strength.

A sharp word of command! A flame of fire! A concussion that rocks the earth! The roar of a shell! A few tense, numbered seconds! Then, out there on the far horizon, a burst of fire miles away—an explosion timed to infinitesimal moments by Waltham.

This, the triumph of Waltham genius—a time-fuse that splits a second into a hundred parts—that far exceeds in instantaneous accuracy all other time-fuses hitherto invented—that sends each shell to its destination governed by Waltham's inventive genius hidden in the apex of the shell.

Imagine this device, light enough and of such delicate accuracy to explode the charge at a hundredth of a second, fired in a shell with a velocity of 2,700 feet per second, and leaving the gun's rifled barrel at 25,000 revolutions per minute.

Talk of "position" time-keeping—here is a whirligig of motion—a "position" test that subdues competitive argument. And imagine a timepiece strong and durable enough to endure a blow, a strain, a stress of two pounds to each grain of its weight. A terrific reaction for the honor of America when the gun is fired.



Waltham Time-Fuse

NEVER in the world's history has there been such miraculous time-keeping, such performance, such absolute reliability under such abnormal conditions. As Americans, we have a right to be proud of Waltham genius.

But if it had not been for nearly three-quarters of a century filled with work behind the Waltham time-fuse, it would not have been years in front of all others. Pre-eminence is its own reward.

Years of concentrated development on an infinitesimal unit—ofttimes out of sight in the works of the watch—have added renown to the name of Waltham.

The Waltham Watch, upon whose universal time-keeping the sun never sets, is but an older brother of this marvelous time-keeper in the shell.

WE have told you these facts because they supply some reasons why Waltham Watches are not plentiful. We are concentrating every resource of our organization to meet a national demand which is a tribute to Waltham excellence.

We know that if your dealer cannot supply you immediately with your choice of a Waltham Watch he will be able to supply you before long. And a Waltham Watch is worth waiting for. Grade for grade no foreign watch can compare with it.

WE have made many statements of Waltham invention in the mechanics of watchmaking—we have opened the door of the "works" in a Waltham Watch and created American pride in this Waltham masterpiece. We have claimed world leadership in watchmaking. "Here are the proofs" has been our challenge and our pride.

Proofs we have given and still more proofs we intend to give: science at its utmost in the alloy of a metal, in the polishing of a part, in the setting of a jewel, in the hardening and tempering of steel, in the design of a balance staff, in the bend of a guard pin or the structural curve of a spring—little things, hidden things.

Yet it is these scientific inventions, developments—call them what you will—that have carried the fame of Waltham unto the uttermost ends of the earth.

You protect your investment. You are assured time-keeping dependability. You forestall costly repairs. You own the utmost in fine watch-making when you buy a the healthy circulation of the country. More than ordinary methods of procedure were advocated. Both Prof. Willis and Mr. Leffingwell declared that it was too late to correct the situation by merely raising discount rates. High rates of discount may act as a brake on further expansion, but they cannot undo the inflated condition already here. The Federal Reserve system, in the opinion of Prof. Willis, should rise to the occasion and guide the banking community through the period of its difficulty. The physical removal of the excrescent growth upon our circulating system must be performed by the banks. The bankers must save the country. Can they do it? Prof. Willis said that in the final analysis we have inflation because the public wants it. The banks have merely been yielding to the pressure for more loans. Can those that yielded before resist now? The burden of the performance evidently rests upon the public. As Prof. Willis said, public opinion is necessary to stop borrowing and speculating and begin to save. What people? Wage earners who carry their extra earnings to the savings banks? The small salaried people, who can hardly make both ends meet? Or those merchants, jobbers, manufacturers, brokers, retail traders and others who are enjoying the prosperity of inflation?

EXPERTS DIFFER WIDELY ON CAUSES OF HIGH PRICES

The other remedies were concerned with the elimination of governmental waste and increased production, and were clearly stated by Mr. Leffingwell. To quote from his address, "We must cut Government expenditures to the quick, abjure bonuses and realize promptly upon all salable war assets, including ships, applying the proceeds to the war debt. We must have a national budget with teeth in it—revise our tax laws—restore the railroads to a self-supporting basis by establishing rates which will insure a return for capital and labor commensurate with the return to be had elsewhere at a time when there is a world wide shortage of both—above all, we must work and save. We must produce, but more important still, we must consume less."

Warburg as Country Practitioner.

The afternoon session brought out the close interrelation of the problem here and in Europe. The situation in France and Italy was analyzed by representatives of the two countries. Mr. Paul M. Warburg, Mr. W. S. Kier and Mr. Carl C. Plehn, professor of economics at the University of California, showed how America was affected by European donations. The outstanding feature of the afternoon session was the address by Mr. Warburg. He picturesquely compared the world to a patient over whom the experts were in consultation and in disagreement. While making fun of the experts and specialists who diagnosed the world's troubles as inflation, or under-production, or over-stimulation by loans, Mr. Warburg wished to be regarded as a "plain country practitioner." He prescribed, through the same medicines as did the experts—namely, a reduction in Government borrowings, and a "halt in further bank credit and note issue expansion." But with the skill of a practitioner he put his finger more definitely on the place where credit and production are joined. Deflation, he pointed out, involves a contraction of money and credit, but it ultimately means a redirection of industry. The important task—and the different one—is to curb production of non-essentials and to stimulate production of essentials.

Though a "country practitioner," Mr. Warburg put the problem on a wide international basis. The world cannot be cured in spots, because it is one economic organism. Prosperity in America cannot co-exist for any length of time without Europe. Therefore, for our own sake, we must assist in putting Europe on a self-supporting basis. To quote from Mr. Warburg: "Here we have shortage of labor and an oversupply of raw material. We have high wages; we have too much food while Europe starves; we are the world's creditors; Europe is in our debt and has not the means with which to settle. Is not the logical solution of this problem that our capital should go right into the countries that at present most need a helping hand?" This cannot be done without advancing further credits to Europe. Mr. Warburg urged that such credit should be provided from our savings. He also suggested that in the performance of this task private enterprise should act in large national combines which in their turn should co-operate internationally, and that the governments should lend their moral backing and sympathy.

Of the statements made during the day some lingered in my memory because of their evident incompatibility. Here are some of them. According to Dr. Anderson, we were suffering from a shortage. Mr. Warburg assured us that we had too much food and an excess of raw materials. Mr. Leffingwell saw a world-wide scarcity of capital and labor. Mr. Kier pointed to an excess of capital here and an excess of labor abroad. According to him, we had too much gold, others warned us not to view with equanimity our loss of gold. One claimed that we were exporting too much. Others told us to export more. Everybody seemed to agree that we should consume less, but in the same breath they advised us to educate ourselves to consume more foreign products, which we must import in payment for our exports.

These contradictions are illuminating. They suggest an explanation of why we so frequently disagree. The trouble is, we haven't all the same facts and we argue too often on the basis of incomplete facts. We do not examine our premises as frequently and as thoroughly as we should. We become habituated to our intellectual environment as much as to our social environment. Our interests reinforce our habits. We become shut up within a vicious circle from which no escape is possible except by breaking through.

Why a Woman Needs More Iron in Her Blood Than a Man and Shows the Lack of It More Quickly

Physician Says That Indoor Life, Cares of Motherhood and Lack of Outdoor Exercise Sap the Iron From a Woman's Blood and Often Make Her Look and Feel Tired, Care-Worn and Old When She Ought to Be Rosy-Cheeked and Glowing With Health.

How Organic Iron—Nuxated Iron—Solves the Problem of Iron Deficiency and Helps Build Up in Pale Anaemic Nervous Women the Enduring Health and Vigorous Strength that Red-Blooded Men Have.

Tens of thousands of American women are starving their blood and weakening their bodies for want of iron. Rarely do you see a woman who is not paler and more care-worn than a man of the same age. This is chiefly due to the greater proportion of anaemia—lack of iron in the blood—among women. Women need iron much more than men because of their peculiar nature and the heavy demands upon their physical and nervous strength caused by the cares of housework and motherhood. A woman is tied down to a daily round of indoor duties that saps the iron from her blood, wears down her strength and makes her look and feel old, faded and care-worn. When a man feels his strength failing he gets plenty of vigorous outdoor exercise, he eats coarse foods, rich in iron, or he takes organic iron to build up his red blood corpuscles. And that is what pale, weary women need to give them health, strength and beauty—more iron in their blood. But be sure that the iron you take is organic iron — Nuxated Iron. If you have taken other iron products and failed to benefit thereby, remember that such preparations are entirely different from Nuxated Iron, which contains the same variety of iron as that found in spinach, lentils, peas, beans, and husks of grain. It most nearly resembles the natural iron in the blood and is quickly assimilated and absorbed into the blood circulation. This is one of the reasons why Nuxated Iron often restores health and strength to pale, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time—and why medical men, such as Dr. Ferdinand King, whose statement is quoted below, prescribe Nuxated Iron for their anaemic patients.

"There can be no strong, healthy, beautiful, rosy-cheeked women, without iron," says Dr. Ferdinand King, a New York Physician and Medical Author. "I have often emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak haggard-looking women patients. Pallor means anaemia. The skin of an anaemic woman is pale, the flesh flabby. The muscles lack tone, the brain fags, and the memory fails, and often they become weak, nervous, irritable, despondent and melancholy. When the iron goes from the blood of women the roses go from their cheeks.

"In the most common foods of America, the starches, sugars, table syrups, candies, polished rice, white bread, soda crackers, biscuits, macaroni, spaghetti, tapioca, sago, farina, degerminated cornmeal, no longer is iron to be found. Refining processes have removed the iron of Mother Earth from these impoverished foods, and silly methods of home cookery, by throwing down the waste pipe the water in which our vegetables are cooked, are responsible for another grave iron loss. Therefore, you should supply the iron deficiency in your food by using organic iron—Nuxated Iron—just as you would use salt when your food has not enough salt."

In commenting upon this Dr. George H. Baker, formerly Physician and Surgeon Monmouth Memorial Hospital of New Jersey, said:

"What women need to put roses in their cheeks and the springtime of life into their step is not cosmetics or stimulating drugs, but plenty of rich, pure red blood. Without it no woman can do credit to herself or to her work. Iron is one of the greatest of all strength and blood builders, and I have found nothing in my experience so effective for helping to make strong, healthy, red-blooded women as Nuxated Iron. From a careful examination of the formula and my own tests of Nuxated Iron, I feel convinced that it is a preparation which any physician can take himself or prescribe for his patients with the utmost confidence of obtaining highly beneficial and satisfactory results."

If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by Judge & Dolph Drug Co., Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Weinert Drug Co., Pauley's Drug Store, Enderle Drug Co., Johnson Bros. Drug Co., and Merker's 3 Stores, East St. Louis, and all other druggists.

TRAIN OF TRUCKS TO DEPART TOMORROW FOR 385-MILE RUN

An expedition of trucks will depart tomorrow at 6 a. m. from St. Louis on a 385-mile route through Southeast Missouri and Southern Illinois, to advertise in that section the celebration of "Ship-by-Truck-Good-Roads Week."

Forty-eight trucks and five touring cars were entered up to yesterday for the expedition. They range in size from three-quarter to three-tons capacity, and all will be loaded with St. Louis merchandise consigned to merchants in the area to be visited. The expedition expects to reach St. Louis on its return Saturday afternoon, May 22.

The following speakers will accompany the trucks: Carl J. Baer and E. N. Ferris of the Production Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, City Counsellor Daues, Raymond A. Walsh of the Missouri Federated Roads Council, and Robert E. Lee, in charge of the expedition.

It is expected that trucks representing the Army, Navy and Marine Corps will accompany the expedition.

TELLS ABOUT A CHRONIC TROUBLE.

Mr. John O'Brien, 659 N. 15th st., Philadelphia, writes: "I had been troubled for years with chronic constipation, until my whole system seemed poisoned, and I suffered with headache, languor, depression and general impaired health. I began taking Sulpherb Tablets and got immediate relief. I am, after many months, still regular in habits, and thank you, and hope they will become known to thousands, etc." If your blood is bad, tongue coated and you are constipated, with stomach and bowel irregularity, get a tube of Sulpherb Tablets of your druggist right away. They are—made of sulphur, cream of tartar and herbs—so don't accept ordinary "sulphur" tablets.

LEST WE FORGET

by MARY RAYMOND SHIPMAN ANDREWS..

"THAT'S De Brevil himself."

The two men stepped back as the brown sedan swept to the crossing and glided past into traffic.

"Who?"

"De Brevil of the big turbine engine works out east of here. He was driving."

"I saw. Big chap. Looks foreign."

"Yes. French, you know. My brother-in-law's cousin is his secretary, so I hear a lot about him. He's popular at the works. Lord, but that man must have oodles of money! Made it, every cent. Run to seed French nobility. Came across a penniless youngster; then he invented something and got going. But no ordinary inventor—great business head—senses what to do and when to do it. Lordy, I wish he'd tell me." And the two passed down State street and into the crowd.

When the brown car, two or three blocks away by now, twisted its way through a river of other cars toward the New York Central station, De Brevil, as he slid in and out, touching gears, pressing accelerator or brake by an instinct which had come to be as much beyond thought as walking in a crowd is beyond thought, was smiling. This was no ordinary occasion for which he was to meet the 11:30 train from New York. The 11:30 train this morning was going to revolutionize life out at The Silences, his beautiful place five miles from the city, and De Brevil was glad. Now it would be home. What would it not mean to have Jacqueline in his house!

With his hand on the lever and his eyes on the semaphore which read "Stop" and some of his quick brain taking in the place and direction of every car and truck and foot passenger at the busy corner, De Brevil fell to dreaming. Jacqueline! The alive, vivid, surprising presence of her, bringing youth and cheerfulness to fill the big rooms with young people, and the wide lawns with laughter, and the wood walks with slim figures and bright dresses. How he would love giving her the gayety that a girl likes! How he would love having her all to himself sometimes! How proud he would be of her when the two went traveling, or motored about the country roads or about these same city streets! People would say, "That is De Brevil and his beautiful niece"—what it was going to mean to him to have somebody belonging to him!

And then—ah, yes! One must face it—then would come another chapter. Jacqueline would have lovers—O, a lot of them. And one day she would fall in love with some abominable youngster and marry him. De Brevil sighed a bit, then he smiled. But yes—that must be. He would make a joy of it, not a tragedy. She was French, little Jacqueline, and most sensible and discerning. No fool, little Jacqueline; she would choose a good sort, but yes. And De Brevil would like it—lovers, a great wedding, presents coming in, a new menage close by—all the excitement, for his girl Jacqueline. And by and by there would be adorable golden heads about the big place and stammering voices would call him sweet names. He had got about as far as the first Christmas tree when he found the station in front of him and was forced out of day dreams by the necessity of using his whole intellect to find a spot to park.

Off the train stepped a young person chic in Paris clothes, smiling, a bit excited as the porter selected her bag with devoted attention. The wide, dark eyes danced eagerly about the crowd, and with that she was caught into arms as of a bear and held for a second so that her gasp of "Mon oncle" was not audible.

And the next event was that she was sitting in the brown car beside De Brevil and he was telling her again, as the engine purred down the street, that never, never was anyone so welcome anywhere as she, his little Jaqueline, to this big country of America, to this city of Bristol, to his home, her home, The Silences. And one big hand found leisure from its affairs of driving to cover hers with an affectionate pressure.

"Le bon Dieu did not give me the dream of my youth," spoke De Brevil, "but He is making good; but yes, He is doing very well by me, le bon Dieu, at present."

Jacqueline turned a mocking face of laughter and love. "It would be well that some saint, such as I par exemple, should tell the good God that you think well of his arrangements, Uncle Gaspard," she said. "And what was the dream of your youth, may one ask? Because it sounds as if it were something like me."

"Something very like you, my little cabbage," and the chauffeur had time to flash a glance sidewise. "It was your mother."

"Maman!" The wide eyes widened. "Was maman then the dream of your youth, my uncle?"

The chauffeur nodded. "Did she never tell you that episode?"

"Never, my uncle."

"It was for that I fled to America. I discovered one day that it was my older brother she loved and not me—that he loved her. No fault of hers, petite. She did not know of my boy's madness—and there was no reason why she should not love your father, Henri. They were blameless, the two—but I was broken. I ran to America, the safe harbor of the sad—dear America, which has given me so much."

De Brevil lifted his hat, speaking, as if the flag had passed. He was full of the charm of the Frenchman, where emotion unashamed plays in and out of keen humor and hard sense.

"So the little cabbage never knew," he went on, "the tragic tale of old Uncle Gaspard, who cried for the moon and couldn't get it, and so left all his ties and France—and the moon—and dashed to the ends of the earth and instantly made a fortune."

"But no, my uncle," Jacqueline answered soberly. "I find it most thrilling to know it now. You will tell me much more some day? All the details? And my Uncle Jules—did he know about it?"

"Ah, the poor Uncle Jules!" and De Brevil shook his handsome head. "It was he who was out of patience with the runaway. 'Til the fat checks began to come. Then he thought better of me. For the most part, he was angry, Uncle Jules. But one knows that he suffered—ah, yes! —since the day of Sedan. One should not forget what soldiers have done, who gave youth and strength for the flag, as did Jules. Henri and I were little lads when he marched away, but I remember how he was tall and gay—and you have known how it was with him later. The poor Uncle Jules!"

"Me, I found him always adorable," threw back little Jacqueline aggressively, and De Brevil stared. "I loved him well, my Uncle Jules. He told me stories of the old war and how the Prussians—the good God twist their necks—marched into Paris and up the Champs Elysees, under the Arc de Triomphe, Uncle Gaspard—our Paris, our Arch of Triumph, and the vile Germans marching there!"

"Look!" interrupted De Brevil. "Viola, my little cabbage! The entrance of The Silences—Les Silences—your home! Is it not that it is beautiful, the long walls with their vines and flowers and the tall pillars with the stone balls on top—n'est ce pas? Is it not that it is like the chateau itself, and does it not look nearly as old?"

To De Brevil every moment after that epoch-making moment when his car turned into the stone gates of The Silences was a joyful event. Each room of the house must be shown to its new chatelaine, each servant presented to her, and finally she must be installed in her new quarters, gay with fresh chintzes, friendly with flowers, presided over by a beaming little French maid in faultless gray and white. The day sped on and it was dinner time and the dinner was to be out on the terrace, and the girl came through the wide French windows from the hall and stopped short at the picture before her.

The table gleamed with countless delicate lights and shadows of white cloth and shining silver and sparkling glass. A bowl of June roses splashed colors of pink and crimson against the gray stone balustrade and great stone vases back of it, and beyond the sun was setting in the clear, warm evening through trees across the park. De Brevil was waiting for her, sitting in a deep chair, smoking and staring off dreamily into sun-filtered woods. He sprang to his feet and his face was alight. And with that Jacqueline fled across the pavement and tumbled into his arms and choked, sobbing, against his shoulder.

"But what is it, little one, my most adored? Is anything wrong? Were the candies the wrong sort? Is one homesick?" He smoothed the brown, crisply curling head and kissed a wave of it. "Tell the old uncle, then, my treasure."

Half laughing, choking still, she lifted her face. "I've quite ruined your shirt front—tiens," she stammered. And then: "It suddenly shocked one with happiness. It was so perfect—so gentle—so all—that—there is—of exquisite—and my home. Also it has an air of the dear chateau. One has been lonely these last years, my uncle. Since Uncle Jules died. And I have worked—yes, but very hard—among my crippled soldiers in Bordeaux. I loved them—I had to work for them—but I have not had a home there for three years, and now—this—my home! You!" The starry eyes wandered off to the sparkling table and the trees and sunset beyond it, and then laughed up through wet lashes to De Brevil's face.

He bent his head and kissed the eyes. "My child, you are overwrought. I should not have allowed you to work so hard. You were too young—you have done harm to yourself. But now, it is understood, you are my property—hereafter you are to be taken care of—it is I who say it! Come, then, my most dear—Voila Jacques who says that dinner is served. Afterward we will have a little talk, you and I, in the twilight, here among the roses and honeysuckles, and we will tell each other all our secrets, is it not? But—dinner."

It was nearly an hour later and the light through the trees was the flat gold of the afterglow and the branches were dark and clean cut against it.

"Exactly like a window most beautiful in a cathedral transept," Jacqueline said, gazing entranced into the shadows and the clear radiance.

"It is, my most dear." De Brevil held her hand. "But at the moment that is, it is not a question of cathedral windows, but of conversation, with you and me. There is much I want to hear," he urged in a boyish and eager way which sat winning on the man of 60. "One recollects that I have not been in France since the war ended." He made a gesture of disgust, all French. "But no—she has kept me at the grindstone, la belle France, grinding out engines for her. France was most behindhanded, you know it, petite?—in development of water power. So that when peace came and our works were no longer needed for munitions, it was Uncle Gaspard who was instantly useful for sending the best turbine engines in the world to help his mother country back to prosperity. I have been 'on the job,' as we Americans say, almost every minute these five years. Hardly have I had time to take a week off for a bit of fishing in Canada in September or a run to Florida in February—one has been occupied—but yes. I have made it clear enough in my letters, little one, that it was so that I could not come to France to see my child. But I should—I should," he reproached himself.

The child pushed him into a deep chair and alighted on the side of it with her arm around his neck. "We both had work to do for France," she spoke, and her young face wore a look which was not rare, after 1914, in the faces of French women—the look of a devotion transcending self. "Also, you, my uncle, had two countries to look after—France and this enchanting America.

De Brevil took his cigar from his lips and glanced up at the girl. "Did you know a great American said a word like that? It was Benjamin Franklin. He said"——

The girl's hand was across his mouth. "Don't spoil my story, my uncle," she said. 'Wait till I tell you what happened to Hope Stuart, my best friend, my little half French woman—all American. It was she who sat in her Red Cross uniform in a cafe of Paris, crowded with French officers, the night of the armistice. One knows all France was but six years old that night and quite mad with joy. And to Hope Stuart came a grizzled French Colonel, an entire stranger, most distingue, who made her a deep bow for the love of that American uniform and of her sweet face likely, also, my uncle. And he offered her, that Colonel, his felicitations to be of her country, and he said how her land had come in just in time to save France. And Hope Stuart, my friend, was suddenly inspired, for she looked up at her Colonel and said to him that speech of the great Franklin—how every American has two countries, his own and France. And with that—for everyone had listened all about—every officer in that cafe came up and kissed my little American on both cheeks. Was it not pretty, my uncle?"

De Brevil, fired with the little tale, clapped his hands and cried, "Bravo! Bravo!" Then, "One loved the Americans, there in France, my petite?" he asked.

"One adored them, my uncle. There were, after a while, roughness, bits of clashing, as must be when 2,000,0000 strangers are suddenly transplanted into a nation. But those bad things are quite forgotten today, three years later, and all France remembers with love the big, young, tireless boys, so gentle, so ready to help everyone in every way, who flooded over us like a sea of brown, and—saved France." Jacqueline had drifted into a chair facing De Brevil; he watched the lights and shadows of her face as she talked.

"And you, my cherie—there were American officers billeted at the chateau. You found them"——

In the girl's face, in her voice when she answered, was a new quality held in restraint, of which the Frenchman was instantly conscious. "We found them, Uncle Jules and I, all that there is considerate and charming," she answered warmly. But the flow of words had stopped.

De Brevil's eyes were on her changing face. "There were a number of these officers?"

"Three, just. M. le General, M. 'lAdjutant, and a younger person, a Captain, aid to M le General."

De Brevil's mind, not of a slow-going type, pounced on the case of the younger person, a Captain. "Ah, most agreeable! Yet they were very occupied, doubtless, so that Uncle Jules and the little cabbage did not see them often?"

The little cabbage acquired a thoughtful air. "Perhaps as to M. le General and M. l'Adjutant," she agreed. "But as to the Captain"—she hesitated and exploded: "O, my uncle—there was never anybody in the world so good and so angelic to poor Uncle Jules."

De Brevil did not smile. He answered with all sympathy. "He was good to our Uncle Jules, the Captain? Dear lad! And Uncle Jules liked him?"

"But yes—certainly. To folly. At the end he was not contented—no, never—without M. le Captaine. It was for that goodness one loved M. le Captaine, my uncle. The brown eyes lifted as innocent as a child's eyes, and De Brevil had difficulty in not kissing them again.

"I see. One loved the Captain for his goodness. He was, then, unattractive personally."

"But no, no! How could you have such a thought?" The indignant denial came so tempestuously that De Brevil in the half light turned aside to knock the ashes from his cigar, smiling.

"He was delightful. With a charm—ah! He went about the chateau gardens, down by the old moat, with poor Uncle Jules clinging to him, and it was as if he were a young god, so beautiful he was in his brown uniform and his high, shining brown boots. Very big and strong he was, gay always, and full of laughter. Since mamma died, and my father, it had been hard for me to keep Uncle Jules very happy. But now he was happy with his friend the Captain. When orders came and they all followed the General to the front it was very sad for—for Uncle Jules."

"One sees. Uncle Jules felt it."

"But yes. For the Captain would listen a long time to Uncle Jules' stories of his war days. And one knows, my uncle, that, adorable as was Uncle Jules, it was not everyone who listened to him patiently. Me, I sat by always and wondered at the Captain."

"O, you sat by always, did you, my cherie?"

"Always. And the Captain was never impatient, not even when Uncle Jules repeated many times. Not even when Uncle Jules grew irritated and beat with his crutch and was angry that we could not remember for him some names of those old battles."

"Bluebeard" Eager for Life Sentence to Stop Investigation of His Case

Walter Andrew Watson Racing To Get Behind Prison Bars Before More of His Past Is Known

Hopes to Be Sentenced Monday on His Plea of Guilty of Killing one of His 26 Wives and Hopes for Commitment to Insane Hospital.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—Walter Andrew Watson, confessed murderer of at least four of his 26 or more wives, and known by the names of Charles Newton Harvey and James Richard Huirt, is trying to railroad himself into prison for life in this state. Through his attorney, the California Bluebeard is seeking to obtain as quickly as possible, by bargaining, a sentence of life imprisonment on his plea of guilty to a charge of murder in the first degree. This, he hopes, will save him from the death penalty in this state or in the State of Washington, where at least one of his crimes was committed.

Sentence may be passed on Watson in the Superior Court here Monday, on his plea of guilty to the indictment charging him with the murder of Nina Lee Deloney, whose body was found Tuesday, in the foot hills near San Diego, at a place pointed out by Watson. He said he killed her with a hammer near Long Beach, Jan. 26, the day after their marriage.

Watson's lawyer, J. Morgan Marmaduke, has frankly avowed his purpose to save the prisoner's life by making terms with the prosecution here. Watson, he says, will be satisfied to escape the death penalty and to go to prison for life. Four other wives, of whose deaths Watson admits having knowledge, were Elizabeth Prior, who was killed with a hammer near Olympia, Wash., where her body was found July 9 last; Bertha A. Goodnick of Spokane, Wash., whose body was found in Lake Washington; Alice Ludvigson of Seattle, who, according to Watson, "fell into some river in Idaho," and a woman whose name he has not recalled, whom he says he killed with a hammer, while they were taking an automobile journey in northern California.

He said he carried the body of the last-mentioned woman in the automobile for two days and two nights, before finding an opportunity to bury it.

In Weakened Physical Condition.

Watson, who is in a weakened physical condition, as a result of his attempt to cut his throat and wrists, is strapped to a cot in the County Hospital. He demands books, particularly romances, and magazines. He read through Shakspeare's "Richard III," almost without a pause.

When he has talked with prosecuting officials, or with reporters, he has spoken readily of his many marriages, saying he had lost track of names and dates in some cases, and has pleaded that his mind must have been impaired.

He uses his own unusual exploits as arguments to prove that he must be mentally unsound, and that he deserves sympathy, rather than punishment. He tells of having been married to three women at one time, all the women being in San Francisco, and of taking them in turn to theaters and restaurants. He argues that he would not have taken such a chance if he had been sane.

To a reporter who interviewed him in the hospital, he said that his name was Walter Andrews. The name of Watson has been given him by the prosecuting authorities, because it was under that name that he married Nina Lee Deloney. He said he was born in Dallas, Tex., in 1876, and that he had "led a criminal life at various times." He said he spent some time in an insane asylum in Ohio, but would give no data which might be used in an attempt to verify the assertion. He said he had an aunt in an asylum, but could not say where the institution was.

Impulse to Kill Women.

He said he had suffered from epilepsy, loss of memory and dizzy spells, and that some physicians had told him he had tuberculosis.

In his confession at the hospital, to the police, Watson declared that he killed his wives from an impulse for killing women. Such an impulse he said, he has never felt toward men or children. However, he told of quarrels which served as pretexts for his different acts.

Elizabeth Prior, he said, attacked him with a hatpin, and he knocked her down, her head striking a box. He said he then pounded her skull with a hammer to make sure that she was dead. This was the killing in the State of Washington, and he has said no more about it since he has learned that he might be in danger either of the legal death penalty or of mob violence if he were taken so far from the protection of the Los Angeles authorities.

As to the death of Alice Ludvigson, he said they were fishing together from a boat, in a river in Idaho, and that she fell in. He said Bertha Goodnick was drowned by falling overboard from a launch in which she was riding with him on Lake Washington, but he later referred to this death, the police say, as a murder.

Carried Body in Auto.

He said he killed Nina Lee Deloney after they had quarreled about letters received by him from other women. After killing her with a hammer, he said, he carried the body, wrapped in canvas, in an automobile to a desert spot near El Centro, and buried it in a small excavation. This story was borne out in the finding of the body.

Other wives who have been listed as missing by the police are Mrs. Gertrude Wilson, formerly of Seattle; Beatrice M. Andrews, said to have been an Englishwoman, who came here from Canada; and Agnes Wilson of Alberta, Canada.

Mrs. Kathryn Wambacher of Los Angeles was the latest of his wives, and her suspicions caused him to be trailed by private detectives, who found what they thought was evidence connecting him with bank burglaries. Examination of his effects brought out the evidence of his many marriages. When Watson learned of the discoveries, he slashed his throat and wrists, in an apparent attempt to kill himself.

Plans for Defense.

Attorney Marmaduke has been quoted as saying, as to his plans for the defense:

"We shall make no insanitiy defense, as the term is generally understood. That is, we shall make no defense at all. We have made no agreement with the District Attorney to have his office request the court to make Harvey's sentence a life penitentiary term, and not the gallows. This also involves a fight to keep him from being extradited to Washington.

"In return, we shall not use insanity as a defense. On the other hand, a man who has done all these things is of course, a man in a weak of depraved state of mind. Prison is hardly the place for him, and I have no doubt some arrangements can be made so that he can be sent to an asylum for life.

"But this is a question to come up after whatever trial is held. We shall not suggest insanity as a means to keep him from a life sentence."

Detectives Search Ground.

Detectives have been dispatched to several points to look for the bodies of victims of the Bluebeard, and search is still being made for a supposedly private burying ground he had in the southern desert, or just across the border in Mexico.

Another clew as to the real identification of Harvey arrived at the Sheriff's office in a letter from a Mrs. Hilton of Conway, Ark.

Mrs. Hilton says she married Harvey June 21, 1913, under the name of Jack Hilton, and adds she traced his previous record after he deserted her in Little Rock.

Woman Relates Expreience.

"He took all my money," writes Mrs. Hilton, 'and left me, but I investigated and learned that his real name is Boyd and that he came from a good family in Tennessee. His sister told me he has made a practice of marrying women with money

THREE KINDS OF TIME TO BE OBSERVED IN OHIO

Local Daylight Saving Laws Produce Varied Rules for Clocks in Buckeye State.

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., May 8.—Ohio will have four different names for its clock time this summer, and three actually different kinds of time. They are: Eastern Standard, Sun Time, Central Standard and Advanced Central Standard.

The last mentioned is a name only, for it coincides with Eastern Standard time. The name came about through action of communities in Western Ohio deciding to advance their clocks one hour. It was the same as Eastern Standard time, but they preferred to call it Advanced Central Standard.

About half of Ohio is on Eastern Standard time because the regular dividing line runs midstate from north to south.

When it is noon at Youngstown, it will be 11 a. m. at Cincinnati, Dayton and Toledo, but it will be noon at Hamilton and Springfield, which are but a few miles out of Cincinnati and Dayton. At the same time it will be 11:30 o'clock Sun Time in some other places.

RURAL TEACHERS GET INCREASES IN 60 COUNTIES

Spring Elections Result in Advancing Compensation 10 to 50 Per Cent, Superintendent Baker Reports.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 8.—Teachers' salaries in Missouri rural schools will be increased from 10 to 50 per cent next year, as a result of the spring school elections in 60 counties which have reported to State Superintendent S. A. Baker.

A table compiled by Baker's office shows the number of districts in each county which have voted the limit, the maximum and minimum salaries of rural teachers in those counties last year, and the percentage of increase for next year, as follows:

FOCH ATTENDS JOAN OF ARC CELEBRATION AT ORLEANS

Ceremonies Held in Anticipation of Canonization of Heroine of France.

By the Associated Press.

ORLEANS, France, May 8.—Marshal Foch today sat in the church warden's pew at the Cathedral here during ceremonies held in anticipation of the canonization of Joan of Arc, which will take place May 23.

Abbe Lemillier, who pronounced the panegyric greeted the Marshal, and then proceeded to develop the idea that the human virtues of Joan of Arc could not be separated from her Christian virtues.

"The Church and France must unite to celebrate the purest incarnation of patriotism and faith the world has ever known," he said.

Marshal Foch participated in a procession which was held by all organized societies of Orleans.

This Leaves the Skin Free From Hairy Growths

(Toilet Talks)

A simple method for completely removing every trace of hair or fuzz is here given. This is painless, and usually a single treatment will banish even stubborn growths. To remove hairs, make a thick paste with some powdered delatone and water, spread on hairy surface, and after about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain you get delatone.

P. H. GRIESEDIECK DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME

He Was Vice-President of Brewery in East St. Louis — Leaves Wife and Two Sons.

Paul H. Griesedieck, 57 years old, died suddenly in the bathroom of his home, 3127 Longfellow boulevard, at 4:30 a. m. yesterday, apparently of heart disease.

His wife, awakened when he went to the bathroom, became alarmed by his failure to return and discovered him on the floor. A physician who was summoned said death had been instantaneous.

He was president of the American Pulverizer Co., Eighteenth and Austin streets, and vice president of the Central Brewing Co., East St. Louis. His father was Henry Griesedieck, a brother of Anton Griesedieck, who founded the Griesedieck Brewery. Henry Griesedieck founded a malting concern on South Twelfth street, between Chouteau and Hickory.

Paul Griesedieck is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bertha Pleuger Griesedieck, two sons, Henry and Clarence, and a stepson, William Pleuger.

Children to Dance "Fairy Frolic."

The children's dancing class of Hortense Nordman will present the "Fairy Frolic of 1920" Wednesday night at the Shubert-Jefferson Theater. The "frolic" is described as a modernized fairy tale. One of the group dances will be by a class of children 2 and 3 years old.

INFORMATIONS TO BE SOUGHT IN CASES OF LIQUOR SIGNS

Action to Be Taken Tomorrow Against Property Owners Permitting Display.

Prohibition enforcement officers will apply tomorrow for informations against several owners of property who have permitted signs advertising or containing the names of whisky, gin, brandy and similar "hard" drinks to remain on display since national prohibition went into effect, Jan 16.

No warrants will be asked for in the case of signs containing the word "beer," as there has been no definite ruling as to whether or not this term may legally be left on the signs of those dealing in malt drinks containing less than one-half per cent of alcohol.

The penalty for displaying liquor signs is a $500 fine or six months in jail, or both.

ALCOHOLIC WARDS FILL UP

New York Charities Commissioner Says Prohibition Law Is Disregarded.

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 8.—Alcoholic wards are filling up because of disregard of the prohibition law, Bird S. Coler, City Commissioner of Charities, said today. He said that if conditions did not improve within a month he would send out inspectors "to uncover the real facts," and aid in a more rigid law enforcement.

In the Drapery Shop Tomorrow— 2000 Yards of Drapery Materials

Short Lengths at 1/3 to 1/2 Less Than the Regular Price

SHORT lengths of Damask, Velour, Tapestry, Voile and Madras at prices that range from 1/3 to 1/2 less than regular price. Some of the upholstery materials are of the proper size for chair seat or cushion, while others are of sufficient size to completely cover a medium-size chair. Included are short lengths of voile, madras and cretonne, up to 3-yard lengths.

Selected Cretonnes at 85c and $1.45 the Yard

Cretonnes are here in endless variety, which will bring the charm of color to your home; the designs are typical of Spring and its freshness.

Here one may choose color harmonies, striking or subdued, blended with a fine appreciation of modern interior decorating.

The patterns assembled are suitable for draperies, furniture slip-covers or other upholstery purposes, and are further attactive through their moderate prices 85c and $1.45 the yard

Other Cretonnes range in price from 65c to $4.75 the yard

Attractive New Curtains—of Marquisette or Voile

Very desirable for living room, hall, etc., are Curtains of durable Marquisette, which take for their decorative note hand-drawn work, motifs and edges of exquisite Cluny or Venetian lace.

Cool, Summery Curtains of voile are offered with Picot edged ruffles—wide or narrow—in pink, blue or white.

Prices range from $3.35 to $8.50 the pair.

Blue and White Striped Awnings—Special, $2.95

Assorted Sizes

Especially desirable for the sunny porch or windows are these attractive, cool-looking Awnings. They are made of special quality duck, mounted on iron frame, with cord and fittings, all ready to hang.

The sizes are—2 ft. 6 in., 3 ft., 3 ft. 6 in.

WRIT AGAINST ALDERMAN HALL

A writ of execution against Alderman Nathan H. Hall of the Twenty-first ward was placed in the hands of the Sheriff yesterday. It was granted by Circuit Judge Calhoun on application of Hall's wife, Mrs. Ida M. Hall, of 3934 Palm street.

On April 19 Mrs. Hall was awarded a temporary allowance of $125 a month alimony pending her suit against Alderman Hall for separate maintenance. She also was allowed $50 suit money and $75 for attorney's fees. In her application for a writ of execution she stated that the order had not been complied with by Hall and that $250 was due her.

The Sheriff was given no instructions in the matter of executing the writ. He has the authority to levy on whatever property belonging to Hall that he can find. Hall is living at Grand avenue and Palm street.

VITANOLA
The Phonograph of Marvelous Tone

VITANOLA FOURTEEN

HOW DOES ONE PHONOGRAPH DIFFER from ANOTHER?

THAT question is in the mind of every intelligent person who is considering the purchase of a phonograph.

The difference between phonographs is not in the looks—all good instruments are splendid specimens of the cabinetmakers' art. The real distinction lies in one thing—the thing you buy a phonograph for—the music it renders.

There must be a reason for everything. And there is a real reason why the VITANOLA has the sweetest, clearest tone you've ever listened to. The VITANOLA Tone Filter, a combination of devices and construction, practically frees the music from outside and surface noises before it reaches your ears. Listen to a VITANOLA—comparison will make the sale.

Don't Be Limited by a One-Record Machine

There is no phonograph disc record made in the whole world that can not be instantly played on the VITANOLA without extra attachments. You can purchase the records you like, irrespective of make, if you are a VITANOLA owner.

Many Cabinet Designs Any Wood—Any Finish

Your choice of different cabinet designs, woods and finishes, all beautiful and distinctive, is very wide in the VITANOLA line. Prices to suit everybody's idea—designs and woods to suit anybody's home.

Valuable Information Free

See a VITANOLA dealer or write us for information which will prove of real value in helping you make an intelligent phonograph selection.

POST'S CHARGES ABOUT REPORTERS MODIFIED

Denies Any Intent to Reflect on Reputable Reporters—Says Statements Are Hearsay.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—At the suggestion of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Chairman Campbell of the House Rules Committee called on Assistant Secretary of Labor Post when he resumed his testimony before the committee this morning to explain fully his statement of yesterday that reporters influenced by "outside salaries made unfair statements in their news reports."

"Your statement about newspaper men drawing two salaries," said Campbell, "has attracted a great deal of attention among publishers and newspaper men. If you have any data I wish you would make it known."

Post said that his statement had been misapprehended. He declared that he had no intention to reflect upon "the great body of reporters, who are conscientious and hard working."

What he had in mind, he said, was that great numbers of "professional publicity men selling their services to private interests had sprung up during the war."

"What do you mean by two-salaried men?" quizzed Campbell. "I have never heard of any in the newspaper business."

Post said that the records of another committee hearing would show that a man named Logan, while ostensibly a newspaper correspondent, had received pay from packing interests. If the committee desired, he said, he would get the facts from the record.

Post's reference obviously was to Thomas F. Logan, details of whose connection with packing interests as an "expert adviser" were published about a year ago.

Logan was nominally a representative of a Philadelphia newspaper. The witnesses mentioned no other name. Campbell declared it was unfair to the newspaper men of Washington to withhold any facts he might have.

Post said that his statement of yesterday was made entirely upon hearsay and that the truth could be developed by summoning reputable newspaper correspondents.

"I did not charge reporters," he said, "but parasites who have got into the newspaper profession."

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feisel to Observe Anniversary Friday Night.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feisel of 3847 Cottage avenue, will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage Friday at their home. eFisel is 74 years old and is a cigarmaker, having worked in the same shop for 46 years. His wife is 70. They have four children, Clara and William, Mrs. Hattie Boxmeyer and Mrs. Anne Voigtman.

Feisel was born in Germany and came to St. Louis in 1866. His wife, whose maiden name was Eiffert, was born in St. Louis. They were married May 14, 1870, in a turner hall on Tenth street between Market and Walnut streets.

This Pretty Girl Defies Age By Using Ordinary Buttermilk To Beautify Her Complexion

Tells Druggists Not to Take Anyone's Money Unless This Delightful New Vanishing Cream Quickly Shows a Decided Improvement. Try It To-Day at Our Expense.

Buttermilk Cream creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the dullest, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crows' feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

To prove this to your complete satisfaction, get a small quantity today with the understanding that the purchase money will be cheerfully refunded to any dissatisfied user.

Beautiful actress says, "A short massage with Howard's Buttermilk Cream at night before retiring is all that is necessary."

MORE THAN 100 INDUSTRIES CAME HERE IN TWO YEARS

15,000,000 Square Feet of Factory Floor Space Built in Period by New Plants and Old Ones.

A 20-page booklet reciting in some detail the profit location in St. Louis holds for industry will be issued this week for use in the Municipal Advertising campaign, begun in the May issues of national magazines. It is proposed to send this booklet as the city's first response to any inquiries which may result from these advertisements. Further follow-up processes are planned and will be under the direction of W. W. Kay, who will open an office in the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow.

The preface of the booklet is "St. Louis as a Manufacturing Center" and states "these pertinent facts have been presented here so that they may quickly and easily be read by manufacturers who perhaps contemplate the establishment of factories, branches or agencies in the Middle West."

Drug Company Manager Quoted.

The first page is a quotation from a letter of J. N. Staples Jr., manager of the United Drug Co., stating 10 reasons why his company choose St. Louis for its Western factory now building here. His tenth reason perhaps is of most interest. It follows: "A belief that we will get excellent co-operation from the business men and authorities of the city. I do not mean that we would not get co-operation in other cities, but for a number of years St. Louis business men have had the reputation of being very clannish, independent and did not seek new industries to come into their midst. I have the impression that they are realizing that they have that reputation and it is animating them with greater efforts than would otherwise be the case."

The next page is a summary of general advantages of the city in 19 paragraphs, each dealing with one subject, such as schools, climate, market. Following the summary is an extended analysis of the more important of these advantages. One paragraph is regarded as particularly compelling. It is "St. Louis is an ideal central point for fabrication in transit. By this is meant the moving of raw materials in the direction of the ultimate market, selecting a manufacturing point en route where the materials can be combined with fuel, labor and transportation and then sent broadcast to the consumer."

Transportation Large Factor.

Transportation is becoming a large factor in decision upon the location of factories. Not only are the railroads physically incapable of handling the vast commerce of the country, but rates have ascended, and likely will still further ascend. These are regarded as impelling reason why Eastern factories, which have had no middle west factory of distribution house, now will seek to get closer to the consumer that service may be bettered and cost of freight haul lessened. In this connection it is pointed out that St. Louis has 26 railways and a water highway that offers egress to the sea and to close connection with foreign ports.

Review of Industrial Growth.

The results of these advantages already are apparent in the recent industrial growth, the booklet sets forth, reviewing that growth as follows:

"There is a stability in St. Louis' industrial growth. St. Louis has never 'boomed.' It just grew as the St. Louis trade territory grew. Its development has been steady and sound, and has not been spectacular. It has not been a 'boom' town in any of its stages of development.

"St. Louis is not a one-industry city. It probably leads all other American cities in the volume of diversified production. St. Louis has a large number of magnificent industries, operating with high efficiency. This diversified efficiency has placed St. Louis in the lead of the markets of the world in several industrial lines.

New Spirit Pushing City.

"A new St. Louis spirit is pushing the city forward in industry and commerce and is replacing the reputed ultra-conservatism of former days. It has brought about a full realization of St. Louis' resources and advantages by St. Louisans. The city has grasped the possibilities of development in the reconstruction period.

"The great economic waste of transporting raw materials from the St. Louis region to eastern points for manufacture and reshipping the finished products to the great Mississippi Valley markets has caused progressive heads of industry to make a trade analysis of their business.

Dominant Market Center.

"The result of these investigations has been that St. Louis stands out as the dominant manufacturing and distributing center from which all markets can be reached on a competitive basis. It cuts off the take-it-there-and-bring-it-back transportation expense.

"The unquestioned proof of this active movement toward St. Louis is that more than 100 new industries and 15,000,000 square feet of factory space has been built in St. Louis in the last two years. The new industries constructed 7,000,000 square feet of floor space and the expansion of St. Louis plants caused 8,000,000 feet to be built."

ORIENTAL RUGS

An Exhibit of New Importations Just Received

The long-looked-for shipments of extra choice Oriental Rugs have been received, and are now arranged for the inspection of all who are interested in fine artistic productions.

This exhibit will be open to the public for two days, Monday and Tuesday, and continuing throughout the week the various specimens—one hundred thousand dollars' worth—will be placed on sale at prices far more reasonable than the conditions of the Oriental Rug market would seem to warrant.

Included are numerous splendid examples of the following weaves:

Sarouks Kashans Araks
Kurdistans Kirmanshahs
Mahals Bidjars

These Rugs are of beautiful designs and exquisite colorings, and can be had as small as 4 feet by 6 feet and as large as 15 feet by 24 feet.

The Last Corn

When you end your corn with Blue-jay, it will be the last corn you let grow.

You will know how to stop the pain. And how to quickly and completely end all corns.

There are millions who use Blue-jay now, and they never let a corn remain.

The new-day way

Blue-jay is the new-day way, the scientific method.

It was perfected in a laboratory world-famed for its surgical dressings.

It is supplanting the many treatments which are harsh and inefficient.

It has made paring as ridiculous as it is unsafe, for paring doesn't end corns.

Do this tonight:

Apply to a corn a Blue-jay plaster or liquid Blue-jay—whichever you prefer.

Mark how the pain stops. Then wait a little and the corn will loosen and come out.

© B & B 1920

What that corn does all corns will do. Some 20 million corns a year are ended in this way.

Don't suffer corns. Don't have your feet disfigured. They can be ended almost as easily as a dirt-spot on your face. They are just as inexcusable.

Don't forget this. It means too much to you.

WORLD LOOKS ON U. S. AS BIG QUITTER, DECLARES REDFIELD

Former Secretary Says It's No Wonder We Have Lost Prestige When We Can't Tell What We Want.

Is American the Great Quitter?

Are European nations right in regarding this country as something worst than a bad loser—namely, a bad winner?

These questions were asked by William C. Redfield, former Secretary of Commerce, in an interview at the Fouke residence, 20 Westmoreland place, last Tuesday. The theme of the interview, as expressed by the former Cabinet member, was "How Shall America Play Her Part in the World?"

Shortly before, in a luncheon address before the Chamber of Commerce, he had spoken of American business opportunities in Russia, and of the duty of America toward Russia. He is president of the American-Russian Chamber of Commerce. He warned his hearers that, if the United States withholds help from Russia, a new Pan-Germanism may arise, which will not have a weak link, such as Turkey in the Berlin-to-Bagdad plan of former years, but which will extend through the Russian domains, linking Prussia to Japan.

"It is right for Germany to seek the line of least resistance," he said. "It may be right for Japan to seek to extend her commercial influence, as she is most busily doing in Eastern Siberia now. But what are we Americans going to do?"

"U. S. Standing at One Side."

He took up the same question in his interview.

"At present," former Secretary Redfield declared, "we are not, as a country, taking part in the world's affairs. We are standing at one side, and letting the world get on without us, so far as any Government action is concerned.

"We seems to have adopted the motto which we would hardly regard as the right one for a soldier—'Safety First.' We seem to deny that the winning of the war, with our aid, brought any responsibility or obligation which has weight at present. We seems to feel that we can withdraw within our own frontiers and let the world wag without us.

"Such a policy is, avowedly, a purely selfish one. It leaves the rest of humanity out of the account. It centers our whole thought on ourselves and our affairs. For its justification, it may be pleaded that 'Charity begins at home,' and that 'Self-preservation is the first law of nature.'

"But the question seems larger than that. It involves more than the apostles of a hermit America realize. Charity does begin at home, but it only begins there. The proverb does not imply that it ends there, but the contrary. Self-preservation is the law of nations, as of men, but the question naturally arises, what is self preservation? He who saves his life, we are told, shall lose it. 'Nothing venture, nothing have,' and 'penny-wise, pound-foolish' are proverbs expressing the same thought.

Questions of National Honor.

"There are questions of national honor involved, and the question whether the possession of great strength and power does not carry with it some obligation to use that strength and power for the good of others, as well as for one's own personal advantage.

"If France had been unwilling to take a chance, when Washington and Franklin begged for aid in revolutioary times, if France had then adopted a safety first policy, we might have remained colonies of Britain for many years.

"If Russia had adhered to the notion of safety-first, and had declined to take the chance of withstanding other European Powers in Civil War times, Great Britain and France might have recognized the Southern Confederacy.

"We do not think much of the man whose chief thought is of himself and his own affairs. We feel that he should recognize his obligation to others, and should sometimes put them above obligations to self.

"As to the question of honor, let us consider whether, having taken part in the war, and new nations having been brought into being with our aid and consent, we can stand aside and say to them, 'Get on the best you can, without us.'

"Is not the American nation in the position of the Great Quitter?

"Has she not lost her prestige in the eyes of the world? She rose very

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-Four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed all druggists to guarantee it in every instance.

WORLD LOOKS ON U. S. AS BIG QUITTER, DECLARES REDFIELD

high two years ago, but if almost universal evidence is to be believed, she has fallen; and there are few countries in which she is now regarded with enthusiasm, few in which she is even held in high respect.

"Men say she has put her hand to the plow and has turned back; that she has refused to play the game to the finish.

U. S. Called a Poor Winner.

"They declare that she is a poor winner, refusing to accept responsibility for her own victory. Or they say she has lain down on the job when it was half done. The world feels this way, and apparently it is true.

"We have not been willing to make peace on the terms made by other nations. We have not been willing to adopt conditions which feeble nations are able to accept. We are isolated, still exercising war powers in our domestic affairs, still technically at war with Germany.

"At the end of 18 months, to say the most, we have not been able to make up our minds.

"We are a great, powerful, indecisive country, which has not yet been able to tell what it will or will not do, on a matter on which the rest of the world has long ago made up its mind.

"Small wonder that we have lost prestige. Small wonder that others say, 'What is the matter with America?'

"Yet the truth probably is that these things only appear to be true, rather than that they are really so. The facts are that we are asleep, that we have not made up our mind, that we haven't played the game to the finish, and that we have been a quitter. We may as well face these facts as they are.

Fallen Between Two Stools.

"The explanation is not quite so bad as the facts might seem to imply. The American people have been unable to get at the problem in decisive fashion. They have fallen between two stools—the alleged mistakes of the President on the one hand, and the alleged errors of the Senate on the other. While the respective parties to our peacemaking powers antagonize one another, Americans regard the country's position with deep regret, not to say shame. Everywhere, men speak of it as a disaster.

"If this matter were left to the action of a few hundred men, of average intelligence, from any State in the Union, they could and would settle it.

"But, meanwhile, we are no longer a force, commanding respect and enthusiasm, but a great, drifting, indecisive mass, on which the world looks with surprise, to see what we will eventually decide to do.

"It does not better matters to find fault with anyone in particular. Whatever may be the sins or mistakes of this man or that body, the trail of the serpent is over us all, and the nation at large is the sufferer. Commerce is adversely affected. The national self-respect is impaired.

"We Americans are proud of our record. That record has not been an indecisive one. As our great problems have come up, we have dealt with them with vigor and efficiency; but not so, we must admit, with this one. The reaction on us, and on our place in the esteem of the world, is inevitable, as well as hurtful.

"This indecision is reflected in our tardiness in taking steps to aid Europe in her difficulties. Men say money is tight, but it is loose enough when a sufficient rate is paid for it.

No Lack of Wealth.

"There is no lack of wealth with us. Its use is hampered by an absurd system of excess profit taxation, operating in such a way as to hinder the fruitful use of private capital to pay labor and aid in the country's development. But over our financial and commercial system, in our relations with the rest of the world, seems to hang our political hesitancy, echoed in our fiscal action.

"We know Europe needs our help. Men say our failure is reacting adversely on ourselves, but no effective scheme has been devised, and suggestions of helpful action are like voices in the wilderness.

"There is need of a voice to say, 'Wake up, America! Don't be afraid to take responsibility. "Fear not each sudden sound and shock, 'tis of the wave and not the rock.'

"We are powerful, wealthy, have been extravagant, and still are, but we have begun to save. Our people are sound at the core. We don't want to quit the game before it is over. We do want to play a helpful part in the world. We are not afraid to face the facts. We have taken big risks when it was right to do so, and we are not afraid to do the same again.

"What we need is something to shock us into a realizing sense of conditions. We need a leader. We need to hear a great voice cry, 'Wake up, America, and play your part!'"

Higher Taxes—or Bonds. Which?

The voters of St. Louis will decide by their votes on the Municipal Bond Issue at the polls TUESDAY whether they want to spread out the payments for permanent city improvements over a period of years, or pay higher taxes for imperative improvements which must be paid for IN A LUMP SUM out of current annual revenue.

This tax question is worthy of thought, and you should know the facts before you vote.

Here are the Facts: If the Bond Issue does not pass, your taxes MUST be raised materially NEXT YEAR and for several years. If the bonds are passed next Tuesday it will not bring about an increase in taxes for bond purposes for perhaps 3 or 4 years, if at all.

The bonds will not all be issued at once, and the peak of the bond charges will not come for about 10 years. The decrease in appropriations for permanent improvements in the annual city revenue will for several years absorb the interest charges.

If you vote for the bonds, you will be voting to spread out the payments for permanent improvements over a period of years and keep down the tax rate. If you vote against the bonds, you will be voting to increase your taxes.

Here is the Reason: Many of the proposed improvements in the Bond Issue are imperatively needed and MUST be made whether the bonds are passed or not. If the bonds fail, these improvements must be paid for in a lump sum out of current annual revenue. The only method of producing municipal revenue is by taxation.

If the Bond Issue is passed, the payments for these improvements will be spread over a period of years, lessening the amount to be raised in taxes in any one year.

The bond election will be on May 11. Vote "YES" by scratching "NO."

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY TRYING TO RAISE $50,000

Higher Cost of Maintaining Children Makes Additional Funds Necessary.

The St. Louis Children's Aid Society, in an appeal which went out yesterday to raise $50,000 for the work for one year, stated that it takes $180 a year to pay the board of a child instead of $120 as formerly. A summer in the country this year will cost $50 while last year it was only $35; two weeks' vacation will be $8, instead of $5, and a day's outing for six children is $3 instead of the former cost of $2.

In addition to the higher cost of living, the work of the society is expanding constantly, and every month there are more children to be cared for. The April reports of the society show that there were 161 children in foster homes whose board was paid, clothing and medical attention supplied by the Children's Aid; 59 children under supervision, who have been returned to their own homes or are temporarily in hospitals; 50 children being investigated where there are cases of neglect, desertion or cruel treatment, making a total for the month of 270 children, and 816 visits of supervision were made by the Aid workers to these.

The Children's Aid is nonsectarian. Wards are always placed in foster homes where the religious affiliation is the same as that of the child's family. As soon as normal conditions are restored in their homes the children are returned.

The Children's Aid is indorsed by the Chamber of Commerce, Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle, Archbishop J. J. Glennon, Rabbi Leon Harrison, the clergy of many denominations, Judges of the court, and leaders in many civic and philanthropic organizations. Contributions for the work are earnestly urged. Checks should be mailed to headquarters in the Board of Education Building, 911 Locust street. Mrs. George C. Hitchcock is president of the society, Edward K. Love and Mrs. Elias Michael are vice presidents, Byron F. Babbitt is secretary and Theron Catlin is treasurer.

URSULA BRODERICK GIVES BOND

Girl Was Sentenced to Serve 10 Years for Murder.

Ursula Broderick, 16-year-old slayer of her stepfather, Joseph Woodlock, was released from the House of Detention yesterday on a $10,000 bond pending disposition of her motion for a new trial. She was found guilty of second degree murder in the Juvenile Court Thursday, the penalty being fixed at 10 years in the penitentiary. The motion for a new trial will be argued May 21.

The trial of her mother, Mrs. Lillian Woodlock, jointly indicted with her, has been set for June 8.

What Happens When You Buy Union Electric Preferred Stock

This is what you do for yourself:

1: You become one of the owners of the St. Louis district's $36,500,000 electric light, heat and power stystem—STATE-APPRAISED AND STATE-REGULATED—with a voice and vote in its management.

2: You get a safe and sure $7 a year in quarterly cash dividends on each $100 share, without work or worry on your part.

3: You get a security that is always intrinsically worth what you paid for it, and which our Securities Department, in case of need, will place on sale for you, at its full current market value, without charging you a penny for the service. During the past five months 123 of our more than 3600 St. Louis shareholders have brought their shares in and the Company has resold them, to 327 buyers, at $100 a share for cash.

This is what you do for St. Louis:

1: You help finance the growth of St. Louis' electric power system, on whose normal development all other St. Louis industries are each year more largely dependent for their own growth.

2: You help hold down electric service rates by helping your electric utility to get new capital, needed to increase its facilities, at a lower price than it would have to pay in the Eastern money markets.

3: You help make more work and wages, more business and more prosperity, for yourself and everybody else, in your home community.

PRICE: $100 a share for cash; $102 on a ten-payment plan, under which buyers draw 5 per cent interest on installment payments, and can withdraw all payments, WITH INTEREST, any time before final installment is paid.

SALES OFFICES: Room 201 Union Electric Building, 12th and Locust Streets, St. Louis, and Union Electric's offices in Franklin, Jefferson, Perry, St. Charles and St. Louis counties.

Miami Trailers

With a Miami Trailer Behind Your Truck You Can Haul Two Loads Every Trip

The average truck, properly rated, will pull from one and one-half to three times its capacity. With a small additional operating expense, therefore, the use of a trailer will more than double the pay load of any truck.

That means more than 100 per cent increase of truck capacity at an increased operating expense of not over 10 per cent. It means the speeding up of deliveries—the covering of more territory.

A truck operating with a trailer is a two-unit hauling outfit. For light load hauls the truck is free. The trailer is costing nothing when not in use.

Does the Car Buyer Want the Facts

THE late Joseph Choate used to say that lawyers would go out of business if men were not so bent on making the same old mistakes the same old way.

No one need—or can—make the old mistakes in selecting his motor car, if he will look for transportation facts instead of "features" and "talking points."

The strong Packard opinion which he finds on every hand does not express itself in technical details or costly luxury—but in such every-day words as economy, comfort, ability and lasting value.

LET a man figure on keeping his Packard from six to ten years—and he has a material saving in investment, as against the car that must be traded in every two or three years.

Think of the stability of the Packard design! His Packard always a "new model."

His gasoline mileage will be from nine to thirteen, depending on road conditions. Oil mileage, 700 or more to the gallon. Tires, properly cared for, ten thousand to sixteen thousand miles.

The steel in his Packard is worth more than twice as much as the steel in the ordinary car.

The moving parts in the Twin-Six engine are better balanced than in any other automobile engine. Consequently there is less vibration and less wear on bearings.

WHEN a man buys a motor car he knows pretty well what sort of transportation he expects it to deliver.

Economy does not lie in the direction of temporary makeshifts or compromises.

Packard first-class transportation will give him a definite and permanent advance in his way of traveling. It will cost him less per passenger mile during his whole motoring experience—than even second-class transportation.

TEACHERS' DEMAND INDORSED

A resolution indorsing the request of the St. Louis school teachers for an increase of 33 1-3 per cent increase in salary, and recommending the appointment by the Chamber of Commerce of a special committee to ascertain the facts regarding the wage controversy between members of the Board of Education and teachers to the end that both public and the teachers may be informed and satisfied, was passed by the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

HOLMES
Improved Air Cooled
for Roominess with Economy

The roominess that is so much a part of real car comfort is coupled with the economy of operation that is so desirable, only in the Holmes.

The high efficiency of the Holmes Improved Air-Cooled motor brings a gasoline economy of 18-20 miles to the gallon to a car of 126-inch wheelbase, seating seven people in full comfort in the Touring model—six in the Sedan.

The light weight possible because of the elimination of heavy water cooling parts and the use of full elliptic springs on a flexible chassis without rigid cross members affords a tire mileage of better than 10,000 miles to the set.

And with this remarkable economy, in a car of proper size, is obtained a road service possible from no other type of construction.

Real comfort is brought to all roads—the Holmes rides as easily at speed of from 30-40 miles an hour over country roads as other cars ride on boulevards.

A limited number of touring models are available for 30-day delivery.

EXHIBIT OF BATTLE FLAGS OF ST. LOUISANS

Colors of Men of This City in All U. S. Wars on Display at Jefferson Memorial.

A collection of battle flags and war maps, placed on exhibition by the Missouri Historical Society, will be open to the public today in the west wing of Jefferson Memorial in Forest Park.

The collection covers all the wars in which America has taken part and shows flags carried by American troops in battle and two flags captured from the enemy by St. Louis troops. One of these is the colors of the flagship Reina Christina of Admiral Montijo's fleet in the battle of Manila Bay. The flagship was sunk and when the flag was in course of being transferred to another ship it was captured and carried aboard the Olympia, Admiral Dewey's flagship, by a St. Louis sailor. The other captured flag was taken from the Mexicans at the battle of Monterey by men of Light Battery A.

The Revolutionary War flag and the flag carried in the War of 1812, the two oldest in the collection, are in tatters and are held together by heavy linen backing. Another ragged flag is a Confederate flag which the color bearer saved from capture at Vicksburg by winding it round his body under his coat.

In connection with the flag and map exhibit is a set of rosters and official orders covering the War of 1812, the Civil War and the Spanish War, and a complete set of organization histories for the St. Louis and many of the Missouri units in the World War. In the map collection is an old plan of a Mexican War fortification and a complete set of official maps, marked secret, of the first engagement in which the St. Louis troops took part in the World War. The latter are maps of the sector taken over by the Thirty-fifth Division when that division arrived at the front in France, and show a detailed plan of battle and location of each battalion, company and platoon, of the 138th (St. Louis) Infantry. These maps are the property of Col. E. J. McMahon, at the time commander of the 138th (St. Louis) Infantry, and were loaned by him to the Missouri Historical Society for this exhibit.

The exhibit also includes sabers and trophies, belonging to St. Louisans in all these wars, and photographs and pencil drawings of persons, places, and incidents concerned therein.

The exhibition will continue through the month. At present, it will be open to the public on Sunday only from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Members of the Missouri Historical Society will be permitted to view it during the regular hours on week days, as well as on Sundays.

"BLUEBEARD" RACING FOR PRISON TO ESCAPE DEATH PENALTY

or jewels, robbing and deserting them. She said he had married scores of women and treated all of them after the same fashion."

Mrs. Hilton declared she is sure her husband and the Los Angeles "bluebeard" are the same, because on his clothing was found the laundry marks, "Louis A. Hilton" and "Charles N. Harvey," both of which aliases were used by the man at the county hospital.

With the exception of Mrs. Goodnick and Miss Prior, most of Harvey's missing "wives" disappeared from places in Southern California. This lends emphasis to the police theory that they might have been slain and buried in some unlocated plot Harvey is supposed ot have visited in the Imperial Valley, or just across the Mexican border.

Sheriff C. E. Applestill of Imperial County says he is investigating to see if Harvey was responsible for, or connected with, the slaying of a woman, as yet unidentified, at El Centro, Jan. 20, 1919.

On Jan. 9, 1919, H. S. Matteson and wife registered in a hotel in El Centro. Three days later a man by the name of Lewis, one of the many aliases Harvey used, also registered at the hotel. Eight days later the mutilated body of a woman was found near El Centro. An attempt had been made to destroy the body by burning it.

Owners of an El Centro livery stable recall having rented a rig to a man and a woman a few days before the tragedy. It was returned by the man, alone.

Another clew was obtained at Tia Juana when customs and immigration officials recognized a photograph of Harvey as that of a man who, with a woman, had crossed into Mexico. The man returned a few days afterward and explained that his companion had remained in Mexico.

A map found in Harvey's possessions showed at least 20 routes into the "Borrego Valley." Most of the mapped routes led from San Diego into the valley near the junction of Coyote Creek and the St. Felipe River.

Wives Usually "Disappeared."

Harvey is known by the police to have made many trips into this secluded section, and they have checked up various clews to show that usually after each trip one of his "wives" disappeared.

Detectives in Sacramento are attempting to identify the body of a woman slain with a shotgun in a city park as Mrs. Irene Root, or Hunt. She supposedly married Harvey on March 18, 1919, under his alias of H. L. Gordon.

The death of Mrs. Root, or Hunt—if the woman found in the Sacramento park really be she—may have wrote the "Irene letter" found in Harvey's possession after his arrest. It contained a threat by the writer to kill herself because she had learned she had been duped.

An example of the methods employed by Harvey in obtaining "prospective brides" is given by an advertisement which the police obtained from an old issue of a Tacoma newspaper. It reads:

> Gentleman, neat appearance, courteous disposition, well connected in a business way, has quite a little property, also connected with several corporations, and has a nice bank account, as well as a nice roll of Government war bonds, would be pleased to correspond with a refined young lady or widow; object, matrimony. This advertisement is in good faith and all answers will be treated with every respect. H. L. Gordon, Tacoma Hotel, Tacoma, Wash.

C. E. Freeman, 4023 Scanlon place, St. Louis, believes that Watson is the same man who, under the name of Lawrence Harris, married his daughter here about nine years ago and deserted her shortly afterward.

Freeman has identified a photograph of the prisoner as that of Harris, who operated a collection agency in St. Louis at the time of the marriage to Miss Freeman. The latter obtained a divorce from Harris and has since married again.

The JORDAN Silhouette

COMFORT is measurable. In the old days of high, bulky motor cars, we experienced only certain degrees of comfort. Today—to ride in a Jordan, is to know the joy of perfect realization — comfort supreme.

Sitting easily, you do not need to brace yourself to keep from sliding forward or sidewise. The soft, quaint lustred leather wells up around you and you relax at a perfect comfort angle.

The arm rest is in just the right position. Your knees are not too high.

In the Jordan you feel that satisfying sense of lounging—you have the consciousness of riding in the car, not on top of it.

The Most Beautiful Car in America

IT is today undeniably one of the major pleasures of life to possess a truly fine motor car.

And this, more than anything else, we believe, accounts for the steadily growing demand for the Paige Six-55.

The fineness of the seven-passenger Paige is readily observable. It is apparent not only in the car's outward beauty and interior comfort but also in its outstanding sturdiness and general mechanical excellence. It is a fineness which prevails uniformly in every feature that distinguishes a car as being of the finer type.

And yet, contrary perhaps to the general opinion concerning cars of its size, the Paige Six-55 is entirely free from extravagance. Its upkeep is quite as moderate as its original cost.

If you desire a really fine motor car—a car which gives complete satisfaction in every respect—do not overlook seeing the seven-passenger Paige.

PAIGE-DETROIT MOTOR CAR COMPANY, DETROIT
Manufacturers of Paige Motor Cars and Motor Trucks

With the demand for the Paige Six-55 far exceeding our utmost production efforts, a prompt decision is advisable. Orders placed now mean just so much more of the best touring season assured for your enjoyment

COLE SAYS G. O. P. BIG EIGHT MAY BE HALVED AT CHICAGO

Election of Missouri Delegates at Large Violated National Committee's Call, State Chairman Says.

Doubt that the Republican National Convention in Chicago June 8 will seat more than four of the eight Missouri delegates at large elected by the Kansas City Convention, with a possibility that all eight might be refused seats, was expressed yesterday by W. L. Cole, chairman of the Republican State Committee. Cole said that there was no doubt in his mind that the election of eight delegates at large was a violation of the instructions in the National Committee's call for the convention.

If Cole's views are borne out by the action of the Credentials Committee of the National Convention, the eight who were successful in the Kansas City Convention will find the honor for which they strove and which was the cause of a bitter convention fight, rather an empty one.

Under the apportionment for national conventions Missouri is entitled to 36 delegates. That all parts of the State may be properly represented the delegates are chosen by Congressional Districts, two for each district. As there are 16 districts this apportionment leaves four to be chosen at large in the State.

Call Specifies Four.

The National Committee call directed the election of four delegates at large. Because of the numerous conflicting personal ambitions to be satisfied, the party leaders, over Cole's protest, decided to elect eight instead of four, each of the eight to have half a vote.

Cole made known to the Republican leaders that he had received an urgent request from Will H. Hays, chairman of the National Committee, that only four delegates at large be chosen because of the limited space in the Chicago convention hall, but the request was not heeded.

"Suppose that every state would do the same," Cole said yesterday. "If a state convention has the right to elect a double delegation then a district would have. This would create endless confusion and there would not be room in any convention hall in the country for all the delegates.

"If the credentials committee refuses to seat the eight Missouri delegates at large, it would be up to the eight to choose which of the four would act. I don't know how a decision would be reached. In Kansas City it was impossible to decide on four and I know nothing which will change the situation in Chicago.

Might Throw All Out.

"Then, suppose a majority of the credentials committee favored a candidate for President who was opposed by the Missouri delegation. What would be more natural than for the committee to say that the delegation had been elected illegally because of the failure to follow the national committee call, and throw out all eight? I think we made a great mistake."

In 1912 eight delegates at large were elected to the Republican National convention. The credentials committee refused to seat more than four. The delegation decided within itself which four should serve. The other four became alternates. This year eight alternates were elected in addition to the delegates at large.

The eight delegates and Senator Spencer, Cole, Edward W. Foristel, Congressman Dyer, Walter S. Dickey, Mrs. Venonna Swan, Mrs. Alice Curtice Moyer-Wing and Dr. J. R. A. Crossland, a negro.

FAMINE PRICES FOR CORN DURING WEEK

Acute Scarcity of Stocks at Leading Terminal Markets Basis of Rise.

Famine prices for corn were reached during the past week. Despite abundance of corn on farms acute scarcity prevailed at the leading terminal markets, and sent values skyward. Compared with a week ago, corn quotations yesterday were 3c to 11¼c higher, oats showed ¾c to 4c advance.

Urgent buying on the part of shorts forced the corn market to wild jumps, and at times even the hardiest speculators hesitated to sell in view of existing railway traffic conditions, with not enough grain arriving to meet hand-to-mouth demand. During the week No. 2 yellow corn sold above $2 a bushel, whereas not so many years ago the farmer's ideal was $1 a bushel for wheat, not to mention corn.

Tightness of domestic banking credits failed to check in any lasting way the upward swings of the market, and the same was true of reports that the Japanese financial situation showed persistent severe strain. Only temporary bearish influence, too, resulted from better weather and more favorable crop reports, such factors being more than offset by talk of board export demand for wheat. No. 2 red winter sold up to $3.12, the highest since Government control began in 1917.

Oats were governed chiefly by the action of corn.

Provisions borrowed strength from grain.

St. Louis Cash Grain.

In the cash grain market at the week end spot wheat was 1c to 2c lower, corn 1c to 4c higher and oats steady to ½c higher. Sales quotation were: No. 3 corn, $2; No. 4, $1.95; No. 6, $1.88; No. 3 yellow, $2.02; No. 6 yellow, $1.88; No. 2 white, $2.04@2.05; No. 3 white, $2.02; No. 1 white oats, $1.16½; No. 2 white, $1.16; No. 3 white, $1.15½@1.16½.

COMMITTEE OF 47 PLANS TO STABILIZE WHEAT PRICE

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 8.—A committee of 47, representing all branches of grain production and marketing will be appointed to plan the stabilizing and handling of the wheat crop and to take action on the matter of opening a grain exchange for future trading in wheat after May 31. When the wheat guaranty act expires, it was decided yesterday at a meeting of Board of Trade representatives, grain dealers, millers, elevator men and bankers, called by Julius H. Barnes, Federal Wheat Director.

Another committee, composed of two representatives from each of the eight exchanges where traders in futures have been handled, Chicago, Duluth, Minneapolis, Omaha, Toledo, Milwaukee, Kansas City, and St. Louis will be appointed to make recommendations on the resumption of future trading in wheat. This committee will report recommendations to the general committee, which will take action.

The general body will be composed of three representatives each from the millers, country grain dealers, farmers, elevators, terminal elevators, farmers' organizations, producers, exporters, flour handlers, bakers, transportation representatives, and one representative from each of the exchanges in the country.

GRAIN AT CHICAGO LOWER ON PERSISTENT HEAVY SELLING

CHICAGO, May 8.—Correct anticipation that the Government crop report would show an improvement in winter wheat as compared with a month ago had a bearish influence today on the corn market. Corn closed heavy, 1¼c to 2c net lower, with July $1.71¼ to $1.71⅜ and Sept. $1.61¼ to $1.61⅜. Oats lost ¾ to 1¼ cents. In provisions, the outcome varied from 12½ cents decline to 5 cents advance.

Persistent heavy selling on the part of a house with Eastern connections gave special emphasis to early bearish sentiment regarding corn. In addition to guesses about the Government report, talk, too, was current in some quarters that a gradual betterment of railway traffic conditions might be looked for, and it was pointed out that total grain receipts this week in Chicago were virtually double what they were a fortnight ago. Week-end covering by shorts, however, nearly overcame at one time the effects of the early selling. Nevertheless, in the end rallies failed to hold, and a renewal of heavy selling found the market bare of support.

Oats were governed almost entirely by the action of corn. In the provision market, the strengthening influence of higher quotations on hogs was counterbalanced by weakness of grain.

WINTER WHEAT OUTLOOK 484,647,000 BUSHELS

Condition of Crop Improves Slightly in April, Government Report Shows.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—A slightly larger production of winter wheat than had been expected was forecast today by the Department of Agriculture on the basis of the condition of the crop and acreage on May 1.

Total production was estimated at 484,647,000 bushels or 1,030,000 more than was forecast as of April 1. This total, however, is about 287,000,000 bushels less than last year.

There was an improvement of 3.5 per cent in the condition of the crop in the month. During the winter 11.9 per cent of the acreage was abandoned, the total acreage remaining to be harvested being placed at 34,165,000 bushels.

The condition of the crop May 1 was 79.1 per cent of a normal crop compared with 75.6 on April 1 this year, 100.5 on May 1 last year, and 87.1 the 10-year May 1 average.

The area remaining to be harvested is about 34,165,000 acres, or 11.9 per cent less than planted last fall.

Production of rye is forecast at 79,789,000 bushels, compared with 88,478,000 last year and 91,041,000 in 1918.

The condition of rye was 85.1 per cent of a normal, compared with 86.8 on April 1, 93.4 on May 1 last year and 90.5, the 10-year May 1 average.

The condition of meadow (hay) lands was 89.4 per cent of a normal, the expected hay acreage about 71,752,000 acres and the production forecast 111,831,000 tons, compared with 108,666,000 tons last year.

MORE HAY ON FARMS.

Stocks of hay on farms May 1 were 11,375,000 tons, against 8,559,000 tons last year on May 1.

Spring plowing was 60.1 per cent completed and spring planting was 50.2 per cent completed on May 1.

Acreage of winter wheat May 1 and the forecast of production based on May 1 condition and acreage, both in thousands (i. e. thousands omitted) by important states follows:

Pennsylvania, 1541 acres; 26,852 bushels.
Ohio, 2090 and 28,995.
Indiana, 1705 and 21,611.

LIVESTOCK RECEIPTS ARE ON INCREASE

Cattle and Hog Prices Weaker; Light Trading in Horses and Mules.

COMPARATIVE LIVESTOCK RECEIPTS.

| | Last Week. | Prev. Week. | Year Ago. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Cattle and calves | 16,460 | 10,245 | 18,713 |
| Hogs | 81,580 | 51,649 | 76,769 |

| Totals | 109,005 | 69,284 | 111,842 |

With receipts showing a material increase over those of the previous session, tendency was lower on fat cattle at the St. Louis market the past week. Heavy steers and butcher yearlings appeared the most affected by the bearish attitude of buyers and at the close bulk of such grades averaged lower. On the heavier beeves values averaged 25c lower than the close of the previous week and there were places off 50c. Medium and light weight steers ruled steady to 25c off.

Butcher yearlings declined principally on the medium grades, such kinds finishing for the week 25@50c off on bulk. In extreme cases values looked close to steady. Beef cows averaged steady to 25c lower in spots, while trade on bulls ruled strong a greater portion of the week and 15@25c higher in instances. Canner and cutter cows were unchanged for the most part.

The stocker and feeder division of the market was quiet, trade being restricted by the exceedingly light receipts arriving, together with the limited demand for steers. Inquiry for she-stuff was fair, but there were few of these classes offered for sale.

Veal calves were in moderate supply and early days of the week recorded an advance, top on choice lights Wednesday going up to $13.75 per cent to both city butchers and to packers. At the close, however, this advance was in larger measure lost, good vealers selling Friday at $12.50@13.00.

Hog Prices Lower.

A return of hog receipts to normal proportions caused a general decline in prices, most noticeable, however, on strong weights and heavies. Receipts for the week were 81,581 head, or an increase of 30,000 over the preceding week. Light and handy weight hogs are off about 50@75c per cwt., the closing top at $15.10 comparing with a $16 high market last Saturday. The big packers bought more freely than in some time and there was also an improved shipping outlet. An appreciable widening of the spread between light and heavy hogs was an unsatisfactory trade feature. Extremely heavy hogs sold as low as $13 late, or $2.40 under the top. Other hogs of weight ranged from this price up to $14, while strong weights and mediums of 230 to 270 pounds cleared from $14@14.75. Pig market was lightly supplied and prices did not show much decline, the best weight pigs selling around $15@15.25. Rough hogs were priced at $11.75 late, or about 50c lower.

Sheep Prices Higher.

Receipts of sheep and lambs fairly liberal considering the abnormal conditions prevailing at this time, aggregating 9359 head for the week. Market on lambs advanced slightly, a top of $18 being established on shorn lambs, as against $17.75 paid on the close of the preceding week. Spring lambs sold to packers at $20, or steady, although city butchers purchased small lots up to $21.50. Fat sheep closed about $2 lower, with the best quotable at $11, as against $13 a week ago. Large runs of Texas wethers were responsible for the sharp break. Canner sheep sold from $3@5 on the close and choppers and bucks from $7@8.50. These prices are about 50 cents lower.

Horse Trade Weaker.

Trading in horses at the St. Louis market the past week was again limited more or less by the restricted shipping facilities to the East. The express embargo was maintained by railroads and freight service was also limited and uncertain. This resulted in no trading of consequence with eastern representatives and the runs received had to therefore be absorbed by local and southern sections.

Receipts, while not large in volume, were, nevertheless, more than ample to take care of trade requirements. A fair demand prevailed from the South for loggers and chunks, although inquiry for the small southern horses was rather light because of the lateness of the season on such types.

Market in general reflected a weaker undertone, this condition being brought about by lack of competition from the East. Order still prevails here for cavalry horses and for Cuban types.

Trade in the mule alleys of the commission department was slow a greater part of the past week. Receipts were not large in volume, but supplies, nevertheless, were held over each night because of the limited demand. Orders from the South were rather light because of the wet conditions in that section. The switchmen's strike also had a bearish pressure on the trade.

NEW YORK COTTON RALLIES AFTER OPENING SLUMP

NEW YORK, May 8.—The cotton market was irregular today. Crop news from the Southwest was better and an unfavorable view of the goods trade outlook was promoted by the week-end advices reporting small business at first hands. On the other hand, there were numerous crop complaints from the Eastern belt, and the attention of the trade seemed to shift from bullish to bearish features, with corresponding fluctuations in prices. After selling off to 35.60c, October advanced to 36.10c and closed at 35.80c, or 5 points net lower. The general list closed steady at a net advance of 15 to 18 points on the old crop months, but 4 to 8 points lower on new crop deliveries.

The market opened unchanged to 10 points lower, with the active months selling 18 to 26 points net lower shortly after the call, under liquidation and selling orders from the Southwest. Improved weather reported in Texas and uncertainty of general business conditions figured largely in the early talk around the ring. The appearance of buying orders from some Eastern and central belt sections served to color the unfavorable crop advices from east of the river based on wet weather and low temperatures, which were said to be retarding germination. July sold up from 37.85c to 38.30c, and December from 34.72c to 35.26c, with active months selling about 25 to 27 points net higher. The market met increased realizing for over the week-end at this level and there were reactions of 25 or 30 points from the best on the new crop positions.

Sales of print cloths in the Fall River market were estimated at 40,000 pieces for the week, and some of the Fall River brokers were quoted as reporting a quieter tone than for any time in the last two years. Western goods distributers, however, report continued active business.

Cotton futures closed steady: May, 40.28c; July, 38.18c; Oct., 35.80c; Dec., 34.92c; Jan., 34.42c.

Spot cotton quiet; middling, $41.30.

Coffee Market.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Coffee futures advanced today, after opening lower, but did not fully maintain their gains. First prices were 6 points lower, under scattering liquidation, with July selling at 15.55c and December 15.03c. Continued firmness of the Rio market, combined with reports of an improving spot demand, encouraged a renewal of yesterday's buying, however, and July sold up to 15.75c during the middle of the morning, while December advanced to 15.10c. Late reactions were attributed to realizing for over the week-end, with July closing at 15.67c and with the general list closing net 9 points higher to 1 point lower, late months being relatively easy. Closing bids: May, 15.40c; July, 15.67c; Dec., 15.21c; Oct., 15.17c; Dec., Jan. and March, 15.08c. Spot coffee steady; Rio 7s, 15¾c; Santos 4s, 23¾@24½c.

Sugar.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Raw sugar firm; centrifugal, 19.56; refined firm; fine granulated, 18.50@23. Sugar futures were firmer owing to the strength of the spot market. Prices closed 18 to 41 points net higher.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Sugar closed firm, sales 1250 tons. May, July and Sept., 18.80; Jan., 16.25.

FRUITS

STRAWBERRIES—Demand for fancy berries fairly active, while poor fruit (soft, sandy, etc.) dragged. Car lot distributors cleaned up a fresh car and clean-up Arkansas quart cases early at from $3 to $4.50 for excelsiors and at $4 to $6.50 for klondikes, and another fresh car arrived late, of which only a few cases were taken out. Express receipts from Arkansas sold at $3.50 to $5 per 24-quart crate for excelsiors (some very poor and sandy at $2 to $2.75) and at $4 to $7 for klondikes; Tennessee klondikes sold at $4 per 24-quart crate for sandy to $6 for best.

BLACKBERRIES—Light sales Alabama at $5 to $6.50 per 24-quart crate.

APPLES—Fancy hard apples firmly maintained in price and meeting a fair demand; but considerable of the stock offered within past few days showed scald and decay, hence had to be discounted. Boxed apples (store prices): Extra fancy winesaps at $4 to $4.25, do newton pippin at $3 to $3.50, do roman beauty at $3.75@4. Damaged and poor fruit discounted.

Tapering Off of Trade Reported.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Bradstreet's today says: "A further tapering off of trade and industrial activities is reportable this week. Retail trade, especially in leading lines of wearing apparel and collections, seems to be least favorably situated, ranking only about fair, while wholesale and jobbing trade is also quieter and there is a noticeable slowing of the pace in manufacturing and industry.

"For the quieting in retail trade, except in the mail order line, which is reported good, the growing conservatism as regards high prices comes in for chief mention, but there is also evidence that now, when weather conditions seem improving and warmer temperatures are apparently at hand, a fair share of the responsibility for the past and present quiet is being placed on the cold, backward spring, which has held down sales of spring and summer fabrics. Weekly bank clearings, $8,780,812,000.

Flour Up 25 Cents a Barrel.

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 8.—A rise in wheat prices yesterday was the principal factor in another advance today of 25c a barrel on standard flour, bringing it to the new high level of recent weeks. In 98-pound cotton sacks sold in carload lots, standard flour was quoted at $16.25 a barrel, $3 higher than the lowest price this year.

FINANCIAL FINANCIAL

Why We Advertise the BlueBird Line
In historic old Ford Hall, Boston, there hung on the wall a few years ago this motto, "In times of stress advertised goods suffer last and least." There might have been added, "The buyer of advertised goods gets the most for his money."
These two facts lie at the foundation of our advertising campaigns. We recognize that modern business figures as its greatest assets satisfied customers and a wide market for its product.
First of all, BlueBird Electrical Household Appliances are fundamentally good—designed to give the greatest satisfaction to the user—to fill an unoccupied niche in the home—to render a needed service to the homemaker.
In the second place, these products can be sold to the user at a fair price only when they are produced in sufficiently large quantities to make possible a moderate cost. Just now we are turning out about three hundred electric clothes washers a day—with a demand for six hundred.
We need more capital to buy material stocks, additional equipment, and to enlarge our factories to take care of this business. To get this capital we are offering 10,000 shares of preferred stock together with 10,000 shares of common. Up to January 1, 1920, the preferred stock paid 8% regularly, but since that time both common and preferred have received dividends at the rate of 12% annually.
We want to emphasize that such an opportunity comes to the small investor but once in a lifetime. Do not overlook your opportunity to start growing with a growing business.

MAXWELL
There is a double advantage in the use of these special steels in a Maxwell
1.—They eliminate superfluous pounds, lighten the task of the engine, ease the burden on tires, make possible quicker acceleration.
2.—They add strength which insures endurance, dependability, uninterrupted performance, and infrequent repairs.
These special steels make possible the Maxwell construction of great strength combined with light weight.
The light weight decreases the burden on the engine and their strength provides endurance.

PRICE REACTIONS IN COMMODITIES LOOKED FOR NEXT

Western Reserve Banks Forced to Borrow From Eastern.

y Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The Evening at, in its copyrighted financial re- w today, says:

"When the money market of last ctober and November began to show gns of very unusual stringency, ere was a disposition to draw two ore or less reassuring conclusions garding it. The trouble was caused Stock Exchange speculation and erefore could be removed by checkg that speculation. The abnormal arcity of money was an incident of abnormally active autumn busiss season, and therefore would easureably disappear when that sean ended and the 'year-end settleents' were over.

"It is now evident to all the finanl community that acceptance of se two inferences, without due cognition of other aspects of the uation, was a source of great misdgment. Stock Exchange speculan was without question a severely gravating influence on the money ain, and its persistence along with e maximum requirements of an ace autumn trade had undoubtedly reatened a kind of money crisis.

"The predicted reaction was forced the stock market in November; e usual period of maximum busiss activity ended with December; t the money tension did not relax all. The experience of the past ur months has been pretty concluve proof that the problem had rger scope than Wall Street or the ll trade and this is the fact which w seems to be somewhat tardily alized.

West Borrowing in East.

"The realization of it has taken ape in the present week's very genal assumption that money strinncy must be expected throughout e country, with consequent reacn in prices for commodities, folwing the recent renewed fall in eculative prices on the Stock Exange.

"Indications of such a result are undant enough. Not only are a mber of important staple markets w talking of possibly lower prices ter in 1920, but the increasing mony tension elsewhere than at New rk is shown both in rates on the estern markets and in the large rrowings by Western from Eastern serve banks, whereas two or three onths ago, these same Western nks were lending to the East. This ek's inferences of the financial arkets have been based on these ible facts, but also and even more stinctly on knowledge that restricn of credit facilities must affect eculators in commodities and merandise exactly as it has affected eculators in stocks, that this same triction is bound to affect the exavagant individual spenders, and t the later months of the year are ditionally the time when a money ngency of January or May cannot ll to be emphasized.

"Exactly what, then, ought we to ct in the commercial and indusl markets, reaction and liquidan are plainly enough indicating t there need be no hesitation in g that however painful the ess may be in certain directions, results will be wholesome as afng the country's financial posi n and the welfare of the general lic. Nothing has been more sureproved in past experience of such es as this, than that the economic ngth of the United States indiually and internationally, is rapy weakened by such inflation of nce and industry as has been gressively at work during the past months and that the country's er is always displayed to the full n it has punctured the bubbles got down to the real things.

High Labor Cost Remains.

It is not yet clear what would be incidental results of such a reon, or how far it is likely to go. e matter of prices, it is probable Wall Street, itself will presently aking wholly unwarranted preions regarding the extent of a ible decline. The consumer is y to meet some disappointments; whatever influences towards red prices is exerted by tightencredit and restricted consump-, the high labor cost will remain. in several important industries, h as food and textile production, shall probably be confronted this r with shortage of both wheat cotton harvests, compared with output of recent years.

"What can, however, be reckoned with a fair amount of confidence that the margin of purely specue profits in the great staple kets will be heavily cut down. margin has been very large; not because of actual forestalling ations, but because of the policy ed even by ordinary merchants, acting unusually high profits on t business because of their extion of the very conditions ch now seem to be foreshadowed. the larger sense it may be said , as it was correctly said in such milar year as 1903, that the couneconomic position is in its ultibasis very strong. Producers traders who have taken rash ces during the past year will e to take the consequences, which be unpleasant. Conservative ness men should merely have to their expectations to a smaller . As for the credit market and general public, the one ought to tricated from its present deadand the other ought to obtain at a breathing space in the presof cost of living."

Wall Street News and Comment

—SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The point chiefly emphasized in current discussion of the financial outlook is that the credit deflation so far has made disappointingly slow progress and that something will have to be done to speed it up before the crop moving with its heavy additional demands draws near. This necessity has been dwelt upon during the week by the head of the Federal Reserve Board and by the head of the Federal Reserve Bank in New York. It is perfectly plain that the credit supply would be stretched to the breaking point under the extra strain of the harvest requirements if a good deal of liquidation of commercial loans is not accomplished between now and August.

The desired result might be brought about if the car shortage in the interior of the country were relieved. As it is, vast quantities of goods are held up in their delivery and the interior banks are called upon to furnish the money to carry them. If the transportation difficulty were solved these goods would move to market, be paid for and loans at the banks would be cancelled. Estimates of the amount of this so-called frozen credit run very high. If the car shortage were overcome it would go far towards solving the credit problem and this is the reason why business men of many different lines have been bringing all the pressure possible to bear this week upon the Interstate Commerce Commission to come to the rescue.

Must Move Crops.

If the railway equipment deficiency is not corrected through a better distribution and by arrangements for extending a special credit to the roads to enable them to buy many more cars and locomotives, there will be no way to prepare for next autumn's crop demands except by the banks deliberately refusing to renew a part of their present commercial loans. If this were done it would result in a sharp contraction in trade and probably in a considerable fall in prices. The thing which divides Wall Street opinion at the present juncture is how far the stock market by its recent severe decline has put itself in shape to face an industrial readjustment of this sort without being unduly affected.

Those who take a pessimistic view maintain that no wholesale pressure upon the loan account could occur without involving Wall Street loans as well as loans based upon commercial enterprises. Those who do not feel alarmed, but on the contrary, are inclined to look more cheerfully upon the situation, take their stand upon the fact that Wall Street credits are relatively very low. They are below anything reached since the close of war; they are low as compared with past occasions of strain like that of 1907. In other words, Wall Street since last autumn has been putting its house in order and has made a pretty thorough job of it.

Rails Grow in Favor.

It is quite logical that seeing that the possibilities for industrial stocks are nothing like what they were, the attention of many students has been directed to the possibilities in other quarters. In particular the prospects for the railway shares have been canvassed and especially the prospects of the low-priced non-dividend paying rails. As a general proposition, the railway list is very low as compared with all past standards. Yet at no time, however, have the railroads of the country been so sure of obtaining adequate rates. Legislation has been written upon the statute books which makes it mandatory to fix rate schedules that will allow the roads to earn 5½ per cent upon their property investment. The Interstate Commerce Commission may or may not be liberal in its interpretation of this law. But it is bound as it never was in times past to see to it that the roads be given the opportunity to earn a fair return.

Future of Bonds.

With money and credit conditions relaxed through commercial liquidation we would undoubtedly see a great upward movement start all through the bond list.

Liberty Bonds Victory Notes

Beginning July, 1920, the sinking funds provided by law will begin to retire regularly and reduce the outstanding United States war debt.

This should have a strengthening effect on prices, which today offer the following approximate yields on the world's premier investments:

|---|---|
| Victory 4¾s (1923/1922) | 6.08% |
| Third 4¼s (1928) | 5.80% |
| Fourth 4¼s (1938/1933) | 5.50% |
| Second Converted 4¼s (1942/1927) | 5.50% |

"What Is My Liberty Bond Worth?" is a pamphlet which will interest you, if you contemplate buying or selling. Send for it. We handle all issues—coupon or registered—in any amount—$50 to $10,000 denominations. Mail orders receive careful attention.

Yard-O-Meter Corporation

Incorporated Under the Laws of the State of Missouri

Capital Stock $500,000.00

Offers for Public Subscription 7500 shares of its Common Stock to be fully paid and non-assessable at $10.00 per share—par value.

1—YARD-O-METER is a measuring and computing device for the use of merchants who sell dry goods, etc., manufacturers of clothing, milliners and others.

2—YARD-O-METER is simple in construction—unerring to measurement—computes accurately—easy to operate—simplicity itself.

3—The demand for YARD-O-METER need not be mentioned. The keen-thinking mind will readily determine the possibilities of this wonderful invention, when we tell you that the price at which it sells is easily within the reach of even the smallest user.

4—A reasonable profit will be made on each machine sold and in a very short time YARD-O-METER should make wonderful progress—likewise large returns for the stockholders.

5—As an investment the stock of the YARD-O-METER Corporation offers a splendid opportunity. It is a matter of common knowledge that industrial stocks have earned the largest dividends in the history of the world. All of the stock of the YARD-O-METER Corporation is common stock, which will entitle the holder to his full share of the large returns which, no doubt, will be made possible by the manufacture and marketing of YARD-O-METER.

6—The management of the Company will be in the hands of capable St. Louis business men and those especially trained and experienced with reference to the manufacture and sale of YARD-O-METERS. In order that the company might preserve the full benefit of the moneys realized from the sale of its stock, it has decided to sell its own stock and we would, therefore, kindly ask you to make the subscription directly to the General Offices of the Company, Sixth Floor, Commonwealth Trust Building, 415 Locust Street.

All legal matters connected with the incorporation and this issue have been examined and passed upon by Messrs. Greensfelder & Levi, Attorneys, St. Louis, Missouri. All legal matters connected with the obtaining of patents have been handled through Knight Bros., Patent Attorneys, St. Louis, Missouri, and Washington, D. C.

PROPERTY OF U. S. PRINCESS ATTACHED IN SLANDER ACTION

B. F. S. Gregory Sues Wife of Austrian Nobleman for Calling Him a Former Coachman.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Attachment against the property in America of Princess Victor of Thurn and Taxis, wife of an Austrian nobleman, was granted by Supreme Court Justice Lyden here today, when Bernard Francis S. Gregory, who asserts that he is a member of an aristocratic English family, filed a suit for $50,000 for alleged slander.

He claims that at a New York hotel, on Feb. 1, she made remarks that had injured his social and business standing, asserting that, instead of being a "gentleman of good family," he had formerly been a coachman.

WOMEN VOTERS TO MEET MAY 18

First Annual State Convention to Be at Joplin.

The officers of the Missouri League of Women Voters have issued a call for its first annual convention, at Joplin, May 18, 19 and 20. All county organizations are asked to send delegates.

The league is successor to the Missouri Equal Suffrage Association which ceased to exist with the granting of presidential suffrage by the State Legislature a year ago.

The call is signed by Mrs. George Gellhorn, State chairman. It sets forth that, whereas, in former times, suffragists held meetings to disseminate propaganda, now they are called together to determine what the league, when organized, as a great nonpartisan power, will be able to ask of the political parties.

New Invention Sent on 30 Days' Trial Without Expense to You

Simply send me your name and I will send you my new copyrighted rupture book and measurement blank. When you return the blank I will send you my new invention for rupture. When it arrives put it on and wear it. Put it to every test you can think of. The harder the test the better you will like it. You will wonder how you ever got along with the old style, cruel spring trusses or belts with leg straps of torture. Your own good, common sense and your own doctor will tell you it is the only way in which you can ever expect a cure. After wearing it 30 days, if it is not entirely satisfactory in every way—if it is not easy and comfortable—if you cannot actually see your rupture getting better, and if not convinced that a cure is merely a question of time, just return it and you are out nothing. Any rupture appliance sent on 30 days' trial without expense to you is worth a trial. Tell your ruptured friends of this. EASYHO CO., 4194 Koch Bldg., Kansas City, Mo.

CARRANZA FLEES ON HORSE; TRIES TO REACH COAST

Revolutionists Stop His Train Soon After Leaving Capital, Vera Cruz Dispatch Says.

OBREGON DIRECTS HIS LIFE BE SPARED

Obregon Forces Reported to Have Entered Capital—Other Victories Claimed by Revolutionists.

By the Associated Press.

VERA CRUZ, Sunday, May 9.—President Carranza, who fled from Mexico City, at the approach of Gen. Obregon's army, is a fugitive in the eastern part of the State of Tlaxcala and is believed to be trying to reach this city. The railroad train on which the president left the capital was stopped at the City of Tlaxcala by detachments of Gen. Obregon's army and the president was forced to leave his car and flee on horseback. Instruction that the life of Carranza be spared have been issued by Obregon.

By the Associated Press.

JUAREZ, Mexico, May 8.—Gen. Obregon and Gen. Pablo Gonza'es, rival candidates for the presidency of Mexico today entered Mexico City at the head of their armies, Gen. Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander of the Juarez military district, announced at a banquet held here tonight.

By the Associated Press.

EL PASO, Tex., May 8.—Revolutionaary forces uder Gen. Alvaro Obregon, candidate for the presidency of Mexico, were said to be at the gates of Mexico City tonight. An unconfirmed report received at revolutionary headquarters today said that troops under Gen. Benjamin Hill had already entered the capital.

Several sweeping victories were claimed by anti-Carranza agents on the border. The State of Durango was reported to have seceded and joined the revolution. Gen. Cesareo Castro, who had been operating in that region, has sent a part of his forces to Piedras Negras, opposite Eagle Pass, Tex., upon learning that the Carranza garrison there fled.

President Carranza is reported to have ordered the abandonment of the northern states of Mexico, and the concentration of "the few loyal forces there" in Mexico City.

Important Cities Claimed.

Torreon, Coahuila and Zacatecas and Aguas Calientes, capitals of the states bearing the same names, and Saltillo, capital of Coahuila, also were claimed today by the revolutionists.

Rail and wire communication between these places and Chihuahua City had been restored by the insurgents, it was reported. From Torreon to Aguas Calientes only wire communication was available.

The claim to Torreon, which frequently has been reported captured by the revolutionists, was based today on a report received here from Gen. Eugenio Martinez, commander of the Chihuahua City garrison, saying that a train had arrived at Conejos, about 40 miles northwest of Torreon, with the information that all towns along the railroad between Conejos and Torreon, including the latter, had fallen into the hands of the rebels.

Luis Cabrera, Minister of Finance in the Carranza Cabinet, has arrived in Piedras Negras, according to advices received by Teodulo R. Beltran, commercial agent for the revolutionary Government at El Paso.

Senor Beltran also announced that the Federal troops at Columbia, Nuevo Leon, revolted yesterday.

17,000 in Chihuahua.

Eight thousand regular troops and 9000 "defensas sociales," or home guards, are operating for the revolutionists in Chihuahua, according to Luis Montes de Oca, Mexico City business man, who returned today from Chihuahua City on a special mission to Gen. Adolfo de la Huerta, provisional commander of the revolutionary forces, from Gen. Ignacio C. Enriquez, commander of the defensas sociales, and candidate for Governor of the state.

1200 Marines on Way to Key West Ready for Duty in Mexico

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 8.

APPROXIMATELY 1200 marines were today ordered to proceed on the transport Henderson from League Island to Key West, Fla., for possible service in Mexico.

Secretary Daniels, in announcing that the marines had been ordered to Key West, explained that it was a precautionary measure for protection of Americans, and that they would not be sent into Mexican territory unless the actual necessity arose. Col. P. M. Bannon will command the force.

The Henderson left Charleston, S. C., today for League Island, and will arrive there tomorrow night. The marines will be taken aboard at once and the transport will proceed to Key West to join the six destroyers dispatched there for service in southern waters.

CITIZENSHIP DENIED MAN WHO SOUGHT IT TO HOLD CITY JOB

Judge Faris Also Turns Down Man Who Beat Wife and One Who Claimed Exemption.

George Mathis of 2000 January avenue, a native of Switzerland, was denied citizenship by Judge Faris in the United States District Court yesterday because his only reason wanting to be a citizen was that he could hold a city job without being naturalized. He has been an employe of the Park Department since May 25, 1917, when he obtained his first papers.

At the hearing naturalization examiners introduced an affidavit made by Mathis in which he said he had never considered citizenship worth bothering about until he learned that he could not obtain a city job without having first papers and could not continue to hold it without having final papers.

Citizenship also was denied to Nicholas Guthier of 4162 Plover avenue, a German, whose wife, Elizabeth, filing an affidavit that for 10 years before their separation last March it had been his practice to beat her. "This man cannot make a desirable citizen," said the Judge.

The application of Boruch Katz, a Russian, was denied because in the selective draft he claimed exemption as a foreigner.

FLOCKS OF GOLDFINCHES APPEAR

Stormy Spring Believed to Have Retarded Northward Flight.

Flocks of American goldfinches, commonly called wild canaries, have appeared in St. Louis in the last week. The birds are rarely seen in this locality, and old residents say they have never seen so many. Otto Widmann, 5105 Enright avenue, a widely known ornithologist, attributes their presence chiefly to the stormy spring, which has forced them to stop their northward flight.

It is also probable, he said, that the siskin, a cousin very much like the "wild canary," has been taken for the goldfinch by observers. Both kinds, Mr. Widmann said, are evenly distributed north of the Missouri River, but do not gather in flocks after the breeding season begins.

Flour Up Another 25 Cents.

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 8.—Inadequate transportation facilities, more than an actual grain shortage, is held by local millers and grain men to be responsible for several recent increases in the price of flour, which advanced another 25 cents, to $16.25 a barrel here today.

JOHNSON MANAGER SAYS HOOVER MEN SPENT LARGE SUMS

Meyer Lissner Asserts More Than $40,000 Was Paid Out for Former Food Administrator in Los Angeles.

AUTOMOBILES WERE HIRED AT $25 EACH

Declares 600 Workers Were at Hoover Headquarters Clamoring for Their Pay Day After Election.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Senator Johnson of California today made public a telegram from Meyer Lissner of Los Angeles, one of his campaign managers, to Herbert Hoover, charging that Hoover's campaign in Los Angeles county in opposition to Senator Johnson in the recent California Republican Presidential primary was "the worst saturnalia of political extravagance that was ever exposed or conducted in southern California."

Charging excessive expenditures in behalf of Hoover, Lissner alleged that $20,000 was paid to "hired workers," that another $20,000 had been expended for postage on Hoover literature and that the Hoover organization hired automobiles on election day at $25 each. He also charged that the Hoover organization in Los Angeles county contained "most of the discredited leaders of the old southern Pacific political machine, and practically every official of the present Republican State Central committee, southern division."

Motive of Telegram.

Lissner informed Hoover that his telegram was prompted by Hoover's attempt "to explain your defeat by claiming that you had an amateur organization in California and today you say you would not have supporters raise a great campaign fund for fear it might mortgage your soul."

Declaring that he had been challenged by John F. Lucey, president of the Hoover club, to make good on charges that the Hoover campaign was backed by "an immense slush fund," Lissner said:

"I immediately accepted his challenge, demonstrating with facts and figures that the day after election at your headquarters was like pay day at an immense industrial plant, jammed all day by a horde of hired workers, clamoring for their pay. I showed that within an hour over 600 such had been paid in amounts ranging from $4 to $42.50; that toward evening there were still 123 persons in the line waiting for pay, and they were still being paid off the next morning; that this item involved in itself an expenditure of at least $20,000, while the Johnson organization had hired no paid workers at all for election day."

Challenges Hoover Workers.

"I challenged your organization to state exactly how many hired workers they had and the amount of their pay roll. I stated that about another $20,000 had been consumed by you in sending literature by mail to every one of the 300,000 voters in Los Angeles County, that you had several hundred men and women employed in headquarters for some time in various capacities with a pay roll running up into tens of thousands, and I challenged your management to tell how many were so employed and how much was involved. I showed that they paid about $2500 for advertising in one newspaper in Los Angeles alone in which the Johnson organization expended $163.

"I challenged them to tell how many automobiles they hired at $25 per day on election day, and finally generally accepted their challenge to submit the records of the Johnson campaign in Los Angeles County along with theirs to a public audit, and asserted that if they had the courage of their bluff, the record would show on your behalf in Los Angeles County the worst saturnalia of political extravagance that ever was exposed or conducted in Southern California.

"In the same statement I gave in full the receipts and expenditures of the Johnson organization up to the day of the election. I asserted and challenged your people to deny that their expenditures in Los Angeles

45,000 SEE PAUL JONES WIN IN LARGEST FIELD EVER STARTED IN KENTUCKY DERBY

Turf Classic at Picturesque Churchill Downs Track Draws Notables From All Sections—250 St. Louisans in Attendance.

By CLAIR KENAMORE.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 8.—Before one of the greatest crowds that ever saw a race in America, Ral Parr's brown colt, Paul Jones, won the forty-sixth Kentucky derby this afternoon from a staggering field of 17 horses. Paul Jones was beautifully ridden by Jockey Rice. He broke first, showed daylight between his tail and the Whitney horse, Wildair, as they swept past the roaring grand stand the first time and for the rest of the mile journey accepted and overcame all challenges. The most determined of these was made by Upset in the driving finish.

Upset, the only nag ever to beat Man O'War, came out of the bunch about half a mile from home and seemed to have the leader's measure taken, but Paul Jones ran the Whitney entry jump for jump, and fairly and convincingly showed that he was the best horse.

The grand stand at Churchill Downs has been doubled in size, making it one of the longest in the country, and the magnificent racing establishment has besides a great brick pavement in front of it where once was blue grass.

Every inch of space seemed to be taken. The boxes were filled first by the beauty and the chivalry of the blue grass country and secondly by the admirers of thoroughbreds from all parts of the country, including many St. Louisans.

Crowd Excited at Finish.

When Paul Jones and Upset came driving down the stretch the last time, running like a team, each and every member of the 45,000 crowd was yelling something. From the infield the noise was like that of a roaring surf. A few of the more excitable or more susceptible persons present sank back in collapse. The rest stood up to watch the crowning of a new turf king.

The running of the race was beautiful considering the size of the field. The start was excellent, and the delay at the post was short. Paul Jones was first to flash his colors, and closely massed behind him and falling quickly into full stride were By Golly, Upset and Wildair.

Paul Jones had plenty of speed, and the soft track seemed to suit him. By Golly found the class too speedy for him, and he retired to the comparative seclusion of the hoi poloi while Damask, a likely looking Easterner on which with his stable mates a load of money was bet, took his place. None of the first six or seven was decisively beaten as they raced down the back stretch, and swung round the far end. Paul Jones was still leading, and Upset running out his soul to catch up, and the grandstand roaring like a furnace.

In the stretch appeared On Watch, the sour-dispositioned son of the unbeaten Colin, who seemed late in the day to take a notion to get into the race. He was well beaten, but coming strong at the end.

$750,000 Wagered on Derby.

The winner was coupled on the betting with Blazes and on a $2 ticket the fortunate betters received $34. A $2 bet on the Whitney entry to place won $1.20, while the Loft entry was even money to show. Approximately a million dollars was wagered on the seven races on the day's card, about three-quarters of it on the Derby.

The stake, the richest on the American turf, had a total gross value of $36,925. The next value to the winner was $30,375. The owner of the second horse received $4000 and the third $2000. Damask saved his stake, which included $25 to nominate and $250 to start, by finishing fourth.

Trailing the four leaders were Donnacona, Blazes, By Golly, Wildair, Bersagliere, Patches, Herron, Sandy Beal, Prince Pal, David Harum, Cleopatra, Peace Pennant and Sterling, in the order named.

The grand stand was full at noon, and at half past 12, there were long lines of betters in front of the machines which were taking bets on the derby long before the first race was run. The terrific jam made the derby merely a spectacle to the most of the persons present. It was impossible to see more than a glimpse here and there of the racing, but as a spectacle of handsome people, fine clothing, jewels, beautiful horses and brave running, it was probably the best the country can produce.

With the vexatious aspects of the books removed, and the good behavior resultant of prohibition, the crowd was polite and the excessive crowding was taken good naturedly. The behavior of the crowd, the language used, the general manners and politeness of everybody all were of high class.

Large and Good Field

This race was attended in its preparation by the most auspicious circumstances. Last year there was one two-year-old of outstanding merit, Man O'War. His owner announced at the close of the season that Man O'War would not run in the derby. The derby being a race for 3-year-olds everybody else who had a good horse of that age entered him for the rich purse. As a consequence all the good ones except Man O'War were here today, and so evenly estimated were the past performances that the most adept calculators were uncertain as to which horse had the best chance.

Each owner thought his horse the best and told his friends so. This difference of opinion is what makes horse races. So today's Derby was made ready for the running.

Paul Jones was not considered as particularly by the wise ones and those who followed him prospered on the outsider. The Eastern money went mostly on the Whitney entry, the owner being one of those who saw his horses beaten.

The St. Louis contingent seemed to like Peace Pennant, whose performance was disappoingting. Donnacona carried the Chicago money, while the big New Orleans party strung with Damask.

St. Louisans in Attendance.

Approximately 250 residents of St. Louis and East St. Louis saw the race. Three private cars were in the special train of nine cars. C. Drummond Jones with a party of 20 guests had a private car. Tom Kearney had 26 guests in the second, and a third was occupied by guests of Frank Waller and Harry Redmon of East St. Louis.

Among other St. Louisans here were: Edward Magness, Joseph J. Gross, Benjamin G. Brinkman and "Tony" Steuver. Among those in the grand stand were Mrs. Charles Parsons Pettus, Mrs. H. H. Potter, Miss Effie Bagnell, Mrs. Oliver Richards, Mrs. Henry McRee and Mrs. J. L. John.

Fifty private cars from all parts of the Middle West were spotted in the railway yards. Besides the special train from St. Louis, there were three special trains from New Orleans and 12 from Chicago. Mud-spattered autos from all over the bluegrass country were parked around Louisville in alleys and the streets.

No Overall Wearers.

A well-dressed, cane-carrying crowd filled the hotels, new spring suits, furs and diamonds predominating. There were no overalls.

The streets were liberally sprinkled with soldiers, officers and men, and a hundred soldiers policed the tracks. The war had been called off at Camp Zachary Taylor for a week in honor of the Derby.

Louisville's own contribution to the crowd did the city distinct honor. Everybody wore his or her most suitable garment, behaved in his best manner and gave Southern chivalry, courtesy, hospitality and charm a most satisfactory exhibition.

The gathering which watched the performance of the Derby contenders with absorbing interest held many notables, including H. F. Sinclair, Harry Payne Whitney, J. S. Cosden, Harvey Gibson, Thomas Cochran, W. T. Stewart, T. Coleman Du Pont and Daniel G. Reid, all of New York, and Stanley Field, Chicago.

KRAMER WANTS TO KEEP DRUGGISTS ON "HIGH PLANE"

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Warning the American Pharmaceutical Association to keep the druggists of the nation free from the name of "retail liquor dealers," Federal Prohibition Commissioner Kramer, speaking at today's session of the association's annual meeting, declared "prohibition is here to stay."

The Commissioner told the druggists that if they were "not mighty careful" they would, "in name and fact, be liquor dealers," and added that "no man ever has a disease any more that takes less than a pint to cure."

"The thing that bothers me more than anything else," said Kramer, "is to keep the profession of medicine and the trade of druggist on the high plane they have always occupied."

U. R. VALUATION BY STATE TO BE ABOUT $50,000,000

Report of Investigators, Which Service Commission Is Expected to Approve, Based on Cost.

WILL NOT AFFECT PRESENT CAR FARES

No Credit Given for Increased Prices or Debit Made for Depreciation—Appeal to Courts Possible.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 8.—Expert engineers and accountants of the Public Service Commission who have been engaged in making a valuation of the property of the United Railways Co. for 12 months, and whose report is to be completed in June, will fix the value of the entire property at about $50,000,000, according to information obtained by the Post-Dispatch correspondent today.

This valuation will not affect the present street car rates in St. Louis, because the prsent rates, recently promulgated by the commission, are based upon that veluation.

The fixing of the value of the property by the commission's experts, however, will have an important bearing upon the plans now being considered for the reorganization of the property and the termination of the receivership in the United States District Court. Also future rate controversies will be decided upon the valuation finally placed upon the property by the commission unless the finding is overruled by the courts.

Approval of Report Expected.

The indications are that the commission will approve the estimate of its engineers and accountants.

When the commission increased street car fares in St. Louis from 5 to 6 cents, it fixed a valuation of $60,000,000 upon the property, a valuation which had been agreed upon by attorneys for the company and the city.

When the commission issued its most recent order on United Railways fares, in which they were reduced from 7 and a fraction cents to 7 cents flat, J. L. Harrop, chief engineer in charge of the valuation work, was called in. He told the commission the completed valuation would show the property to be worth $50,000,000 unless the real estate which had not been appraised, should be worth more than he expected. The commission accepted Harrop's estimate, and the order was based upon that valuation. The commission estimated in its order that the company would earn 7.10 per cent on a valuation of $50,000,000.

The company may appeal from the valuation because of the formula used by the experts in arriving at their conclusions. The value, as fixed by the experts, will be as near actual cost as possible. No credit will be given for the abnormal increase in prices of materials and equipment since those in use were bought, and no debit will be made for depreciation. All materials and equipment, including labor, which have been added to capital account during the reign of high prices, will be valued upon that basis, at actual cost.

All new equipment which has been added to old equipment, such as car heating devices, automatic electric signs upon cars, etc., also will be valued at actual cost.

St. Joseph Company Appealed.

After the commission had placed a valuation upon the property of the St. Joseph Street Railway's Co., the corporation appealed on the ground that the value which had been arrived at on an actual cost basis should have been calculated upon the present prices of labor and materials, with depreciation deducted. In other words, equipment bought years ago, when both labor and materials were cheap, should be valued upon the top notch prices prevailing now, and only the regular depreciation deducted, according to the contention of the company.

The appraisal of real estate, which is the only part of the work not yet completed, is being made with the utmost care. The transfer of each piece of real estate is being traced back far beyond its ownership by the street car company.

The outstanding bonded indebted-

DEPARTMENT OFFICIAL QUIT AFTER INQUIRY BEGAN

"I Resign," He Replied by Note, and Efforts to Find Him Since Have Been Vain—Other Departments' Operations for Many Years Under Scrutiny.

An investigation of the books and accounts of the United Railways Co., begun six weeks ago by William H. Woodward, former Assistant United States Attorney, specially appointed by Judge Faris of the United States District for the purpose, has revealed frauds perpetrated by employes in various departments against the company involving large sums of money, according to information obtained by the Post-Dispatch last night.

A report of the findings made by Woodward is expected to be given next week to the Circuit Attorney with the view of prosecuting those involved.

Woodward's appointment was for the purpose of investigating the alleged peculations of James W. Samuel, former assistant treasurer of the company. An examination of the books and accounts led Woodward into a much wider field, however, which resulted in the finding of irregularities in other departments.

Profits Pocketed by the Guilty Employes.

In the printing department of the company it was found, according to information given to the Post-Dispatch, that for a number of years the machinery, labor and paper stock of the company has been used by certain faithless employes to do printing under contract for outside concerns, the profits from which were pocketed by the guilty employes.

Car tickets were also printed and sold outside the regular agencies of the company, to the profit of the department employes responsible for the fraud.

An official of the printing department has left the employ of the company since the beginning of the investigation, it was learned. Officials of the company declined to say whether he had been discharged or had resigned. It was said last night that this official has left the city and that efforts to find him by agents of the court investigator had been vain.

Frauds in other departments of the company were also revealed by the investigation. Efforts to learn what these departments are were unavailing. The condition of the company's accounts are such that the investigation will be extended for several weeks, it was learned, and will cover thoroughly the operations for several years of all departments under suspicion.

Irregularities Have Extended Over Several Years.

The irregularities in the printing department have extended over a period of years.

Col. Perkins last night related the following story of what had been discovered in the printing department:

"I had no intention of making this matter public until the investigation had been completed, but in view of the fact that the Post-Dispatch has obtained information regarding the irregularities, it is just as well to confirm what appears to be already known outside our office.

"The auditors had not gone far in their general investigation following the disclosure of the discrepancy in Samuel's accounts when it was discovered that work was being done in our private printing shop for individuals and corporations in no way connected with the company. The work was being done at the expense of the United Railways Co., with stock and materials belonging to the company, by employes of the company, but without the consent or knowledge of the company and without the company receiving a penny of remuneration.

"One day last March, when the investigation was under way, I sent a messenger to the printing shop with instructions to tell a certain official of that department to come to my office at once. When the messenger returned he handed me a written communication which proved to be the certain official's resignation. The note merely stated: 'Accept my resignation, to take effect immediately.'

"Official Who Resigned Left the City," Says Perkins.

"I sent the messenger back to the print shop to tell the official that I wanted to speak to him personally in my office forthwith. The messenger returned in a few minutes and informed me that the man had left the shop. We heard later that he had gone to California. Since that

RAIL BOARD ASKED TO MAKE $2500 MINIMUM WAGE

Sum Necessary for Family of Five to Live in "Decent Poverty," Economist for Brotherhoods Declares.

W. J. LAUCK LAST WITNESS IN HEARING

Early Decision Urged to Avert Serious Transportation Disturbance — Next Hearing at Chicago May 17

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—A minimum of $2500 a year is necessary for an American family of five, W. Jett Lauck, consulting economist for the railroad brotherhoods, asserted today before the Railway Labor Board.

Lauck, who yesterday charged corporate profiteers with being chiefly responsible for present living costs, presented today a demand on behalf of the 2,000,000 railway employes for the establishment of a minimum wage throughout the industry.

He presented to the board a compilation of budgets on the cost of living based on studies made under his supervision and by federal and state agencies.

"It is impossible," he said, "for a family of five in the United States to maintain itself even in decent poverty, under existing conditions, for a penny less than $2500 a year."

Quotes Federal Authority

His estimate, he said, was supported by Government agencies and he quoted the estimate made by Prof Royal S. Meeker, Commissioner of Labor Statistics, in August, 1919. The estimate was $2262. The estimate for May, he insisted, should be $2533.

Lauck, in his statement, declared that "the fundamental cause of all economic instability, all industrial unrest, all interruptions of production and distribution, has been high prices and profiteering by organized capital and middlemen and retailers."

In concluding, the brotherhood spokesman requested that the board curtail its examination of wage data and proceed immediately to the determination of the question of what constitutes a living wage.

Labor's argument for increased wages for the 2,000,000 workers was concluded today by Lauck, who was former secretary of the War Labor Board. He asked for a minimum living wage for unskilled railroad workers with differentials above that for skill, hazard and responsibility. Early decision was urged, Lauck declaring that delay might result in serious disturbances to transportation.

Next Hearing at Chicago May 17.

Chairman Barton announced that the board would discontinue public hearings until May 17 at Chicago unless it should decide to hear a pending application, understood to be that of the American Train Dispatchers' Association, a rival organization to the Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

In order that the board may proceed as rapidly as possible to digest the wage information thus far presented, the board, the chairman said, will hold daily executive sessions until it moves to its permanent headquarters in Chicago and begins the hearing of the railroad executives' arguments.

NEWARK, N. J., SHOWS LARGER POPULATION THAN CINCINNATI

Census Figures Are 415,609, Against 401,158 for Ohio Metropolis—Washington Leads Both.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Newark, largest city in New Jersey, with a population of 415,609, as shown by today's census announcements, has outstripped Cincinnati, which ranked it in the last census. Cincinnati's population, recently announced, is 401,158. Newark's increase is 68,140, or 19.6 per cent.

Newark was the fourteenth city in 1910, with a population of 347,469, an increase of 101,399 over its 1900 population. Washington, sixteenth city 10 years ago, today outranks both Cincinnati and Newark, having 437,414.

Statistics on other cities issued, include:

Lynn, Mass., 99,148; increase 9812, or 11 per cent.
Newark, O., 26,718; increase 1314, or 5.2 per cent.
Clinton, Ia., 24,151; decrease 1425, or 5.6 per cent.
Muscatine, Ia., 16,068; decrease 110, or 0.7 per cent.
Bridgeport, Conn., 143,172; increase 41,098, or 40.3 per cent.
Pittsburg, Kan., 18,052; increase 3297, or 22.3 per cent.
Ottawa, Ill., 10,816; increase 1281, or 13.4 per cent.
Berlin, N. H., 16,104; increase 4324, or 36.7 per cent.

WIDOW WHO WED DAY AFTER HUSBAND'S DEATH TO GET HIS $6,000,000 ESTATE

Mrs. Helen Prindiville Griffin Bastado Had Been Separated From Him Two Years—Her Mother to Attend His Funeral.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 8.—Mrs. Helen Prindiville Griffin Bastado, who dashed to the Parish house of St. Joseph's Catholic Church in San Diego, Cal., last Tuesday, accompanied by Lieutenant-Commander Paul Henry Bastado, and was married less than 24 hours after her millionaire husband's death, arrived here this morning. She went to the home of her mother, Mrs. Catherine Prindiville, on Astor street, and refused admittance to all except relatives. She was not accompanied by her husband.

Two hours later, Mrs. Prindiville, the mother, departed for Boston to attend Monday, the funeral of George Francis Griffin, her late son-in-law. The sudden death of Griffin, due to a stroke of apoplexy last Monday on his yacht near Miami, Fla., and the speed record marriage of his widow caused a variety of sensations among their friends here. She has lived apart from her husband for two years. Divorce proceedings were pending, but had not been pressed. There are three children with their mother.

Griffin's Fortune $6,000,000.

Griffin was one of the wealthiest of the younger men in Chicago, his fortune being estimated at from $6,000,000 to $10,000,000. He was the son and one of two heirs of George P. Griffin, founder of the Griffin Wheel Co.

When Mrs. Catherine Prindiville heard of the hurry-up marriage, she said: "I am very much shocked at the news. It is a complete surprise to me. I cannot imagine what caused my daughter to decide to marry just at this time.

"Oh, yes I know Lieutenant-Commander Bastado very well. He is a charming man, and quite a hero—but this news is startling, indeed."

Mrs. Prindiville said her daughter met Lieutenant-Commander Bastado in a social way at Cornado Beach where she has lived for the last four years. He was second in command of a group of submarine chasers in the Mediterranean Sea during the European war, and is credited with having taken part in the sinking of one U-boat. He is now commander of the destroyer Jacob Jones, stationed at San Diego.

Divorce Bill Filed in 1919.

The bill for divorce which was pending when Griffin died was filed by Mrs. Griffin in the Circuit Court here Jan. 10, 1919. The bill asked for the custody of the three children, Rose Mary, 13 years old; Thomas Francis, 12 years old and Richard Bulen, 9 years old.

Leo F. Wormser, one of Mrs. Griffin's attorneys, said tonight that the pending divorce action and the second marriage will in no way interfere with her sharing in the Griffin estate.

"We have no advices from Mrs. Griffin of her marriage," said Wormser. "Whatever there may be of this circumstance, she still survives Griffin as his widow and, even though remarried, is entitled to all her rights in his estate. There is no reason to believe that the will does not make liberal provision for her."

Wormser asserted that Griffin had contributed to his wife's support until the day he died.

"There was no formal court order in the matter of any kind of alimony, temporary or otherwise," he said. "He simply continued to send her money."

Suit Continued Several Times.

The divorce suit had been set for a hearing six or seven times. Each time a continuance was obtained on the same grounds—that the attorneys for both sides were attempting to reach a settlement as to the amount and nature of the alimony and to agree as to the custody of the children.

The bill specifically charged that Griffin had been an habitual drunkard for two years previous to the beginning of the action. An answer was filed in which all of the material allegations in the declaration were denied.

Griffin Popular Clubman.

Griffin was one of the best-known men in Chicago. He belonged to many clubs, was popular and gave away $150,000 to war charities and soldier benefits.

The widow and three children will be the sole beneficiaries in the will, according to announcement of Raymond M. Ashecraft, one of the attorneys for the Griffin estate. "There never has been in the mind of anyone connected with the family the thought that the action of the widow in remarrying would deprive her or the children of their rights in the estate," said Ashecraft. "The estate consists of a large amount of property in and near Chicago, as well as a quantity of securities. We are at present tabulating the assets."

Big Frauds in U. R. Printing Plant Revealed by Inquiry

time I have tried on numerous occasions to reach him at his home and elsewhere, but have failed to do so.

"The investigation, which is not yet complete, has disclosed that an enormous amount of printing work has been done by employes of the company for persons in no way connected with the company. Just how much the work amounted to in money I am unable at this time to say. The work was carried on for a period of several years prior to the receivership and was continued after the receivership and up to the very time that the audit was begun.

"There were many ramifications in the conspiracy. All sorts of printing work was being done, from business cards for individuals to elaborate pamphlets and booklets for commercial houses and corporations. The profit received by those who were in the plot must have been very great.

"Orders for the outside work were solicited in the names of fictitious printing companies, and, in many cases, the purchasers were made to believe that they were dealing with bona fide printing concerns that had no connection with the United Railways Co.

"All the Guilty Employes Known," Says Perkins.

"I do not know how the work was carried on in secret for such a long time except that, perhaps, prior to the receivership there was no close watch kept on the plant. The company's printing department is an institution in itself. There is an average of 12 men employed there all the time, and they have plenty of work to do for the company. In addition to running off about 1,000,000 transfer slips a day, they print all the signs used by the company, notices of changes in routes and rates, display bills for the front of cars announcing special events, all of the stationery used by the company, and prior to the installation of metal tokens they printed all of the car tickets.

"When investigators called my attention to what was going on I went to the printing shop and personally found evidence that work was being done there for outside concerns. I also found evidence that persons other than those employed in the shop were involved in the promotion of the enterprise.

"We believe that we know everyone who profited by the work, but until the investigation is finished I am not at liberty to give any names.

"One of these alleged printing companies was the 'National Coupon Company,' of which we find no record."

Col. Pekins said officials of local concerns for which this printing had been done will be interviewed by the United Railways investigators with a view to rounding up the schemers, and that until the report had been completed no further information would be given.

It was learned that still another employe of the printing plant than the official mentioned, had resigned without explanation during the course of the investigation.

Samuel Case to the Circuit Attorney This Week.

The Samuel case has not been dropped. He was discharged last December, when the company announced that an audit of his accounts disclosed a discrepancy of $21,363.94. William H. Woodward, former Assistant District Attorney, was engaged by the receiver six weeks ago to investigate the case and he is expected to make a report this week to Charles W. Bates, counsel for the receiver.

Bates said yesterday that until he receives Woodward's report he cannot say what action will be taken. He said he was primarily interested in recovering for the receiver any money belonging to the company that might be missing.

Officials at the Municipal Courts Building said that they expected that the Samuel case would be presented to the Circuit Attorney this week.

ness, or mortgages against the property, call for more than $50,000,000.

If the valuation of $50,000,000, based upon actual cost, should be overthrown on appeal and the doctrine of present values on old equipment should prevail, the valuation probably would be greatly increased.

The outstanding capital stock and bonded indebtedness of the company is about $110,000,000.

HOOVER BLAMES GOVERNMENT FOR SUGAR SHORTAGE

Had U. S. Bought Cuban Crop Last Fall at 6½ Cents It Would Be Selling for 12 Cents a Pound, He Says.

RATIONING OF DRINK MAKERS IS URGED

Believes Restrictions Would Frighten Speculators Out of Market and Quickly Moderate Prices.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Telegraphing today to Senator Capper in response to a request for his views on the sugar situation, Herbert Hoover attributed the present high prices to "bad business" on the part of the administration in failing to buy the Cuban crop last September at 6½ cents a pound for raw sugar. Had this been done, he said, consumers would now be getting sugar at 12 cents.

Even now Hoover said something could be done to remedy matters if the Government would enter into negotiations with the large European countries to induce them to stop bidding against each other and to obtain our share of the available supplies.

The second thing that could be done to break "the gigantic bubble of speculation," he said, 'would be to reduce consumption through immediate rationing of nonessential consumers. Estimating that more than a third of our sugar is used for the making of candy, soft drinks and other nonessentials, Hoover said he had no doubt the manufacturers of these products would co-operate as they did during the war to reduce consumption.

Present Situation Anticipated.

Hoover said the present situation was anticipated by the Sugar Equalization Board, and by himself, last July, purchase of the Cuban crop was recommended, and when this proposal failed the board suggested "the alternative and less efficient" method of rationing. If this method were put into operation even now, Hoover said, it would frighten speculators out of the market and would quickly moderate prices.

As a result of the failure of the administration to buy the Cuban crop, according to Hoover, "we are participating in the world shortage of sugar due to decreased European production, and we are subject to unparalleled speculation and profiteering." He estimated that the increased price is imposing an additional annual tax on the American people of about $50 to the family. At the present price, he said, consumers would pay more than $1,000,000,000 more than last year.

Must Import Half of Supply.

"As at least one-half of our sugar must come from foreign sources," he said, "our merchants are bidding against European governments for its purchase, the profiteering is international, the situation is as much disliked by the vast majority of our manufacturers and distributors as by the public. It cannot be remedied by the Attorney General's conception that forces of this character can be handled by putting a few people in jail."

Hoover said that unless the negotiations suggested were entered into by the Government, an undue share of the world's supply of sugar would go to Europe. As its purchases are still being carried on under the direction of European Governments with which our merchants have not the resources to compete at present, he said, our fair share of the supply is "seriously jeopardized."

Exportation of sugar would be prohibited under a bill introduced today by Representative Hudspeth, Democrat, Texas. The bill would also authorize the Federal Trade Commission to investigate the manufacture, distribution and sale of sugar.

Maurice J. Cassidy, a member of the Complaint Board, said yesterday that he would summon Sigmund Labsap, 4320 Laclede avenue, before the board to explain why Labsap had refused to rent eight apartments owned by him in the 4300 block on Laclede avenue. The board had received a letter stating that Labsap had refused to rent them.

Labsap when called on the telephone by a Post-Dispatch reporter last night said that he had rented the apartments, and that he didn't care to say anything further about it. He declined to say how long they had been vacant, or whether he had refused to rent them.

SIMS' LOSS OF LIFE CHARGE AN OUTRAGE, BENSON TESTIFIES

Former Chief of Operations Asserts If Allowed to Stand it Would Be Disgrace to Navy.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Rear Admiral Sims' charge that delays on the part of the Navy Department prolonged the war four months and cost 500,000 lives was characterized today by Admiral W. S. Benson, former Chief of Operations, as an outrage and an injustice to the navy. Continuing his testimony before the Senate Investigating Committe, he said the charge, if allowed to stand, would be "to the everlasting disgrace of the American navy, the first line of defense."

"The safe transport of the American army to France and back," said Benson, "was the most wonderful feat the world war had ever seen or dreamed of and it shortened the war very materially."

"Rear Admiral Sims' complaint is the only one we have heard. From our allies, from the army and from the American people generally we have heard nothing but praise for the navy's part in the war. The calmness with which the people have taken the Sims charges is a tribute to their sense of fair play. The charge is particularly hard on nearly 500,000 young men who volunteered in the navy and went home proud of that service. It is too serious to be allowed to stand."

Benson declared that never had a navy been expanded as rapidly as was that of the United States after this country entered the war. The close of the war found the American navy with more than 500,000 officers and men, more even than there were in the British navy.

WIFE SUES HENRY T. HUNT

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CINCINNATI, May 8.—Henry T. Hunt, former Mayor of Cincinnati, and now member of the Federal Railroad Labor Board, was sued for divorce here today. He is charged with having, in writing, repudiated her and his martial obligations. She further alleges that when she was sufferng from a long and severe illness he refused to see her, though she had asked that he do so. These allegations are embodied in general charges of cruelty and neglect.

Mrs. Hunt is on the way to California to visit relatives. In her suit Mrs. Hunt asks for the custody of the three Hunt children.

CARELESS SHAMPOOING SPOILS THE HAIR

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

POST DENIES HIS SYMPATHIES WERE WITH RADICALS

Assistant Secretary of Labor Testifies He Acted in Accordance With Evidence in Deportations.

OUT OF PATIENCE WITH ANARCHISTS

Declares He Followed Plan That Assured Fair Trial and That Such Safeguards Caused Delays.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Denying that his sympathies were with radican elements rounded up by the Department of Justice, Assistant Secretary of Labor Post declared today that in handling alien deportation cases he had acted solely in accordance with the evidence.

Post, in continuing his testimony before the House Rules Committee as to his conduct in deportation proceedings, said he was actuated always by the single thought of trying to find out whether accused aliens were guilty.

Answering Chairman Campbell's question whether the political convictions of aliens he had freed had appealed to him, Post said:

"I am utterly out of sympathy with the attitude of the physical force or the philosophical Anarchists. For 30 years I have been fighting that." In the deportation cases, Post said he had followed a procedure assuring a fair trial, with counsel for the accused and a full opportunity to be heard. Representative Pou, Democrat, North Carolina, remarked that Post's rules operated to make deportations more difficult, but the witness replied that any rule to protect personal liberty involved exercise of safeguard tending toward delay. At this point Pou, a member of the committee, said that while his views on deportation were different from those of Post, he believed the latter, in making decisions, was actuated by a sense of duty.

Put Through Long Examination.

Post was put through a long cross-examination by Chairman Campbell, in which the witness said he formerly was a Republican, but now was a Democrat; that he regarded the Constitution of the United States as a sacred document, and that he had no scheme of his own for any attempted reorganization of the Government.

Campbell sought to have Post say if "high brow" Anarchists were not as dangerous as those advocating out-and-out violence, but the Assistant Secretary declined to give an "abstract opinion."

Asked why Emma Goldman had addressed him as "our friend," Post said she probably followed the custom of a constituent writing a member of Congress, with whose opinions the member did not agree. Post charged that the House Immigration Committee had garbled the record of the release of accused Communists so as to make it appear that he had acted improperly.

At the conclusion of his testimony Chairman Campbell announced the committee would meet next week to determine on a further course of action.

Post testified that in many cases exorbitant bail was demanded by the Department of Justice to keep aliens locked up and that in reducing the amount of bail he only followed the constitutional prohibition against excessive bond. By placing the amount at $1000 instead of $10,000, he said, the Government was able to obtain the appearance of the aliens when they were wanted.

"Evidently the bail demanded was not to insure the appearance of the accused, but to keep hem locked up," said Post. "I am ready to meet any impeachment charge for reducing bail."

Post Reviews Cases.

He testified that he canceled the deportation warrant against Enrique Flores Magon, a Mexican, because the evidence showed Magon "did not believe in anarchism in any accepted sense of the term," although he admittedly was a "communist anarchist." Post interpreted the evidence to mean that Magon believed in changing a form of Government only by a majority vote.

JOHNSON MANAGER SAYS HOOVER MEN SPENT LARGE SUMS

County amounted to many times our own.

No Answer Yet Made.

"It may interest you to know that neither your Mr. Lucey nor any one else connected with your Los Angeles organization has peeped about campaign expenditures since my challenge was published. I trust this statement is sufficiently convincing, so that you will not again be led into the error of asserting that you had either an amateur organization or an inexpensive one in this State."

Johnson today replied to Hoover's query of yesterday as to the Senator's position on the League of Nations covenant. He said:

"The league presented to the Senate by the President, which Mr. Hoover advocated last year, neither promotes peace nor reduces armament. During Mr. Hoover's advocacy of this league last year, he never mentioned reservations; on the contrary, the tenor of his speeches was in direct opposition to any reservations.

Change of View Charged.

"With his candidacy came his change of heart, and for the first time we find him, when a candidate, never before, favoring reservations. These reservations last year, it was asserted, 'broke the heart of the world,' 'cut the heart out of the covenant,' made us 'scuttle and run,' and the 'slackers of the world.'

"Mr. Hoover from apparent opposition to the reservations now embraces the opportunity to 'break the heart of the world' and 'cut the heart of the covenant.' I have consistently opposed the pact as presented and with the reservations attached. I would welcome, of course, any real attempt to promote peace and prevent war.

"Mr. Hoover last year had one view; this year he has another. As time progresses and various nominations present themselves, we may look for other views as well."

HOOVER AGAIN CALLS ON JOHNSON TO BE SPECIFIC

Declares, in Reply to Senator, League Is Not a Matter of Trivial Personality.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Herbert Hoover tonight issued the following statement in response to Senator Johnson's statement today answering his query in regard to the Senator's stand on the League of Nations covenant:

"Senator Johnson has not answered my questions. Instead he has emitted a smoke screen of personal abuse and quotations which he attributed to me. As a matter of fact, these quotations have come from someone else. I have never made or approved any of them. Perhaps the Senator will correct this misimpression. The Senator apparently does not wish to say 'yes' or 'no' as to whether the 'English league,' as he calls it, is the covenant with the Lodge reservations. Does the Senator wish to leave an imputation on the patriotism of the majority of the Republican Senators or myself?

"The league is not, however, a matter of trivial personalities. It is an issue upon which hangs the moral and economic well-being of the whole world, from which the United States, even if we would, cannot be separated.

"The Senator asks the American people to make him President. He states that he 'has consistently opposed the pact as presented with the reservation attached,' that he 'would welcome any real attempt to promote peace,' and that 'he has never opposed a league to prevent war and reduce armament.' Will the Senator change his expression from 'I have never opposed a league' to 'I will support a league for this purpose,' and will he state what the construction of that league is to be, and where it will differ from the league with the reservations as agreed to by the majority of the Senate?

"The Presidency is an office of constructive leadership. The affairs of the nation cannot be conducted by destructive criticism without alternative proposals. The voters have a right to know what the Senator's constructive alternatives are before pledging their votes.

"The world is drifting further and further into increasing antagonism, increasing armament. We are faced with crushing taxation for increased military establishment. Our economic relations with the world are becoming more and more demoralized because of the delay in settlement of these questions. This demoralization is already manifesting itself in the prices of raw materials from our farms and will soon manifest itself in the employment of our workers.

"Is the Senator prepared to give us a constructive solution of these problems? If so what?"

Johnson Opposes Beveridge as Permanent Chairman.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Former Senator Beveridge of Indiana will not be permanent chairman of the Republican convention at Chicago, if Hiram Johnson can prevent it. It developed today that the Californian does not indorse the tentative selection of Beveridge. All other interested politicians had given their approval to the compromise program under which Senator Lodge would be temporary and Beveridge permanent chairmen.

Senator Johnson insists that he does not oppose Beveridge. He merely desires the naming of Borah for permanent chairman, and believes nobody can fill the place but him.

It is possible that Senators Knox and Brandegee favor Borah.

RESIDENCE ON WESTMINSTER OFFERED FOR SALE TO NEGROES

House Occupied by Mrs. Dorothy Woods Has Been Kept Under Police Surveillance.

The residence of Mrs. Dorothy Woods, 4206 Westminster place, over which police surveillance has been maintained since early in March, when neighbors vainly endeavored to induce her to move, has been advertised for sale to negroes, with the privilege of "immediate possession."

The block is occupied by white families, including those of former Circuit Judge Thomas L. Anderson, Ellis W. Cook and H. McK. Wilson, many of whom own their own homes. Several of the neighbors complained that automobiles stopped in front of Mrs. Wood's residence at all hours of the day and night, and she was fined $100 and costs in Police Court. A woman living with her also was fined $50.

Efforts were then made to induce her to move, but she refused. A police guard was then set on the house, a patrolman on each shift keeping watch. This guard is still being maintained.

'SHINERS' THREATEN WALKOUT, PRICE OF SHINES ADVANCES

DEBS LIKELY TO HEAD SOCIALIST TICKET 5TH TIME

Party Leaders Plan to Announce Chief Now in Prison as "Our One Candidate" for President.

POLICIES TO BE OUTLINED TODAY

Mrs. O'Hare of St. Louis Mentioned for Vice President—Convention Cheers Attack on Wilson Administration.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Eugene V. Debs, now serving 10 years in the Atlanta (Ga.) penitentiary for violation of the war-time espionage laws, will be formally launched here tomorrow into the 1920 national political campaign as a candidate for the fifth time for the Socialist presidential nomination.

Leaders of the Socalist party at the convention here were sponsors for this statement tonight, adding that Morris Hillquit, temporary convention chairman, probably would announce Debs as "our one candidate" in his second convention speech of a "keynote" nature to be delivered at a Socialist mass meeting in Madison Square Garden.

Tomorrow's garden meeting is regarded as the "most important ever held" by the Socialist party of America, according to executive committeemen. The utterances there, they said tonight, "will in large measure lay the lines for the coming campaign."

"Hillquit, Seymour Steadman of Chicago, Victor Berger, unseated United States Representative from Milwaukee, and Oscar Ameringer of Oklahoma City, are scheduled to pronounce orthodox party views on leading political topics. These are expected to include amnesty for political prisoners, the Government's attitude toward strikers, free speech, free press and free assemblage, taxation, socialization of basic industries, Attorney-General Palmer's "campaign of repression," deportations, war profits and profiteering, the League of Nations, importance of Ireland and self-determination for small nationalities.

Attack on Wilson Cheered.

Today the convention cheered Hillquit's arraignment of the administration at Washington as a betrayer of radical principles which President Wilson was said to have campaigned for prior to the 1916 election, at which time, Hillquit declared, Socialist votes elected him.

In the first "keynote" address of the sessions Hillquit predicted that the Socialist party ticket would roll up more than 2,000,000 votes in November, and probably triple its membership before the year ends.

The convention opened with the singing of the "Internationale," the "Marseillaise" and the hymn of free Russia. The unveiling of a life-size portrait of Debs, framed in black, brought an ovation, and the chairman was instructed by unanimous vote to telegraph him the convention's "love and pride" for him.

Prime Minister Theodore of Queensland, Australia, addressed the convention briefly, and William Z. Foster, leader of the steel strike, also took the platform at the convention's invitation. Both were cheered, and Foster received an ovation when he appealed for a solidarity of labor forces throughout the country.

"When we have the next big strike," he said, "I want to see the steel workers, the mine workers, the railroad men, every trade, in it."

Routine occupied most of the convention's time today. Adoption of rules and election of committees consumed the entire afternoon. The convention went on record in favor of the six-hour work day for labor when it voted to confine its day sessions hereafter from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Hillquit's Address.

Hillquit, in his address today assailed the Wilson administration vehemently.

"If there remained any large sections of workers who put their trust in old party Messiahs," he said, "Woodrow Wilson must have effectively destroyed their naive faith. for, be it remembered that in 1916, Woodrow Wilson ran as a radical. "He promised Socialism through the short cut of the Democratic party and thousands of radicals throughout the country voted for him, rather than to throw away their votes on the hopeless candidates of the Socialist party."

"One half of the normal supporters of the Socialist party ticket cast their votes for him. Woodrow Wilson was elected over Charles E. Hughes by the vote of Socialists. In California alone the defection in the normal Socialist vote determined his victory in the Presidential contest.

"Wilson's administration in the last three years has furnished the most striking and abhorrent proof of the fallacy of the 'good man' theory in politics.

"Wilson, the pacifist, drew us into the world's most frightful war. Wilson, the anti-militarist, imposed conscription upon the country in war, and urged universal military training, a large standing army, and a huge navy in peace. Wilson, the Democrat, arrogated to himself autocratic power, grossly inconsistent with a republican form of Government. Wilson, the Liberal, revived the medieval institutions of the inquisition of speech, thought and conscience. His administration suppressed radical publications, raided homes and meeting places of its political opponents. Destroyed their property and assaulted their persons. Wilson, the apostle of the 'new freedom,' infested the country with stoolpigeons and spies, and filled the jails with political prisoners. Wilson, the champion of labor, restored involuntary servitude in the mines and on the railroads, and answered the wage demands of the workers by jailing their leaders.

"Reign in Moral Terrorism."

"Wilson, the Idealist and Humanitarian, has inaugurated a reign of intellectual obscurantism, moral terrorism and political reaction the like of which this country had never before known. The morbid national psychology which he has helped to create has produced such atavistic political types as Palmer, Burleson, Sweet and Lusk. It has advanced to places of honor political mountebanks like Ole Hanson, but has put into prison stripes the noblest and truest types of American manhood, persons like Eugene V. Debs, and many of his less conspicuous fellow prisoners. The pitiful collapse of Wilson's liberalist was nothing accidental.

"Wilson was probably inspired by the best of intentions when he ran for re-election. But he did not voice the sentiments, convictions or interests of the class he represented or the political party to which he owed allegiance. When the great crisis came and he was forced to choose between the people and the party to whom he belonged and the workers, for whom he professed a platonic affection, he rallied to his class and party interests.

Federation Leaders "Narrow."

"Nor was Wilson's fall purely personal. With few notable exceptions the entire structure of middle class and capitalist liberalism tumbled with him, never to rise again.

"Today there is not, throughout the length and breadth of the United States, a single Liberal or radical political group of any importance outside of the organized Socialist movement. The attempt of some advanced organized workers to form an independent political party of labor on a national scale has, so far, foundered upon the rocks of conservatism and narrowness of the American Federation leadership, and the efforts to create a progressive middle class party have met with little response."

Hillquit, elected chairman for the day, declared that the political conditions for the task of Socialist revolution had been created and that "this time it will be not merely the vague and abstract spirit of so-called Socialism, but the definite and organized socialism of the Socialist party, which will lead the light of the workers."

Hillquit concluded:

"Today it is becoming increasingly clearer that if the treaty of peace is not written all over, the war will have to be fought all over, unless the world-wide triumph of socialism overtakes both the treaty and the wars."

Formulation of the party's platform, in which there is exceptionally keen interest this year, will be begun next week.

Mentioned for Vice President.

The names most promiently mentioned for the nomination for Vice President are those of Seymour Stedman of Chicago, general counsel of the party; Scott Nearing, former professor of economics at the Universities of Pennsylvania and Toledo, and Mrs. Kate Richards O'Hare of St. Louis, who, like Debs, is serving a term for violation of the espionage act. She is confined at the State prison at Jefferson City.

Fund for Jewish Relief Work Passes $250,000

Chairman Frank of Campaign Committee Issues Appeal to Both Jews and Non-Jews to Hasten Subscriptions.

Though no report of team captains was had yesterday, subscriptions in the mail sent the fund in St. Louis for the relief of war sufferers of Eastern Europe past the $250 000 mark. The final report of the team captains will be made Tuesday at a luncheon in the Missouri Athletic Association.

Former Congressman Nathan Frank, chairman of the campaign, yesterday issued a final appeal to Jews and non-Jews to give. He said:

"This fund is to relieve the greatest need the world has ever known. One hundred children die of hunger in Central and Eastern Europe every day.

"Millions upon millions of men, women and children are without food, and as a result are dying of starvation and disease. Of these nearly one million are orphans in no way responsible for the war, but are innocent victims of peace. These people are not beggars. Many of them have money, but money does not buy food when there is no food.

"Mr. Davison, head of the American Red Cross during the war recently stated, 'Anyone familiar with conditions throughout Central and Eastern Europe, and also familiar with organization and relief work done by the Joint Distribution Committee should welcome an opportunity to assist that committee in the interests of suffering humanity, the importance of which seems to be greater today than during the period of war.'

"Now I appeal to the people of St. Louis, Jews and non-Jews alike, not to wait for the appeal of someone soliciting in person, but to respond by sending a check made payable to the treasurer, Aaron Waldheim, so that you may in the future say to your children when they want to know what you have done to alleviate the tragic suffering of millions that you did your part. If you cannot say this how will it be possible for you to enjoy the comforts and happiness of your homes?"

DOCTOR SURPRISES SELF BY CONVERTING HEN INTO ROOSTER

Northwestern U. Teacher Says He Expects Result of Experiment Also Surprised the Hen.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 8.—The experiments of Dr. Victor D. Pespinasse of the Northwestern University in tinkering with the sex of the common hen, and his demonstrations before medical experts, has aroused interest of chicken growers.

"It was a simple enough operation," explained Dr. Lespinasse today. "Just the transplanting of the interstital glands of a rooster to a hen. But the result was surprising and perhaps no one was more surprised than the hen herself. Within a few weeks she began to develop all the characteristics of a chanticleer.

"She grew a comb and wattles. Saddle feathers appeared next, and, finally, a pair of spurs. She took to strutting pompously about the barnyard, lording it over the other fowls.

"Instead of cackling, our near rooster would essay a feeble kee-a-kee. A full-sized he-crow is about the only thing that's lacking to complete her—or, I might say, his—roosterhood."

The he-hen is now on a farm in the suburbs of Chicago.

In further experiments with animals, Dr. Lespinasse succeeded recently in producing "Siamese twin" dogs. These didn't live long, but were perfect specimens.

OFFICER DIED A CAPTAIN, U. S. NOW DENIES RANK

Lieut. C. W. Schnelle, Promoted Sept. 18, Killed Before He Formally Accepted Grade.

Word has been received from the War Department of its refusal to officially place the name of the late First Lieutenant Clarence W. Schnelle on the records as a Captain. Schnelle was in command of E Company, One Hundred Thirty-Eighth Infantry, at the time he was mortally wounded in France. He died Oct. 1, 1918. On Sept. 18 preceding he had been promoted to a captaincy by special order on recommendation of his regimental commander, Col. George P. White, but because of lack of opportunity he did not formally accept the appointment. Eight months after his death a letter addressed to him was received by St. Louis relatives calling attention to the fact that he had not yet given formal acceptance and calling upon him to do so. The department was then notified that the officer was dead and although it then forwarded his Captain's commission to his mother, Mrs. Emily Schnelle, 3128 Allen avenue, it now declines to recognize him on the records by this grade.

Correspondence in the matter was conducted by Schnelle's brother-in-law, former Circuit Judge Leo S. Rassieur. He offered proof that Lieut. Schnelle had been acting as Captain and knew he was to be promoted. This was shown by an extract from a letter written by him to members of his family under date of August 11, 1918, as follows: "Leave tomorrow for the trenches again. This time as commander of E Company. My name goes forward tomorrow to general headquarters for promotion to captaincy, so I suppose I will get it within the next few weeks. Had a chance to return home last week on a detail, with increased rank, to help instruct the new draft army, but could not see it. I would rather get my captaincy over here in active service."

Extracts from other letters of a similar nature also were given; also a letter from Col. White telling of the promotion. The Colonel stated: "He should be considered a captain from Sept. 18, 1918, as he was performing the duties as such and only the exigencies of the service prevented technical acceptance of the appointment."

The request that the records be corrected was not made for mercenary motives, but solely for sentimental reasons, the department was told. It was desired that his grave in the American and French Military Cemetery at Fredois, Meuse, be marked showing that he died a captain.

In rejecting the application the War Department said: "It does not appear in the records that Lieut. Schnelle assumed the duties of captain by virtue of any notice of an appointment to that grade. Notification did not reach him or his command until after his death. Therefore, there is not even a constructive acceptance. So far as the marking of his grave is concerned it is immaterial. It is not thought, however, that his family would want his headstone to show an incorrect status. His recognition as a captain would also carry pay of the higher grade."

Before entering the service, Lieut. Schnelle was a lawyer.

MORE LUXURY TAXES FROM ICE CREAM THAN DIAMONDS

Revenue Statements Indicates $100,000,000 a Month Spent for Nonessentials in Manhattan.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 8.—More than $100,000,000 a month is being spent for luxuries in Manhattan, according to a statement issued today by William H. Edward, Collector of Internal Revenue. He based this estimate on the steady increase in the receipts from luxury taxes, declaring that what is generally termed the "orgy of spending" has not exhausted itself.

"My accounts show," he said, "that there is more money collected in taxes from ice cream sodas and other small sales which carry a penny or two tax, than there is from the sale of diamonds, furs, touring cars and other expensive items. There was a big tax paid by druggists on expensive perfumes and cosmetics.

"A king's ransom was spent for candy in February," Edwards reported.

WATCHMAN ENDS HIS LIFE WHEN WIFE FAILS TO MEET HIM

Inhales Gas After Telling in Letter of Purpose to Kill Self if She Did Not Keep Appointment.

Claude Williams, 30 years old, a private watchman, killed himself by turning on the gas in a heating stove and laying his head near the burner in his room at 28 South Spring avenue yesterday when his wife, Mrs. Edna Williams, from whom he was separated, failed to keep an appointment with him Friday night, as indicated by letters he wrote before turning on the gas. He was dead when other roomers in the house broke into the room, attracted by the gas odor.

In the room the police found several letters and a notebook. One of the letters addressed to Mrs. Edna Williams, "Somewhere in St. Louis." Another was addressed to Mrs. Tampa Williams, Farmington, Mo. All were sealed and stamped and were turned over to the Coroner. In the notebook was a letter written by Williams which read in part:

"May 7.—Well, Edna, dear: I have waited till 10 o'clock and you have not come yet and you know what I told you. If you didn't come tonight it would be too late, so, Edna, dear, I am as good as my word."

$477,752 CLAIMS AGAINST MERAMEC TRUST CO. APPROVED

Five Others Totaling $32,875 Rejected as Preferred Claims by Court.

Claims against the Meramec Trust Co., 3224 Meramec street, which was closed by the State Bank Examiners Oct. 6 last, as listed in a report filed in the Circuit Court by Eugene H. Benoist, Deputy Bank Commissioner, in charge of the affairs of the bank, were approved yesterday by Judge Calhoun.

The claims were listed as follows: Individual deposits, $189,920.83; savings deposits, $200,242.20; time certificates, $54,917.19; cashier's checks unpaid, $3,265.61; claims due depositors over amounts depositors owe the company, $6,127.17; claims due the company after offsetting deposit claims, $9,240.18; general preferred claims, $4,211.31; Liberty Bond claims, $5,521.70, and amount due Victory Loan Association, $4306.

All of the above claims have been allowed as preferred claims, according to the report. Five claims, which had been presented as preferred claims, have been rejected as such for the time being, according the report, the Deputy Bank Commissioner stating that he desired further time to determine on what basis they are to be adjusted. Their amounts total $32,875.75, of which $25,766.75 represent claims by the Night and Day Bank on overdrafts by the Meramec Trust Co. These claims will be finally passed on in June.

DANDRUFFY HEADS BECOME HAIRLESS

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need to matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

3 WOMEN AND 26 MEN, HELD AS ROBBER SUSPECTS, RELEASED

Employes at East St. Louis Bank Fail to Identify Them—Body of Slain Man Claimed.

Three women and 26 men, arrested for questioning following the attempt to rob the Drovers' National Bank at the National Stockyards, East St. Louis, Friday, were released last night, after officers and employes of the bank had looked at them and said that none resembeld any of the men who attempted the robbery.

The search for four men named by Frank Faintick, a prisoner, who confessed participation in the attempt yesterday, is being continued. Two other men known to have been associates of Faintick have not been at their homes since the robbery attempt and are being sought.

A brother of James Haywood, killed in a revolver fight with National City police following the raid on the bank, claimed Haywood's body yesterday and aided by contributions from associates of the man will give it formal burial tomorrow.

POLICEWOMEN PERFORMED 14,702 DUTIES DURING YEAR

Report to Police Board Classed as Showing Their Increased Usefulness to the Department.

Policewomen, used as an auxiliary to the detectives' bureau, among 14,702 duties performed in the year ending March 1, visited 2549 stores, 890 railroad stations, 102 picture shows, 20 dance halls and four cafes, according to the annual report of the head of that division, Sergt. John Brandenburger, submitted to the Police Board yesterday.

The report is classed by the board as showing an "increased usefulness" to the department of the policewomen.

The policewomen, the report shows, made 1225 arrests and performed 9912 miscellaneous duties besides the ones mentioned, and recovered stolen property to the value of $2416.38 during the year.

Of those arrested, 631 were convicted and 199 discharged, 28 cases are pending and 367 persons were released for various reasons.

The previous year the duties performed by the policewomen numbered 9046, making the increase this year 5656.

SEVERAL PASTORS TO SPEAK TODAY ON BOND ELECTION

Playground Children and Boy Scouts Parade in Behalf of Proposed Issue, to Be Voted on Tuesday.

MAKE PLEA FOR MORE RECREATION PLACES

City's Need of Improvements for Which $24,000,000 Would Go Emphasized by W. F. Carter and Others.

This is Bond Issue Sunday, when ministers are asked to refer, from the pulpit, to the municipal bond issue election of Tuesday, in which 18 proposals for municipal improvement, aggregating $24,000,000, will be voted upon. A number of ministers have promised the Citizens' Bond Issue Committee that they will speak of the bonds.

A downtown parade was held at noon yesterday, by playground children and Boy Scouts, in behalf of the entire bond issue, but with especial reference to items 2 and 3, which are:

Purchases of new parks and playgrounds, $1,385,500; improvement and permanent new equipment of existing parks and playgrounds, $1,174,500.

Playground Floats in Parade.

Floats depicting playground scenes formed part of the parade, which was 12 minutes in passing. Ten grade schools were represented by drum corps. The starting point was the City Hall, and the parade went over Twelfth street, Washington avenue, Broadway, Olive and Twelfth streets back to the starting point. Mayor Kiel and John Schmoll, director of public welfare, were in the line in an automobile. Municipal athletics was represented by boys and girls in baseball and gymnasium costumes.

Scattered through the line were signs stating to citizens the appeal of the city's children for out-of-door places in which to play and grow healthy in body. Among the signs were the following:

Fill the Parks and Keep the Jails Empty.

We Are Little, but WE Are Mighty.

Merry Children Make Merry Men.

Children, Children Everywhere, but Not a Place to Play.

Play the Game Hard, but Fair and in Defeat Be a Good Loser.

Give Us Facilities to Enroll Every Girl in St. Louis.

Playgrounds Grow Sound Minds and Sound Bodies.

Growth in Body and Mind Makes a Complete Man.

Good Citizenship Is the Aim of Good Government.

There were other signs admonishing voters to scratch "No" eighteen times and to remember that the day on which all the good set forth can be accomplished is next Tuesday.

Indorsements of the bond issue, by a number of leading St. Louisans, were made public yesterday by the Citizens' Bond Issue Committee.

W. F. Carter's Indorsement.

W. Frank Carter, president of the Chamber of Commerce, indorsed the entire bond issue, but dwelt particularly on the value of the River des Peres improvement, the free bridge approach, and the municipal dock and rail terminals. These three items, which are numbers 6, 9 and 10, are inter-related. Carter says of them:

"Two results of prime importance will be realized by the River des Peres plan. First; to open up a large acreage (approximately 2000 acres) of badly needed industrial property with adequate railroad facilities, connections and team tracks, and second, to complete the railway belting of the city, thus diverting to a new outer route the interchange of a tremendous through freight traffic that now is forced through the congested Mill Creek valley.

"The municipal bridge is St. Louis' biggest single rail transportation asset, if utilized. It will never function until suitable approaches for the use of railway freight trains are provided. Item nine provides for $1,500,000 to equip the west end of this magnificent transportation artery for practical use, by connecting it with the River des Peres and waterfront railway lines, comprising a total of 25 miles of railway, and the river docks, all municipally owned.

"Without the docks St. Louis can neither take her proper place as a focal point in the rehabilitation of inland waterway transportation, nor provide facilities for the essental interchange of commerce between rail and river lines."

Des Peres as Health Menace.

Dr. C. E. Burford, president of the St. Louis Medical Society, indorses the River des Peres plan on grounds of public health. He says the stream, as an open sewer, makes the spread of epidemics a grave possibility, particularly at times when it overflows its banks. "Every child who plays on its banks," Dr. Burford says, "is carrying away germs on his hands and clothing that may infect him or some member of his family. Every dog, rat or mouse or other animal or insect which may crawl through the mud of this open sewer becomes a disease carrier, and to carry the reasoning but a step further every automobile tire which picks up the mud or the dust from this infected region may transfer typhoid or other organisms first to the hand and later to the mouth of the man who mends the puncture."

CARMEN TO ASK FOR ARBITRATION OF WAGE DEMANDS

Union Committee Decides Upon Action After Considering Wells' Request to Defer Matter.

The executive committee of Division 788, Street Car Men's Union, will recommend at the meeting of car men Monday that Receiver Wells, of the United Railways Co., be asked to submit their demands for wages to arbitration. This decision was reached after the committee met last night and considered the request of Wells that the men defer their demands indefinitely.

"We recommended that the division again notify the receiver of its desire to have the demands and disputes submitted to arbitration as prescribed in the contract now in existence between the employes and the organization," said Frank O'Shea, international vice president of the union, "and if the receiver finds himself unable to comply with the provisions of the contract that he further agree, as in 1919, to submit the demands and disputes to the State Public Service Commission to act as a board of arbitration."

The question will be presented by the executive committee to the night shift at 9 a. m., Monday, in their union hall, Twenty-third and Olive streets, and to the day force at 8 p. m.

The men are demanding a wage scale of 75 cents an hour for the first three months, 80 cents the next nine months and 85 cents after the first year. The present scale is 50 cents for the first year, 55 cents the second year and 60 cents thereafter.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS EXPENSES UP TO JULY 1, $1,250,000

Total Represents Direct and Indirect Outlay During Organization Period.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The expenses of the League of Nations up to July 1 will total approximately $1,250,000. The figures will be presented to the league council at its Rome meeting. They include both direct and indirect expenditures, the latter covering preliminary costs of numerous commissions and other bodies, and the total represents the complete organization period of the league machinery.

Salaries represent the heaviest items in direct expenditures, totaling $485,000, while the international labor office, at $290,000, ranks first among indirect costs, with the commission of inquiry to Russia second at $105,000. Included in the labor office expenditure is the league's share of the expenses of the Washington labor conference.

CHILDREN OF 14 NATIONALITIES TAKE PART IN MAY FESTIVAL

2000 Witness Performance in Lami Street—Speeches Followed by Folk Dancing.

An International May Festival, in which the children of 14 nationalities participated, was enacted last night on Lami street, between Broadway and Third, by the Women's and Girls' clubs of the International Institute, 2338 South Broadway, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. Lami street, which was closed for the occasion, was elaborately decorated with flags of different nations, and it was estimated that more than 2000 persons witnessed the performance.

Immigration Commissioner Dunn opened the festival with an address on Americanization. Harry ter Braak, secretary of the industrial department of the Y. M. C. A., spoke on the "Foreigners' Place in American Industry."

The speeches were followed by a Spanish dance, a Polish dance, a May pole dance and Italian songs. A tableau, presented by the East St. Louis International Institute, representing America extending a hand of welcome to oppressed foreigners, concluded the program. Music was furnished throughout the evening by the Ukrainian band, and at the conclusion of the program the street was given over to dancing and free lemonade was served.

DU PONT INTERESTS SOUGHT HELP OF WOOD ON BILL

Special Messenger Sent to Ask Him to Get Senator Moses to Change Position.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood today admitted that the Du Pont dye interests, in their efforts to pull Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire out of the fight to amend the dyestuffs bill, now pending in Congress, sent a special messenger to him in Cincinnati, with a request that he advise Moses to change his position.

"I told the man," said Gen. Wood, "that I was not interfering in any matter pending before Congress, and that I would not attempt to tell Senator Moses what he should or should not do."

The Du Ponts were charged in the Senate today with arranging with the Levinstein interests of Manchester, the largest makers of British dyes, for a world-wide monopoly.

BRYAN GETS 11 DELEGATES

LINCOLN, Neb., May 8.—Official election returns in Nebraska's recent primary compiled at the Secretary of State's office tonight showed that of the 16 delegates elected to the Democratic national convention, 11 were those who were nominated by the organization supporting W. J. Bryan for delegate-at-large.. Previous returns had indicated that but 10 Bryan delegates had been chosen. The others were nominated by the organization supporting United States Senator Hitchcock for the Democratic presidential indorsement. Bryan himself was named a delegate-at-large, the returns showing that he ran third in an eight-man contest, with four to be elected.

Senator Johnson's plurality over Major-General Wood for the Republican presidential preference was 20,776. The vote was Johnson, 63,161, Wood, 42,385; Pershing, 27,668.

NATIVE NEGRO HUMOR AS SEEN BY EVANGELISTS

Visiting A. M. E. Clergyman Relates Some of His Observations.

AMONG the serious-minded clergymen gathered in St. Louis for a 15-day general conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church are some who, in their contact with the American negro, particularly in the South, have appraised his native humor and can illustrate it somewhat differently than do the topical magazines and papers of the day.

One of these is the Rev. J. G. Robinson, who says that he wore nothing but a slip with holes in two corners until he was 13 years old and who declares that, since, he has been received in the White House by four Presidents of the United States. He is an evangelist and his experiences and observations at negro camp meetings help give understanding of why every such meeting is a tumult of emotionalism.

"The negro, who has not got onto carpets in the North, the more primitive negro of Arkansas and Mississippi, cannot be convinced that any sinner can be saved without some outward show that a transformation has taken place," he said. "This accounts for much of the weeping and much of the shouting at a negro meeting. To some, it is passing emotionalism, but to many, like my mother, the getting of religion is an event, the memory of which is never erased.

"My mother—a good woman—had 14 children. She reared seven of us. Seven of her children died. She went to church regularly, but it was not until I reached years of memory that she 'got religion.'

"Doomed," According to Mother.

"She arose one night in her pew and announced that she had had a vision. 'I was led down to the river,' she said, 'and placed in a boat. I crossed to the other side and there invisible hands lifted me to a plain where there was a tree under which I seated myself. Seven lambs as white as snow gathered about me and a voice said to me, "Behold your children which have come unto me." I knew then that the lambs were my seven dead children, but over behind a fence I saw seven other lambs and they were all black. I knew without the Lord telling me that they were my children who were alive and I knew that they were doomed.'

"My mother pronounced that word 'doomed' like the toll of fate," the Rev. Mr. Robinson continued. "I had been sitting in the rear, my feet a pattering in rythm as I chanted 'Lord have mercy, Lord, have mercy,' in the fashion I had learn from my elders. When my mother let fall that word 'doomed' I was scared out of my wits. I shudder when I hear the word even now. The natural thing it seemed for me to do when the call to the mourners' bench came was to go forward. As I started to rise the heavy hand of my uncle who had been sitting next to me fell on my shoulder and as he jerked me back, he shouted in my ear:

" 'Ain't you heard yuh mothah say yuh is doomed? What yuh gwine to do—try to make yuh mothah a liar right 'fore this hol' church?'

Tells of Getting Religion.

"I remained 'doomed' for years to come. My escape came in this fashion. I was known as a church-going young buck, but I never had been seen to get religion. One day a visiting preacher came to our church and in the beginning of his sermon he told of Jesus Christ coming to earth to find those who were lost. 'Though you be doomed,' the preacher added, 'he will find you.'

" 'To find those who are lost, even the doomed,' I repeated, and like a flash it came to me. I went out into the woods and hid under a fallen tree. There was search for me for hours. When they found me, I told of the preacher's message and my salvation was hailed as complete."

Another of his illustrations of the persistence of a notion once implanted was the following:

"My early days of preaching were in a primitive settlement in Arkansas. In my congregation was a man of 70, who was a consistent prayer. He had helped to raise our church with his own hands and accepted as his just due Sunday after Sunday, the privilege of praying the longest prayer of the service.

"Invariably his appeal began: 'Oh, Lawd, dis mawnin,' dis evenin,' tonight, Our Fa-thu—' and at intervals this cadence would rise and fall with increasing vehemence. Whatever the hour of service, his form never faltered. One day I asked him why he did not differentiate between the time of day in his prayers.

"His scorn was deep. 'Bud,' he said, 'youse powerful young and unedified. De ol' Marster done tol' me when I was scurce a know-nothin' as you that God am watchin' the Chinee just as the colored folk. An' doan I know what the jografy of the young misses said? When it's day here, it's night on the Chinee and when it's night here it's day over in Jerusalem. When ah pray, ah call on God at all times of day, so ef ah doan cotch him one place, ah cotch him nuther.'

Old Courtship Forms.

"It is not known," the Rev. Mr. Robinson continued, "but the rhyming rigmaroles often heard in minstrel shows are relics of courtship forms now rarely found in any but the most out-of-the-way places. The comely negro 'gal' of the plantation bestowed her best smiles on the young negro whose eloquence in proposin greached the greatest ardor. It was not, as now, the young man with the best assortment of worldly goods. Nor did personal good looks carry the weight of a burning declaration of love. Consequently each upgrowing negro boy sought, at proper age, from his youthful elders, instruction in the art of love-making. Schools in courtship were conducted earnestly apart for un-understanding grown-ups. I recall a form regarded as particularly efficacious; especially when delivery was with the proper singing cadence: It ran:

"Mam: it is with much eliberation and inconsideration that I have a great determination to become one of your relation for I cannot longer restrain the expression of feeling I feel toward you. It is my dearest hope that you got some feeling too and I want to know if this reciprocation runs from you back toward me. For the rivers are wide and the sea is deep and in your arms I long to be as long as you and I can agree. Mam?"

"I was preaching once up in Detroit when the playing of cards and dancing was viewed less in the light of tolerance than is coming to the Methodist church, now, both negro and white.

"I had announced my 'message' and after some lengthy preparation was reaching my best pitch, when an old woman in the very first row rose and completely destroyed the spell. She rapped the pew with a cane she carried and shouted:

" 'Bud, you ain't got no message, you's got a telegram.' "

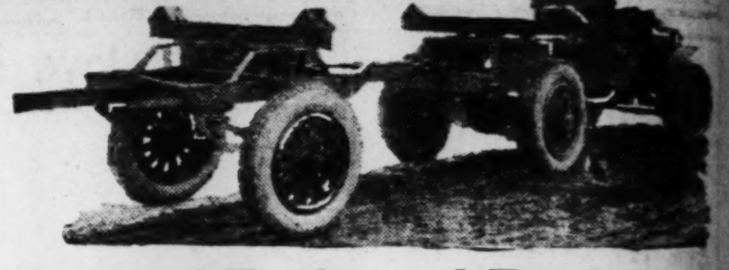
A medal commemorating his completion of 50 years of membership was given to August Gisler, 2615 Market street, and diplomas for 26 years of membership were given to Alvin E. Kindervater, superintendent of physical education in the public schools; William W. Bellison, F. Robert Gallo, Fritz Boeke and Frank Hetlage. Mayor Kiel spoke.



Fruehauf Trailer and Truck Unit With Self-Loading Equipment

The operator of trucks cannot always choose his loads, nor can he always find the best of roadways over which to travel.

Fruehauf Trailers Prove Their Greatest Value in Times of Emergency

They carry loads of 6 to 10 tons—machinery, structural iron, boilers, timbers—that trucks alone could not carry. The power winch on the tractor makes quick loading possible with the minimum amount of labor.

The Freuhauf Trailer and Truck make a six-wheel unit that distributes the load and is easier to handle than the single, long wheel-base truck.

Equipped with giant pneumatic tires, when desired, the trailer will carry heavy loads in safety over any roadway that the tractor can travel.

Fruehauf Semi-Trailers and Four-Wheel Trailers have proved their economy and greater haulage efficiency in every kind of business.

Let us show you their adaptability to your special needs.

The Tire That Saves Trucks

IT'S much cheaper to punish tires than trucks. True economy consists in cushioning your trucks so well that they won't have to be repaired and replaced so often.

You may occasionally get more mileage out of a solid tire than from The General Cord Pneumatic Truck Tire—but if you do, you won't get near as great mileage out of your trucks—and we maintain that the cost of new trucks is so great compared to the cost of the best tire that no penny-wise and pound-foolish policy should keep you from protecting your trucks with The General Pneumatic Cord Tire.

You need it to make your trucks wear longer—to save gas—increase speed—and to protect loads and roads. Think it over the next time you buy truck tires.

COUNTY PHYSICIAN OFFERS $6179 BILL FOR 82 DAYS' WORK

Dr. G. C. Eggers' Fees as Deputy From Feb. 2 to April 23 Astonish Other Officials.

Fees averaging $75.35 a day for a period of 82 days, were claimed by Dr. G. C. Eggers, Deputy State Health Commissioner, Deputy State County, in a bill for services which he presented to the County Court at Clayton yesterday. The total bill, covering the period between Feb. 2 and April 23 amounts to $6179.25.

County officials, astonished at the size of the bill, calculated that if Dr. Eggers' claims for the entire year are paid at the same rate, he will receive a total of $27,578.10 for the year, making his office the richest, by far, in the State. The Governor's salary is $5000 a year. The Mayor of St. Louis gets $10,000.

In addition, it was pointed out, this does not represent Dr. Eggers' total income. He maintains a large private practice aside from his official duties. His wife, Mrs. Florence Eggers, also is an active practicing physician, having offices with her husband.

Appointed by County Board.

The office of Deputy State Health Commissioner was created by the last Legislature, which abolished the office of County Health Commissioner, which Dr. Eggers formerly held. The change was simply in the title and in the rate of compensation, the duties being virtually the same. The incumbent is appointed by the County Court, and paid by the county.

Following the act of the Legislature, the County Court was in doubt in the matter of fixing the rate of pay. Dr. Eggers previously had been on a fee basis, but he protested to the Court that the office, on that scale, had not been remunerative. As a matter of fact, the records show that in 1918 he received in fees from the county a total of $9188.75. During seven months of 1919, up to the abolition of the office, he received $2381.50, and also presented a bill for an additional $1448.75 for the remainder of the year, which the Court refused to pay. Whereupon he filed suit to collect it. The suit is still pending.

After listening to his representations, the County Court fixed, as the rate of pay for the office, $5 for each mile traveled in visiting cases and making investigations, and $8 additional for each trip of more than eight miles. Upon this basis, Dr. Eggers yesterday filed his claims.

Regards Bill Reasonable.

He said to a Post-Dispatch reporter, who saw him after the filing of the claim, that the large number of influenza and measles cases accounted for the size of the bill. He was positive that it would not continue at that rate for the remainder of the year. He regarded the bill as reasonable.

Perusal of the itemized claim showed that although Dr. Eggers visited several cases on one trip on various occasions, he charged the full amount for each case. For example, on Feb. 5, three days after he took the new office, he made a trip to Valley Park, there visiting five cases of influenza, for which he charges $8 each, a total of $40. He also stopped at Manchester, which is on the same road, and there visited two cases, for which he asks $16 more. On the same day, he lists a call on a case at Barrett's Station, about three miles off the road to Manchester, and asks an additional $8 for that one.

But this was not all. For the same day, he lists calls on 11 patients in Wellston at $5 each. All in all, it was a busy day with the doctor. His total bill, including other calls not enumerated here, amounted to $469 for that one day's work.

Court to Change Fees.

On April 20 he called on eight cases of measles at Eureka, fumigated a house at Allentown, three miles west of Eureka, and inspected a school house at Dozier, for which he asks a total of $80. All these towns are on good roads.

Members of the court said today, after inspecting Dr. Eggers claim, that they would have to change the rate of payment. They are now considering placing the office on a flat salary, and, in that connection, called attention to the salary of $2500 a year, with $900 allowance for office help, which is paid in Jasper County.

HEARING OF STRIKING YARDMEN AGAIN REFUSED BY RAILBOARD

Eubank Says Organizations Probably Will Renew Request After Board Removes to Chicago.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—For the second time, the Railroad Labor Board refused this afternoon to grant a hearing to representatives of the striking yardmen in St. Louis and other cities. The strike in St. Louis began one month ago today.

The attention of the petitioners was again called to the first ruling of the board, the practical effect of which is to deny the board's good offices to employes who are on strike.

James S. Eubank, president of the St. Louis Yardmen's Association, who has been here for several days awaiting the decision of the board, said tonight that the several yardmen's organizations probably would renew their request after the board establishes its permanent headquarters in Chicago, May 17. Until that time the board will hold executive sessions in Washington, to examine the mass of matter which has been presented by regular railroad unions.

Which Car Is Yours?

As you edge along in crowded city traffic how does your car compare with its momentary neighbors? Is it bright, glistening, new looking, or dull, shabby and worn—showing only too plainly a season or more of wear and tear?

Right now get out of the "has been," "once was" class. A shabby car reflects personality, just as unpressed clothing or soiled linen denotes a lack of taste and refinement.

Look on the Bond Issue
As an Investment in the City's Future

Money voted for public improvements should be looked upon as an investment in the city's future.

It is a business proposition. The investment should be expected to yield dividends in many forms.

A city is a business institution—carrying on the business of living, which means the enjoyment of prosperity, health and social advantages.

Better streets, better parks, better drainage, better care of the unfortunate, better shipping facilities, better fire protection, better lighting, and a host of other advantages will make St. Louis a better home for you.

To the tax-payer looking at the city's future from a dollars-and-cents point of view, these advantages will appeal as increased property values, better opportunities for investment, greater industrial activity and a stronger demand for St. Louis goods both at home and outside.

The General Motors Corporation has shown its confidence in the city's future by investments of millions of dollars for buildings and equipment, and will bear its share of repayment.

It would be good business, if there were no other considerations, for us to endorse the bond issue and recommend it to the voters of St. Louis.

Look ahead and help make St. Louis the great mid-western metropolis it is destined to be.

Vote for the bond issue with faith in the glowing future.

Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50 Per Cent in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist, and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by all good druggists, including the Enderle, Johnson Bros., Pauley, Judge & Dolph and Wolff-Wilson stores.

$30,000,000 IN FURS GO ON SALE TOMORROW

Auction at Funsten Brothers Exchange to Continue Until May 28.

An auction sale of raw pelts at Funsten Bros. & Co., the International Fur Exchange, will open at 9 a. m. tomorrow and will continue until Friday, May 28, lasting five days longer than any of the exchange's previous sales.

The value of the pelts is estimated by Philip B. Fouke, president of Funsten Bros. & Co., at $30,000,000, and the aggregation of pelts is declared to be the largest ever offered in a single market. The sale has outgrown the sample warehouses of the Funsten concern at Main and Olive streets, and skins are being shown also in the bonded warehouse at 19 South Main street and on three floors of the warehouse of the F. C. Taylor Fur Co., loaned by that company.

Demand Exceeds Supply.

"American women are spending $300,000,000 a year in fur coats, garments and fur trimmings," said Fouke yesterday. "That represents consumers' requirements. The visible world's supply of furs on hand at present is not enough to take care of the present demand.

"Furs are a crop like grain or corn, a seasonable crop only to be obtained at certain times of the year. After the crop is harvested it becomes available for public use. Furs are harvested during the winter season; the crop is all in and there will be no more American furs available until next December. The furs that the manufacturers will supply the retailers and department stores next winter must be made up from the raw skins now on hand.

"If the demand is as strong as indications warrant us in believing it to be, there is likely to be a fur shortage in the autumn when the retail trade is beginning to make its demands felt. The American catch has never been caught up so close as this year, and Russia, a great source of raw skins, is absolutely tied up for the present. We can't predict what the future will be in regard to shipments from Siberia, but we have not had a shipment out of Russia for the last four months."

Advance in Fur Dressing.

"Processing furs is much more elaborate and technical than the average wearer of furs realizes. Very few furs are worn as nature presents them. The average raw pelt is an ugly specimen, not to be compared to the finished article. The amount of usable and handsome furs on the retail market is due to the wonderful advance in fur dressing and manufacturing made by the American furriers. American dressed skins are the best in the world, and anyone who is buying a made-up fur garment this season is getting the best quality that has ever been offered.

"We believe that women have only just begun to buy furs. A few years ago there was a limited class of women who wore fur coats for instance; today there is no limit to that class. The working woman wants a fur garment in which to face inclement weather, and she is looking for one of good fur, that is well cut and suited to her purse. For the woman of means, one fur garment no longer fills fashion's requirements; she can make use of several. The use of fur automobile coats and of summer furs has enormously extended the demand for skins. These are some of the reasons why we feel that the use of fur is on the upgrade.

"The price of raw pelts influences the retail price of made-up furs just as the price of hides influences the price of shoes or the price of wool relates to the price of a suit of clothes.

Chief Elements of Cost.

"The average suit of clothes, for instance, contains four pounds of scoured wool, the average price of which we will say is $1.50 a pound. It is easy to see that the all-wool suit of clothes contains very little of the raw product and that the cost of the raw product does not figure very much in the ultimate price to the consumer.

"Slight changes, therefore, in the cost of basic raw materials are not the determining factor in the final price paid by the consumer. The cost of converting, the cost of operating the channel of trade, the cost of retailing, the cost of interest charges, all enter into the cost of the finished garment, hence the price of the finished garment is only very slightly influenced by basic slight changes in raw material prices. One could draw the same comparison between the price of iron ore and the price of finished steel structure, and the price of hides and the selling value of shoes, suit cases and other leather goods."

THERAPY DIRECTORS IN DEMAND

Girl College Graduates Urged to Enter Training Classes.

There is demand for trained workers as occupational therapy directors in military and civil hospitals, and in institutions all over the country, according to the appeal issued by Mrs. Elias Michael, vice president of the Missouri Association for Occupational Therapy. Girls who will be graduated from college next month are urged to consider entering the work and to register for the training class of the Association which will begin at the headquarters, 3510 Washington avenue, next September.

The work consists of teaching handicrafts to patients, to prevent brooding over their condition.

An assured future at excellent salaries is guaranteed those who take up the work, and all interested are asked to apply to Miss Alice H. Dean, Director of the School, 3510 Washington avenue. The course consists of four months' instruction in handicrafts and three months' practice work in hospitals.

ESSEX MOTOR CARS

Do You Know the Secret of Essex Leadership?

It is the New Light Type With Big Car Ability.. Can Any Light Car Rival Its Speed, Power or Endurance?

Lightness today is an overwhelming advantage in a motor car, provided it means no forfeit of fine performance, endurance or distinctive appearance.

Yet, prior to the Essex, what car combined all these qualities? There were light cars to be sure. But none to meet the requirements of those who exact the highest standards of ability, comfort and good looks.

Had such a type existed, Essex could not have won such swift dominance. It could have set no world's selling record as it did, with a greater total paid for Essex than for any car ever brought out in its first year.

The very suddenness of its success shows how its qualities commandeered attention. For men are not quick to buy a car that time has not proved.

And the Essex came unknown. Merit was its only advocate of recognition. Its quality was instantly obvious. In looks, in action, its appeal was dynamic. And it drew immediate response from all classes of motor users.

They found ability, speed and power before believed impossible in a light car.

Almost Doubles Light Car Endurance

Now see how Essex has justified all fine things that have been said in its praise. An Essex stock chassis set the official world's 50-hour endurance record of 3,037 miles. In three tests it traveled 5,870 miles averaging above a mile a minute. An Essex stock touring car also holds the world's 24-hour road record of 1,061 miles.

To those who had owned light cars, the Essex was a revelation. It gave them a new sensation of stability and power. They found charm of appearance, riding ease, and pride of ownership that comes from possession of a car they know none can surpass in performance.

People accustomed to fine car qualities recognized in the light Essex all the performance, comfort, and good looks that formerly were regarded exclusive to large, costly cars.

The Dominant Light Car By Official Proof

And with it Essex brings every advantage of the light type. These compel consideration. They consist not only of important economies, but of greater handling ease, safety and convenience. Parking for large cars is becoming an increasingly difficult problem. So, too, is their manipulation in heavy traffic. The light car clearly shows its value in greater nimbleness. The common sense facts prove it from every angle the type for all-round usefulness.

Before the Essex, not much was expected of a light car in the way of distinctive performance. Economy was the chief appeal. Great speed and power were considered exclusive costly car qualities.

See What Unexpected Qualities It Adds

For that reason it is not unusual to hear the Essex described as a big, high-priced car. That, of course, is not true. But it is the impression registered by a ride in it. Neither in performance or appearance is it comparable to the lightweight cars you may have known.

You have surely heard owners say how it equals and often excels in speed, smooth-riding and hill-climbing, the fine, costly cars noted for those qualities.

Perhaps you know the Essex more intimately. Who can escape noting its ever-increasing popularity? On every highway and especially when reliability is demanded, as in touring, Essex has forced its way to leadership in numbers through sheer leadership in performance.

When you know its appeal you will scarcely be content to drive another car.

Diabetes Sufferers Should Not Give Up in Despair

Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy has brought health and happiness to many who thought themselves beyond aid.

Diabetes is a peculiar and baffling disease which the medical profession seems to be unable to cure despite the many years of experimenting and research by foremost physicians throughout the world.

Diabetes is invariably the result of impaired nutrition—this results in an excess of sugar in the blood and failure of the food to nourish, hence a gradual wasting away while eating well.

Symptoms of the disease are increased thirst, excess of urine, emaciation and dry skin, often with sweetish odor.

Following are a few voluntary words of praise from a man who has used Warner's Safe Diabetes Cure with gratifying results. Perhaps you may be benefited in a like manner.

"I had been troubled with Diabetes for 8 years. I heard about Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy and I tried some of it and got myself in good condition and went to work again. One man said he doctored for 2 years and that one bottle of Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy did him more good than all the doctors. I am much pleased and so thankful for your life-saving remedy that I cheerfully recommend it to anyone troubled with Diabetes and I hope this will be the cause of helping many sufferers.'' (Signed) James Platt, Nat'l Military Home, Dayton, Ohio.

Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy is made from a formula tried and tested and used with remarkable results during the past 40 years. As the name indicates, Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy is absolutely safe and is made solely from herbs and other beneficial ingredients.

BUTLER INCLUDES BEER AND WINE IN HIS 17 PLANKS

Candidate for Republican Presidential Nomination Also Favors Plan of Kansas Anti-Strike Court.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, tonight issued a statement of his principles, favoring, among other things, light wine and beer and the principles underlying the Kansas court of industrial relations. This will be the only public statement that Dr. Butler will make prior to the Republican convention in June, according to John R. Davies, manager of the Butler campaign committee.

The statement sets forth 17 points covering the subjects which Dr. Butler says urgently need attention.

The substance of Dr. Butler's points follows:

1. Restore to the people their American form of government, bring executive autocracy to an end; substitute co-operation with Congress for dictation.

Economy in Government.

2. Attack the high cost of living at its source—the high cost of government. Instead of new taxes, rigid economy.

3. Enact an executive budget. Permit and require the heads of departments to appear before the Senate and House to answer questions. Explain and defend requests for appropriations.

4. Reduce the expanded credit with inflated currency and high costs built on it. Begin payment of the war debt.

5. Supervise big business, to the end that the monopoly, unfair practices and profiteering may be stopped.

6. Resist Government ownership and operation of railways. Restore the credit of the railroad companies. Treat all transportation agencies as a unity.

7. Aid the movement towards industrial democracy by the participation of hand workers more fully in the returns from their labors.

8. Make the public interest supreme. So that while no man can be compelled to work against his will, permit no group or section of the community to starve the public or paralyze it in an industrial controversy. The principles underlying the Court of Industrial Relations of Kansas are sound, although it may be necessary to modify their application.

9. Protect the natural resources. Try to keep young people on the farms.

10. Promote every movement to improve health, housing and education.

11. Provide the nation with a merchant marine.

For Light Wine and Beer.

12. Resist attempts to bring back the saloon. Displace the Volstead act by a law for enforcement on the basis of common sense. There are beers and light wines that form a part of the staple diet and are not more intoxicating than molasses and not half so harmful as ice water. To prohibit the domestic use of those is unreasonable.

13. Stop lynching and mob rule by making the communities in which they occur and the local officials directly answerable for not preventing or punishing these outbreaks.

14. Rid our political life of sectionalism. Draw the men and women of the South to the Republican party.

15. Reform our primary laws by preventing those not members of a political party from taking part in its primaries.

16. Make plain in what true Americanism consists and yield not a jot or title to it. Meet wrong ideas with right ideas. Reserve force for extreme cases in which the public is put in danger.

17. Resume our foreign policy on historic lines. Agree with other nations on measures to settle international disputes by arbitration. Establish the International Court of Justice.

CHURCH ADVERTISES FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS

McCausland Avenue Presbyterian Pastor Says Shortage Hurts Attendance.

The McCausland Avenue Presbyterian Church has advertised in the want ad columns of local newspapers for Sunday School teachers because, the pastor, the Rev. S. A. Coile, says there is a shortage. The condition has become so serious that the attendance of pupils is being reduced, Dr. Coile says.

Pupils in the McCausland church classes would number 300 if enough teachers could be found, the pastor said. Two hundred children now are enrolled. "We are resorting to business methods to get teachers," Dr. Coile said.

The shortage of Sunday School teachers is general in St. Louis, according to officials of the Community Training School for Sunday School and Christian Service Workers, operated by the Church Federation free of charge at 625 Locust street. Six thousand teachers could be used, doubling the number engaged in the work. The school has 150 graduates in Sunday school service, 33 of whom were graduated last week.

A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent. Send the coupon. Make this test for your teeth's sake, then see for yourself what it does.

Stain Your Teeth

And See the Film Which Wrecks Them

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Stain your teeth, as your dentist does, with an iodine solution. You will see dark patches, probably. And those are film. There is more film which you don't see.

Film is that viscous coat which you feel with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush does not end it. The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve it. So much of it remains and may do a ceaseless damage.

There lies the cause of most tooth troubles. That is why so many brushed teeth discolor and decay. Tooth troubles are constantly increasing, and the reason lies in film.

Their Greatest Enemy

Film is what discolors — not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus night and day, while you feel that teeth are kept clean, that film may be doing ceaseless, fearful damage.

These facts have long been known. Dental science has for years sought a way to fight film. But periodic cleaning in the dentist's chair seemed the only real remover.

Now science has discovered an efficient film combatant — one for daily use. Able authorities have proved it by convincing tests. Leading dentists all over America are now urging its adoption.

Now the method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent—a modern, scientific tooth paste. Its use has spread until millions of teeth show its benefits. And a 10-Day Tube, for home test, is being sent to anyone who asks.

We Apply a Digestant

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to day by day combat it.

Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. But science has found, after years of research, a harmless activating method. And now this efficient film combatant can be every day applied.

Quick, Visible Results

The results of Pepsodent are quick and apparent. You can see them in the mirror, you can feel them with your tongue.

Millions have already made this test. Now you owe it to yourself and yours. Compare the new way with the old ways. Judge between them by the visible results. Then say which method your home should employ.

This ten-day test is a pleasant lesson which one never can forget.

COMPARISON OF CURB MARKET AND WHOLESALE PRICES

DIFFERENCES ON SOME PRODUCE

Gardeners Indicate Preference to Sell to Commission, to "Get Through" Earlier.

Inquiry by the Post-Dispatch yesterday disclosed that prices charged the consumer of country produce at the six curb markets, which were opened on May 1 for the summer, are almost identical with those paid to the market gardeners by merchants on "Commission Row," on Fourth street, who sell in turn to retailers. The prices were obtained by questioning gardeners both at the curb markets and at commission houses.

The season for garden stuff has been delayed by the wet, cold weather and as yet there is small variety of home-grown produce. Lettuce is far from abundant and practically all in the St. Louis market is of forced growth in hot beds, though there is some field lettuce, grown on sunny slopes. Mustard greens, similar to spinach, and a meager quantity of cauliflower have been raised here in hotbeds. The only local potatoes are some that farmers have kept in cellars since fall digging.

Few Things Higher.

Asparagus was higher in price to consumers at curb markets than to the commission merchants and radishes were slightly higher, but in the case of other produce prices were equal, or even lower to the buyer at the curb.

In the following table of prices, paid yesterday for home-grown produce, averages are given, and there was some little variance:

| | Commission Row Pays Gardeners. | Consumers Pay at the Curb. | Retailer's Price to Consumers. | Wholesale Price to Retailers. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Asparagus, dozen bunches | $1 30 | $1 50@2 10 | $2 10 | $1 60 |
| Radishes, dozen bunches | 25 | 30@ 60 | * | 40 |
| Lettuce, ¾ bu. box | 1 25 | 1 30some 90c | 1 65 | 1 35 |
| Spinach, bu. | 60 | 60 | 80 | 70 |
| Rhubarb, dozen bunches | 40 | 30 | 90 | 55 |
| Onions, dozen bunches | 21 | 30 | 60 | 35 |
| Kale, bu. | 1 25 | 1 10 | * | * |
| Mustard greens, bu. | 90 | 1 25 | * | 65 |

*No transactions.

One commission merchant sold cauliflower for $2 to $2.50 a box of three-quarters of a bushel, but a number of gardeners said their selling price was $3 to $4 for a similar amount, with very little trading. Gardeners sold water cress and chives for 25 cents and 20 cents per dozen bunches, respectively.

Produce Being Shipped In.

Among the produce being shipped to St. Louis now are strawberries, beans, carrots, beets, string beans, peas, parsley, celery and new potatoes from Texas. Old potatoes are sold at the curb for 10 cents a pound and wholesaled at $2.75 a bushel, sweet or Irish.

While market quotations (wholesale) were 37½ cents for first eggs and 60 cents for creamery butter, farmers at the curb markets were selling eggs for 50 cents a dozen and country butter for 68 to 75 cents.

Among the gardeners selling at curb markets there seems to be a slight majority of opinion that there is more profit and less time required in selling to commission men. They point out that it takes from 5:30 a. m. to 9 a. m. or noon to sell out at the curb, whereas wholesale transactions are quicker.

The curb markets appear to be doing a good business, the heaviest trade being around 6 a. m. They are open Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at Broadway and Schirmer street, Broadway and Jefferson avenue, Grand and Gravois avenues, Twentieth street and East Grand avenue, Saston avenue and Sarah street, and at Easton avenue and Deer street.

TEAMSTERS AND EMPLOYERS MAY SETTLE WAGE ISSUE AMICABLY

Union to Get Request for Modification at Meeting Today, and Counter Proposal Tomorrow.

Wage differences probably will be settled amicably between the 1800 members of the Transfer Teamsters' and Helpers' Local 600 and the owners' association, according to one of the officials of the latter. The men are asking for an increase from $21 to $36 a week as a minimum wage and from $29 to $50 a week as the maximum. Their contract will expire Aug. 6.

The employers feel that the demands of the men are unreasonably high and will ask that they be modified at the meeting of the local today, and tomorrow will submit a proposition to them.

Employers have given voluntary increases of $9 and $10 a week to the men within the last three years, said Harry Engel, secretary of the owners' association. William Ryan, business agent of the union, said that the average wage of teamsters was $24 a week.

STEPHENS Salient Six

Simple Valve Adjustment

To be able to adjust the valves of the Stephens engine with a screw driver, from the outside of the engine, while it is running and without dismantling, is one of the salient features of the Stephens Salient Six.

This convenient adjustment provides a ready means of maintaining quiet valve action.

It also affords a simple method for taking up the infinitesmal wear on the finely adjusted parts, which if neglected leads to lessened power and lowered motor car service.

It certainly adds to the greater service of the Stephens Salient Six. Arrange today to see and ride.

WHY PILES SHOULD BE CURED

Piles do not appear suddenly, but creep upon the unsuspecting victim like an assassin at midnight. Often before one has any suspicion of its presence the disease has gained great headway in the system. One symptom after another appears—they may at first be slight, but nevertheless they pave the way for Piles and a life of almost endless misery. Frequently even the slightest change from the normal mode of living opens wide the system to the inroads of this treacherous disease.

If you are sedentary in your habits—if you do not take sufficient exercise to keep every portion of the body in proper working order—if you are accustomed to late hours and high living—if your bowels do not move regularly every day—or if you are afflicted with Indigestion or Dyspepsia—any one of these is sufficient to cause and promote the growth of Piles.

Whether from one cause or another, the outcome is sure and unalterable, unless the Piles are quickly cured. If you now have Piles, and allow them to continue their treacherous course without interruption—and unless a cure is quickly effected, they will quite likely develop into Incurable Diseases, such as Ulceration of the Bowels, Cancer and Consumption—any one of which is extremely dangerous.

DR. HENRICH'S PILE TREATMENT

is entirely different from any of the so-called "Pile Cures" which make their appearance from time to time. Invariably these lotions, salves, cones, etc., are for external application only and in some instances they will relieve the pain and suffering for the time being, but the Pile Tumors are still there—the pain will reappear as soon as the effects of the application gradually wear away. Piles can be cured permanently only by my Mild Medical Method, a direct treatment, which removes every Pile Tumor from the system by going to the root of the disease. I always obtain prompt and satisfactory results, because my searching examination brings to light the nature and extent of the trouble. My experience in curing Piles and similar Diseases extends over a long period. My facilities are of the best and my treatment is most perfect. So remember that "The Henrich Cure Is Safe and Sure."

My charges are very reasonable and in reach of any working man or woman. I especially invite those men or women, who have been treated without results elsewhere, to call and be examined. Examination and Advice is FREE and carries with it no obligation to engage my services. Call as soon as possible any day except Thursday afternoon between 9 and 4 o'clock.

TURKISH TREATY TO SAFEGUARD MINORITIES

14 Articles of Pact to Be Submitted Devoted to Protection of Peoples.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Provisions safeguarding the rights of minority populations make up a large portion of the Turkish treaty of peace. A summary of the treaty, which will be handed to the Turkish delegation in Paris Tuesday, was received here today.

Fourteen articles of the treaty are devoted to protection of the Armenians, Greeks and other minority populations which, under the pact, will remain within the new boundaries of Turkey. In general these articles follow the lines of the treaty of June 28, 1919, between the allied Powers and Poland for protection of the Polish minority peoples.

One of the things Turkey agrees to do under the treaty is to annul all conversions to Islam which have occurred between November 1, 1914, and the coming into effect of the treaty. The nation of the Sultan also undertakes to assist in the recovery of men, women and children of wholly or partly non-Moslem parentage who have adopted the Islamic faith since November 1, 1914, and who are claimed by their families or communities.

The fullest right of search for lost persons in private houses and institutions is conceded; the search to be carried out by a representative of the community affected, an official of the Turkish Government and a representative of the League of Nations.

Such reciprocal and voluntary emigration of persons belonging to racial minorities as the allied Powers may consider opportune, is recognized by the Turkish Government, which agrees to adhere to the treaty between Greece and Bulgaria of last November relating to reciprocal emigration.

Turkish subjects of non-Turkish race such as Armenians and Greeks who have been driven from their homes by fear of massacre or any other form of pressure during the war are to be permitted to return to their homes and assist in the recovery of their property and re-establishment of business.

Racial minorities are given freedom to establish, manage and control charitable, religious and social institutions, schools and other educational establishments, a right previously exercised exclusively by the Turkish Government. Guarantees concerning the minority populations are lodged in the League of Nations.

Other provisions of the treaty follow closely the original draft as drawn up by the Supreme Council in London in February.

The most substantial change made by the Allied Premiers at their San Remo meeting in the draft formulated at London in February provides further limitations on the power of the Sultan in Constantinople. The exact nature of this change is not quoted in the Summary received here.

Since President Wilson's reply to the allied request for the fixation of the boundaries of Armenia is not expected to be received in time for the inclusion of the settlement of the Armenian question in the treaty to be given the Turkish delegation Tuesday, diplomatic officials here believe provision will be made by the Supreme Council for leaving open the Armenian question for somewhat later settlement.

SUIT AGAINST DRUGGIST WHO SOLD POISON DISMISSED

Court Sustains Demurrer to Warrant on Ground of Defect in Law.

A defect in the law regulating the sale of poisons causing the dismissal of a warrant chaging Carl F. Miller, a drpggist at 5002 Cates avenue, with failing to register the sale of carbolic acid when the case was called for trial in the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday.

Miller was alleged to have sent a bottle of carbolic acid to Miss Irma Reed, 5172A Kensington avenue, who ended her life April 25, without complying with the law which requires the purchaser of poison to register for the poison in the druggist's presence.

Miller admitted that he had sent the poison by messenger and that some person other than Miss Reed had signed for it. His attorney filed a demurrer to the warrant on the ground that the section of the law relating to carbolic acid provided no penalty and therefore was defective. Judge Miller sustained the demurrer.

Twin Eight Cylinder Duesenberg Automobile with Delco Ignition driven by Tommy Milton

Seven World's Speed Records Won With

Delco
Ignition

SO fast the eye could scarcely follow—a blur of indistinct motion—Tommy Milton shot his Delco-equipped Duesenberg car along the smooth, hard sands of Daytona Beach, at a faster, madder pace than machines have ever travelled on earth before—a mile in a trifle more than a third of a minute.

This tremendous burst of speed shattered the world's previous records, and enthroned Milton as the world's new speed king.

Comparable only to cannon speed—the human eye can scarce visualize a machine hurtling over a race-way in the following fractions of time officially accepted April 1920 by the American Automobile Association:—

New World's Speed Records

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| ½ mile ... | :11.57 seconds, | 155.57 miles per hour |
| 1 kilometer | :14.40 seconds, | 155.34 miles per hour |
| 1 mile ... | :23.07 seconds, | 156.04 miles per hour |
| 2 miles ... | :46.24 seconds, | 155.70 miles per hour |
| 3 miles .. | 1 min. 12.18 sec., | 149.62 miles per hour |
| 4 miles .. | 1 min. 36.14 sec., | 149.78 miles per hour |
| 5 miles .. | 2 min. 00.04 sec., | 149.95 miles per hour |

THOUGH the mind can scarcely comprehend such speed, it takes little imagination to conceive of the tremendous strain on every part of a car travelling at this unprecedented rate. Delco does not claim the credit for winning this race with time, but Delco takes pride in announcing this result to the millions of owners of Delco-equipped automobiles.

Delco met this gruelling test with the same reliability and efficiency that it has demonstrated in the establishment of other world records, such as the Essex fifty-hour grind—the Hudson trans-continental run—the NC-4 trans-Atlantic flight, and Major Schroeder's altitude climb.

All are world's records—and all have been made with Delco.

Cardinals' Uphill Fight Beats Reds In Eleventh, 5-4

Lavan's Desperate Slide in Final Inning Responsibe for Tally That Wins Contest.

SCHUPP OPENS THE GAME

Pitcher Benched in First Round Friday Displays Courage After Poor Start.

Johnnie Lavan's refusal to concede an out that loomed in front of him as big as the Railway Exchange building, enabled the Cardinals to break their extra-inning jinx and square the series with the world's champion Cincinnati Reds, yesterday afternoon, in a hair-raising eleven inning contest. The defeat pushed the Reds out of first place in the league standing.

While a dozen factors entered into the fray at various times, and several bobbles on the part of the Reds prevented them from scoring a victory over the regulation route, it was Lavan's bitter-end display of nerve that eventually won the verdict for the men of Rickey by a 5-4 score.

Lavan, who previously had made two lucky singles off Jimmy Ring, opened the eleventh inning by sending a clean liner to center for one base. Ring pitched a half dozen balls to Daubert trying to nip Johnnie off the sack and finally succeeded. The doctor was trapped between first and second and Rath had the ball waiting for him, on Daubert's low throw. Johnnie refused to succumb and slid into second and let his body collide with the Red second-sacker. Umpire Moran called Lavan out. Rath let the ball drop from his hands and the umpire changed his decision. Result: Lavan on second, with none out, instead of the bases empty with one down.

Shotten Scores on Fly.

Clemons laid down a perfect bunt along the third base line and was beating it out. Ring fielded the ball and tossed to Groh too late to catch Lavan, who made a pretty slide into third. Shotton was sent in to run for Lavan and held third while Rath made a lucky stab of Jacobs' hot grounder and retired the runner at first.

Jack Smith, who figured in every run made by the Cardinals, sent a short fly to center. Roush took the ball on the run and his throw to the plate was perfect. Shotton slid into the plate and it was a toss-up as to how Umpire Rigler would decide the play. When he ruled Burt safe the game was over. Ring, Rariden and Daubert rushed in to voice their protests, but the fans blocked their progress and the irate Reds had to be contented with sending verbal hot shots at Rigler as the umpire made a hurried exit.

Schupp Falters at Start.

It was a brilliant up-hill battle that the men of Rickey staged and the exhibition made a lot of friends among the 7000 cash customers who attended. In addition there were 2500 Knot-Holers in the right field pavilion.

Ferdie Schupp, who faltered in Friday's game and spotted the Reds four runs in the first frame, gamely returned to hurling hill yesterday, and while his work was still erratic, he showed that whatever frailties he has are not in the heart. Jacobs pitched the tenth and eleventh after Schultz batted for Schupp in the ninth.

Jack Smith enjoyed a large afternoon. He figured in every run the Cardinals made. In the fifth inning he drove in two with a single to right. In the eighth he walked and scored on Stock's single. In the ninth, with two down and the bases filled he showed remarkable judgment by working Ring for a base on balls which pushed over the run that tied the score for the Cards. His sacrifice fly scored the winning run in the eleventh.

*Ralph Parr entry; H. P. Whitney entry; G. W. Loft entry; *R. Coe entry; Mutuel field.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: Paul Jones (Parr entry), straight, $34.40; place, $12.30; show, $6.00; Upst (Whitney entray), place $5.20; show, $3.00.

On Watch (Loft entry), show, $4.

Paul Jones was away forwardly, moved into the lead at once, and holding on in game style, outstayed Upset in final drive. Upset moved up determinedly, after going half mile, and saved ground into the stretch, appearing the winner at the sixteenth pole, but tired right at end. On Watch came from far back in the last half and finished well. Damask tired in the stretch. By Golly quit. Donnacona had no mishaps. Peace Pennant was always far back. Sandy Beal retired, after going half mile. So did Bersagliere.

Scratched—Golden Broom, Westwood, Ethel Gray, Kinnoul, Simpleton.

Although the Kentucky Derby was run some hundreds of miles from this city, interest in the event was manifested throughout the downtown district here, yesterday, and many thousands of dollars were wagered by St. Louisans.

Local players of odds could not give an estimate of the total sum wagered, but one agent of a well-known speculator handled well into four figures on the race. Private bets and office pools on the running of the event were conducted in almost every large business house downtown.

The bulk of the "wise" money invested here was on the more favored entries, the Loft pair, Donnacona and On Watch coming in for a strong play. There was plenty of "shooting" at long shots, but no heavy investments were reported at several establishments downtown where wagers are handled for commissioners.

One agent lost $750 on the derby largely through the victory of Paul Jones. It was all because of a modest plunge on Blazes by a non-professional.

"The race would have been a clean-up for me had the Paul Jones horse not been coupled with Blazes. I had a number of wagers on Blazes, but only a piker or two touched Paul Jones. Blazes was nowhere and I would have kept this money; but Paul Jones, his stable mate, saved the bets for him.

"The largest bet I had either on Paul Jones or Blazes, was a $15 smash on the 'nose' that was aimed at Blazes. But his stablemate pulled the bet through for him and I lost $240 on the deal."

Many small wagers were made and the general character of the betting was non-professional. There seemed to be no consistent "hot tip" played anywhere.

Central Defeats McKinley; Soldan Beats Cleveland

Victors Remain in Tie for First Place, Each Having Won Four and Lost One.

Central and Soldan remained in a tie for first place in the High School baseball league yesterday afternoon by scoring victories in the double-header at High School Field, Central defeating McKinley, 6 to 5, and Soldan nosing out Cleveland, 3 to 2.

Each of the victors now has won four games and lost one. Yeatman, by remaining idle, dropped to third place, with three victories out of four games played. McKinley, with one victory and four defeats follows, with Cleveland last with five defeats and no victories.

Piker Track Team Defeats Drake in Dual Meet, 69-58

Howard Drew, World's Record Holder, Beaten in 100-Yard Dash by Auer.

The performances of Eugene Auer and Richard Kremer were the outstanding features of Washington University's success in its first dual track and field meet with a Missouri Valley Conference school in six years, yesterday afternoon. Pikeway followers were pleased with the local athletes' 69 to 58 victory over the Drake University squad, but it was the work of the two above-named athletes that drew the real praise.

Auer, a sophomore, sprang the biggest surprise that has occurred at Francis Field in many rollings of the track, when he defeated the far famed Howard Drew, Drake's negro sprinter, in the 100-yard dash. Drew holds the world's 100-yard and 220-yard records. Auer beat him at the start, then relinquished his lead a step at the half way mark, made up the lost ground by the 75-yard mark, and won out in 10 2-5 seconds.

Drew later showed his real ability when he loped home in the 220-yard dash and as last baton carrier in the half mile relay. He was closely followed by his teammate, Charlie Howard, another negro, in the former race.

Kremer Nearly Equals Record.

Kremer distinguished himself by hurling the discus 128 feet 6 inches. This is only one-half inch less than the Missouri Valley Conference record, established last year by Bohn of the Kirksville Osteopaths at Ames. Kremer hurled the metal 130 feet at the National A. A. U. junior games last year.

George Berger, center fielder of the nine, changed uniforms at the close of the baseball game in order to win firsts in the high and low hurdles. Berger also acted as first man in the 880-yard relay. His 10 points gives him a track letter, this being his fourth athletic emblem.

Paul Marsh, with firsts in the pole vault and high jump and second in the high hurdles, tallied 13 points, being high for the day.

The results:

100 YARDS—Auer, (W.) first; Drew, (D.), second; Drake, (W.), third. Time 10 2-5s.
220 YARDS—Drew, (D.), first; Howard, (D.), second; Drake, (W.), third. Time 23 2-5s.

Millers Face Season's Severest Test, In Final for U. S. Soccer Title, Today

Opponents, the Fore Rivers, a Club of Foreign-Born Players, Have Had but Two Goals Scored Against Them in Cup Games.

St. Louis' 1920 soccer football season, the best the locals have enjoyed in many campaigns, will be officially brought to a close this afternoon at Federal Park, when the Ben Millers, St. Louis League champions, oppose the Fore River Football Club of Quincy, Mass., in a contest to decide the United States championship.

This is the first time in history of the U. S. F. A. competition that a title game has been staged in the West. In fact, it is the first that a Western club has ever been a contender for the highest honors.

The occasion will also mark the first time that a team composed entirely of American-born, American-trained players has competed for the American title. The opposing eleven today consists entirely of foreign-born players, a majority of whom claim Scotland as a birth place.

Since the trophy, which will go to the winner, was placed in competition in 1904, all the championship contenders have been Eastern elevens.

St. Louis won a place in the final on the first season local elevens have been entered in the competition. The Ben Millers were the survivors aomng the four local aggregations, which entered the series, the others being the Innisfails, Scullins and Screw Co. After eliminating the local rivals, the Millers defeated McKeesport, Pa.; the Olympic F. C. of Chicago and the Packards of Detroit in the order named.

"Dope" Favors Visitors.

Fore River, rival for the championship, has gone through all Eastern competition with a sensational record, as given elsewhere. The Quincy (Mass.) aggregation has played six cup battles and has scored a total of 14 goals, against only two for the opposition. In reaching the final, the Fore River eleven eliminated the Robins, 2—1.

On "dope," the visitors have the better of the argument.

There is one direct line on the two opposing elevens. This is the Robins game, as this is the only aggregation both teams have played this year. The Millers were defeated by the Robins, 4—2, on Jan. 4. The Fore River team won from the Robins, 2—1, in the U. S. F. A. semifinal. However, in the A. F. A. competition, the Robins turned the tables, winning, 2—0. Both teams have scored two goals against the Robins, while the Brooklyn eleven counted three against Fore River and four against the Millers. Since the Robins game, however, Ratican has changed goal keepers, McGarry replacing Honus King.

While the Fore Rivers' trainer stated upon the teams' arrivel here that none of the members of the eleven played soccer in the Old Country, reports have it that they employ the foreign style of play—that of short passes. Against this the St. Louisans use the more aggressive sort.

Manager Pete Ratican of the Millers has had his athletes out for practice for the past three nights and reports all of them in good condition.

Manager Ratican stated last night that with a fast field, he would send Jimmy Johnston to fullback, replacing "Doc" Shea, while Tommy O'Hanlon will be used at halfback, alongside Quinn and Redden. The forward line will be made up of McHenry, Riley, Dunn, Marre and Potee. In case of a heavy field, Shea and Rooney probably will break into the lineup.

The Fore River eleven, which has been in St. Louis since Thursday night, has practiced here the past two days and officials in charge announce that all are ready for the battle. The Fore River battle front will be the same as the one which stopped the Robins in the Eastern semifinal.

Over 10,000 Attendance Forecast.

Officials of the St. Louis Soccer League have made preparations to handle a crowd of more than 10,000. Seats have been erected on the south side of the field. Gates will be opened at 1 o'clock and 10 entrances will be used to accommodate the expected crowd. The sale of 400 reserved seats opened several days ago and Phil Riley reports that few remain. The admission to today's game will be $1, including war tax, with 55 cents for children.

Mayor Henry Kiel will officiate at today's opening. He will place the ball in the center of the field and then will be escorted to his box by the officials.

Local fans will see an out-of-town referee in action. The arbiter selected for this important contest is A. McKenzie of Chicago. McKenzie handled the Millers' game with the Olympias at Chicago and the Miller players are high in his praises. He is very fast on his feet and is on top of every play. Phil Kavanaugh and Paul McSweeney will act as linesmen.

No substitutions will be permitted in today's game as provided by the rules of the U. S. F. A., under whose jurisdiction the contest will be staged.

The clash will be played, "rain or shine," according to Thomas Cahill, honorary secretary of the U. S. F. A., who is here for the game.

PITCHER VAUGHN WINS OWN GAME WITH TRIPLE

PITTSBURG, May 8.—Chicago defeated Pittsburg today, 4 to 1, but not until Vaughn tripled to left center in the ninth inning, while the bases were full and the score stood 1 to 1. The locals scored their run on a pass to Whitted and errors by Vaughn and Hollocher. Killefer was put out of the game by Umpire Emslie for protesting the decision which allowed the Pittsburg run.

Princeton Eleven to Play Chicago

First Big Intersectional Football Game Will Be Played in 1921, Probably in Mid-Season.

CHICAGO, May 8.—The East and West are finally to meet on the football field. Two games have been scheduled between Chicago University and Princeton, A. A. Stagg, athletic director of the University of Chicago announced today. The first game will be played at Princeton in 1921 and the second in Chicago in 1922, probably in midseason.

The proposed games were characterized by Coach Stagg as the most important intersectional athletic contests ever held in the country. The initiative in scheduling the games was taken by Princeton, Coach Stagg stating that he had not contemplated breaking into the great Eastern trio composed of Harvard, Yale and Princeton. The proposal for the games was made three weeks ago and was quickly approved by Stagg and the university authorities.

Necessity for discarding the old sectional feeling and placing athletics on a broader basis was the main reason advanced by Princeton for violating the old tradition and scheduling the games, according to Stagg.

Stagg said he thought the Princeton-Chicago games the fore runners for many more such intersectional contests and saw how both the Eastern and Western universities would greatly benefit from them.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 8.—Boston College won the team title of the Eastern Intercollegiate Athletic Association at the annual championship athletic meet here today, leading Springfield College by a single point. The winning total was 33.

Hornsby Leading Swatter in N. L.; Roush Far Below

Cardinal Slugger Is Maintaining Tremendous Hitting Pace of Over .400.

Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star, is showing the way to the batters of the National League with an average of .462, and Lebourveau of Philadelphia is runner up, according to averages released today. The averages include games of Thursday.

Ed Roush of Cincinnati, who held the batting honors of the league last season, gradually is getting his stride. He boosted his average to .262, 44 points within a week.

Ruth Is Coming Back.

"Babe" Ruth of New York celebrated his return to the game by cracking out two home runs. The home run king had a batting average of .261 for 13 games, having made 12 hits in 46 times at bat. His hits besides the two home runs, include a triple and three doubles.

Ty Cobb, the Detroit star, who held the batting championship last season, is rounding into form, and has boosted his mark a week, but is still far below .300.

Joe Jackson, the Chicago White Sox slugger, continues to top the batters in the American League.

TIGERS AGAIN DEFEAT OKLAHOMA NINE, 1 TO 0

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 8.—The Missouri baseball team won its second 1-to-0 game from Oklahoma University here, today, in the near record time of 1 hour and 23 minutes. The Tiger score came in the third, when Lam's three-base hit drove in Lane, wo had reached first on Talbot's error.

Four double plays in the first four innings featured the game. Three were by the Sooners and one by Missouri.

Davis, the Sooner pitcher, failed to strike out a single man, while McLane sent nine to the bench.

The only menace to the Tigers came in the first inning when three hits by Sooners filled the bases. McLane tightened and retired the side.

Motor Cyclists Plan Club.

Approximately 50 motor cycle riders will assemble at the Hurck Motor and Cycle Co. at 10:30 o'clock this morning preparatory to starting on a run to Schottler's farm on the Baumgardner road, one-half mile east of the Lemay Ferry road where a meeting will be held at which a new motor cycle club will be formed.

It will be the object of the new club to further motor cycling in St. Louis and to help the game in every respect. Weekly runs probably will be held and perhaps races in the future.

Leverette Loses Control and Game After Fine Start

Detroit Wins, 5 to 4, After Browns Gain Three-Run Lead in the Sixth.

BROWNS OUTHIT TIGERS

Burkemen Slug Dauss for 12 Hits, While Winners Made Only Five Safeties.

DETROIT, Mich., May 8.—Manager Jimmie Burke tried his Minneapolis semipro hurler, Horace Leverette, against the Tigers this afternoon, and for six innings it looked very much as if he would deliver.

But there came a fateful seventh, when Leverette took a wild turn, and the old ball game went blooey for Burke's athletes, the Tigers counting four times, enabling them to win, 5 to 4.

The Browns faced George Dauss, Detroit's "ace" this season, and mauled his offerings with the same gay abandon as they have the hurlers that preceded him earlier in the week. They got 12 hits, or more than twice the number secured off Leverette and Burwell, who finished the game.

For the third consecutive day Manager Jennings absented himself from the field, being content to nurse his weak stomach caused by worry, in a box seat.

Manager pro tem Jack Coombs was kept on the tip-toe of expectancy throughout, and breathed a sigh of relief when the last St. Louis player had been retired and the Tigers emerged on the big end of the count.

It was all that Dauss could do, however, to stagger over the route and accomplish something that none of his teammates could do since Wednesday against the Browns, that is, finish without any hurling help.

Score Tied in Fifth.

Sisler's single, Williams' sacrifice and a safe hit by Severeid gave the Browns a one-run lead in the second, which they held until the fifth, when Detroit evened up the count. Two passes, a sacrifice and Cobb's single gave the Tigers that counter.

In the sixth, however, St. Louis took a decided lead by scoring three runs. After Sisler was thrown out Williams hit to deep right for three bases. Jacobson walked and Williams scored on Severeid's double to left. Gerber bunted safely to third, scoring "Baby Doll," and when Hale booted Severeid came home also.

In the seventh Leverette suddenly lost his stride, after Veach had doubled to right center. The next two batters, Heilmann and Flagstead, were passed. Burke at this juncture waived Leverette out of the box and sent "Bill" Burwell in. Hale, the first one up to face Burwell, was equal to the occasion and practically won the game. He singled, scoring Veach and Heilmann. When Flagstead was given life at third.

Burke Loses an Argument.

Jimmie Burke argued long and futilely with Umpire Hildebrand over his decision in declaring the Tiger outfielder safe. Jimmie insisted that he was plainly tagged out by Austin. Flagstead then scored on Stanage's sacrifice fly to Tobin and when the latter threw the ball over Austin's head, it rolled around the base of the grandstand, allowing Hale to put the winning run across.

Manager Burke is content with the way his pitchers are performing, Jimmie claiming that compared to the way hurlers on other American League teams are going, thus far this season, they were doing mighty well.

He plans to open each series with Eastern teams on the approaching trip with his ace, Allen Sothoron, and follow up with Urban Shocker.

The twirling assignment for St. Louis at Navin Field today, the last of the five-game series with the Tigers, has been given to Carl Weilman.

Georges Carpentier Would Excel in Any Walk of Life, Says Descamps, His Manager

Man Who Developed European Champion From Pale-Faced Boy, Gives Intimate View of Dempsey's Challenger.

War Hero and Boxer Has Passion for Music and There Are Few Classical Literary Works He Has Not Read.

By FRANCOIS DESCAMPS,
Manager of Georges Carpentier.

THIS which I now do I have never done before—I write about Georges Carpentier.

The great public in France, England and America know him as a pugilist only. It is chiefly about the man that is in him that I would write. And in every way he is remarkable.

By instinct, by upbringing, by inclination, by an unconquerable fondness for the ring, he has taken to fighting.

Had he come into the world blessed with riches, boxing would have been just as surely his great game as it is now; it was, I often think, destined that he should embrace it. The adventure, the supreme test of courage and skill it offers, have always appealed irresistibly to his mind, and to his imagination, from the very first day when, at a fair in the neighborhood of his home at Lens, his great big eyes beheld boxers from England.

Boxing, as these rough-and-ready fellows practiced it, was new to him. In it he did not see mere ability to hit, to fight, but he seized upon the very purpose of it—a glorious lesson in chivalry and those man-making properties which caused it to be conceived.

I Can't Believe He's Grown Up.

For Carpentier is the soul of chivalry, and the man that is a man in the literal sense is and always has been his ideal.

When you have seen him you probably have counted him as reserved; shy to make companions; aloof; but such a Carpentier is only the Carpentier you look at in the ring. Away from it he is all light and sunshine and joy, so that although he is now 25 years of age, I cannot believe that he has grown up. To me he is the same little lad of 10, who one day, in a highly frightened way, peeped into my gymnasium at Lens and begged of me to put on the gloves.

He was almost a pathetic figure then; had it not been for the fierce light in his eyes, the light of sincerity, I could never have seen that he was serious; just a strange, venturesome, precocious child, I would have thought him to be.

"What do you know about boxing?" I asked, not without scorn.

"Nothing, Professor," he replied, "but I have watched the Englishmen box and I would do the same, I would try."

"But what about your mother, does she know?" I questioned.

"No," he answered, "but there will be no trouble if you do not tell her."

And I took this child, pale-faced, but confident and happy, and allowed him to put on the gloves.

An hour later I was talking to Madame Carpentier, begging and imploring her to allow Master Georges to come to me so that he should be taught the science of boxing.

They Thought Me Crazy.

In those days, many people round and about my home thought I practiced a black art; they looked askance at me; they gave to me, in the little world in which I lived, a position of splendid isolation. I called myself, "Prof. Descamps," and thew thought I was crazy. It was not that there was prejudice against boxing; it was because few understood it. The very idea of two men of their own free will standing up and hitting one another was counted madness in its most acute form.

Well, here we are—Georges Carpentier and myself—approved and accepted.

There is not, I think, a greater romance in all the wonderful fascinating history of the ring than the life and association of Carpentier with myself.

Two people—I a full grown man and he a child—set out with no greater asset than optimism rich beyond compare, to win distinction and fame and fortune. Carpentier and I for full 15 years have been inseparable, he, my son, I, his father, has everything, so he will declare.

I have had many great, tense moments since we came together. First, there were lean days to conquer; a few francs here and there were all we hoped and expected; then, his first night in wonderful Paris; and on and on until his European championship with Jim Sullivan at Monte Carlo; his fight with the big Bombardier Wells, his encounter with the magnificent negro, Joe Jeannette; his awful contests with Klaus and Papke; his last fight in London with Gunboat Smith; and then when our savings were many thousands of pounds, when Georges was being offered a fortune for life to put the gloves on, when the door was wide open to making colossal sums of money, we left London to fight in our beloved France.

I was of military age; I was recalled to the Colors as a matter or course. Carpentier knew it would be so, and on August 3, Georges, forgetting that in a week or so he was to fight Young Ahern for several thousand of pounds, rushed to me in our room at the Hotel Metropole, and with the news of war held high in his hand, he shouted as he embraced me:

"Francois, you are a soldier of France already; and so am I, for if my class will not be called up for some time I go with you to fight now. We must always be together."

And to Paris we sped at the earliest opportunity.

Our journey to me was a dreadful experience, for I knew that the odds were that at a time when Carpentier had reached almost the summit of his ambition, he was, like millions of others, about to live with death. In a night, I felt we had been switched from almost unbelieveable affluence to—I dared not contemplate. But Carpentier was as happy as a child.

"I can afford to be a soldier. I am 19 and I have a million francs. If I never box again I need not despair. For I am rich. Oh, Francois, this is a great day, and it is to you that I owe everything!"

Now We Must Begin Again.

I saw little or no service, for I was declared to be medically unfit for fighting. I would only say of Georges that he has proved a great soldier, and when I look upon his decorations for valor, the pride I feel is indescribable.

Now we are at it again. That he would add to the greatness he had won in 1914, I was sure, but I confess that I shall feel happier when I find that he has proved in the ring that he is the Carpentier which he gave promise of being in those days of old.

Carpentier has always had many interests outside the ring. He is naturally ambitious; he would excel in everyday life. Whilst he has always insisted that boxing should occupy his first thoughts, he has given much of his time to acquiring knowledge so as to fit him for any walk of life.

From boyhood he has been a great reader; there are few classical literary works he has not devoured, and today I make bold to say that there are few men who have struggled harder to educate themselves.

It is said, and with every truth, that Carpentier may go into any company. For one who after all is a professional boxer, he can talk on art and literature intelligently and well.

His passion for music is deep and sincere; he knows by heart the scores of many operas, but whilst his learnings are for the classical, he is gloriously catholic. He can sing in English most any of those little rag-time melodies you hear every day; and these he will often revel in during his moments of leisure in his training.

Will He Finish World Champion

It is the breadth of his outlook, his yearning for knowledge of men and things, and the world in general; his ability to detach himself from fighting, that is the secret of his greatness.

It may be that he will not finish champion of the world; it may be that five years' absence from the ring will have impaired his power to fight, despite the indication of his ability against Beckett. But whatever be in store for him, it may be claimed that he has done the greatest possible good for young France. For Carpentier, more than any other man, has caused all the youth of France to strive for excellence in the great game of boxing, and, by his example, the young men of his country in the near future will challenge comparison with the best of all the nations.

Nelson Captures Feature Race of Bicycle Carnival

Wins 2½-Mile Handicap Event at Fairground in 6 Minutes, 4 Seconds.

Chester C. Nelson of the Century Cycling Club, riding from scratch, defeated a field of 17 starters in the two and a half mile handicap, the feature event of the afternoon program of bicycle races held yesterday at Fairground Park under the auspices of the St. Louis Cycle Dealers' Association. Louis Droz and George Duemler from the same club, finished less than a foot behind Nelson. The winner's time was 6 minutes 4 seconds, a remarkable record for the course.

W. T. Martin, last year's juvenile champion, finished fourth and W. J. Martin, his 10-year-old brother, fifth.

Carl Allen, unattached, was the winner in the slow race. The one-mile scratch event for Bicycle Dealers only brought out seven entrants and was won by Tom Mitchel of the Fairgrounds Cycle Shop. Mitchel's time was 4m. 46s.

The juvenile championship was won by Elmer Layton, who negotiated the mile and a fifth in 3m. 22s. John Schmoll, Republican City Committeeman, acted as starter. William Homan was awarded first prize in the "Trick" riding exhibition.

A bicycle parade starting at King's highway and Lindell, in which about 200 wheelmen participated, preceded the races.

The summary:

Slow race—Carl Allen, unattached, first; James Little, Centurys, second; J. Bailey, M. C. W., third.

Bicycle Dealers Only—Tom Mitchel, first; J. Bruns, second; C. B. Jansky, third; C. Savage, fourth; A. Ellerbrecht, fifth.

Trick Riding—First prize awarded to William Homan, second prize awarded to A. Pauley, third prize awarded to George Duemler.

Juvenile Race—E. Layton, first; W. J. Martin, second; J. Hellman, third; D. Smith, fourth; E. Liedel, fifth.

Two and one-half mile handicap (open to all)—C. Nelson, Centurys, first; L. Droz, Centurys, second; G. Duemler, Centurys, third; T. E. Martin, St. L. C. C., fourth; W. J. Martin, St. L. C. C., fifth; G. Conrad, Centurys, sixth; Al Barth, Centurys, seventh; Ed Sterbe, M. C. W., eighth; E. Layton, unattached, ninth; Theo. Scheel, St. L. C. C., tenth.

PENN TRIMS DARTMOUTH IN DUAL MEET, 72 TO 44

PHILADELPHIA, May 8.—Pennsylvania defeated Dartmouth in a dual track meet here today, 72½ to 44½ points.

Earl J. Thompson of Dartmouth, was the individual star, scoring 18 points. He took first in the high jump, the 120 high hurdles, 220-yard low hurdles and was second in the broad jump.

Jeff Smith Stops Frenchman.

PARIS, May 8.—Jeff Smith of Bayonne, N. J., knocked out the French middleweight, Ercole de Balzac, in three rounds, tonight, winning the middleweight championship of France. De Balzac was outclassed. The greatest crowd since the Johnson-Moran bout watched the contest.

Ranken High Is Winner.

The Ranken Trades School baseball nine defeated St. Louis U. High yesterday, 3 to 2. Ballard and Barnett pitched for the winners and yielded five hits, while Dilschneider, on the hill for the losers, yielded six safeties.

Washington Wins From Drake and Keeps M. V. Lead

Pikers' Victory, 4-3, Their Fourth Successive Defeat of the Bulldogs.

The Washington University baseball team retained leadership in the Missouri Valley Conference race by taking its fourth straight game from the Drake University nine, 4 to 3, at Francis Field, yesterday afternoon. Whereas the preceding victories had been walkaways for Bascom's men, yesterday's contest was one of the closest of the season.

Pitcher Monty Lyons drove in the winning run by sending a sacrifice fly to deep right in the ninth inning. George Thompson was at the time residing at third base as a result of a three-base muff in right field by Lutz.

Drake led during the greater part of the contest because of a three-run rally in the third inning. The Iowans got to Lyons for three singles and a double in this frame, all of them clean hits. This was the only time that the Pikeway hurler was in trouble, disposing of the opposition with ease during the other innings. Drake made only one hit after the third inning, a single by Sarff in the sixth.

Lyons also scored the tying run. He singled to short center, moved to second on a passed ball, to third on an infield out, and scored when Schewe dropped a beautiful bunt on the squeeze play.

SPORT SALAD

BY L. C. Davis

Old Songs With New Staves.

I SAW him once before
And I noted that he wore
Queer apparel,
And the paving-stones resound
As he totters o'er the ground
In his barrel.

They say that in his prime,
Ere the cost of living climb
Cut him down,
Not a sweller guy was found
By the crier on his round
Through the town.

Every tailor round about
Took a hand at turning out
What he wore,
But the prices are so high
That he can't afford to buy
Any more.

They say it used to take
Nine tailors for to make His apparel.
Now the cooper makes his clothes
And around the street he goes
In a barrel.

I know it is a sin
For me to sit and grin
At him here,
But the old back-number hat
And the barrel and all that Are so queer.

I WONDER.

What has become of the old-fashioned dummy that used to pose in front of the clothing store with a sign on him which read, "Take me away for $9.98?"

RICKS' SUSPENSION BY W. A. A. U. VERY UNJUST, "PEWEE" KAISER SAYS

"Peewee" Kaiser, the South Broadway Athletic Club boxer who gained the city 115-pound amateur title, Friday night, when his scheduled opponent and team-mate, Harry Ricks, failed to go on, is authority for the statement that the W. A. A. U. has suspended Ricks for his failure to compete in the final.

"That isn't fair to Ricks," Kaiser said today, "because both Ricks and myself were acting under the orders of our trainer, Tommy Bramell, who told both of us it would not look right for us to go on.

"You see Ricks and I are training partners and Mr. Bramell has taught us most of our boxing. He thought it might create bad feeling between us, if we fought, so he told us not to go on. I am just as much to blame as Ricks and deserved suspension just as much. I will not accept the title, if Ricks is held under suspension."

Ricks is a clever boy and the spectators were much disappointed when the principals failed to take part. Bramell has announced that he expects Ricks, Kaiser and George Puchta to turn professional within the next few weeks.

HARRISBURG HIGH WINS M'KENDREE TRACK MEET, WITH OLNEY SECOND

Harrisburg High School yesterday afternoon won the McKendree College annual Illinois Interscholastic track and field meet at Lebanon for the third consecutive year. Harrisburg scored a total of 24 points, against 20 by Olney, which landed second honors. Centralia was third with 15.

Weber of Olney was high man of the afternoon, with 13 points. He also furnished the most spectacular feature of the meet when he ran the final relay in the mile event and came from behind and captured first place.

Minner of Sparta High School won the tennis singles championship and with his partner, Holcomb, captured doubles honors. It was the second time Minner has captured the title.

About 20 high schools participated in the competition. No records for the meet were broken.

NAVY WINS TRACK MEET FROM SYRACUSE, 66-50

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 8.—The Navy-Syracuse field and track meet today developed one of the keenest competitions ever witnessed here, the Navy winning by a score of 66 to 50. One Naval Academy record fell as a result of the meet. This was the discus throw, Clapp, Navy, hurling the weight 128 feet 8 inches, which is a foot and an inch better than the former record made by R. Allen Jr. in 1919.

Syracuse was defeated in two other sports here today. They went down in lacrosse by 6 to 1 and were beaten by the Middies in a rifle competition, 2262 to 2045.

Chicago U. Net Team Wins.

CHICAGO, May 8.—The University of Chicago tennis team won two matches in the singles from the University of Oklahoma team today, the visitors capturing the doubles.

Golfer Holes Out in One, on the "Carry," At Municipal Course

PROBABLY the history of every golf course records the story of some player who "holed one in one;" but few such achievements have been accomplished under the conditions which attended a performance by George Stillwell of the Forest Park Golf Club, on the Municipal Links, last week.

Stillwell was playing the temporary Hole No. 17—not the pitch across the lake, but the substitute 130-yard affair. According to eye-witnesses, in the course of a match Stillwell not only holed out this iron shot in one stroke, but did it "on the carry."

The flag pole was in the cup, at the time, and it is believed that this prevented the ball from rebounding out of the cup, as it might have been expected to do.

U. S. OLYMPIC SUCCESS ENDANGERED BY HEAVY STEAMSHIP BOOKINGS

Literature being sent out from the American Olympic Committee headquarters at 290 Broadway, New York City, expresses grave fears for the success of the American Olympic team in the summer competitions. One circular reads in part:

"Unless Government assistance can be secured in transporting U. S. athletes to Belgium, the unsettled transatlantic travel conditions may militate seriously against the success of the United States athletes. Passenger steamers sailing to all European ports are booked up to the limit, with waiting lists. Tentative reservations have been made for a portion of the U. S. track team, for July 24; but the American Olympic Committee has no assurance that any or all of the team can leave then. This is the latest possible sailing date for the track men."

A movement has been started to have the team transported in Government vessels, but the bill making this possible is being held up in the House of Representatives, according to a letter, which quotes Gustavus T. Kerby, president of the American Olympic Committee.

BRITISH SEND TROPHY TO ARMY-NAVY BOXERS

(Copyright, 1920.)

LONDON, May 8.—Secretary of War Baker and Secretary of the Navy Daniels will receive jointly in the near future a silver shield, suitably mounted, as a token of appreciation from the Imperial Service Boxing Association.

This trophy is now on exhibition in a show window here, and will go forward in a few days. It bears this inscription:

"To the Army and Navy of the United States of America, from forces of British Empire, 1919. This trophy is given in admiration of the sporting spirit in which Americans entered and fought in the boxing tournament, London, December, 1918."

AMERICAN WOMAN WINS IN IRISH GOLF EVENT

NEW CASTLE, County Down, Ireland, May 8.—In matches played today preliminary to the British ladies' golf championship tournament, which begins next Tuesday, one of the American entrants was defeated and one was victorious. The matches were between married and single women. Mrs. C. H. Vanderbeck, American, was beaten by Miss Jackson, Irish. Miss Marion Hollins, American, easily defeated Mrs. Hulton, Irish.

Merkle and Flack Fined.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 8.—It became known today that serious dissension exists in the ranks of the Chicago club, and Manager Mitchell has started to clean things up. In yesterday's game Flack and Merkle allowed a fly ball to fall between them, letting in a run, and at the end of the inning Mitchell and Merkle had an argument on the bench, each calling the other a bone head.

Merkle was fined $25 and sent home, while Flack was also fined $25. Merkle apologized to Manager Mitchell last night and made an appeal to be left with the team, but Mitchell refused, saying he was going to show the ball players that he was a major league manager.

Barnes Defeats Wolff, One Up in 20-Hole Match

National "Pro" Golf Champion, in First Tour of Public Links, Strokes Course in 84.

Jim Barnes, national professional and Western open golf champion, won from Clarence Wolff, St. Louis district title-holder, one up in 20 holes, yesterday afternoon, in an exhibition match played over the Municipal golf course. Wolff was 2 up at the turn, but Barnes managed to even things at the eleventh, and by the sixteenth Wolff was one down.

At the seventeenth, with Barnes in easy distance of the hole, playing his fourth, and Wolff fifteen feet from the cup on his third, the match appeared to be Barnes'. But Wolff drew a round of applause by sinking the long putt for a three, and they were once more even up. The eighteenth was halved in 5, the nineteenth in the same number, and the twentieth hole gave the match to Barnes, when he holded in 4 and Wolff rimmed the cup and rolled away on his fourth.

Both players met with frequent difficulties on the greens, which were very rough, although play was consistently good. Barnes was playing over the course for the first time.

The finest shot of the afternoon came in play for the sixteenth hole. Barnes had driven to the rough and his ball lay in long grass in the midst of a clump of trees. Using a mashie, he lifted the ball to the center of the green, and eventually made the hole in four.

Barnes' drives were consistently good, and he was especially efficient with irons. His putting was slightly off, going out, but its accuracy matched that of his drives on the way back. Wolff's putting during the first nine holes was almost faultless, but he missed three easy ones in the last half, and the twentieth hole, which gave his opponent the match, was lost by a missed putt. Barnes received considerable applause at the beginning of the match by following the direction and distance of Wolff's drives, a practice made necessary by his ignorance of the course.

The match was arranged by D. R. Niederlander, president of the Forest Park Golf Club, in lieu of the usual club tournament which inaugurated Forest Park seasons in other years. The tournament has been put off this year until June.

The score:

BARNES AND HAGEN MAY OPPOSE BRITISH PAIR

Jim Barnes, national professional and Western open golf champion, has received an invitation from the Addington Golf Club of London, England, to be paired with Walter Hagen, the American professional, in a match against Abe Mitchell and George Duncan, English professionals, the winning pair to divide a purse of £100 (normally $500). The match is to be a 36-hole best ball tournament, played over the Addington course.

Barnes has written Honorary Secretary Croome of the Addington Club, that he will accept the offer, but Hagen has not yet been heard from, although he is expected to follow Barnes' lead in accepting. The match will take place June 10, if Hagen agrees, and will be staged as a preliminary to the British open, which takes place later in the month.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG
It's Easy—If You Know
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 10c and 25c.

PEOPLE INVITED TO EXHIBIT FLOWERS AT SHAW'S GARDEN

Prizes Offered by St. Louis Garden Club for Best Displays of Home Flowers.

An invitation to the public to exhibit home garden flowers, shrubs and vegetables at the free Flower Show at Shaw's Garden next Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings, is received by the St. Louis Garden Club which is giving the show. No charge is made for entries and entry cards may be obtained from Mrs. James T. Drummond, 5339 Pershing avenue, phone Forest 5160.

A handsome sun dial, bronze vases, a stone bird bath, bird house, collections of garden tools and a mahogany, eight-day clock are among the prizes offered. Cash prizes also have been offered for displays to be made by commercial florists.

It is hoped to have many entries of lilacs, snowballs, well known annuals and common garden flowers in order that people who attend the exhibition may see the possibilities of raising flowers in their own yards. Spring vegetable exhibits also are sought.

Herman Von Schrenk s president of the St. Louis Garden Club, Dr. Robert J. Terry is vice president, and William N. Matthews is secretary and treasurer, and there is a membership of about 50 men and women.

COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL DEFEATS KANSAS CITY

Boys of 14-Year-Old Class Easy Winners by 11 to 1 Score in Baseball Game.

The baseball team of the St. Louis Country Day School, Brown and Natural Bridge roads, defeated the junior team of the Kansas City Country Day School by a score of 11 to 1, yesterday afternoon. The members of both teams average about 14 years in age.

A crowd of more than 250 witnessed the game.

The local team, which last year defeated the same team at Kansas City, was clearly superior. The pitcher for the victors, Wade Childress, son of L. Wade Childress, Clayton and McKnight roads, Clayton, was the star, striking out 14 of the opposing players, performing many difficult fielding feats, and making three hits. Young Childress, who is just 16 years old, is a "veteran" of last year's team.

The local team made 10 hits and scored several times on errors, while the Kansas City team could not "find" the ball.

In the second inning, Childress struck out three men in a row after first allowing two a base on balls. Harold Jones, captain and pitcher of the Kansas City team, allowed two to "walk" in this inning, and the St. Louis team scored three runs. The visiting team scored its only run in the third inning. An opportunity to score again in the third inning was lost when Warren Brown took too big a lead off second base, and as the coach was calling him to go back because "you're not George Sisler," was put out by a good throw from the catcher.

In the fourth inning Childress again struck out three men. In this inninfi the "Codascos" scored two runs when Richard Morey Jr. made a two-base hit, scoring Edward Simmons and Childress. The other runs were made by the St. Louis team in the fifth and sixth innings.

The playing on both sides was unusual for teams of their age, the players executing plays in the pinches that would do credit to professionals. The fielding by the Kansas City team was not as good as that of the locals. The Kansas City team was coached by Ralph I. Underhill, head master, and the St. Louis team by Head Master Rollin M. Gallagher, who played baseball on the Harvard freshman team. The St. Louis school has an enrollment of 70.

WATCHMAN KILLS HIMSELF

Peter Schmitt, 52 years old, a watchman, killed himself yesterday by inhaling gas at his home, 5336 Greer avenue. His wife returned from a store at 7:30 a. m. and found him dead at the dining room table. He had turned on the gas and placed a lamp tube in his mouth.

Mrs. Schmitt told policemen her husband had been ill for nearly two years.

A New Non-Skid That Won't Skid

Gillette Non-Skid Fabric Tires give the service you want—demand and need. They won't skid when new, when old or anywhere along their long life of service. They catch hold and hang on without hindering free, forward action of machine. They do away with skids and slides—and save fuel wasted by slips, suction and hard-to-keep-the-road driving. Gillette Non-Skids

Won't Waste Away

—because they are produced with the exclusive Gillette Chilled Rubber Process, a refining treatment which toughens rubber as iron is toughened when changed to steel. Gives rubber a constitution that wears like steel—that stands the constant grind—grind of gravel and sand—the pull of mud and strain of hard, unyielding pavements—that is not affected by biting cold or melting heat of sun or road. There is no fabric separation or tread separation—fewer blow-outs.

Won't Run Up Excessive Costs

No extravagance. Every ounce of fabric and rubber produce mileage—non-skid mileage—safe mileage and at a big important saving in both repair and renewal costs.

PAIGE
The Most Serviceable Truck in America
MOTOR TRUCKS

"The 2½ ton Paige Truck is giving good service. We have hauled as much as 3 cords of wood at one load, weighing 3400 lbs. to the cord. The average load is from 6000 to 7000 lbs., yet we have plenty of power at all times."

ROBERT C. MURPHY
Macomb, Ill.

Prominent among the qualities of Paige Motor Trucks is that which is commonly referred to as its "factor of safety." In building Paige Trucks, we have intentionally endowed them with a strength considerably greater than would ordinarily be required for the carrying of their rated loads. The margin of safety is sufficiently great to provide adequate protection against injuries which might otherwise result from thoughtless treatment.

DEMAND FOR FLATS AND APARTMENTS IS OVERWHELMING

Inadequate Materials, Diversion of Capital to Other Purposes and High Money Given as Aggravating Factors.

By Berry Moore.

The number of buyers for houses, flats and apartments is strikingly disproportionate to the available supply in St. Louis, while construction is being curtailed by inability to get building material in adequate supply and the diversion of capital for other purposes, to say nothing of prevailing high rates for money, it is declared by well-informed members of the real estate fraternity.

"While I am not an alarmist," said Henry R. Weisels, "I cannot be optimistic as to the future housing situation, which, according to indications, is becoming worse. We receive from 25 to 30 inquiries a day for flats and apartments from the renting contingent, with nothing to offer, while we have a waiting list in this connection of 250 or more. Accordingly, henceforth there must be more or less joint occupancy of houses or apartments if everybody in St. Louis and those coming here, incident to the industrial growth of the city, are to be sheltered.

"With banks and trust companies charging 7 per cent for money and the prices of building material and labor on an ascending scale, construction is destined to remain at a low ebb. As a matter of fact, it is even hard to get material and labor for ordinary repairs incident to purchases, as the construction of large industrial plants in St. Louis and at other cities, with the bonus system in vogue, is monopolizing things."

Apropos the money situation, Weisels quoted an excerpt from the letter of a large life insurance company of New York which makes loans on St. Louis real estate through the Weisels-Gerhart Real Estate Co.:

"We cannot, at this time, consider loans on anything but new small dwellings or new moderate-priced apartment houses, as all of the funds we have at present for mortgage investment we think it necessary to reserve for this purpose in order to assist in relieving the present very dangerous housing situation."

Real Estate Strengthened.

"As a result, howevr, the real estate situation in St. Louis has been vastly strengthened, while the investment status of flats and apartments, office and business buildings of all descriptions, has been greatly enhanced, as exemplified in increased revenue."

Sales of flats and apartments gave swollen proportions to the volume of real estate operations during the week, according to Chester A. Dougherty of the Dougherty Real Estate Co., which has a large and diversified business. According to real estate agents, the bulk of the proceeds from sales of real estate, especially of houses, flats and apartments, is flowing back into real estate channels through the purchases of mortgage paper and deeds of trust, notably that offered by the Mercantile Trust Co., Hemmelmann-Spackler Real Estate Co., the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., and the Mortgage Trust Co.

J. B. Moberly, manager of the real estate loan department of the Mercantile Trust Co., reports unprecedentedly heavy demand for that company's serial mortgage notes, especially those covering the Rice-Stix Dry Goods Co.'s building under construction at Tenth and Locust streets, which yields 6 per cent, while the Hemmelmann-Spackler Real Estate Co.'s 6 per cent notes are having a brisk sale. The Mississippi Valley Trust Co. and the Mortgage Trust Co. are also kept busy in supplying the demand for their paper, according to these concerns.

High-Class Homes Sales.

Buyers of high-class homes set a new record during the week, as indicated by reports from Franciscus & Kunz, Edward L. Bakewell, Giraldin Bros., Cornet & Zeibig, John S. Blake & Bro., Albert T. Terry & Co., the Walter Scott Realty Co. and other leading concerns. Other factors were the Joseph F. Dickmann Real Estate Co., Roettger-Masek Realty Co., the Henry Helmenz Realty Co., Christian Brinkoff and Anderson-Stecke-Buerman, were conspicuous. The Benjamin Altheimer & Bro. Realty Co. concluded several large transactions of the investment order. J. I. Epstein was also a prominent intermediary in apartment building sales involving extensive investments. Incidently Epstein Bros. sold 35 homes in Ames pl. this spring.

The movement was broad in all fields of the St. Louis realty market, while negotiations were initiated looking to the launching of several projects which will lend added prestige to the commercial importance of the city.

As a side light, plans were disclosed for remodeling the Southern Hotel building, embracing an entire block at Broadway and Walnut street, by a large concern, by John F. Queeny, a director of the Mercantile Trust Co., and president of the Monsanto Chemical Co., who bought the big building from the Allens several months ago before his departure for Europe. He has been advertising the building in outside papers with a view to landing a major concern to occupy the eligible structure.

5-STORY APARTMENT FOR WASHINGTON AVENUE

Morris Corn has bought 160x233 feet, on which are four eight and 10 room houses, at 3872-80 Washington avenue, and announces that he has plans for the erection on the site of a five-story kitchenette apartment building. The transaction was through the Weisels-Gerhart Real Estate Co., the east 100 feet being sold for E. Mason Roberts, and the west 60 feet for Mrs. C. Spencer, who was represented by Daly & McCabe.

The Weisels-Gerhart Co. announce the sale of the Ritz Apartments at 5607 Waterman avenue, owned by John F. O'Niel to A. Magid. It is a modern three-family structure erected several years ago by Oscar A. Elmore, each apartment having seven rooms, two baths, sun parlor, large living room, hardwood floors, steam heat, side entrance, driveway and garages. The annual rentals aggregate $3600.

The Weisels-Gerhart Co. also announces the sale of the Saxon Apartments at 5915 McPherson avenue, to Alfred Alline. Each apartment, of which there are three, has five rooms, reception hall, bath and open porch. The seller was Nathan Frank.

THREE BUSINESS LEASES AND SALE OF FACTORY REPORTED

The Martin-Breitt Real Estate Co. reports having closed three commercial leases last week and sold the factory building at 915-17 Wash street.

The St. Louis Law Printing Co. leased the fifth floor of 411-15 North Eighth street from the A. Moll Grocery Co., which occupies the ground floor.

The Alaska Fur Co. leased the first floor and basement at 819 Washington avenue and will install a retail fur store. The company is now at 714 Washington avenue. Williams & Bland represented Eliza S. Bailey, owner of the property.

G. S. Tourville, who has been located at 12 North Fourth street, leased the three-story building at 9 South Broadway, to which he will transfer his book store. The lease was made for A. Elizabeth Sewell, represented by Lindell Gordon.

Sidney A. Biele purchased the three-story factory building at 915-17 Wash street. The Federer-Arendes-Coller Realty Co. represented the purchaser and Martin-Breitt the heirs of the late F. H. W. Krenning Sr.

LARGE VOLUME OF SALES IN DAVIS COMPANY SUBDIVISIONS

"It is remarkable," said Earl Watkins, sales manager for the Davis Realty Development Co., "the volume of business closed the past week in our various subdivisions. Never before in the 18 years of the Davis company have we experienced such a flood of inquiry, taking the best effort of our enlarged office force in the preparation of papers in the closing of transactions.

"By far the larger volume has been closed in Motor Heights, and our latest industrial subdivision, Durant Park, yet considerable business has been done in Maryland Terrace, Vinita and City View.

"The outstanding feature of the business continues to be the large percentage of cash paid by purchasers, never less than 25 per cent of the full price, and in many instances, buyers are taking advantage of the discounts and paying half or all cash.

"When it is considered that for some weeks we have been unable to adequately announce our offerings through the newspapers, because of scant news print paper, the result obtained speaks volumes for the intrinsic merit of the properties as well as the keen foresight of the public."

HOMESEEKERS AND INVESTORS ACQUIRING SITES IN UPLANDS

Upland, situated on Natural Bridge road, two blocks west of Pine Lawn, is attracting much attention from homeseekers and those in quest of lots with speculative advantages.

The addition, which is a model of its class, was laid out by Tom Francis, who has set a standard for its upbuilding by the erection of 10 7-room high type bungalows, all of which have been sold and which are now occupied by the purchasers.

The addition has made streets, sidewalks, sewer and water mains, in fact, every advantage of the city proper. It is available for houses for persons identified with the new big industry in process of building on the north sde of Natural Bridge road from King's highway to Union boulevard. Many lots of this addition are being bought for both home sites and for investment or speculation.

Skinker Heights Lot Sold.

Albert T. Terry & Co. report having passed the final papers in the sale of 227 feet of ground on the south side of University Lane, in Skinker Heights, from Robert L. Brookings to Templeton W. Wood, who has plans for the erection of a handsome home.

BEVERLY HILLS LOTS BEING RAPIDLY TAKEN

Beverly Hills, a subdivision opened two weeks ago by Knobeloch & Prettyman, at the corner of Lucas and Hunt and Natural Bridge roads, is selling fast. More than $80,000 worth of business has been done by a force of salesman working in teams.

Prices of lots in the tract increased last Monday to conform to higher prices paid in making improvements. The cost of water, gas, sewer, streets and sidewalks is included in the purchase price.

Electric lights are to be placed on streets and a special campaign of selling in the evenings will be made for those who cannot visit Beverly Hills during the day. This is a new feature in the campaign.

Situated on the crest of the highest point in the county, Beverly Hills is a most desirable location for homes, and it appears to be certain that all lots will be sold before the plans for improvements are completed.

The woman's department, under direction of Lillian E. Dudley, has completed arrangements to organize additional units and a reservation of 24 lots has been made by Miss Dudley, to be taken over by women who are purchasing as an investment. These lots will be placed on resale soon. Unit No. 1, including Mrs. G. V. R. Mechin, Mrs. E. G. Lasar, Mrs. Louis Kurtzeborn and Mrs. George H. Coleman, has realized on the first investment, which was made April 10.

Samuel Hardin, who sold out Delmar tract in two weeks, setting a sales record, has joined Knobeloch & Prettyman and will be the general manager. A sales force of 30 men is working under direction of Hardin.

TWO SIX-FAMILY APARTMENTS SOLD FOR TOTAL OF $107,500

The Dyas-Shelp Realty Co. announces the sale of 5355 Pershing avenue, a six-family apartment, for the Edward Westen estate, to the Levy Realty & Building Co., of which Chas. J. Levy is president, for $70,000. Each apartment has 8 rooms, 2 baths, sun parlor and sleeping porch, with garage space in the rear for six cars. The annual rental is $13,000.

This agency also sold 5715 McPherson avenue, a six-family apartment, for a client to John F. Luebke, for $37,500. Each of these apartments is of five rooms and sun parlor. It returns an annual rental of $5500. This property will be under the management of the Dyas-Shelp Company.

TWO HANDSOME WEST END HOMES SOLD BY BAKEWELLS

Mrs. May Chisholm has bought 4967 Forest park boulevard, the home of the late Ely Hilles Larkin. The house is one of the handsomest on Forest Park boulevard. The price paid, it is understood, was $25,000.

The sale was effected by McNair Bakewell ~~of the Edward~~ L. Bakewell office, in connection with Charles Cummings Collins, attorney, and the St. Louis Union Trust Co., executors of the Larkin estate.

John Pack, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, has acquired a fine house at 4707 Westminster place, through Edward L. Bakewell and his brother, McNair Bakewell, representing James R. Finley. The consideration was not disclosed.

DR. NIEDRINGHAUS BUYS COUNTY RESIDENCE OF DWIGHT F. DAVIS

Dr. Ralph Niedringhaus has bought the country home of Dwight F. Davis, on the west side of Denny road, about one mile south of the Clayton road. The house, which is of the bungalow order, has 10 rooms, two baths, sun parlor and other attractive features. The site, comprising 20 acres, is heavily dotted with imposing forest treets.

RUTH JOINS HALLER AGENCY

Alfred D. Ruth has become identified with the Julius Haller Real Estate Co. as its secretary and treasurer, having resigned his position as manager of the Sterling Apartments. He was formerly assistant real estate officer of the City Trust Co., of which Haller was real estate officer. He is therefore no novice in the real estate business.

Goessling Buys Home in County.

A 10-room house at 633 Hanley road, with 100x300 feet of ground, has been bought by Fred W. Goessling, of the Goessling Box Co. The house has three baths, extra lavatory, a sun parlor and a sleeping porch. Albert T. Terry & Co. made the sale.

Church Buys Parsonage.

The First Presbyterian Church of Kirkwood has purchased the former home of Dr. J. D. Edwards which adjoins the church. The house will be used as a parsonage. The Hewson Realty Co. represented both parties to the transaction.

McPherson Avenue House Sold.

Harry M. Webster has bought, through Edward L. Bakewell, a house at 6188 McPherson avenue, from W. A. C. Holmes, who was represented by the Fletcher R. Harris Realty Co.

All Improvements

BEVERLY HILLS is now the scene of greater high-grade development than any section of St. Louis. Think what this means to property owners — men and women who have got in on the ground floor and bought real estate before the tremendous increases went into effect. Beverly Hills is destined to become the ideal home-site of Northwest St. Louis. It lies right in the path of that section of St. Louis that is benefiting the greatest because of the great development that is going on. Those who are wise and act today will make huge profits off of those who wait and buy tomorrow. Beverly Hills will build up fast, and six months from today you will be astonished at the marvelous transformation that will have taken place. See Beverly Hills and let your vision picture this section a few months from now.

DO YOU NEED CAPITAL TO ENLARGE YOUR BUSINESS?
GET IT AT LOWEST COST.
MY PLAN ELIMINATES THE SECURITIES BROKER. I AM A FINANCIAL DIRECTOR. I ATTEND TO EVERYTHING FOR YOU. I CAN FURNISH A COMPLETE ORGANIZATION TO PLACE YOUR SECURITIES FROM YOUR OWN OFFICE IF DESIRED.

I know my business. I have raised millions of dollars for industrial corporations. I will not direct the sale of any issue of less than $500,000. I prefer $1,000,000 and upwards. Before doing business, I investigate you thoroughly. You must have legitimate reasons for use of additional capital for expansion; your company must be earning and paying dividends; you must furnish an audit of your books by a certified public accountant; you must comply with laws governing the sale of securities, without subterfuges.

I will direct the sale of the securities; furnish copy for circulars, etc., subject to the approval of your board of directors and your attorney. I will furnish a high lass sales manager and salesmen, every one of whom will be under bond. No misrepresentation will be permitted. I will furnish the customers. In other words, I will establish a department for the sale of your securities in your own place of business, without interfering with any other department, or I will direct the marketing of your securities from a separate office as you desire, or I will direct your own sales manager how to conduct a financial department for you; I give preference to issue of preferred and common stocks to be sold together, but that is not imperative.

My plan is a scientific one based on many years' experience and actual accomplishments in marketing securities quickly at minimum cost. I have all the facilities which I place at your service under my direction and subject to your approval.

In reply give brief history of your business, capitalization, par value, earnings, names and references of directors, stock issued and outstanding, number of stockholders, nature of business, why additional funds are needed, etc. All of which will be held strictly confidential. Address by letter only.
Financial Director, 515 Marquette Bldg., Chicago.

JESSE KOFRON, WIFE AND LITTLE SISTERS.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of our darling baby, Louis Dueringer, who passed away six years ago, May 2, 1914. Lovingly,
MOTHER AND FATHER.

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Christ Braun, who passed away one year ago, May 5, 1919. Sadly missed by MOTHER, SISTERS AND BROTHERS.

In sweet memory of my dear mother, on Mothers' day, Mrs. Caroline Ahrenholz, who died Jan. 8, 1916.
Sadly missed by her daughter,
MRS. F. W. SACHSE (nee Ahrenholz).

In loving remembrance of our dear daughter and sister, Mamie Schneider, of 3426 Ohio avenue, who departed this life one year ago. Sadly missed by PARENTS, SISTER AND BROTHER. (c)

In loving memory of my husband, Ferdinand Henckler, who departed May 7, 1917:
I am lonesome in the midst of my pleasures;
I am blue, a smile on my face.
Still a heart aching and longing for you.
Sadly missed by WIFE.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of my dear husband, F. H. Walker, who departed this life May 11, 1913:
My heart in deep sorrows returns to the day,
As memory recalls how death bore you away.
Sadly missed by his wife. MARTHA.

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, who departed this life two years ago, May 13, 1918:
The depth of our sorrow we cannot tell
In the loss of our dear son and brother we loved so well;
And while he lies in peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep.
Sadly missed by
FATHER, BROTHERS, SISTERS AND NEPHEW.

In loving memory of our dear sister-in-law, Irene Pustmueller, who left us one year ago, April 29, 1919:
Today recalls sad memories
Of the loved one gone to rest,
And those who think of her today
Are the ones who loved her best.
Our dear Irene, how we miss you,
Since from earth you have passed away;
Sad our hearts, but sweet the memory
As we think of your birthday—which was Saturday, May 1.
Sadly missed by
MOTHER-IN-LAW, SISTERS-IN-LAW.

In loving remembrance of our darling daughter, darling mother, Alice Howe, who departed this life one year ago, May 7, 1919:
Just one year ago you left us.
How we miss you, Alice, dear.
You are gone, but not forgotten
By the ones who loved you here.
Our dear Alice, how we miss you,
Since from earth you passed away.
Sad our hearts, but sweet our memories
As we think of you every day.
Sadly missed by her children.
CATHERINE AND PAUL HOWE.

In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Miss Della Vogel, who departed from this world May 8, 1919:
Daughter, dear, it's just one year
Since you left us broken-hearted.
Those who saw you in your casket,
Pure white, and O, so fair,
Thought you were the like of heaven
As you lay so sweetly there.
Your merry laugh we hear no more,
The voice we loved is still,
And all thought is left for memory
In your grave on a distant hill.
Sadly missed by
MOTHER, BROTHER AND SISTERS.

In loving memory of my dearly beloved and only daughter, Mary Weiss (nee Buskirk), who departed this world on May 10, 1919:
One year has passed away;
Sad and sudden was the call:
Loving daughter, true and kind
No friend on earth like her I'll find.
I could not realize when the message said
That she was low, but I found her dead.
Do not ask me if I miss her,
Oh, there's such a vacant place.
Oft I think I hear her footsteps
Or I see her smiling face.
By all of us she did her best,
May God grant her eternal rest.
Sadly missed by mother,
MRS. M. LANGFORD.

In loving memory of my dear father, August Bornscheim, who departed this life May 8, 1915:
My greatest sorrow came to me five years ago today.
Why hast Thou done this, Lord, yes why?
I am at a loss to see, to know.
I do not understand today, since five sad years have passed away.
But this I know, in this I rest—
'Twas God who called, and He knows best.
And while I mourn your death,
A life so full of deeds of kindness and of love
Has found reward with God above.
When the evening shades are falling
And I am sitting all alone,
In my heart there comes a longing
If you only would come home.
Sadly missed by his lonely daughter,
JENNIE.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dearly beloved brother and our nephew, Oscar J. Schweigler, who departed this life two years ago, May 11, 1918:
When the evening shades are falling,
And we are sitting all alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing,
If he only could come home.

Oh, loving Oscar, so true and kind,
Your life so full of deeds of love and good,
No more your kind and smiling face
Will light the gloom of our home,
Where there is, oh, such a vacant place.

You are absent, but not forgotten,
No, nor will you ever be,
So long as our life and memory lasts,
We will always sweetly remember you.
Sadly missed by
SISTER, AUNT AND UNCLE, MR. AND MRS. FLAIR, and all who loved him.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

As we have no information bureau, it is impossible to answer queries by mail or telephone. Query for Sunday must be mailed a week beforehand.

D. H.—You can probably get the books at the Public Library.

STUDENT.—In 1918 and 1919 Kansas lead all states in the production of wheat.

M. J. S.—Any furniture store can tell you the best kind of polish to buy for your American walnut furniture.

BLONDY.—You could get the addresses of song publishers off of music. Perhaps if you sent your lyric to one of them they could use it.

R. E. X.—The method of silver and copper plating is too long to be printed in this column. There are books in the library that will help you.

H. A. S.—The half dime of 1853 is worth from 5c to 10c. The hole in the coin might make it less valuable. The half dime of 1869 is worth from 5c to 20c.

V. N.—We have not the space to print the meanings ascribed to all the flowers. Usually in the back of a dictionary the language of flowers is given.

E. E. M. S.—If you will inquire at the railroad ticket office you can obtain the information you want. We have not the space to print the answers to all the questions you ask.

NOXPATER.—The most direct route to New Orleans from New York by rail is across the South Eastern States. Going that way you will have to travel about 1200 miles.

E. E.—You can find the Ten Commandments in the fifth chapter of Deuteronomy. The Lord's Prayer is in the eleventh chapter of Luke. You do not have to say any set prayer for grace.

MARGARET EVANS.—Cheese Straws: Roll puff or plain pie paste ¼ inch thick, sprinkle ½ with grated cheese to which has been added a few grains of salt and cayenne. Fold, press edges firmly together, fold again; pat, and roll out ¼ inch thick. Sprinkle with cheese and proceed as before; repeat twice. Cut in strips 5 inches long and ¼ inch wide. Bake 8 minutes in a hot oven. Parmesan cheese, or equal parts of Parmesan and Edam cheese, may be used. Cheese straws are piled log cabin fashion and served with cheese or salad course.

NEWLY WED.—Perhaps if you follow the following directions for making waffles you will be more successful: Take 1¾ cups of flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, yolks 2 eggs, whites 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon melted butter. Mix and sift dry ingredients; add milk gradually, yolks of eggs well beaten, butter and whites of eggs beaten stiff; cook on a greased hot waffle iron. Serve with maple syrup. A waffle iron should fit closely on range, be well heated on one side, turned, heated on the other side, and thoroughly greased before iron is filled. In filling, put a tablespoonful of mixture in each compartment near center of iron, cover, and the mixture will spread to just fill the iron. If sufficiently heated, it should be turned almost as soon as filled and covered. In using a new iron, special care must be taken in greasing, or waffles will stick. Waffle paste must not be too stiff. It should be thin enough to run easily off the spoon.

LEGAL INFORMATION.

(Prepared by a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association.)

MRS. L.—If no time was set you should have taken the rug within a reasonable time.

JACK.—You must have a fishing license if you wish to fish in either Missouri or Illinois.

J. E. M.—If you killed the chicken when it came in your yard we think that you would have to pay for it.

E. HARING.—Have some friend in Cleveland look up the matter and see if the clothes have been shipped.

WORRIED.—A common law marriage cannot be dissolved after a separation of a year. You must obtain a divorce.

PRVADA.—You are required to include the interest, whether you drew it under your own name or under a fictitious one.

IN DOUBT.—A tax must be paid on ice cream cones sold to be eaten in or in close proximity to the bakery. There is a tax of 1 cent on each 25 cents worth (or part thereof) of cough drops.

PAXTON.—If he obtained his divorce in Missouri he can be married in Illinois within three months. A Missouri license cannot be used in Illinois.

ROBERT.—Whoever pays for the house ought to get it. You could sue the man who wrote the false letter about you if you knew who he was.

W. E. J.—The pawnbroker cannot sell the article so long as the interest is paid, unless there has been an express agreement permitting him to do so. The law provides that he cannot sell the article, in case of default on interest, until 60 days after the default. The maiden name of a woman is not automatically restored when she receives her divorce, but if she is not at fault she can have it restored, usually.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS.

(Answers prepared by a physician of authority. Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnoses or treatment of individual cases will not be given. Questions that cannot be publicly discussed, if showing evidences of sincerity, will be answered when accompanied by stamped envelope.)

S. PAUL KELLY.—Nothing causes consumption excepting an infection by the bacillus of tuberculosis. Smoking, however, in a 15-year-old boy is a very bad practice as it may affect your general health and your development.

HELEN MYERS.—The following is one of the most successful ointments for the removing of freckles: Ammoniated mercury and bismuth subnitrate 1 dram of each, rose water intment 1 ounce. Make this into an ointment and apply at night. One part of lactic acid to 20 parts of water is also recommended. For very black freckles an excellent plan is to touch each, quite superficially with a stiff fine needle attached to the negative pole of a galvanic battery. As a prophylactic the wearing of gloves and red and light brown veils has been suggested.

L. J. M.—Fleshworms are known as comedones. They are caused by the excretory ducts of the sebaceous glands becoming plugged up by hardened sebum mixed with epithelial cells. The treatment: Attention to diet, general hygiene, etc. Locally, their expression with stimulating applications. The following lotion may be used at night: Saponis olivea praep. and alcohol, of each 1 ounce; rose water, 7 ounces. Mix and rub in with a piece of dampened flannel. If this causes the skin to be rough, use cold cream in the morning. These sacs may be permanently obliterated with the electric needle. The X-rays are also employed, especially where large surfaces on the body are invaded. See answer to Dok, printed in this column April 16, for a remedy for pimples.

MR. TIREMAN—Before buying a new sectional or retreading vulcanizing machine, see the "Western" in action. It is the only machine on the market that is capable of producing two plain and five nonskid designs, seven in all; a set of these machines installed in your shop will soon pay for itself. To own one is a pleasure; to work on it a delight; catalogue sent on request. Vuch's Tire Vulcanizery, Demonstrating Agents, 3405 Gravois. (c99)

THE Alemite high-pressure lubricating system consists of fittings which provides for the quick, simple and positive lubrication of the chassis. The screw grease compressor, producing a pressure of 500 lbs. to the square inch, is able to dislodge worn-out grease, replacing same with new. It is very simple to attach the Alemite fittings; they take the place of the old-style oil and grease cups on any automobile, truck or tractor. Obtainable at all garages, dealers and repair shops. Alemite Lubricator Co., 3132 Locust st. Bomont 2184. (c63)

Five Days to Prove I Can Raise Your Pay

No matter how much you are earning now, I can show you how to increase it. I have even taken failures and shown them how to make $100—$200, and in one case as high as $2,000 weekly. I am willing to prove this entirely at my risk and expense.

LET'S have a little chat about getting ahead—you and I. My name is Pelton. Lots of people call me "The Man Who Makes Men Rich." I don't deny it. I've done it for thousands of people—lifted them up from poverty to riches.

I'm no genius—far from it. I'm just a plain, everyday, unassuming sort of man. I know what poverty is. I've looked black despair in the eye—had failure stalk me around and hoodoo everything I did. I've known the bitterest kind of want.

But today all is different. I have money and all of the things that money will buy. I am rich also in the things that money won't buy—health, happiness and friendship. Few people have more of the blessings of the world than I.

IT was a simple thing that jumped me up from poverty to riches. As I've said, I'm no genius. One day this man told me a "secret." It had to do with getting ahead and growing rich. He had used it himself with remarkable results. He said that every wealthy man knew this "secret"—that is why he was rich.

I used the "secret." It surely had a good test. At that time I was flat broke. Worse than that, for I was several thousand dollars in the hole. I had about given up hope when I put the "secret" to work.

At first I couldn't believe my sudden change in fortune. Money actually flowed in on me. I was thrilled with a new sense of power. Things I couldn't do before became as easy for me to do as opening a door. My business boomed and continued to leap ahead at a rate that startled me. Prosperity became my partner. Since that day I've never known what it is to want for money, friendship, happiness, health, or any of the good things of life.

That "secret" surely made me rich in every sense of the word.

MY sudden rise to riches naturally surprised others. One by one people came to me and asked me how I did it. I told them. And it worked for them as well as it did for me.

Some of the things this "secret" has done for people are astounding. I would hardly believe them if I hadn't seen them with my own eyes. Adding ten, twenty, thirty or forty dollars a week to a man's income is a mere nothing. That's merely playing at it. In one case I took a rank failure and in a few weeks had him earning as high as $2000 a week. Listen to this:

A young man in the East had an article for which there was a nation-wide demand. For twelve years he "puttered around" with it, barely eking out a living. Today this young man is worth $200,000. He is building a $25,000 home and paying cash for it. He has three automobiles. His children go to private schools. He goes hunting, fishing, traveling whenever the mood strikes him. His income is over a thousand dollars a week.

In a little town in New York lives a man who two years ago was pitied by all who knew him. From the time he was 14 he had worked and slaved—and at sixty he was looked upon as a failure. Without work — in debt to his charitable friends, with an invalid son to support, the outlook was pitchy black.

Then he learned the "secret." In two weeks he was in business for himself. In three months his plant was working night and day to fill orders. During 1916 the profits were $20,000. During 1917 the profits ran close to $40,000. And this genial 64-year-young man is enjoying pleasures and comforts he little dreamed ever would be his.

I COULD tell you thousands of similar instances. But there's no need to do this as I'm willing to tell you the "secret" itself. Then you can put it to work and see what it will do for you.

I don't claim I can make you rich over night. Maybe I can — maybe I can't. Sometimes I have failures — everyone has. But I do claim that I can help 90 out of every 100 people if they will let me.

The point of it all, my friend, is that you are using only about one-tenth of that wonderful brain of yours. That's why you haven't won greater success. Throw the unused nine-tenths of your brain into action and you'll be amazed at the almost instantaneous results.

The Will is the motive power of the brain. Without a highly trained, inflexible will, a man has about as much chance of attaining success in life as a railway engine has of crossing the continent without steam. The biggest ideas have no value without will-power to "put them over." Yet the will, although heretofore entirely neglected, can be trained into wonderful power like the brain or memory and by the very same method—intelligent exercise and use.

A Few Examples

Personal Experiences

Among over 400,000 users of "Power of Will" are such men as Judge Ben B. Lindsey; Supreme Court Justice Parker; Wu Ting Fang, Ex. U. S. Chinese Ambassador; Assistant Postmaster General Britt; Gov. McKelvie of Nebraska; General Manager Christeson of Wells Fargo Express Co.; E. St. Elmo Lewis, former Vice-Pres. Art Metal Construction Co.; Gov. Ferris of Michigan; E. T. Meredith, Sec'y of Agriculture, and many others of equal prominence.

$300 Profit From One Day's Reading

"The result from one day's study netted me $350 cash. I think it a great book and would not be without it for ten times the cost."—Col. S. W. Wilke, Roscoe, So. Dakota.

Worth $15,000 and More

"The book has been worth more than $15,000 to me."—Oscar B. Sheppard.

Would Be Worth $100,000

"If I had only had it when I was 20 years old I would be worth $100,000 today. It is worth a hundred times the price." — S. W. Taylor, The Santa Fe Ry., Milans, Tex.

Salary Jumped From $150 to $800

"Since I read 'Power of Will' my salary has jumped from $150 to $800 a month."—J. F. Gibson, San Diego, Cal.

From $100 to $3000 a Month

"One of our boys who read 'Power of Will' before he came over here jumped from $100 a month to $3000 the first month, and won a $250 prize for the best salesmanship in the state."—Private Leslie A. Still, A. E. F., France.

If you held your arm in a sling for two years it would become powerless to lift a feather from lack of use. The same is true of the Will—it becomes useless from lack of practice. Because we don't use our Wills—because we continually bow to circumstance—we become unable to assert ourselves. What our wills need is practice.

Develop your will-power and money will flow in on you. Rich opportunities will open up for you. Driving energy you never dreamed you had will manifest itself. You will thrill with a new power—a power that nothing can resist. You'll have an influence over people that you never thought possible. Success—in whatever form you want it—will come as easy as failure came before. And those are only a few of the things the "secret" will do for you. The "secret" is fully explained in the wonderful book "Power of Will."

How You Can Prove This at My Expense

I KNOW you'll think that I've claimed a lot. Perhaps you'll think there must be a catch somewhere. But here is my offer. You can easily make thousands—you can't lose a penny.

Send no money—no, not a cent. Merely clip the coupon and mail it to me. By return mail you'll receive not a pamphlet, but the whole "secret" told in this wonderful book, "POWER OF WILL."

Keep it five days. Look it over in your home. Apply some of its simple teachings. If it doesn't show you how you can increase your income many times over—just as it has for thousands of others—mail the book back. You will be out nothing.

But if you feel that "POWER OF WILL" will do for you what it has done for over 400,000 others—if you feel as they do that it's the next greatest book to the Bible—send me only $3.50 and you and I'll be square.

If you pass this offer by, I'll be out only the small profit on a three and a half dollar sale. But you—you may easily be out the difference between what you're making now and an income several times as great. So you see you've a lot—a whole lot—more to lose than I.

Mail the coupon or write a letter now—you may never read this offer again.

SPECIAL NOTE

In nearly five years the price of "Power of Will" has been increased only 50c. We find it necessary now to raise the price as soon as the present edition is gone. This means that by July 1st, or sooner, the price must be increased to $4.50.

LIMERICK CONTESTS MADE EASY

By Ring W. Lardner.

TO THE EDITOR:

In the last few mos. I notice they has been a kind of a epidemic of what they call limerick contests on the family page of the different newspapers around the country, and a personal friend of mine says to me the other day why don't you run a limerick contest of your own as they seem to be makeing such a hit besides witch you write such pretty verses, but very few people knows that, but if you would start a limerick contest they would soon find it out. So I said I didn't want to make a monkey out of the other limerick writers, but my friend begin to cry and said it wasn't fair for me to hide my lanterns under a bu. so I said all right I would start a limerick contest.

Well in the 1st. place maybe I would better exclaim to some of my readers what these contests means. Well here is the idear. The paper comes out and says it will furnish 4 lines of a limerick and the subscribers has got to furnish the lost line and the subscriber that furnishes the best lost line, why she or he gets a prize of $100 cash money or what ever it is and the second best $50 and no hundred dollars and etc., and they run them every day and its costs the papers a whole lot of money paying out cash money prizes, to say nothing about the wear and tear on the brains of the boys that gets up the limericks, but what do the papers care as long as it improves the subscribers' mind and educates them to like good stuff like for inst. well you know.

Well I realize that most of my readers brain is not quite up to par you might say, so I am going to give you a limerick contest that won't be such a strain and instead of makeing the boys and girls dope out a whole line, I am going to just leave 1 word vacant at the end of each limerick and the subscribers has got to fill in the lost word according to the following set of rules:

1. All lost words has got to be in the lost and found dept. the following morning.

2. They's no restrictions in regard to entering the contest except that my 4 kids is bared because I have all ready told them the answer.

3. If 2 or more subscribers sends in the same lost word they will be no prizes for anybody. We can't have no collusions.

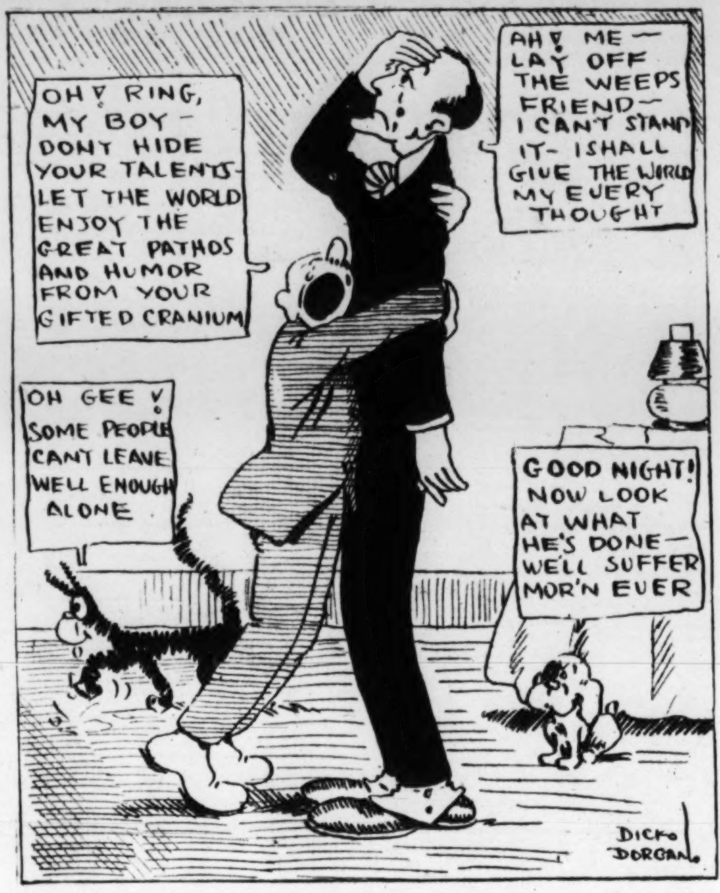
4. Answers must be sent on a souvenir post card with the Carnegie Library of your home city.

5. Results will be give out every Sunday from the pulpit and NOWHERES ELSE.

6. All answers must be addressed to Sec. of State Bainbridge Colby or HIS SUCCESSOR.

7. The lost word in each limerick is the name of a male or female that has been mentioned as a candidate for the president's chair of the United States.

8. Folling is a list of prizes: For the best lost word, Nothing; for the second best word, 1 pair detached cuffs; for the third best lost word, 2 pair detached cuffs; for all other lost words, Nothing.



OH! RING, MY BOY— DONT HIDE YOUR TALENTS— LET THE WORLD ENJOY THE GREAT PATHOS AND HUMOR FROM YOUR GIFTED CRANIUM
AH! ME— LAY OFF THE WEEPS FRIEND— I CANT STAND IT— I SHALL GIVE THE WORLD MY EVERY THOUGHT
OH GEE! SOME PEOPLE CANT LEAVE WELL ENOUGH ALONE
GOOD NIGHT! NOW LOOK AT WHAT HE'S DONE— WELL SUFFER MOR'N EVER

LIMERICK NO 1.

A badger once lived in Wisconsin
And he was a Swede named Pat Swanson.
I heard him one day
Incessantly say:
"I'm going to vote for Hi ——."

LIMERICK NO 2.

One night while the show was rehearsing
And our stage directors was cursing,
A girl ten years old
Remarked very bold:
"I'm voting for Gen. ——."

LIMERICK NO. 3.

A weasel who seemed very proud in
The knowledge that he'd packed a crowd in,
Said: "Listen, old nut,
I don't know you, but I'm voting for Governor ——."

LIMERICK NO 4.

A walrus named Abraham Ryan
Said: "I like a bird who keeps tryin',
And therefore I ask a
Loud cheer for Nebraska
And your vote for William J. ——."

LIMERICK NO 5.

A squirrel in a vegetable garding
Remarked: "I most humbly beg parding,
But I have an aunt in
The city of Canton
Who's pulling for Senator ——."

LIMERICK NO 6.

A child who was built like a mover
Asked the waiter to fetch hors d'oeuvre.
The waiter said: "What!
It must be you've got
A grudge against old Herbert ——."

LIMERICK NO. 7.

An endive who looked very foolish
And seemed to have habits quite ghoulish
Said: "I am from Mass.
And I think that the class
Of the outfit is Governor ——."

LIMERICK NO. 8.

There was a young waffle who stood
In a spot where she never of should.
"Say, listen," she quoth,
"I can't vote for both,
So I'm voting for General ——."

LIMERICK NO. 9.

A girl whom you'd want for your pardner

GETTING DOWN TO CASES

By James J. Montague

NEW YORKERS are brisk and businesslike. You can tell 'em anywhere. Dress snappy, talk snappy, think snappy. Have something to say, too. Put more into a mouthful than other people can put into a book. No idle conversation for them. Overhear them anywhere and you'll understand.

Anywhere—work, golf, riding on subway, banquet uptown or lunch hour.

Go into an office. Vice president, sales manager and chairman of board of directors, all in old man's office. Big guys these. Typical New Yorkers. Listen to 'em:

The Old Man: Yes, sir, and when that's gone, I know where I can get 50 cases more.

Sales Manager: Bet you know about the same place I do. Company's goin' to declare stock dividend in the stuff. Parcel it out all members; that right?

Vice President: I'm in on that, too. I'm pretty well stocked up, though.

Chairman: Oh, it's only a question of a little while before it comes back. They can't be all nuts in the Supreme Court.

The Old Man: Yes, she'll come back, all right. Americans can't be oppressed by a parcel of fanatics forever. But anyway, I want to keep stocked up till it does come back.

—o—

See that? Crisp, businesslike, to the point. Nobody but New Yorkers could talk like that.

"That's what I say. There's too much blame fool presidential campaigning. We're losing sight of the real issue."

Listen again. Couple big, well-rigged men at lunch—big hotel. Fancy room with some dude name.

Big Guy: Oh, I know where I can get all I want. Two dollars a jolt, though.

Little Guy: You can't take a chance on them places. Get caught in raid some night. Wouldn't do.

Big Guy: Foolishness. They wouldn't dare raid them places. If you knew the name of the bird that has a cut in you'd understand.

Little Guy: City official or something like that?

Big Guy: I couldn't tell you. But I get mine there when I want just one or two. Then a big company's going to declare a stock dividend of the stuff. I'm in on that, too.

Little Guy: I heard about that. Could you spare me a case or two?

Big Guy: Will if I can. But you know how it goes, what with all the gang playing you for an oasis in the desert every night.

Little Guy: I know. How long will it be before it will come back?

Big Guy: Not long now. I got a tip on that. But that's inside stuff. How about that quart you said you had up to the room?

Little Guy: It's there. What Jake left of it last night.

Big Guy: Come on up. Some time I'll take you to that two-buck place I was telling you about.

—o—

Quick stuff, and gray matter in it. They don't waste words in New York. Go out to any of the golf courses. There you see the real birds. Have money enough to loaf weekday afternoons. Threesome going round. Minds keen and alert every minute of their time.

The Judge: Of course not. Influence can't get you any. But one-fifty a case'll buy you all you can use.

The Banker: Good stuff?

The Judge: Not very, but what can you expect at that price?

The Merchant: I'm going to be in on a stock dividend of a big company that sold it. Declare the stuff for dividends. I got 96 cases. You fellows want in?

Please Name Twenty Americans for Hall of Fame

Bailey Aldrich and Francis Marion Crawford. Admirers of O. Henry have sent in his nomination under his real name of William Sydney Porter. Joel Chandler Harris, of "Uncle Remus" fame, has not been overlooked by his admirers, and Thoreau is also named.

In this list of holdovers there are many names of men whose lives have been of the highest usefulness, yet who are perhaps not generally known. An example is Henry Bergh, who is listed under the head of philanthropists and reformers. He was the founder of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, generally known as the Humane Society. This was one of the greatest works of its kind ever established, but its founder's name is often forgotten.

Frederick Douglass, the famous negro, who is nominated for the Hall of Fame, is the only one of his race to be thus honored. He comes under the classification of statesmen and is listed, in the holdover class, with Grover Cleveland, Jefferson Davis, Philip Francis Thomas and Samuel J. Tilden. This last name, that of the Democratic candidate for President in 1876, is persistently urged by his admirers, who will always believe that the honors of that year should have gone to him and not to Rutherford B. Hayes.

Three business men are listed in the holdover list. Of these, one man has left behind him probably as characteristically an American institution as any other—that is Alexander Turney Stewart, the pioneer department store founder. He was the predecessor in business of the present Wanamaker concern and was the first man in America to conceive the idea of having all the departments of retail business conducted under one roof. He is said to have secured the idea from reflecting upon the heterogeneous contents of the ordinary crossroads store in the rural districts of the country.

The names of Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton have been sent in by admirers and the name of Jennie June Croly, better known for her writings under the nom de plume of Jennie June, has also been submitted.

The largest part of this great work, of course, falls upon the electors. They are the positive factor in the entire plan, and upon them rests the decision as to what constitutes fame. Each elector, by accepting office, declares his interest in the history of his country.

It has been pointed out that the usefulness of the decisions which proceed from Hall of Fame do much for this country. They promote a study of the history of the republic and give a new meaning and dignity to what we call fame.

So, the coming summer, a serious task confronts those who are to determine whose names shall be perpetuated in the annals of the United States.

Nominations for the Hall of Fame of persons who have received as many as five votes in 1910 or 1915 and, by the ruling of the Senate of New York University, are to be placed upon the final ballot to be sent to the entire electorate in June, 1920, follow:

No new nominations have been received in classes 11 and 15.

Who's Guilty of That Extravagant Buying?

ordered a suit of clothes which cost $60. As he was passing out of the shop he saw another pattern which took his fancy, and despite the price of $75, he ordered a suit from that pattern, too.

"'I'm making so much money that I have to get rid of it in some way,' he told us. And on the same day a 16-year-old boy came in with his mother and ordered a $55 suit. They were not rich people, but seemed to enjoy the idea of having a tailormade suit for the boy.

"There is this much to be said for the people who buy expensive suits and overcoats: They get clothing which will wear well, which in fact will wear so much better than the cheaper clothing now on the market, that if they are satisfied to wear the same clothes for several years the purchase will turn out to be an economical one. But even if a man has steady work at $10 or $12 a day, it looks extravagant for him to get several expensive suits of clothes at the same time."

This merchant declared that high wages had played a bigger part in boosting the prices of clothing than increased cost of material, pointing out that the cheapest employes of a tailoring establishment now make around $40 a week, while those who formerly drew $18 to $25 a week are drawing $75 a week, and said the operators are paid an average of $100 weekly. Woolen prices have gone up about 100 per cent, he said.

There is a strong feeling of resentment about high prices among quite a large proportion of women, according to a leading dealer in feminine apparel.

"Only about one-half as many are buying now, compared with two years ago," said this dealer. "When the prices began to make their big advance, people started coming in here clad in their old suits, and it is nothing unusual to see a wealthy woman wearing a suit that was new three years ago. Mostly those wearing the old clothes are wise and right-thinking people. Foolish ones are buying the most. And sales never were larger."

Another dealer in women's apparel said that in his opinion the prices for clothing never would go back to their former level. He declared that wool was raised in this country for years without any return to the grower except where free pasturage was available, and declared that the farmer for years has been robbing his soil so that he could sell food products and cotton for less than they really cost to be grown. And he mentioned the higher wages now paid to Japanese in the silk industry, and which enable them to buy cooking charcoal and have better food than ever before in the history of the industry.

"None of these people will care to go back to the old ways of doing things," declared the merchant. "They feel that they are entitled to a profit, just the same as anybody else who produces."

A leading haberdasher said business was flourishing, but only spectacular when a visitor from the oil fields comes to town. He declared the silk shirts continued to be very popular, but not among the rich, who, usually prefer plain white shirts in fine linen or some thin material for summer wear.

The biggest buyers of gaudy silk shirts, he said, were men of foreign extraction, such as Italians and Greeks, who seem to have an inborn love for bright colors and who are prospering now as never before.

Women say La-may stays on better than any other face powder.

Up to the present time it has been almost impossible to get a face powder to stay on longer than it takes to put it on. You powder your nose nicely, and the first gust of wind or the first puff of your handkerchief and away goes the powder, leaving your nose shiny and conspicuous, probably just when you would give anything to appear at your best. A specialist has perfected a pure powder that really stays on; that stays on until you wash it off. It does not contain white lead or starchy rice powder to make it stay on. This improved formula contains a medicinal powder doctors prescribe to improve the complexion. In fact, this powder helps to prevent and reduce enlarged pores and irritations. It is also astringent, discouraging flabbiness, crow's feet and wrinkles. This unusual powder is called La-may (French, Poudre L'Ame). Because La-may is so pure and because it stays on so well it is already used by over a million American women. All dealers carry the large sixty-cent box and many dealers also carry the generous thirty-cent size. When you use this harmless powder and see how beautifully it improves your complexion you will understand why La-may so quickly became the most popular beauty powder sold in New York. There is also a wonderful La-may Talcum that sells for only twenty-five cents. Herbert Roystone, 16 East 18th St., New York.

WHO'S GUILTY OF ALL THAT EXTRAVAGANT -- BUYING YOU HEAR ABOUT? --

Some people must be keeping the makers of unnecessary luxuries busy, and here is what a few St. Louis store keepers say about that class of trade — Purchase of high priced goods in certain cases is defended

"When we explained what sugar tongs were for she said she would take a dozen of those, too."

IN EVERY discussion of the cost of high living, whether in public meetings, in Congress, or learned magazine articles, the assertion invariably comes forth that extravagant buying, a wild orgy of indulgence in luxuries, is one of the causes. But who is it who riotously plunges into the luxury market? The reader of this article, and all of his cousins and his sisters and his aunts, and all the men folks, and all their neighbors and friends, will deny that he or she is guilty in the slightest degree. Every one of 'em is pinching and saving and hunting for mere necessities at bargain prices. Is that not the truth?

Still, someone must be keeping the makers of fancy socks and silk shirts, the diamond cutters, the silversmiths and fashionable milliners busy week after week. It was for the purpose of solving this mystery that a writer for the Post-Dispatch Magazine ventured into unfamiliar marts of commerce to ask questions.

While jewelers agree that their business has prospered as never before in the last few years, some declared they had not seen anything which looked like furious spending, but merely the natural purchasing of a country enjoying unexampled prosperity. But others tell some quaint tales of the "new rich" and his gyrations as the money burns in his pockets.

"Recently a woman of foreign appearance came here to buy some flat ware," said a leading St. Louis jeweler. "She chose about the most expensive pattern which we had in stock, and purchased a dozen each of knives, forks and spoons. They were a heavy weight and cost her about $500. She was about to leave the store when she happened to notice a handsome pair of sugar tongs. She asked what they were and how they were used, and when we informed her on these points, she said she would take a dozen of the sugar tongs also.

"Another woman not long ago bought a handsome coffee set in Sheffield plate. There were the usual coffee pot, tea pot, sugar bowl, cream pitcher and waste bowl. She asked us if we would not put a slip of paper in each piece, bearing a memorandum as to what the piece was for.

"And I must not omit a negro family from one of the suburban towns who spent $1400 here in the purchase of a dozen solid silver place plates and a dozen silver goblets. That was about as striking an indication of widely-diffused prosperity as I had noticed for a long time.

"Diamond prices have advanced from 80 to 150 per cent in the last 12 months, but without dismaying diamond purchasers in the least. We have never seen the buying of diamonds as general as it is now. People are buying more and larger diamonds than ever before. Several years ago there was but little demand for three-carat or four-carat diamonds. Now we have a good many calls for stones of that size, and even larger ones.

"A rather noticeable development in the last few months has been the large number of women from the poorer district who are buying silverware, usually, of course, in a good plate. Silver-plated flatware is nearly as high in price now as the solid silver was four years ago. The general line of jewelry has not advanced more than 10 or 12 per cent in price in the last few years."

Another jeweler defended the purchase of expensive articles by saying that while in some cases it might be extravagance, yet such purchases put the money in circulation and helped the producers of the articles to make a living.

The purchase of automobiles upon credit is proceeding merrily, to the tune of more than 50 chattel mortgages being recorded on an average day in the Recorder of Deeds' office in the city hall. Some of the mortgages are merely filed, others are recorded. Actual count of the automobile chattel mortgages for two weeks in April showed a total of 646 mortgages for the 12 business days, which was an average of 323 such "plasters" in a week, or about 54 daily.

Employes in the Recorder's office said these figures were, if anything, below the usual number of auto mortgages. In fact, the purchase of cars upon credit has reached such proportions that companies have been organized to buy these chattel mortgages from the auto concern which makes the sale of the machine.

"There is an increase of about 30 per cent in the number of cars upon the streets of St. Louis," said a man who is in close touch with the motor industry. "The record of the past year is somewhat remarkable in that the cheap and the high-priced cars have sold in about the same numbers. This indicates an unusual absorption of the expensive cars. Two years ago, for instance, the proportion of the sales was as follows: Cheap cars, 65 per cent, and high-priced cars, 35 per cent.

"Purchases of the high-priced cars have very largely been cash transactions. The cars with 'plasters' on them are mostly the cheaper ones, which means from $1800 downwards. In other words, many an individual whose financial condition does not justify him in the purchase of an auto, has seen some other fellow with a car, then wanted to emulate him and has bought one under a chattel mortgage. I believe that fully 30 per cent of the new passenger cars are being bought on credit."

"Despite the price of $75, he ordered a suit from that pattern, as well."

"Let me tell you a little story," said a shoe dealer. "The girl who wraps bundles in my store decided not long ago to buy herself a pair of black suede shoes. It is about the poorest line made, as far as wear is concerned, but, of course, that was her own business. Her salary is $15 a week. Not finding anything good enough in the stock here, she went to another store and paid $14.50 for a pair of shoes, being practically her week's salary.

"Another girl who is employed here wanted a pair of white kid oxfords. She could have bought a pair which was plenty good enough for $6, but hesitated because the price was too low. Then she found almost the same thing in a fashionable shop priced at $17. The last I heard about the matter, she was still hesitating whether to pay the $17 and be proud, or to pay the $6 and be not quite so proud.

"Some of the complaints heard seem unreasonable. One customer who has bought his shoes at my store for years, formerly used to get them for $3 a pair. In those days he was earning $3.20 a day. The price of the same shoe now is $6, but meanwhile his own income has increased to $10 a day, which is a much larger percentage than the advance in shoe prices."

While generally higher prices for merchandise will explain in part the greater outlay which thousands of people are making for their clothing, some of the merchants say frankly that a different spirit has prevailed for some time among the buying public.

"They judge by the price," declared one of the largest retail shoe merchants. "The people who are buying the expensive shoes are those whose wages have been raised excessively in the last two or three years. The lavish buyers are those people who never before wore $10 shoes or $10 silk shirts. I can assure you that the officers of this company are not buying such articles except with extreme caution. We don't feel that we can afford them."

These statements were corroborated by a tailor, not one of those who cater to the tastes of the wealthy, but rather to the purchasers of medium-priced clothes.

"There is no use in trying to deny a pretty well diffused spirit of extravagance," said the tailor. "Of course, extravagance is a relative term. What would be well within the means of a rich man is undoubtedly extravagance for a clerk. Only the other day a young mechanic came in here and ordered a pair of trousers made from an English striped pattern priced at $20 and suitable for wear with a Prince Albert coat. He needed the trousers to wear with an old coat and vest, and so far the idea was an economical one. But we could have made him a pair which would have served the purpose just as well for $12. As he went out, he said:

"'I'll have to work all week to pay for that.'

"That is just one instance of a good many which I could mention to you. Recently a working man of "racial equality" as part of the peace settlement, especially as regards immigration. Of course, the Japanese diplomats had no serious expectation of their demands being acceded to; in fact, they might have been embarrassed if they had succeeded, in view of Japan's own stringent laws against immigration and alien land holding. Nevertheless, it was a politic move, useful for future propagandist purposes, and it advertised Japan broadcast as the standard bearer of the colored cause.

The Japanese, unlike the Chinese, cannot thrive in cold or tropical regions. The empty parts of Asia Siberia and Southern Asia are barred to Japanese colonization on a large scale, because of temperature. The natural outlets for Japanese colonization would be the United States, Australasia and the temperate parts of South America. But all these outlets are barred by the white man, who has marked them for his own race heritage. There lies the danger to the peace of the world. The Japanese writhe at the constriction of their present race bounds. Japan must find lands where Japanese can breed by tens of millions. This is the secret of her aggressive foreign policy, her chronic imperialism, her grandiose dreams of world dominion. California and Australia are obeying a profound race instinct when they erect bars to Japanese immigration.

China has undergone a tremendous revolution in the last quarter-century, and the specter of an armed nation of 400,000,000 yellow men may very likely become a frightful reality. But the Chinaman's threat to the white man is more economic than military. He is nature's last word in ability to survive. He thrives in every climate and flourishes on food which would swiftly spell starvation for the white. But for artificial barriers he would long since have overrun America. And wherever the Chinese laborer comes the white laborer vanishes before him.

Brown man's land is the Near and Middle East, and India is the chief seat of brown population, containing two-thirds of all the brown men on earth. Unlike the whites and yellows, the browns have no specialized type-norm and no generalized culture; but in Mohammedanism they have a great spiritual bond. The yellow world has never really lost its political independence, but under the impact of white invasion the brown world has been politically overwhelmed. Yet the brown world, like the yellow world, is today in acute reaction against white supremacy. The great dynamic of the brown reaction is the Mohammedan revival. This began a century ago, when the puritan reformer, the famous Abd-el-Wahab, arose in the vast Arabian desert, the cradle of Islam. His disciples, the Wahabees, have spread over the length and breadth of the Mohammedan world, purging Islam of its sloth and rekindling the martial ardor of olden days. Their program has the combined objectives of spiritual reunion and political emancipation.

European writers hopefully discuss whether Islam's wings can best be clipped by continuing the Caliphate in the hands of the discredited Turkish Sultans, or by transferring it to the new Arab Hedjaz kingdom. This is a short-sighted view. Islam's driving power lies not in the Caliphate, but in institutions like the pilgrimage to Mecca, which, with tens of thousands of picked zealots from every quarter of the Moslem world gathering every year, is really an annual Pan-Islamic Congress, where all the interests of the faith are discussed at length, and plans are elaborated for its defense and propagation.

Similarly ubiquitous is the propaganda of the Habl-ul-Matin, which works tirelessly to compose sectarian differences and traditional feuds. Lastly, the great religious fraternities, of which the most powerful is the famous Senussiyah—with its stronghold in the secret heart of the Sahara Desert, on an oasis which only one European eye has ever beheld—cover the Islamic world with a network of far-flung associations, quickening the zeal of their myriad members, co-ordinating their energies for potential action and above all preaching the doctrine that the white man has passed his zenith and entered upon his decline.

The black world, lying mainly south of the Sahara Desert, and comprised of some 120,000,000 men, is not considered by Dr. Stoddard as a present menace to white civilization, save as it becomes the tool of Mohammedan propaganda. Islam missionaries are penetrating the Dark Continent from end to end, and the black man finds the militant religion of Mohammed far more to his taste than the gentler faith of Jesus. With proper leadership, the black savage is a formidable warrior, and his enormous fecundity would provide Islam with an exhaustless store of fighters, should that religion ever dominate the continent.

The red man of Central and South America is regarded by Dr. Stoddard as a negligible factor. His history has been one of steady disintegration.

How may the white man save himself from this flooding tide of color? First of all, says the author, the white man must issue the order "Hands off!" to the brown man in Africa and to the yellow man in South America, North America, Siberia and Australasia. In return, the white man should relinquish his political control in the brown and yellow worlds, where he has achieved and intends no colonization. Africa, north of the Sahara Desert, should be reclaimed to the white world, to which it belongs by geography, climate and history.

The catastrophe, concludes Madison Grant, "cannot threaten if the Nordic race (considered the highest type of the whites) will gather itself together in time, shake off the shackles of an inveterate altruism, discard the vain phantom of internationalism and reassert the pride of race and the right of merit to rule. Our present condition is the result of following the leadership of idealists and philanthropic doctrinaires.

"Democratic ideals among a homogeneous population of Nordic blood, as in England and America, is one thing, but it is quite another for the white man to share his blood with, or intrust his ideals to, brown, yellow, black or red men.

"This is suicide pure and simple and the first victim of this amazing folly will be the white man himself."

The Judge: I don't know. The law will stick, if the Supreme Court says so, but we ought to have a solemn referendum on it next year, anyway.

The Merchant: That's what I say. There's too much blame fool presidential campaigning. We're losing sight of the real issue.

The Judge: I agree with you there. But it may be quite a while.

The Banker: Well, I got enough to last a year, if you fellows don't call too often.

The Merchant: I haven't, but I know where I can get some. My chauffeur knows a chauffeur whose boss has more than he wants.

The Banker: But if you do, don't forget about it. By the way, whose honor is it?

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 149F Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

LUXURIANT HAIR FOR YOU?

Of course you desire it. Then read of this wonderful hair elixir, KOTALKO

Worry no more about your hair, Miss, Mrs. or Sir! Throw away those liquid lotions that are only drying your scalp and doing no good whatsoever. Don't shampoo the natural oils out of your scalp.

There's a hair elixir that is meeting with increasing favor, for it is altogether different from the scented lotions, emulsions and washes. It is Kotalko, compounded from the Three Kingdoms of Nature and including twelve ingredients, one of which is the genuine bear oil, which you have heard of as marvelous in fertilizing hair.

No matter what condition your hair is in—do not despair. Kotalko is compounded on the principle that aided Nature in giving me a full growth of hair when I was bald (see the picture below) and it is doing wonders for others—men, women and children.

When Bald
Hair Grows

I could fill this whole paper with copies of testimonials from persons who endorse Kotalko. The enthusiasm is great when a person finds, after all else has failed, that Kotalko is just what Nature needed as aid in producing a splendid growth of hair.

You may now obtain the genuine Kotalko under my guarantee at the drug store, or the druggist will get it for you, but take nothing else that is said to be "just as good," for you will then only delay your use of Kotalko. Or, if you wish first to prove Kotalko, send for a Testing Box which will come to you by mail promptly in a plainly wrapped package. Enclose only 10 cents, silver or stamps, in your letter.

Satisfy yourself. You want to stop falling hair, eliminate dandruff, strengthen and develop renewed growth of strong and silk-like hair, or cover that bald spot with hair. Buy KOTALKO at the druggist's; or get the dime testing box by mail NOW, apply once or twice daily—watch in your mirror! Address:

BY WAGON TRAIN FROM ST. LOUIS -- TO EL PASO IN 1865 --

Fifth installment of fascinating diary tells how the travelers hunted buffalo at Fort Larned—Mad plunge of herd from cliff into river—Brown sugar at 45 cents a pound, corn at $6 per bushel—Rowdy soldiers from Fort Dodge nearly murder Mexican herder -0- -0- -0- -0-

Edited by Mary M. Diffenderffer,

(Niece of Author of Diary, F. R. Diffenderffer.)

SUNDAY, JULY 30.—We got an early start this morning, and traveled steadily until we came to Fort Larned. Soon after crossing Ash Creek we came upon several large droves of buffalo, and then such an exciting time as we had I never saw before. Our escort, some 12 in number, took after them, as did nearly every other man in the train. I ran after them until I though my heart would burst from sheer running and weariness. Do what I would I could not get near the herd, although they were on all sides of me, but none nearer than 300 yards. Musick and I drove ahead in the carriages some three miles and were right in the thick of it all.

The soldiers were the only ones who had horses, and they galloped in among the buffalo, firing all the time, yet with all, not more than three or four were killed—several calves and several bulls. As many as 10 or 15 shots were fired at a single one, and, though, severely wounded, he would yet run away. A herd ran in between our carriage and Musick's as they were standing still in the road. If I had had a horse I am positive I could have killed one or more. Our camp is on a peninsula made by the Pawnee Fork River, which is quite a deep stream, 20 or 30 yards wide, with high, precipitous banks.

We remained at this camp all day. In the afternoon four of us concluded to go back and see whether we could not find several wounded buffalo that we had shot in the morning. We found one, but he had crossed the Arkansas before lying down; there he was, however, and we could not get him, because we were afraid to cross. Meanwhile, four came rushing through the camp, and we knocked one over. A most exciting time we had of it. This evening for supper we had buffalo meat—roasted, broiled and fried, with soup of the head and marrow bones, and some veal. We fared deliciously, and it seemed almost impossible that I could get enough. We got a number of letters this evening—some from home and I four from Lancaster.

A few words about this camp and the buffalo invasion that occurred while we were in it are in order. Pawnee Fork at this place is a stream nearly as broad as the Conestoga, with precipitous banks 10 to 15 feet high. The stream makes a bend or loop, shaped almost like a horeshoe, the upper ends coming quite close together, and the area within being perhaps 50 acres. We placed the wagons in a single line across the open portion of this bend and turned the mules inside of it, where the grass was excellent and where they were perfectly secure and required no herding. The wagons were in a line running east and west, the river bend being to the south, while to the northward stretched a vast prairie.

Soon after breakfast someone called attention to a herd of buffalo away to the north bearing down in our direction at full gallop. We saw them while still a mile or more away and had therefore ample time to prepare for them. On they came, and instead of turning either to right or left they came straight down on our wagons. Not being in corral, but stretched in a line, the tongue of one just reaching the rear end of the one ahead, they offered no serious obstruction to the passage of the buffaloes. On they came in their mad career, leaping over the wagon tongues and pushing through between the wagons themselves, undeterred by the fusillade opened upon them from the lee side of wagons whither all had retreated to prevent being run over.

Having entered the horseshoelike bend, they dashed ahead until they reached the lower end, where I thought the high banks of the river would make them pause; but without a moment's hesitation they plunged over the banks into the mud and water below, the foremost ones pressed by those that followed and allowed no choice in the matter had one been cared for. When all was over I went down to the place where they made their mad plunge, expecting to see them piled yards high on each other, dead and dying in one confused mass. Not a single animal was there. All had made the leap successfully and scrambled up the low banks on the other side and kept on in their mad, resistless career.

Monday, July 31.—We are still in our old camp and will remain here until morning, when we take final leave. Some 550 wagons have already reported, and it is thought 150 more will be up by morning. We are to have an escort of three companies and are to go by the mountains and not by the Cimarron, as we wish. D. is very anxious to go on by the mail and will endeavor to effect some arrangement whereby he will be enabled to do so.

Tuesday, Aug. 1.—We made an early move this morning in order to get over Pawnee Fork in time to join the large train that starts this morning. We were delayed a long time in getting over the stream, as the crossing was uncommonly muddy and bad. Teams were doubled, but one wagon after another stuck. The ox trains had whole lines of oxen to their wagons and more drivers than yokes of cattle, each with their immense whips. Such cracking, swearing, hallooing and uproar was never heard before. As soon as we were over we drove in to the fort, some two or three miles off, where I put the finishing touches to the last of five letters and deposited them with the Postmaster. We came a few miles this side of the fort, where we are now encamped for breakfast. I got a few pounds of sugar—common brown—which cost me 45 cents a pound. We also bought some few bushels of corn, for which we had to pay $6 a bushel. Everything else is in proportion, and I think if the sutler here does not make a fortune soon no man ever can.

About 12 o'clock, after we had breakfast, and while I was darning some rents in my pantaloons, up came a shower almost instantaneously and of a severity I have not often seen equaled. It ran into the carriage in front and on both sides and flooded it. Hardly had it ceased and passed away than up came another of equal power and longer duration. We intended to drive and overtake the conducta this afternoon, but these severe rains prevented. This evening the commander of the post sent us word that unless we moved on and overtook the train ahead we would be detained until the fifteenth of the month for the next escort. Since I wrote the last paragraph, two or three more rains have fallen and even now it is coming down. We moved camp about two miles and expect to catch up early in the morning.

Wednesday, Aug. 2.—The program was changed last night. In consequence of the bad roads, it is considered impossible to come up with the train that went out with the escort, so we have concluded to go by what is known as the "Dry Route," from the general scarcity of water on it, and we thus hope to overtake the conducta at the crossing of the Arkansas. We have no apprehensions that water will be scarce, in consequence of the great rains that have prevailed of late. At any rate, at Rock Hollow, where we have made our camp this morning at 9:30 for breakfast, we find plenty. It rained nearly all night and nearly all this morning, and is raining now. The road, however, is not as heavy as I thought we would find it.

About 1:30 o'clock we started out and made a good drive until about 5:30. From the highest part of the road we could see the conducta traveling away to our left, along the Arkansas, some eight or 10 miles off. At noon today I lost my large knife that I ate with and had occasion to use every 10 minutes. I hunted all over camp and away from camp, too, but unavailingly. After we had started on our afternoon drive, I thought I remembered where I had left it, and as there were no animals near me that were saddled except John (the burro), I mounted him and went back to our old camp, but I could not find it. Where our camp had been quite a number of coyotes—the little prairie wolves—were hunting up the fragments that had been thrown away. I could hardly get the burro out of a walk, and as I was apprehensive Indians might show themselves, I was very glad when I again saw the train. It rained a good part of the afternoon.

Here a word about the animal dubbed John. John was a jackass, owned by the elder Musick and taken to Mexico for breeding purposes. But of all stubborn created things, John took the cake, exceeding even his master in this particular. John was usually tied behind a wagon. Sometimes he made up his mind to go, and at other times not to go. Words, kind and otherwise, stones, clubs and whips failed to move him on such occasions. When in the latter state he would plant his front feet firmly in the earth and prop himself; he held back and made the team drag him. Going down hill he would squat on his haunches and slide to the bottom, acting as a drag or lock; this was the only good I can speak of him. Going up hill he would act in the same way, adding several hundred pounds of dead weight to the load. He cost more than his value in the ropes he broke holding back. His legs were skinned from his hoofs to his hips, but all this conveyed no lesson of wisdom to John. He was as obstinately inclined on the last day as on the first. The lessons of experience were lost on him.

Thursday, Aug. 3.—It commenced raining in good earnest just before dark and continued the greater part of the night. This morning, too, the water kept coming down. Many of the oxen strayed off and could not be found. The Mexicans were out all the morning hunting them, and about noon they were all found. About 1:30 we rolled out, but in consequence of the bad roads made headway very slowly. The grass being better near the Mexican camp than at our own, I picketed the horses there, and the result was that the lariat and iron picket pin by which one of them was staked were stolen by some Mexican and the horse was turned loose.

I walked in advance of the wagons nearly all afternoon, but did not find a single new plant. The road passed through an immense prairie dog town and I thought the number of owls about was unusually large. I saw, too, for the first time today, the common resident in Mexico—the raven. I hailed him as an old friend. Yesterday we saw a large herd of buffalo and some smaller ones, while today we were hardly ever out of sight of them. They kept crossing the road in front of us nearly all the time, but at a considerable distance off.

Towards evening several of the Mexicans took after the herd and I also ran until the perspiration rolled off of me as though I had been in a furnace seven times heated, but all was of no avail. They took another direction and I didn't even get a shot. The Mexicans on horseback shot two. One of them was killed instantly at the first fire; the other was so badly wounded that he could no longer run. Five men surrounded him and with their pistols fired, I suppose, no less than 50 shots at him before he fell, so tenacious of life are they. Once he charged on one of the horses, and came very near catching him on his horns. The consequence of all this was fresh buffalo steak for supper, but I was too tired to appreciate it.

Friday, Aug. 4.—It rained slowly the better part of last night, but this morning at 6 o'clock we rolled out on a very heavy road. Our camp of yesterday evening, I should have mentioned, was Coon Creek. We got into camp about 9:30 o'clock. It is somewhat singular that there are so few flowering and other plants about here. The few that are here I already have. From Council Grove nearly all the way to the Big Bend of the Arkansas I noticed the same thing; one flora, without an exception or change, prevailed over the entire distance. One of the Mexican wagons having broken an axle, we did not get away from this camp today. It has, however, cleared off and this is some compensation for our delay.

Saturday, Aug. 5.—We got an early start this morning, but did not make a very long drive. Made camp on the far side of the Arroyo Blanco, which was exceedingly muddy and ugly to cross, in consequence of the late rains. The Santa Fe mail passed us today

New Amendments to Matrimony

By HELEN ROWLAND

"And a curly dog constituting the whole nursery department."

"THE most delightful and fascinating thing about marriage," sighed the Widow ecstatically, as she turned from her French pastry and chocolate to gaze out of the club window over the green golf links, "is that there is always something new or clever or cynical or interesting to say about it."

"There is always something the matter with it," admitted the Bachelor, continuing to attack his plate with the vigor of a healthy golf appetite, "if that's what you mean."

"It is like a good, substantial, old house that I once owned," mused the Widow, "constantly in need of repairs and improvements. As soon as you cement the cellar the roof begins to leak; as soon as you finish shingling the roof the plaza needs painting or the wall-paper goes out of fashion or you have to put in new plumbing or electric lights or hardwood floors or a furnace or something. Every year, every week, every day, a new phase of marriage appears, furbishing it up a bit, like new curtains in the living room windows in October. And still the dear old institution stands, weathering the changes of time and war economic conditions—the most interesting thing in the world! Nobody, from Henry James to Trotsky or Brigham Young, has ever discovered any satisfactory substitute for it."

"Oh, well," ventured the Bachelor, "it's like the Constitution—fundamentally all right, but in need of constant amendments to meet new and modern conditions."

"Yes," returned the Widow, with a wry little smile, "and most of the amendments don't really 'amend' it, and very few of the improvements actually 'improve' it. I wonder what our imperialistic old grandfathers would think of modern 'marriage' in the tiny, two-by-four studio apartment, with hubby drying the dishes while wifie washes them, and a curly dog constituting the whole 'nursery department,' and an image of Buddha occupying the place of the family Bible."

"He wouldn't recognize it," grinned the Bachelor appreciatively. "He would think it 'immoral'—sacrilegious—a bad joke."

The Widow's dimples disappeared, like the sun on an April day, and she looked wistfully serious.

"Oh, well," she protested, "grandfather didn't know anything about the high cost of living. He only wore overalls because he wanted to! But for some of us, it must be such a marriage or none at all—and ANY marriage is better than none at all!"

"What!" The Bachelor dropped his fork.

"Oh, yes it IS!" insisted the Widow. "Even a modern marriage, with ALL the 'eighteenth amendments' tacked onto it. Of course, a Pekinese and a Pom don't take the place of children. They are just pathetic little bluffs, like—like a kitchenette and a fireless cooker."

"And there's the financial and economic equality of wives," put in the Bachelor, "which in my opinion is no substitute for home cooking and darned socks."

"And there is divorce," laughed the Widow, "which has taken the place of ground glass and prussic acid—though it's really more humane and sanitary, after all. And there are 'lap-dog apartments,' and studio apartments, and vacuum cleaners, and public valets and community kitchens"——

"And self-supporting wives, and self-rocking cradles, and self-amusing husbands—all of which or whom have conspired together to transform marriage into—into 'something just as good'!" appended the Bachelor scornfully.

"Into—what!" The Widow looked shocked.

"Into a sort of domestic 'bevo,'" explained the Bachelor with disgust, "a sentimental 'near beer,' an 'almost champagne,' a colorless, spiceless fraud, entirely unsatisfying and uninspiring."

"Oh, I don't know!" demurred the Widow cheerfully. "There are lots of compensations about the modern marriage. It keeps husband and wife from getting too close together and from living 'scrambled lives,' at any rate! At least, they can get away from each other occasionally, and thus preserve their proper perspective on one another. At least they escape the hideous old Victorian fashions of family breakfasts, community toothbrush holders and the morning reveille. The private bath and the Continental breakfast and the modern marriage have done wonders to help preserve the individuality of the human being and keep romance alive!"

"But," protested the Bachelor, "I thought people married in ORDER to get close to one another—to SHARE"——

"Yes," broke in the Widow, "in order to share their hopes and ambitions and joys and sorrows and dreams and ideals! And then, they end by sharing nothing but the towels, brushes, clothes closets and medicine cabinet—and fighting over those! At least they used to. Spiritual intimacy, spiritual closeness, spiritual oneness are the most beautiful and wonderful things in the world—but they are NOT based on sharing the tooth mug and yawning at one another across the breakfast table, Mr. Weatherby. Give ME modern existence, with its individual restaurant table, individual drinking cups and individuality in marriage. WHY, just because two people love each other, should they arise, retire and breakfast in unison—like a regiment of soldiers? Why should they be expected to like their windows open at the same height and their coffee at the same temperature? Why should they take the privilege of prying into one another's thoughts and secrets, opening one another's mail and borrowing one another's collars?"

"Oh, well," declared the Bachelor desperately, "living too far apart is so unsociable. It's like looking at one another through the wrong end of an opera glass!"

"And living too close together," retorted the Widow, "is like looking at one another through a microscope—or like getting too close to a picture, so that it looks like nothing but a smudge."

"But that didn't bother grandfather," persisted the Bachelor. "In his day divorce was almost as unknown as washing machines and fireless cookers. When two people married, they were one"——

"And grandfather was that ONE!" interrupted the Widow. "No wonder he was utterly satisfied. All that grandmother had left of her individuality was her toothbrush and her napkin ring!"

"And all that a modern husband has left of 'home,'" groaned the Bachelor, "is a place to keep his razor and his dress clothes! If you and I were married tomorrow, I probably shouldn't see you any oftener than I do now"——

"Oh, yes, you should!" smiled the Widow sweetly. "I'd make it awfully 'homelike' for you."

"Would you?" murmured the Bachelor hopefully.

The Widow nodded.

"I'd let you dry the dishes," she announced magnanimously, "and wash the dogs and take them for their airing, and get your own coffee in the morning, and—and make yourself right 'at home'!"

"That," declared the Bachelor, with mock gratitude, "would be almost as thrilling as living in a bachelor flat!"

"At least," sighed the Widow contentedly, "our lives wouldn't get SCRAMBLED! And when we did meet, it would be with a real thrill—like breaking the eighteenth amendment."

WIDOW-CISMS.

A pessimist is never actually unhappy—there are too many things in the world going exactly his way!

Platonic friendship is that stage of love at which a man is still wondering if he dare kiss the girl!

Now that apartments have shrunken to the size of a hat and hats are almost the size of an apartment, where shall we keep the dog?

A sweetheart talking nonsense on a moonlight night, and a husband talking finance on a rainy morning, are so different that one has to pinch one's self in order to realize that it's the same man.

By now the castle echoed with a frightful din through which arose a sinister crackling. The light increased moment by moment, and there came the acrid smell of smoke.

Men left the maniac to give battle to the other fury. Some fled to the doors and fought with their clumsy fastenings, but as they flung them back a draft sucked through, changing the place into a raging furnace.

With his back against the stairs Hassam hewed at the monk with his scimitar; he had done as well had he essayed to fell an oak with a single blow. Up over him rushed the giant, to the balcony above, where Abul Malek and his daughter stood at bay in the trap of their own manufacture. There, in the glare of the mounting flames, Fray Joseph sank his mighty fingers through the Moor's black beard.

The place by now was suffocating and the roar of the conflagration had drowned all other sounds. Men wrapped their robes about their heads and hurled themselves blindly at the doors, fighting with one another, with the licking flames, with the dead that clogged the slippery flags. But the maid remained. She tore at the tattered cassock of the priest, crying into his ear:

"Come, Joseph! We may yet escape."

He let the writhing Abul Malek slip from out his grasp and peered at her through the smother.

"Thou knowest me not?" she queried. "I am Zahara." Her arms entwined his neck for the second time that night, but with a furious cry he raised his hands and smote her down at his feet, then he fled back to the stairs and plunged down into the billows that raged ahead of the fresh night wind.

The bells of San Sebastian were clanging the alarm, the good monks were toiling up the path toward the inferno which lit the heavens, when, black against the glare, they saw a giant figure approaching. It came reeling toward them, vast, mighty, misshapen. Not until it was in their very midst did they recognize their brother, Joseph. He was bent and broken, he was singed of body and raiment, he gibbered foolishly; he passed them by and went staggering to his cell. Long ere they reached the castle it was but a seething mountain of flame; and in the morning naught remained of Abul Malek's house but heated ruins.

Strange tales were rife concerning the end of the Moor and of his immediate kin, but the monks could make little out of them, for they were garbled and too ridiculous for belief. No Mussulman who survived the fire could speak coherently of what had happened in the great hall, nor could Fray Joseph tell his story, for he lay stricken with a malady which did not leave him for many weeks. Even when he recovered he did not talk; for although his mind was clear on most matters, nay, although he was as simple and as devout as ever, a kind Providence had blotted out all memory of Zahara, of his sin, and of the tempation that had beset his flesh.

So it is that even to this day "The Teeth of the Moor" remains a term of mystery to most of the monks of San Sebastian.

PLEASE NAME TWENTY AMERICANS - FOR THE HALL OF FAME -

Nominations for the great memorial, which closed May 1, will be acted upon during the summer by a board of electors and the choices announced early in October—Fifty men and six women now occupy positions in the list of those who have made their mark in American history :: :: ::

Entrance to the Hall of Fame, Columbia University.

BEFORE the close of the present year, 20 great Americans will have had their names added to the Hall of Fame.

In this memorial, founded in 1900 and located on the summit of what is known as University Heights, in New York City, the names of 50 men and six women are already inscribed.

The Hall of Fame, of unique conception and of the highest patriotic appeal, was established to give disinterested honor to great citizens. The present summer will be marked by the fifth election, one of which is held every five years, and an opportunity afforded to every American to carefully consider the national history and pay tribute, by a nomination at least, to some person to whom honor is due.

Rules for selecting names for the Hall of Fame are simple. By a system of nominations, the general public takes part and sends in names of those deemed worthy of the tribute. Choices are then ratified by an electoral board chosen from among those who are admittedly leaders in American thought. Nominations close on May 1 of election year and the names, which must be those of persons dead at least 10 years, are left in the hands of the judges until the close of the following September. Selections are announced in October.

Electors are chosen by the Senate of the New York University, composed of the dean and president of each of the university schools and of presidents or other representatives of the great theological schools in New York. Practically ever denomination has a theological school in that city or its immediate neighborhood.

Two qualifications are necessary for the electors. They must be interested in the history of America and they must be apportioned throughout the country. There cannot be less than 100 in the electoral board, but there may be more than that number, thus insuring representation of the entire nation. This is done to avoid the possibility of choices which might be regarded as sectional. The names of Ulysses S. Grant and Robert E. Lee occupy positions of equal honor in the Hall of Fame.

For convenience in making nominations, names are grouped into 15 classes. Commencing with authors and continuing through educators, preachers, philanthropists, inventors, soldiers and statesmen, the list includes every calling or profession through which there is an opportunity to do good to the nation or its citizens. Although it has not yet been possible to record the names of many fully entitled to the honor, the panels of the memorial will not be filled until the year 2000, and by that time there will be a chance for many. The capacity of the hall is 150 names.

So many meritorious nominations have been made, that would have been indorsed by the electors had they not been limited as to numbers, that they have arranged a "holdover" list of those previously sent in and these names can again be voted upon the coming summer. In this list are 111 men and 23 women.

So many of this number are exceptionally qualified to fill requirements that the initials "M. J. F.," standing for "Most Justly Favored," have been placed after certain nominations to express the opinion of previous electoral boards. Such names as those of Patrick Henry, statesman; Nathaniel Greene, soldier, and Thomas McIntyre Cooley, legal light, appear in this category.

When the names are selected, a panel of stone 7 feet long by about 1 1-4 feet in height is assigned in the colonnade of the Hall of Fame. A tablet of bronze, completely filling the panel, is inscribed with the name in large letters forming an entire line. A second line is devoted to the year of birth and death and three lines are filled with some quotation from the writings or sayings of the person commemorated. This selection is carefully made, in the effort to present some important phase of character. Vacant spaces on panels are engraved with laurel or palm.

The Hall of Fame itself is a broad terrace supported on a granite foundation and crowned by a colonnade which encircles the Memorial Library at University Heights. The foundation of the Hall of Fame is used as a museum containing mementoes of the citizens whose names are inscribed in the colonnade.

This spot where the hall is located is of historic interest. It was occupied by the center of the British army attack upon Fort Washington in revolutionary days. The old name of Fort No. 8, once given to the site, has been converted by the college students into Battery Hill. Looking westward, there is a varied landscape—the Harlem and Hudson rivers, the hills to the southward, where Fort Washington was placed, now known in part as Fort George, and, across the Hudson, a view of the palissades. Spuyten Devil lies to the northward and eastward the hills of Long Island can be seen beyond Long Island Sound.

There are eight connected inscriptions upon the eight pediments of the Hall of Fame, and, in order to read these, it is necessary to go around the exterior of the entire structure, a distance of a quarter of a mile. These eight inscriptions read, in the following division, which, combined, state the purpose of the hall:

The Hall of Fame
For Great Americans.
By wealth of thought
Or else by mighty deed
They served mankind
In Noble Character
In World-wide Good
They live forever.

When the Hall of Fame was first founded, no mention was made of women who had attained distinction in American history. An amendment was later adopted, however, which provided for a separate Hall of Fame for women, 10 of whom were to be elected in 1905 and two at every election thereafter. At present, however, only six have been elected. They are Harriet Beecher Stowe, authoress, of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" fame; Mary Lyon and Emma Willard, educators and missionaries; Frances E. Willard, the social worker; Maria Mitchell, the scientist, and Charlotte S. Cushman. Some women drew large numbers of votes, but failed of election. Among these were Louise May Alcott, who wrote "Little Men" and "Little Women;" Martha Washington and Pocahontas Rolfe.

The list of authors is the largest of any single profession in the Hall of Fame. Thirteen have already been selected for the honor. They are Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Washington Irving, Nathaniel Hawthorne, James Russell Lowell, John Greenleaf Whittier, George Bancroft, William Cullen Bryant, James Fennimore Cooper, Oliver Wendell Holmes, John Lothrop Motley, Edgar Allan Poe and Francis Parkman.

It is interesting to note that the list of names of authors who have been held over by previous electoral boards is the largest of any profession in the number. Mark Twain, under his own name of Samuel L. Clemens, has already been nominated. So have Thomas spot, he stopped to drink in her message. Again the maiden sang of love; again the monk felt his spirit leaping as she fed his starving soul even more adroitly than she fingered the vibrant strings. At last her wild, romantic verses became more unrestrained; the music quickened until, regardless of all things, Fray Joseph burst the thicket asunder and stood before her, huge, exalted, palpitant.

"I too, have sung those songs," he panted, hoarsely. "That melody has lived in me since time began; but I am mute. And you? Who are you? What miracle bestowed this gift"——

He paused, for with the ending of the song his frenzy was dying and his eyes were clearing. There, casting back his curious gaze, was a bewitching Moorish maid whose physical perfection seemed to cause the very place to glow. The slanting sunbeams shimmered upon her silken garments; from her careless hand dropped an instrument of gold and of tortoise shell, an instrument strange to the eyes of the monk. Her feet were cased in tiny slippers of soft Moroccan leather; her limbs, rounded and supple and smooth as ivory, were outlined beneath the wide, flowing trousers which were gathered at the ankles. A tunic of finest fabric was flung back, displaying a figure of delicate proportions, half recumbent now upon the sward.

The loveliness of Moorish women has been heralded to the world; it is not strange that this maid, renowned even among her own people, should have struck the rustic priest to dumbness. He stood transfixed; and yet he wondered not, for it was seemly that such heavenly music should have sprung from the rarest of mortals. He saw that her hair, blacker than the night, rippled in a glorious cascade below her waist, and that her teeth embellished with the whiteness of alabaster the vermillion lips which smiled at him.

That same intoxicating scent, sweeter than the musk of Hadramaut, enveloped her; her fingers were jeweled with nails which flashed in rivalry with their burden of precious stones as she toyed with the whispering strings.

For a time she regarded the monk silently.

"I am Zahara," she said at length, and Joseph thrilled at the tones of her voice. "To me, all things are music."

"Zahara!' 'Flower of the World,'" he repeated, wonderingly. After an instant he continued harshly: "Then you are the daughter of the Moor?"

"Yes. Abul Malek. You have heard of me?"

"Who has not? Aye, you were rightly called 'Flower of the World.' But—this music! It brought me here against my will; it pulls at me like straining horses. Why is that? What wizardry do you possess? What strange chemistry?"

She laughed lightly. "I possess no magic art. We are akin, you and I. That is all. You, of all men, are attuned to me."

"No," he said, heavily. "You are an infidel, I am a Christian. There is no bond between us."

"So?" she mocked. "And yet, when I sing you can hear the nightingales of Aden; I can take you with me to the fields of battle, or to the innermost halls of the Alhambra. I have watched you many times, Brother Joseph, and I have never failed to play upon your soul as I play upon my own. Are we not then, attuned?"

"Your veil!" he cried, accusingly. "I have never beheld a Moorish woman's face until now."

Her lids drooped, as if to hide the fire behind them, and she replied, without heeding his words: "Sit here, beside me. I will play for you."

"Yes, yes!" he cried, eagerly. "Play! Play on for me! But—I will stand."

Accordingly she resumed her instrument; and o'er its strings her rosy fingers twinkled, while with witchery of voice and beauty she enthralled him. Again she sang of love, reclining there like an houri fit to grace the paradise of her prophet; and the giant monk became a puppet in her hands. Now, although she sang of love, it was a different love from that which Joseph knew and worshiped; and as she toyed with him his hot blood warred with his priestly devotion until he was racked with the tortures of the pit. But she would not let him go. She lured him with her eyes, her lips, her luscious beauty, until he heard no song whatever, until he no longer saw visions of spiritual beatitude, but flesh, ripe flesh, aquiver and awake to him.

A cry burst from him. Turning, he tore himself away and went crashing blindly through the thicket like a bull pursued. On, on he fled, down to the monastery and into the coolness of his cell, where, upon the smooth, worn flags, he knelt and struggled with this evil thing which accursed his soul.

For many days Joseph avoided the spot which had witnessed his temptation; but of nights, when he lay spent and weary with his battle, through the grating of his window came the song of the Saracen maid and the whisper of her golden lute. He knew she was calling to him, therefore he beat his breast and scourged himself to cure his longing. But night after night she sang from the heights above, and the burden of her song was ever the same, of one who waited and of one who came.

Bit by bit she wore down the man's resistance, then drew him up through the groves of citron and pomegranate, into the grape field; time and again he fled. Closer and closer she lured him, until one day he touched her flesh—woman's flesh—and forgot all else. But now it was her turn to flee.

She poised like a sunbeam just beyond his reach, her bosom heaving, her lips as ripe and full as the grapes above, her eyes afire with invitation. In answer to his cry she made a glowing promise, subtle, yet warm and soft, as of the flesh.

"Tonight, when the moon hangs over yonder pass, I shall play on the balcony outside my window. Beneath is a door, unbarred. Come, for I shall be alone in all the castle, and there you will find music-made flesh and flesh-made music." Then she was gone.

The soul of the priest had been torment heretofore, but chaos engulfed it during the hours that followed. He was like a man bereft of reason; he shook as from a wintry wind. He prayed, or tried to, but his eyes beheld no vision save a waiting Moorish maid with hair like night, his stammering tongue gave forth no Latin, but repeated o'er and o'er her parting promise:

"There you will find music-made flesh and flesh-made music."

He realized that the foul fiend had him by the throat, and undertook to cast him off; but all the time he knew that when the moon came, bringing with it the cadence of a song, he would go, even though his going led to perdition. And go he did, groveling in his misery. His sandals spurned the rock path when he heard the voice of Zarah sighing through the branches; then, when he had reached the castle wall, he saw her bending toward him from the balcony above.

"I come to you," she whispered; and an instant later her form showed white against the blackness of the low stone door in front of him. There, in the gloom, for one brief instant, her yielding body met his, her hands reached upward and drew his face down to her own; then out from his hungry arms she glided, and with rippling laughter fled into the blackness.

"Zahara!" he cried.

"Come!" she whispered, and when he hesitated, "Do you fear to follow?"

"Zahara!" he repeated; but his voice was strange, and he tore at the cloth that bound his throat, stumbling after her, guided only by her voice.

Always she was just beyond his reach; always she eluded him; yet never did he lose the perfume of her presence nor the rustle of her silken garments. Over and over he cried her name, until at last he realized from the echo of his calling that he had come into a room of great dimensions and that the girl was gone.

For an instant he was in despair, until her voice reached him from above:

"I do but test you, Christian priest. I am waiting."

"'Flower of the World,'" he stammered, hoarsely. "Whence lead the stairs?"

"And do you love me, then?" she queried in a tone that set him all ablaze.

"Zahara," he repeated, "I shall perish for want of you."

"How do you measure this devotion?" she insisted, softly. "Will it cool with the dawn, or are you mine in truth forever and all time?"

"I have no thought save that of you. Come, light of my soul, or I shall die."

"Do you, then, adore me above all things, earthly and heavenly, that you forsake your vows? Answer, that my arms may enfold you."

He groaned like a man upon a rack, and the agony of that cry was proof conclusive of his abject surrender.

Then, through the dead, black silence of the place there came a startling sound. It was a peal of laughter, loud, evil, triumphant; and, as if it had been a signal, other mocking voices took it up until the great vault rang to a fiendish din.

"Ho! Hassam! Elzemah! Close the doors!" cried the voice of Abul Malek. "Bring the lights!"

There followed a ponderous clanging and the rattle of chains, the while Fray Joseph stood reeling in his tracks. Then suddenly from every side burst forth the radiance of many lamps. Torches sprang into flame, braziers of resin wood began to smoke, flambeaux were lit, and, half blinded by the glare, the Christian monk stood revealed in the hall of Abul Malek.

He cast his eyes about, but on every side he beheld grinning men of swarthy countenance, and at sight of his terror the hellish merriment broke forth anew, until the whole place thundered with it. Facing him, upon an ornamental balcony, stood the Moor, and beside him, with elbows on the balustrade and face alight with sinister enjoyment, stood his daughter.

Stunned by his betrayal, Joseph imploringly pronounced her name, at which a fresh guffaw resounded. Then above the clamor she inquired, with biting malice:

"Dost thou any longer doubt, oh, Christian, that I adore thee?" At this her father and her brothers rocked back and forth, as if suffocated by the humor of this jest.

The lone man turned, in mind to flee, but every entrance to the hall was closed, and at each portal stood a grinning Saracen. He bowed his shaven head, and his shame fell slowly upon him.

"You have me trapped," he said. "What shall my punishment be?"

"This," answered the Moorish lord; "to acknowledge once again, before us all, the falseness of your faith."

"That I have never done; that I can never do," said Joseph.

"Nay! But a moment ago you confessed that you adored my daughter above all things, earthly or heavenly. You foreswore your vows for her. Repeat it, then."

"I have sinned before God; but I still acknowledge Him and crave His mercy," said the wretched priest.

"Hark you, Joseph. You are the best of monks. Have you ever done evil before this night?"

"My life has been clean, but the flesh is weak. It was the witchcraft of Satan in that woman's music. I prayed for strength, but I was powerless. My soul shall pay the penalty."

"What sort of God is this who snares His holiest disciple with the lusts of the flesh?" mocked Abul Malek. "Did not your prayers mount up so high? Or is His power insufficient to forestall the devil? Bah! There is but one true God, and Mohammed is His prophet. These many years have I labored to rend your veil of holiness asunder and to expose your faith to ridicule and laughter. This have I done tonight."

"Stop!" cried the tortured monk. "Bring forth a lance."

"Nay! Nay! You shall hear me through," gloated Abul Malek; and again Joseph bowed his tonsured head, murmuring:

"It is my punishment."

Ringed about thus by his enemies, the priest stood meekly, while the sweat came out upon his face; as the Saracen mocked and jeered at him he made no answer, except to move his lips in whispered prayer. Had it not been for this sign they might have thought him changed to stone, so motionless and so patient did he stand. How long the baiting lasted no one knew; it may have been an hour, then Joseph's passive silence roused the anger of the overlord, who became demoniac in his rage. His followers joined in harrying the victim, until the place became a babel. Finally Elzemah stepped forward, torch in hand, and spat upon the giant black-robed figure.

The monk's face whitened, it grew ghastly; but he made no movement. Then in a body the infidels rushed forth to follow the example of Abul Malek's son. They swarmed about the Christian, jeering, cursing, spitting, snatching at his garments, until their master cried:

"Enough! The knave has water in his veins. His blood has soured. Deserted by his God his frame has withered and his vigor fled."

"Yes," echoed his daughter. "He is great only in hulk. Had he been a man I might have loved him; but the evil has fled out of him, leaving nothing but his cassock. Off with his robe, Elzemah. Let us see if aught remains."

With swift movement her brother tore at the monk's habit, baring his great bosom. At this insult to his cloth a frightful change swept over the victim. He upheaved his massive shoulders, his gleaming head rose high, and in the glaring light they saw that his face had lost all sweetness and humility; it was now the visage of a madman. All fleshly passion stored through 30 years of cloister life blazed forth, consuming reason and intelligence; with a sweep of his mighty arms he cleared a space about him, hurling his enemies aside as if they were made of straw. He raised his voice about the din, cursing God and men and Moors. As they closed in upon him he snatched from the hands of a lusty slave a massive wrought-iron brazier, and whirling it high above his head, he sent its glowing coals flying into the farthest corners of the room. Then with this weapon he laid about him right and left, while men fell like grain before the reaper.

"At him!" shouted Abul Malek, from his balcony. "Pull down the weapons from the walls! The fool is mad!"

Zahara clutched at her father's sleeve and pointed to a distant corner, where a tongue of flame was licking the dry woodwork and hangings. Her eyes were flashing and her lips were parted; she bent forward, following the priest with eagerness.

"Allah be praised!" she breathed. "He is a man!"

Elzemah strove to sheath his poinard in the monk's bare breast, but the brazier crushed him down. Across the wide floor raged the contest, but the mighty priest was irresistible. Hassam, seeing that the priest was fighting toward the balcony, flung himself upon the stairs, crying to his father and his sister to be gone.

By Wagon Train From St. Louis to El Paso

going east, full of passengers, accompanied by an infantry escort that went along on wagons. I hope we will experience the same immunity from Indian attack in the future that we have in the past. So far as we know, none have been near us with hostile intent, and we have been and are now in what is considered about the worst Indian country on the route. It was very misty this morning, but by the time we had made camp it had cleared off and the sun came out very hot.

This afternoon we made a very long and very hot drive and did not camp until we reached the point where the Dry Route intersects the other road on the Arkansas, about a mile from Fort Dodge. Here we camped for the night and came near being eaten up by mosquitoes. This evening, soon after we got into camp, four rowdy soldiers from the fort came up and made a violent assault on a Mexican herder boy who was a cripple, without the slightest provocation. They almost killed him. An alarm was given in camp, and at one time I thought the four soldiers would be killed, but wiser counsels prevailed and we endeavored to take them prisoners, but they got off. The Mexicans were very much enraged, and justly, for it was a most unjustifiable outrage.

In consequence of the great amount of sugar used by some in our mess a few days ago, the article is now running short. All our sugar was divided among the different members of our mess, so that some portions would at least be equally divided, and each one might then use as much or as little as he chose. The portions of D. and myself I put into a small bag, and also bought some six pounds at Fort Larned, which I put in with it. It was a little damp, so to dry it I laid it on the carriage top. Unfortunately, today I forgot to take it down when we left camp, and as we rolled out in great hurry and confusion, with the ox teams right behind us, it rolled off and was, of course, at once picked up by someone behind. I hardly expected to get it again, but when we got to camp I interrogated all the teamsters and owners and amid many denials and equivocations by some who knew and some who saw and some who heard, I ferreted out the truth and got back my sugar—that is, all that was left of it.

Sunday, Aug. 6.—This morning we drove up to the post, Fort Dodge, and stopped to report and also to tell of the outrage by the soldiers last night. We learned that we would have to wait until the large conducta comes in before we will be allowed to move, and then we will be obliged to go with it by the Raton Mountain route, instead of by the Cimmaron route, as we wish. There are orders to allow no trains to leave without an escort, and, as there are not enough troops here to send an escort with each train, we must go with the train that already has an escort with it. The commandant of the post says if the instructions the officer commanding the escort brings will allow him to detach one of the three companies with Fields' train, he will give it to us and send us by the Cimmaron route, a consummation devoutly to be wished. I wrote and sent a couple of letters early this morning before leaving the post.

We made camp about a mile on the far side of the fort this morning, but the grass is bad and the river a mile off, so this evening we hitched up and drove about two miles further, where the remainder of our train is. Here we will remain until Fields comes up and our fate—as to the route—is decided. This has been a most unpleasant Sunday to me. I was angered at certain things, and in addition a number of other things have contributed to put me out of sorts and make me uncomfortable.

Monday, Aug. 7.—Here we still are, waiting until either Fields and the conducta comes up or the commander of the post here makes up his mind to send the company along with us that is here awaiting Fields' arrival. It is exceedingly tedious, but there is no remedy, and it has the one advantage of giving such of our animals as are tired and worn out time to recuperate. Our largest horse particularly needs it; he has been giving down very rapidly since leaving Larned, and if we manage to get him through it will be little less than a miracle. We feed corn every evening, but still the journey ahead is a long one and the hardest driving is yet to come. I ran about nearly all morning, hunting flowers; but found only two or three that I have not already. A terrific storm of wind and thunder and rain burst over camp about 10 o'clock last evening and for a while the rain came down in torrents.

Tuesday, Aug. 8.—We have not moved an inch this day on account of the nonarrival of the large conducta and the perverseness of the commander of the post here, who refuses to let us go until all the wagons have arrived. This makes the third day we have been lying here, never budging an inch. Every man, and, could it be known, every beast also, is heartily sick and tired of lying here in the sun, in continual doubt as to when and which road we are going. It cannot last much longer, and as the company that is to escort us is getting to fix to move, I think it most likely we will do so early in the morning, if not late this evening. I went into the fort with Gonzales this afternoon to represent the condition of affairs in the Mexican train, as well as the unanimous desire of the owners to go by the Aubrey crossing, to the commanding officer.

Their reasons are these: The Cimmaron route is 100 miles nearer than the Raton Mountain route, and besides this there is at least a difference of 10 days' travel, or an additional hundred miles, in the quality of the roads in favor of the former. This fact is an important one, as it is very desirable to reach New Mexico as soon as possible. In consequence of the unusual length of time we have already been on the road, the supply of provisions will not hold out if we are obliged to go by the Raton route. Further, there was a charge of $5 per wagon to go that road by some Colorado troops, who pretend to have fixed it up. As there are about 100 wagons, it would require $500 to meet this charge. Now, it is very certain there is not half that amount in all the train put together, and the question is, how can they go by that road? There are besides other minor points, and strong ones, that would have weight with any reasonable man, but that article is scarce among the official dignitaries in this locality.

Today the commanding officer of the post asked me to go with him to the post hospital to see a little Mexican boy whom they had there and who was unable to make himself understood, no one at the fort being able to speak Spanish. The little fellow was about 14 or 15 years old and rejoiced to see a person who could talk to him in his native tongue, having been unable all the time he was there to make himself understood.

This was the story he told me—a story corroborated by the officers of the garrison: About six weeks before a train belonging to a New Mexican freighter came along, on its way to Leavenworth to secure a cargo. The train camped close to the fort for several days, and the mules were daily sent out to graze under several herders. One day this boy and a grown man were sent to herd the animals. Not coming in at the usual time in the evening, other men were sent to look after them. They soon found the grown man, full of arrows and dead, while not far away lay this little boy, scalped and one arm broken by a bullet, between the elbow and the shoulder. After doing their fiendish work the Indians took the herd and left those who guarded it, evidently thinking them both dead.

Such, however, was not the case. There was still a little life in the scalped boy, and he was carried into the fort and put in charge of the post surgeon. For a while his fate seemed doubtful, but careful treatment and nursing did their work, and when I saw him the little chap was fairly convalescent. It was necessary to remove part of one of the bones of the arm, and this wound, at the time I saw him, was the more formidable of the two, the wounded head having progressed finely from the start and being once more covered with a thin skin. The boy was very grateful for what had been done for him, and the kindness shown by all those in charge of him, and looked forward with the liveliest anticipations to the time when he would be well enough to set out for his distant home in New Mexico.

At sundown we got orders to leave, and, accordingly, rolled out, making a night drive—the first since we are on the road—of about 10 miles, getting into a pleasant camping place about 10:30. A man named Parker has now assumed charge of the train as wagon master.

Wednesday, Aug. 9.—At daylight this morning we again started out and traveled three hours, making seven or eight miles; I walked the entire way. The air was not very warm and I hardly felt wearied. Our route for the past three or four days has lain along the right, or north, bank of the Arkansas, which here is full of small islets, from a few yards square to the size of an acre, and presents a very rich and picturesque appearance. The river is tolerably wide, but is shallow—that is, fordable—everywhere. At our morning's camp we were to be organized for the trip, but they are now driving in preparatory to hitching up, and there has been nothing done in the way of organization.

We crossed several hills and other places today which reminded me of the hills about El Paso, only these were stoneless, only gravelly. This road in some places must be bad in rainy weather, but today it was very good. Our camp is right by the side of the road, and between us and the river is our grazing ground, about 250 yards wide, covered with good grass. The banks of the river here are about 10 or 12 feet high and so abrupt that it is difficult to get the animals down to water. Yesterday was an excessively hot day, as was also today.

We made a drive this afternoon of some seven or eight miles and reached what is known as the lower crossing of the Cimmaron, where we took camp. Fifteen years ago D. took this crossing on his way to Mexico, and on the high bluffs on our right 3500 Indians were then encamped, but at peace. This afternoon has been a very warm one, and our animals were in harness much longer than they usually are at one drive, in consequence of the frequent stoppages that occurred. A soldier caught two young ducks in a small pond, where they had been hatched. They were too young to identify the species, but they were of a large kind. We got into camp late, and in consequence had a late supper.

Thursday, Aug. 10.—We drove in the animals very early this morning, but having to wait on the soldiers, we did not get off as early as we wished. We were in the lead, however, and went along at a good speed for a couple of hours. It began to rain, and for about two hours it came down with a vengeance, so that, were it not that we are on a hard, gravelly road, we would certainly be mud bound. It rained into the carriage and everything got wet; it has now—at noon—stopped. Our morning's drive was over what is known as "Nine-Mile Ridge," and takes its name from the fact that where our camp was last night—at the Cimmaron crossing—the road leaves the river and turns over some table land, coming into the river again after running a distance of nine miles. It is singular, and seems strange to me, that there is nothing larger than a few bushes, and small ones at that, on the river banks. It is entirely destitute of timber, and our reliance is almost entirely on bois de vache—buffalo chips—for cooking purposes. In endeavoring to fill my canteen this morning, I bogged in the river and the mud in an instant.

We made another drive this evening, but not a very long one. I do not like the way the commander of our escort manages matters. The Mexican part of our conducta, who are really the best men in it, are slighted and abused whenever occasion offers. I most heartily wish Gonzales may be permitted to go ahead at the Cimmaron crossing and take no one with him but the Whaleys and ourselves. The Musick family, father and son, are the most abusive, insulting and ungentlemanly persons I ever saw, and every teamster, as well as every other person who comes in contact with them, is completely disgusted with them. After he puts our goods into our possession at El Paso, I never want to see him again.

Paper Caps Strong as Steel Helmets.

ASTONISHINGLY strong paper caps, capable of withstanding powerful blows, though extremely light in weight, have been invented by a shipyard employe and are intended to be worn by workmen whose duties expose them to danger from falling objects, says Popular Mechanics.

The process by which the novel headgear is produced has not been divulged, but it is known that chemicals are employed to harden the material, without adding to its weight. Several styles have been made, the lightest weighing about seven ounces and others slightly more. In a recent test, a one-pound bolt was dropped on one of them from a height of 40 feet, with the result that a barely perceptible dent was made in the paper. The novel head coverings are proof against water and acids and are nonconductors of electricit the hot sun of Catalonia had ripened her charms, and neighboring lords were beginning to make extravagant overtures of marriage. But seeing in her a possible weapon more powerful than any he had yet launched against the monks of San Sebastian, the father refused to consider even the best of them. He continued to keep her at his side, pouring his hatred into her ears until she, too, was ablaze with it.

Zahara was in her fourteenth year when Abul Malek beheld, one day, a new figure among those in the courtyard of the monastry below. Even from his eminence the Saracen could see that this late comer was a giant man, for the fellow towered head and shoulders above his brethren. Inquiry taught him that the monk's name was Joseph. Nor was their meeting long delayed, for a sickness fell among the people of the valley, and Abul Malek, being skilled in medicine, went out to minister among the poor, according to his religion. At the sick bed of a shepherd the two men came face to face.

Joseph was not young, nor was he old, but rather he had arrived at the perfect flower of his manhood, and his placid soul shone out through features of unusual strength and sweetness. In him the crafty Moor beheld a difference which for a time was puzzling. But eventually he analyzed it. The other monks had once been worldly men—they showed it in their faces; the countenance of Fray Joseph, on the contrary, was that of a boy, and it was without track of temptation or trace of evil. He had lived a sheltered life from his earliest youth, so it transpired, and Abul Malek rejoiced in the discovery, it being his belief that all men are flesh and that within them smolder flames which some day must have mastery. If this monk had never let his youth run free, if he had never met temptation and conquered it, those pentup forces which inhabit all of us must be gathering power, year by year, and once the joint of this armor had been found, once it could be pierced, he would become earthly like other men, and his false religion would drop away, leaving him naked under the irksome garb of priesthood.

Accordingly, the Moor tested Fray Joseph, as he had tested the abbot and the others, but to no avail, and he was in despair, until one day the secret of his failure was unexpectedly revealed.

Being busied with his accounts, he had retired to the shade of a pomegranate grove near the cliff, the better to escape the heat; while so engaged up the path from the monastery came the good brother. Just abreast of Abul Malek's point of vantage Joseph paused to listen. A songbird was trilling wondrously and the monk's face, raised toward the pomegranate trees, became transfigured. He changed as if by magic; his lips parted in a tender smile, his figure grew tense with listening; not until the last note had died away did he move. Then a great breath stirred his lungs and with shining eyes and rapt countenance he went on into the fields.

Abul Malek rose, his white teeth gleaming through his beard.

"Allah be praised!" he exclaimed. "It is music!" And rolling up his papers he went into the house.

Early the following morning another cavalcade filed past the monastery of San Sebastian; but this procession was in great contrast to the one that had gone by five years before. Instead of gaily caparisoned warriors it was composed mostly of women and slaves, with a mere handful of guards to lead the way. There were bondmaidens and seamstresses, an ancient nurse and a tutor of languages; while astride of a palfrey at her father's side rode the youthful lady of the castle. Her veil was wet upon her cheeks, her eyes were filled with shadows; yet she rode proudly, like a Princess.

Once more the train moved past the sun-baked walls of the monastery, across the plain to the mountain road that led to the land of bounty and of culture. Late that afternoon Brother Joseph learned from the lips of a herdsman that the beauteous kahra, flower of all the Moorish race, had gone to Cordova to study music.

Abul Malek once more rode home alone to his castle; but this time as he dismounted at his door he smiled at the monastery below.

Four years crept by, during which the Saracen lord brooded over the valley and the monk Joseph went his simple way, rendering service where he could, preaching, by the example of his daily life and his unselfish devotion, a sermon more powerful than his lips could utter. Through it all the Moor watched him carefully, safeguarding him as a provident farmer fattens a sheep for the slaughter. Once a year the father rode southward to Cordova, bringing news with his return that delighted the countryside, news that penetrated even the walls of San Sebastian and filled the good men therein with gladness. It seemed that the maiden Zahra was becoming a great musician. She pursued her studies in the famous school of Ali-Zeraib, and not even Moussali himself, that most gifted of Arabian singers, could bring more tender notes from the lute than could this fair daughter of Catalonia. Her skill transcended that of Al Farabi, for the harp, the tabor and the mandolin were wedded to her dancing fingers; and, most marvelous of all, her soul was so filled with poetry that her verses were sung from Valevia to Cadiz. It was said that she could move men to laughter, to tears, to deeds of heroism—that she could even lull them to sleep by the potency of her magic. She had once played before the Caliph under amazing circumstances.

The Prince of true believers, so ran the story, had quarreled with his favorite wife, and in consequence had fallen into a state of melancholy so deep as to threaten his health and to alarm his Ministers. Do what they would, he still declined, until in despair the Harjeb sent for Zahara, daughter of Abul Malek. She came, surrounded by her servants, and sang before El Hakkam. So cunningly did she contrive her verses, so tender were her airs, so potent were her fluttering fingers, that those within hearing were moved to tears, and the unhappy lover himself became so softened that he sped to the arms of his offended beauty and a reconciliation occurred. In token of his gratitude he had dispatched a present of 40,000 drachmas of gold to the singer, and her renown went broadcast like a flame.

The singer accompanied herself upon some instrument the like of which he never imagined.

When Abul Malek heard of this he praised his God, and, gathering his horsemen, he set out to bring his daughter home, for the time was ripe.

One evening in early spring, that magic season when nature is most charming, Fray Joseph, returning to his cell, heard from behind a screen of verdure alongside his path a woman singing. But was this singing? he asked himself. Could mortal lips give birth to melody like this? It was the sighing of summer winds through rustling leaves, the music of crystal brooks on stony courses, the full-throated worship of birds. Joseph listened, enthralled, like a famished pilgrim in the desert. His simple soul, attuned to harmonies of the woodland, leaped in answer; his fancy, starved by years of churchly rigor, quickened like a prisoner at the light of day. Not until the signer had ceased did he resume his way, and through his dreams that night ran the song of birds, the play of zephyrs, the laughter of bubbling springs.

A few evenings later he heard the voice again, and paused with lips apart, with heart consumed by eagerness. It was some slave girl busied among the vines of Abul Malek, he decided, for she translated all the fragmentary airs that float through summer evening—the songs of sweethearts, the tender airs of motherhood, the croon of distant waterfalls, the voice of sleepy locusts—and yet she wove them into an air that carried words. It was most wonderful.

Joseph felt a strong desire to mingle his voice with the singer's, but he knew his throat to be harsh and stiff from chanting Latin phrases. He knew not whither the tune would lead, and yet, when she sang, he followed, realizing gladly that she voiced the familiar music of his soul. He was moved to seek her out and to talk with her, until he remembered with a start that she was a woman and he a priest.

Each night he shaped his course so as to bring him past the spot where the mysterious singer labored, and in time he began to feel the stirring of a very earthly curiosity, the which he manfully fought down. Through the long, heated hours of the day he hummed her airs and repeated her verses, longing for the twilight hour which would bring the angel voice from out the vineyard. Eventually the girl began to sing of love, and Joseph echoed the songs in solitude, his voice as rasping and untrue as that of a frog.

Then, one evening, he heard that which froze him in his tracks. The singer accompanied herself upon some instrument the like of which he had never imagined. The music filled the air with heavenly harmony, and it set him to vibrating like a tautened string; it rippled forth, softer than the breeze, more haunting than the perfume of frangipani. Joseph stood like a man in a trance, forgetful of all things save these honeyed sounds, half-minded to believe himself favored by the music of the seraphim.

Never had he dreamed of such an intoxication. And then, as if to intensify his wild exultation, the maiden sang a yearning strain of passion and desire.

The priest began to tremble. His heartbeats quickened, his senses became unbridled; something new and mighty awoke within him, and he was filled with fever. His huge thews tightened, his muscles swelled as if for battle, yet, miracle of miracles, he was melting like a child in tears! With his breath tugging at his throat, he turned off the path and parted the verdure, going as soundlessly as an animal; and all the while his head was whirling, his eyes took note of nothing. He was drawn as by a thousand invisible strings, which wound him toward the hidden singer.

But suddenly the music ended in a peal of rippling laughter and there came the rustle of silken garments. Fray Joseph found himself in a little open glade, so recently vacated that a faint perfume still lingered to aggravate his nostrils. Beyond stretched the vineyard of the Moor, a tangle of purpling vines, into the baffling mazes of which the singer had evidently fled.

So she had known of his presence all along, the monk reflected, dizzily. It followed, therefore, that she must have waited every evening for his coming, and that her songs had been sung for him. An ecstasy swept over him. Regaining the path, he went downward to the monastery, his brain afire, his body tingling.

Joseph was far too simple for self-analysis, and he was too enchanted by those liquid strains to know what all this soul confusion foretold; he merely realized that he had made the most amazing of discoveries, that the music of the spheres had been translated for his privileged ears, that a door had opened, allowing him to glimpse a glory hidden from other mortals. It was not the existence of the singer, but of the music, that excited him to adoration. He longed to possess it, to take it with him and to cherish it like a thing of substance, to worship it in his solitude.

The song had been of love; but, after all, love was the burden of his religion. Love filled the universe, it kept the worlds a-swinging, it was the thing that dominated all nature and made sweet even the rigid life of an anchorite. It was doubtless love which awoke this fierce yet tender yearning in him now, this ecstasy that threatened to smother him. Love was a holy and an impersonal thing; nevertheless it blazed and melted in his every vein, and it made him very human.

Through all that night Fray Joseph lay upon his couch, rapt, thankful, wondering. But in the morning he had changed. His thoughts became unruly, and he recalled again that tantalizing perfume, the shy tones of that mischief laughter. He began to long intensely to behold the author of this music-magic, to behold her just once, for imagination graced her with a thousand witching forms. He wished ardently, also, to speak with her about this miracle, this hidden thing called melody, for the which he had starved his life, unknowingly.

As the afternoon aged he began to fear that he had frightened her, and therefore when he came to tread his homeward path it was with a strange commingling of eagerness and of dread. But while still at a distance, he heard her singing as usual, and, nearing the

IS THE white race, master of nine-tenths of the habitable surface of the globe, now facing the possibility of ultimate annihilation? Yes! is the serious reply made to this sensational question by no less an authority than Dr. Lothrop Stoddard—unless the white race takes drastic measures to oppose the rising tide of color against white world supremacy.

"The world-wide struggle between the primary races of mankind—the 'conflict of color,' as it has been happily termed—bids fair to be the fundamental problem of the twentieth century," says Dr. Stoddard.

"To me," he continues, "the great war was from the first the white civil war. * * * The frightful weakening of the white world during the war opened up revolutionary, even cataclysmic, possibilities. * * * The most disquieting feature of the present situation, however, is not the war, but the peace. The white world's inability to frame a constructive settlement, the perpetuation of intestine hatreds and the menace of fresh white civil wars, complicated by the specter of social revolution, evoke the dread thought that the late war may be merely the first stage in a cycle of ruin."

These arresting views are elaborated by Dr. Stoddard in a new book, entitled "The Rising Tide of Color" (Scribner's), which has a corroborative introduction by the famous biologist, Madison Grant, chairman of the New York Zoological Society. The present article is a summary of the evidence and conclusions presented by these two scholars.

Before the war, of the 53,000,000 square miles which (excluding the polar regions) constitute the land area of the earth, only 6,000,000 square miles had nonwhite governments, and nearly two-thirds of this remainder was represented by China and its dependencies. One of the war's results has been a further whittling down of the areas standing outside white political control. Turkey is today practically an Anglo-French condominion, Persia is virtually a protectorate of the British empire.

But West-Central Asia, at the dawn of history a white man's country, is today racially a brown man's land, in which white blood survives only as traces of vanishing significance. If this portion of Asia, the former seat of mighty white empires, and possibly the very homeland of the white race itself, should have so entirely changed its ethnic character, what assurance can the most impressive political panorama give us that the present world order may not swiftly and utterly pass away?

When we turn from the political to the racial map of the globe, what a transformation! We see a world of which only four-tenths at the most can be considered predominantly white in blood, the rest of the world being inhabited mainly by the other primary races of mankind—yellows, browns, blacks and reds.

Speaking by continents, Europe, North America to the Rio Grande, the southern portion of South America, the Siberian part of Asia and Australasia constitute the real white world. The bulk of Asia, virtually the whole of Africa and most of Central and South America form the world of color. The respective areas are 22,000,000 square miles for the whites and 31,000,000 square miles for the colored races. Fully one-third of the white area, notably in Australasia and Siberia, is very thinly inhabited.

In population the colored races outnumber the whites by more than two to one. Of the 1,700,000,000 human beings alive today, 550,000,000 are white and 1,150,000,000 are colored. Of capital importance is the fact that the great bulk of the white race is concentrated in the European continent. In 1914 the population of Europe was approximately 450,000,000. The war caused an absolute decrease of many millions. Nevertheless, some four-fifths of the entire white race is concentrated in less than one-fifth of the white world's territorial area, while the remaining one-fifth of the race (some 110,000,000 souls), scattered to the ends of the earth, must protect four-fifths of the white territorial area against the pressure of colored races 11 times its numerical strength.

The yellows are the most numerous of the colored races, numbering some 500,000,000. Their habitat is Eastern Asia. Nearly as numerous and much more widespread are the browns, numbering some 450,000,000. The browns spread in a broad belt from the Pacific Ocean westward across Southern Asia and Northern Africa to the Atlantic Ocean. The blacks total about 150,000,000. Their center is Africa south of the Sahara Desert; there are also strong black outposts in the Americas. Least numerous of the colored race stocks are the reds—the Indians of the Western Hemisphere. Mustering a total of less than 40,000,000, the reds are almost all located south of the Rio Grande in "Latin America."

The colored races are increasing very much faster than the white. It would appear that whites tend to double in 80 years, yellows and browns in 60 years and blacks in 40 years. Section after section of the white race is revealing that lower birthrate which in France has reached the extreme of a stationary population. Such checks as limit the increase of colored populations are wholly external, like famine, disease and tribal warfare. By a curious irony the white man has long been busy in removing these checks to colored multiplication. He puts down tribal war, he wages truceless combat against epidemic disease, and so improves communications that augmented and better distributed food supplies minimize the blight of famine.

These things can mean only one result: a tremendous and steadily augmenting outward thrust of surplus colored men from overcrowded colored homelands. These homelands are already populated up to the available limits of subsistence. The colored world, long restive under white political domination, is being welded by the most fundamental of instincts, the instinct of self-preservation, into a common solidarity of feeling against the dominant white man. Before the supreme fact of white political world-domination, antipathies within the colored world must inevitably recede into the background.

The Russo-Japanese War in 1904 was an event the momentous character of which is even now not fully appreciated. It dramatized and clarified ideas which had been germinating half-consciously in millions of colored minds, and both Asia and Africa thrilled with joy and hope. Above all, the legend of white invincibility lay a fallen idol, in the dust.

Then came the great war. The colored world suddenly saw the white peoples locked in an internecine death grapple. As colored men realized the significance of it all, they looked into each other's eyes and there saw the light of undreamed-of hopes. The white world was tearing itself to pieces. Fear of white power and respect for white civilization dropped away like garments outworn. Through the bazars of Asia ran the sibilant whisper: "The East will see the West to bed!" The chorus of mingled exultation, hate and scorn sounded from every portion of the colored world—from Chinese scholars, Japanese professors, Hindu pundits, Turkish journalists and Afro-American editors.

Armageddon engendered Versailles; earth's worst war closed with an unconstructive peace which left old sores unhealed and even dealt fresh wounds. The white world lies today debilitated and uncured; the colored world views conditions which are a standing incitement to rash dreams and violent action.

The United States, with the famous Peary expedition of 1853, was guilty of the incredible folly of "opening" the Far East, and thus for the first time bringing the isolated Yellow World into forcible contact with white civilization. The result has been the portentious rise of Japan. She is now the leader of a widespread "Asia for the Asiatics" propaganda. The outbreak of the war gave her a golden opportunity to eliminate one of the white Powers from the Far East—Germany. Germany's collapse was a blow to Japanese hopes. Despite official felicitations, the nation could scarcely conceal its chagrin. The transformation of virtually unarmed America into a first-class fighting Power had been intensely distasteful to Japan.

But the skill of her diplomats at Versailles enabled Japan to harvest most of her war gains. Her territorial acquisitions were definitely written into the peace treaty, and her preponderance in Chinese affairs was tacitly acknowledged. Japan also took advantage of the occasion to pose as the champion of the colored races by urging the formal promulgation

From his embrasured windows he beheld the cassocked enemies.

SHOULD you chance, in crossing a certain mountain pass in Southern Catalonia, to find yourself poised above a little valley against the opposite of which lies a monastery, look to the heights above it. Should you piece out from among the rocks the jagged ruins of a castle, ask its name. Your guide will perhaps inform you that those blackened stones are called "The Teeth of the Moor," and if he knows the story he will doubtless tell it to you, crossing himself many times during the recital. In all probability, however, he will merely shrug his shoulders and say it is a place of bad repute, nothing more.

Even the monks of the monastery, who are considered well versed in local history, have forgotten the reason for the name, although they recall the legend that once upon a time the castle harbored a haughty Moslem lord. Few of them ever heard the story of Joseph the Anchorite, and how he sought flesh within its portals; those who have will not repeat it. Time was, however, when the tale was fresh, and it runs this wise:

Away back in the reign of Abderamus the Just, First Caliph of the West, Hafiz, a certain warlike Moor, amazed at the fertility of this region, established on the edge of the plateau a stronghold of surprising security. His house he perched upon the crest of the cliff overlooking the valley below. It was backed by verdant, sun-kissed slopes which quickly yielded tribute in such quantity as to render him rich and powerful. Hafiz lived and fought and died beneath the Crescent banner, leaving in his place a son, who likewise waged war to the northward on behalf of the Prophet and all true believers, at the same time farming his rich Catalonian acres.

Generations came and went, and, although the descendants of Hafiz waxed strong, so also did the power of the hated Christians. Living as they did upon the very fringe of the Mussulman empire, the Moors beheld with consternation the slow encroachment of the unbelievers—more noticeable here than farther to the southward. At intervals these enemies were driven back, but invariably they reappeared, until at length, upon the plain beneath the castle, monks came and built a monastery, which they called San Sebastian. Beneath the very eyes of Abdul Malek, fourth descendant of Hafiz, they raised their impious walls; although he chafed to wreak a bloody vengeance for this outrage, his hands were tied by force of circumstance. Wearied with interminable wars, the Moorish nation had sought respite; peace dozed upon the land. Men rested and took from the earth new strength with which to resume the never-ending struggle between the Crescent and the Cross, wherefore Abdul Malek's rage availed him nothing. From his embrasured windows he beheld the cassocked enemies of his creed passing to and fro about their business; he heard his sacred hour of prayer desecrated by their Christian bells, and could do no more than revile them for dogs, the while he awaited the will of Allah. It was scant comfort for a man of his violent temper.

But the truce threatened never to be broken. Years passed and still peace continued to reign. Meanwhile, the Moor fed upon his wrongs; and, from incessant brooding over them, became possessed of a fury more fanatical, more poisonous even than had been engendered by his many battles.

Finally, when the wrong had bit too deep for him to endure, he summoned all his followers, and selecting from their number 100 of the finest horsemen, he bade them make ready for a journey to Cordova; then in their presence he kissed the blue blade of his scimitar and vowed that the shackles which had hampered him and them would be struck off.

For many days there ensued the bustle and the confusion of a great preparation in the house of the Moor; men came and went, women sewed and cleaned and burnished; horses were groomed, their manes were combed and their hoofs were polished; and then one morning, ere the golden sun was an hour high, down the winding trail past the monastery of San Sebastian, came a brilliant cavalcade. Abul Malek led, seated upon an Arabian steed whiter than the clouds which lay piled above the westward mountains. His two sons, Hassam and Elzemah, followed astride horses as black as night—horses the distinguished pedigrees of which were cited in the books of Ibn Zaid. Back of them came 100 swarthy warriors on other coal-black mounts, whose flashing sides flung back the morning rays. Their flowing linen robes were like the snow, and from their turbans gleamed gems of value. Each horseman bore at his girdle a purse, a kerchief and a poignard; and in their purses lay 2000 dinars of gold. Slaves brought up the rear of the procession, riding asses laden with bales, and they led 50 blood-red bays, caparisoned as for a tournament.

With scowling glances at the monastery the band rode on across the valley, climbed to the pass and disappeared. After many days they arrived at Cordova. Then when they had rested and cleaned themselves, Abul Malek craved audience with the Caliph, Aboul-Abbas El Hakkam. Being of distinguished reputation, his wish was quickly granted; and on the following day, in the presence of the Hadjeb, the viziers, the white and black eunuchs, the archers and the cuirassiers of the guard, he made a gift to his sovereign of those hundred northern horsemen and their mounts, those 50 blooded bays and their housings, those bales of aloe-wood and camphor, those silken pieces and those 2000 dinars of yellow Catalonian gold. This done, he humbly craved a favor in return, and when bade to speak, he began by telling of the indignities rendered him by the monks of San Sebastian.

"Five generations of my people have dwelt upon our lands, serving the true God and His Prophet," he declared, with quivering indignation, "but now those idolators have come. They gibe and they mock at me beneath my very window. My prayers are broken by their yammerings; they defile my casement, and the stench of their presence assails my nostrils."

"What do you ask of me?" inquired the Caliph.

"I ask for leave to cleanse my doorstep."

The illustrious Moslem shook his head, whereat Abdul Malek cried:

"Does not the Koran direct us to destroy the unbelieving and the impious? Must I, then, suffer these infidels to befoul my garden?"

"God is merciful; it is His will that for a time the unbelievers shall appear to flourish," said the Caliph. "We are bound by solemn compact with the Kings of Leon and Castile to observe an armistice. That armistice we shall observe, for our land is weary of wars, our men are tired and their scars must heal. It is not for you or for me to say: 'This is good,' or 'this is evil.' Allah's will be done!"

Abul Malek and his sons returned alone to their mountains, but when they reined in at the door of their castle the father spat venomously at the belfried roof of the monastery beneath and vowed that he would yet work his will upon it.

Now that the law forbade him to make way with his enemies by force, he canvassed his brain for other means of effecting their downfall; but every day the monks went on with their peaceful tasks, unmindful of his hatred, and their impious religion spread about the countryside. Abul Malek's venom passed them by; they gazed upon him with gentle eyes, in which there was no spleen, although in him they recognized a bitter foe.

As time wore on his hatred of their religion became centered upon the monks themselves, and he undertook by crafty means to annoy them. Men said these Christian priests were good; that their lives were spent in prayer, in meditation and in works of charity among the poor; tales came to the Moor of their spiritual existence, of their fleshly renunciation; but at these he scoffed. He refused to credit them.

"Pah!" he would cry, tugging at his midnight beard; "how can these men be aught but liars, when they live and preach a falsehood? Their creed is impious and they are hypocrites. They are not superior beings; they are flesh, like you and me. They have our passions and our faults, but a thousand times multiplied, for they walk in darkness and dwell in hypocrisy. Beneath their cassocks is black infamy; their hearts are full of evil—aye, of lust and of every unclean thing. Being false to the true God, they are false to themselves and to the religion they profess; and I will prove it." Thus ran his reasoning.

In order to make good his boast Abdul Malek began to study the monks carefully, one after another. He tried temptation. A certain gross-bellied fellow he plied with wine. He flattered and fawned upon the simple friar; he led him into his cellars, striving to poison the good man's body as well as his mind; but the visitor partook in moderation and preached the gospel of Christ so earnestly that the Saracen fled from his presence, bathing himself in clean water to be rid of the pollution.

Next he laid a trap for the Abbot himself. He selected the fairest of his slaves, a well-rounded woman of great physical charm, and bribed her with a girdle of sequins. She sought out the Abbot and professed a hunger for his creed. Bound thus by secrecy to the pious man, she lured him by every means at her command. But the Abbot had room for no passion save the love of Christ, and her wiles were powerless against this armor.

Abul Malek was patient; he renewed his vow to hold the false religion up to ridicule and laughter, thinking, by encompassing the downfall of a single advocate, thus to prove his contention and checkmate its ever-widening influence. He became obsessed by this idea; he schemed and he contrived; he used to the utmost the powers of his Oriental mind. From his vantage point above the cloister he heard the monks droning at their Latin; his somber glances followed them at their daily tasks. Like a spider he spun his web, and when one victim broke through it he craftily repaired its fabric, luring another into its meshes.

At times he shared his vigil with his daughter Zahara, a girl of 12, fast growing into womanhood; and since she had inherited his wit and temperament, he taught her to share his hatred of the black-robed men.

This Moorish maiden possessed the beauty of her mother, who died in childbirth; and in honor of that celebrated favorite of Aberamus III she had been christened "Flower of the World." Nor was the title too immoderate, as all men who saw her vowed. Already

The New Shrine of Patriotism in St. Louis

SUCH reverence as former ages and other lands showed to the tombs of the mediaeval crusaders, is being lavished here in St. Louis upon a collection of photographs in the Jefferson Memorial. They are pictures of the men from the city and county of St. Louis who lost their lives in the Great War.

In such numbers have people flocked to see these pictures, and so lovingly have they studied the faces of the St. Louisans who are "dead upon the field of honor," that it may be truly said that we have a new shrine of patriotism in St. Louis. The shrines of olden times were associated with wonderful deeds, or with relics of martyrs or affectionate remembrance of heroic dead. Some of all these things perhaps enters into the intense interest which the public is taking in the pictures of its war heroes.

"Nothing in the building attracts as much attention as the pictures of the boys who are gone," said Mrs. N. H. Beauregard, archivist and custodian of the Missouri Historical Society. "The most interested ones, of course, are the relatives and their friends, and we have witnessed some pathetic scenes here.

"Naturally, people who were able to furnish us with photographs of the dead have other copies of the same pictures at home and do not really need to come here for the sake of the picture. I explain it by the fact that they haven't any cemetery to go to, and this collection of pictures, with the record attached to each, is a memorial from which they derive much pride and satisfaction. Some of them weep, but as a rule they are wonderfully brave."

A touching request which is frequently made, according to those in charge of the photographs, is for a slight re-arrangement of the pictures so that the dead man's likeness may rest near that of his commanding officer or, more frequently, beside the picture of his "buddy."

All the relics of the Great War have been assembled in the east wing of the stately Jefferson Memorial. Special efforts have been put forth by the Missouri Historical Society to get pictures of all the dead from St. Louis and county. It is believed that the collection now includes likenesses of one-fourth of those who made the great sacrifice, and it is hoped to get many more. Many pictures have been received of service men who survived, and later on the Society will start to build up this part of the collection.

Pictures of the dead, each with the little gold star affixed, are jealously kept apart from those of living men, and rest in special cases which allow the record of service to be shown with the picture. The record thus displayed, and which has been of absorbing interest to the throngs of visitors, includes date of enlistment, place of training, date of sailing overseas, particulars as to being wounded or gassed and details as to death and name of the next of kin.

And from the walls St. Louisans of older generations, in broad gilt frames, look down upon the later St. Louisans who went forth to war, and their flesh-and-blood relatives and friends who throng the Jefferson Memorial to do them honor.

CHARACTER SKETCHES BY W. E. HILL

"Perhaps we'll look in tomorrow. I don't think we've time to settle on anything today." Joe, the real estate factotum, has offered to run over and show Mr. and Mrs. Smythe a couple of apartments that might do, at twenty-four and twenty-seven hundred a year—also one that Joe is sure they will fall for, at a mere three thousand per annum. Mr. and Mrs. Smythe are making a brave getaway before Joe learns the horrible truth that the Smythe's household budget allows eighteen hundred dollars and no more for rent. Mr. Smythe, as usual, is making the little wife do the dirty work.

"We have nothing at present," says Eddie, about to resume his copy of "Wüzzy Stories," "but I'll take your name and address," which means that your quest of three rooms and bath is a dead issue with Eddie.

Mrs. Carrie Book gave up her house to rent an apartment where one didn't have to waste all one's energy running up and down stairs. Every now and then the elevator gives out, or the elevator boys go on strike, and Mrs. Book, who resides on the ninth floor, would give a lot to be back in her two-story house.

Mr. Roach lives in a hotel where a portion of bacon for breakfast is $1.40. Mr. Roach is figuring out roughly what he could make on each pig, if he owned the hotel.

A little place of her own in the suburbs is Mrs. Graw's only solution of the housing problem, for no one wants little Ponto in an apartment house.

Your hands express your real self. Be sure you manicure them the right way

How you can have hands as well groomed as these

THE consciousness of unbecoming or unattractive clothes may hurt—but it cannot strike deep down as can the fear that you have been judged wanting in real refinement; that you are judged unmistakably lacking in personal nicety.

How uncomfortable this fear can make you! How many times magnified any shortcomings which may cause it becomes in your own eyes. It takes away from your contentment, your self-confidence. It robs you of your magnetism. You cannot be up to the mark and secretly harassed at the same time. Of all the indications of personal refinement the most significant, next to personal cleanliness, is well-kept nails. To many, ill-kept nails indicate more than carelessness. They indicate actual vulgarity.

A few minutes of the right kind of care, once or twice a week, will keep your nails and cuticle always so exquisite that they will give you new poise.

The most important part of a manicure is the care of the cuticle. You must never cut it. Well-groomed women the country over know that cutting ruins the cuticle. But you can keep it always smooth and unbroken with the Cutex way of caring for the nails and cuticle.

With a bit of cotton wrapped around the end of an orange stick and dipped in Cutex, work around the base of the nails. Then wash the hands, pushing back the cuticle with a towel.

For snowy white nail tips apply a little Cutex Nail White underneath the nail directly from its convenient tube. Finish your manicure with Cutex Nail Polish.

If you wish to keep the cuticle particularly soft and pliable so that you do not need to manicure as often, apply Cutex Cold Cream at night on going to bed.

Give yourself a Cutex manicure regularly, once or twice a week, and you can have nails and cuticle that you are always proud of. You can keep them this way. There will never be a time, then, when you will be caught off your guard, judged by nails that do not express the real you.

You can get Cutex at all drug and department stores. Cutex Cuticle Remover comes in 35-cent and 65-cent sizes. Cutex Nail White, Nail Polish and Cold Cream are each 35 cents.

Six complete manicures for 20 cents

Mail the coupon below with 20 cents and we will send you a complete Introductory Manicure Set, not as large as the standard sets but containing enough of each of the Cutex products to give you six manicures. Send for it today. Address Northam Warren, 114 West 17th St., New York City.

Right Care Means Plenty ## of Good Looking Hair
Men and Women
Both Should Have It
—But Many Do Not

It is really surprising that men and women so commonly permit their hair to lose its good looks and actually to fall out in unsightly quantities.

Men's hair becomes disagreeably oily and stringy and gets thinner and thinner. Women suffer with falling hair and dandruff. Their hair loses it life, beauty and luxuriance.

All this can be easily prevented. Plain neglect is the cause. No more care than is given the teeth will assure abundant, vigorous, beautiful hair if the care is wisely directed.

Simple Directions

Regularly, two or three times a week, apply La Creole Hair Tonic, using the balls of the fingers to rub it into the scalp with a rotary motion. La Creole Hair Tonic stimulates the scalp circulation, supplies the hair roots with needed nourishment, and loosens the clogged dust and dandruff which brushing will remove. Do not use an inferior tonic. It is a dangerous mistake to do so.

At regular intervals, every ten days or two weeks, the hair should be washed thoroughly with La Creole Liquid Shampoo. If an excessively oily condition exists shampoo more frequently. La Creole will keep the glands and pores open and healthy and preserves the fine hair oils which make the hair soft, lustrous and fluffy. Inferior shampoos and soaps must be avoided because they leave the hair dry, brittle and lifeless. Never fail after shampooing to apply La Creole Hair Tonic.

If these rules are faithfully followed any one can have the charm which beautiful hair adds to the personality. Begin the use of La Creole Hair Tonic and La Creole Liquid Shampoo at once and notice the new beauty and vigorous health of your hair.

La Creole Hair Dressing is a treatment for the gradual restoration of the natural dark color to hair that has grown gray, gray streaked, or faded.

Mademoiselle La Creole
The wonderful hair of the Creoles is a mark of their pure French-Spanish blood as well as of the care they give it. La Creole toilet requisites are favorite for the purpose.

THE COCA-COLA COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

The possibilities in every woman's face

THE soft, appealing charm of a fresh, lovely skin—of course you want it. Every girl does. Every girl wants to be attractive, lovable, admired.

And unless your skin is right, nothing is right. Haven't you often felt that? What use to wear the prettiest frock, if your skin is rough or unsightly, marred by blackheads or ugly little blemishes?

You can make your skin so beautifully soft, so exquisitely fresh and clear that at first glance it will awaken admiration and delight. By studying it—learning its possibilities—then giving it every day the kind of care that suits its particular needs, you, too, can win the charm of "a skin you love to touch."

The special treatments given on this page tell you just how you can make your skin finer in texture—how you can free it from blackheads, or overcome extreme sensitiveness and irritability. Additional treatments for all the commoner skin needs are given in the famous booklet of treatments that is wrapped around each cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap.

Follow the treatment indicated for your skin, and in a week or ten days you will notice a marked improvement in your complexion—a promise of the gradual perfecting of your skin, by natural methods, which is the special achievement of Woodbury's Facial Soap.

The very first treatment with Woodbury's will leave your skin with a slightly drawn, tight feeling. This only means that your skin is responding to a more thorough and stimulating kind of cleansing than it has been accustomed to. After a few nights this drawn sensation will disappear and your skin will emerge from its nightly treatment with such a soft, clean, healthful feeling that you will never again want to use any other method of cleansing your face.

Woodbury's Facial Soap is sold at all drug stores and toilet goods counters in the United States and Canada. The famous booklet of treatments is wrapped around each cake. Get a cake today—begin your treatment tonight. A 25 cent cake will last for a month or six weeks of any treatment, or for general cleansing use.

A sample cake of soap, the booklet of famous treatments, and samples of Woodbury's Facial Powder, Facial Cream and Cold Cream sent to you for 15 cents.

For 6 cents we will send you a trial size cake (enough for a week or ten days of any Woodbury facial treatment) together with the booklet of treatments, "A Skin You Love to Touch." Or for 15 cents we will send you the treatment booklet and samples of Woodbury's Facial Soap, Facial Powder, Facial Cream and Cold Cream. Address The Andrew Jergens Co., 32 Spring Grove Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.

If you live in Canada, address The Andrew Jergens Co., Limited, 32 Sherbrooke St., Perth, Ontario.

The new treatment for a tender, sensitive skin

Dip a soft washcloth in warm water and hold it to your face. Then make a warm water lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap and dip the cloth up and down in it until it is "fluffy" with the soft white lather. Rub this lathered cloth gently over your skin until the pores are thoroughly cleansed. Then rinse your face, first with warm, then with clear, cool water and dry carefully.

By making this treatment a nightly habit, you can gradually overcome your skin's extreme sensitiveness, and give it the power of resistance every normal skin should have.

How to keep your skin free from blackheads

Apply hot cloths to the face until the skin is reddened. Then with a rough washcloth work up a heavy lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap and rub it into the pores thoroughly, with an upward and outward motion. Rinse with clear, hot water, then with cold—the colder the better. Finish by rubbing the face for thirty seconds with a piece of ice.

To remove blackheads already formed, substitute a flesh brush for the washcloth in the treatment above. Then protect the fingers with a handkerchief and press out the blackheads. After a week or ten days of this treatment you will notice a marked improvement in the clearness of your complexion.

To make your skin finer in texture

Dip your washcloth in very warm water and hold it to your face. Now take a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap, dip it in water, and rub the cake itself over your skin. Leave the slight coating of soap on for a few minutes until the skin feels drawn and dry. Then dampen the skin and rub the soap in gently with an upward and outward motion. Rinse the face thoroughly, first in tepid water, then in cold. Whenever possible, finish by rubbing the face with a piece of ice.

Use this treatment regularly each night before retiring and see how much finer and smoother your skin becomes under this care.
